

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-70599-8 - Strength Through Joy: Consumerism and Mass Tourism in the Third Reich

Shelley Baranowski

Table of Contents

More informationContents

List of Illustrations and Table	page ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Abbreviations	xv
Note on Translations and Citations	xvii
Introduction	1
1 Nazism, Popular Aspirations, and Mass Consumption on the Road to Power	11
2 “A Volk Strong in Nerve”: Strength through Joy’s Place in the Third Reich	40
3 The Beauty of Labor: “Plant Community” and Coercion	75
4 Mass Tourism, the Cohesive Nation, and Visions of Empire	118
5 Racial Community and Individual Desires: Tourism, the Standard of Living, and Popular Consent	162
6 Memories of the Past and Promises for the Future: Strength through Joy in Wartime	199
Epilogue: The End of “German” Consumption: Consumerism and Tourism in the Postwar Germanys	231
Index	251