accessibility relation
deontic, 29
reflexive, 31
secondarily-reflexive, 31
serial, 30, 31
symmetric, 31
transitive, 31
actions
basic and complex, 152
generic, 24
Alchourrón, C., 64, 65, 66, 71, 82, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 150, 152, 155, 167, 168, 169, 171, 172, 173, 175, 177, 212, 214, 215, 216, 218, 219, 222, 231 alethic modal logic modalities, 18
square of opposition, 18
Anscombe, G., 67
applicability and hierarchical order, 138–139 and validity, 129, 132–136, 139 chains of, 135
criteria of, 137–129
external, 129–130
inapplicability and non-applicability, 136 internal, 126–127
restrained and unrestrained application, 140–143 strict, 136–139
˚Aqvist, L., 42, 49
argument
concept of, 3
sound, 4
valid, 5–22
axiological gaps
as critical or interpretative statements, 169–171
concept of, 167, 168
belief revision
belief sets and belief bases approaches, 219–222 origins, 218
Bentham, J., 26
Bulygin, E., 58, 82, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 150, 152, 155, 167, 168, 169, 171, 172, 173, 175, 197, 200, 203, 204, 212, 214, 215, 216, 218, 222, 231 cases
generic, 126
individual, 126
judicial, 127
Castañeda, H., 41
Chisholm, R., 40, 47, 48, 91, 96, 97, 104 conceptions of norms and deontic logic, 66–77
conditional norms
and defeasibility, 107–114
bridge conception, 92
defeasible and indefeasible, 93, 94
deontic modus ponens, 93 HL-systems, 93, 95
insular conception, 92
rational monotonicity, 95–96 strengthening of the antecedent, 93 system of logic for, 105–107 defeasibility and deontic detachment, 113
Index

258
defeasibility (cont.)
and factual detachment, 113
and hierarchies of norms, 190–195
concept of, 107
in identification and application of norms, 187–190 internal and external, 110–111
of legal norms, 185–195
deo ntic logic
analogies with alethic modal logic, 18–23 and logic of preferences, 72–73 as a logic for rational legislation, 63 Bentham’s law, 26
classical system, 26–28 decision method, 27
defeasible, 127
differences with alethic modal logic, 24 extensionality rule, 25 interdefinitions of operators, 20 laws of distribution, 24 minimal system, 25
normative completeness, 27 normative consistency, 27 normative neutrality, 28
operators, 18–20, 24
paradoxes of. See deontic paradoxes possible world semantics, 29 principle of deontic contingency, 26 principle of permission, 26 reduction to alethic modal logic, 21–23 reduction to quantified statements, 23 skepticism, 51–54
square of opposition, 20
standard system, 28–29
with truth, 61–63
without truth, 63–66
deo ntic operators ambiguity of descriptive operators, 80–82
interdefinitions, 50
deo ntic paradoxes, 39
Chisholm’s paradox, 47, 91, 96
Contrary-to-Duty, 47–50
Free Choice Permission, 43–44
Gentle Murder, 45–46
Good Samaritan, 44–46
McLaughlin’s paradox, 43
of Derived Obligation, 41–43, 92 Ross’s paradox, 40–41
derogation conditions of adequacy, 210 derogating acts and derogation by incompatibility, 216–218 derogating provisions, 214–215 implicit and explicit, 219–220 logical indeterminacies, 211–212
material and formal, 208
rejected sets, 210
serial derogation, 212–213 detachment factual and deontic, 97–105 direction of fit, 67–68
Dworkin, R., 148, 149, 159, 160, 161, 235
Føllesdal, D., 41
Frege, G., 34, 35, 74
Frege-Geach problem, 35–37, 74–77
Gentzen, H., 110
Hansson, B., 41
Hart, H.L.A., 108, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 144, 253 internal and external statements, 123
Hilpinen, R., 41, 211, 249, 254
Hintikka, J., 32
Hofstadter, A., 52, 54
Hurley, S., 184
interpretation
radical skepticism, 126
Jørgensen, J., 37, 38, 50, 51, 52, 53, 61, 64, 66, 71, 91
Jørgensen’s dilemma, 37–38, 50–61
Kalinowski, G., 61
Kanger, S., 21
Kelsen, H., 51, 52, 53, 58, 59, 60, 61, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 126, 127, 130, 143, 144, 163, 169, 199, 202, 214, 215 chains of validity, 118 concept of validity, 118 first historical constitution, 118 identification between binding force and membership, 119–122 invalid norms, 119
spheres of validity, 126
tacit alternative clause, 120–122 unconstitutional norms, 120 Kripke, S., 30, 126
legal cases
  generic, 151
  individual, 153
relevant properties, 151–152
legal conflicts and balance of principles, 193–195
  and defeasibility, 185–195
  and hierarchies of norms, 178
  concept of, 175–178
  conflicts of instantiation, 182–184 normative and axiological conflicts, 181–182 via certain facts, 178–179 legal dynamics and belief revision. See belief revision and equivalent bases, 229–232 and logical closure, 218–232 as sequence of sets of norms, 197–200 identification of non-momentary legal systems, 200–205 models of membership and inclusion, 198–200 promulgation and derogation, 205–214 without logical closure, 223–232 legal gaps and distinction between norms and norm-propositions, 160–166 incompatibility with social sources thesis, 158–162 normative and axiological, 166–168 thesis of complete legal answers, 162 truth-value gaps and genuine gaps, 162–163 legal normativity, 121
legal norms adopted in a legal system, 133–134 and application to cases, 125 and interpretation, 125 conditional and unconditional preferences, 194–195 exceptions, 131
  existence of, 118
  force, 129, 132, 133, 135 principles of individuation, 130–132 promulgation and derogation. See legal dynamics rules and principles, 191
scope, 127
spheres of validity, 131
legal statements
  as normative statements, 122, 124
  as norm-propositions, 124
detached, 124
Hart’s view, 123
Kelsen’s view, 122
Raz’s view, 124
legal systems
  and logical closure, 232–240
  as sets of applicable norms, 135 as sets of valid norms, 135 completeness as a contingent property, 158
  concept of, 117, 143–144
  consistency as a contingent property, 178 criteria of membership, 118, 144 dependent and independent norms, 146, 204 formal properties, 153 model of membership, 145–146 momentary and non-momentary, 135, 196 open nature, 133
  reformulation of bases, 231–232 static and dynamic, 146–149 legal validity and existence of norms, 118 as a relative concept, 118 as binding force, 55–57, 118 as membership in a legal system, 57–58, 122
  concept of, 118
  criteria of, 118
  Kelsenian view, 118–123
  spheres of, 126, 131
  statements of, 123
  subjective conception, 56 legality
  as criteria of membership of momentary systems, 202–204 as criteria of membership of norms, 144 Leibniz, G. W., 23
logic of norm-propositions axiomatic system, 82–85
  dilemma, 85–91
  isomorphism between norms and norm-propositions, 58–61 without logic of norms, 87–91 logic of norms
  and conceptions of norms, 71–74 and logic of norm-propositions, 82–85 and logic of satisfaction, 54–55 indirect application, 58–61
Index

logical closure
and coherence, 237–240
as a contingent property of dynamic legal systems, 233–237 as a necessary property of applicable systems, 147, 150
concept of, 219

logical consequence
abstract notion, 64–66
semantic notion, 6
syntactic notion, 6

logical consequences
of legal norms, 127

logical validity
and demonstrable formulas, 6 and logical form, 4–5
and logical truth, 6
and truth, 4, 7
completeness and soundness, 6 intuitive concept of, 4, 7 syntactic and semantic approaches, 6–8

Makinson, D., 51, 104, 140, 141, 142, 143, 184, 212, 218, 219
Marmor, A., 233, 236, 237, 238, 239
McKinsey, J., 52, 54
McLaughlin, R., 40, 43

modus ponens
as a rule of inference, 12

necessitation rule, 21

normative commitment, 41–42

normative conflicts, 175–180 and external applicability, 130, 137–138 and hierarchies, 121 between norms of different levels, 119 confusion between norms and norm-propositions, 59 normative gaps

and axiological gaps, 166
and identification of norms, 155
concept of, 153

normative relevance
concept of, 156
descriptive and prescriptive, 167 positive and negative descriptive concepts, 172–174 thesis and hypothesis of, 167 normative solutions, 152

normative systems
completeness and consistency, 83–85, 154, 156–157 independence, 154

norm-propositions
and implicit commands, 88–89 and pragmatic conception of norms, 87–91
concept of, 78
descriptive conception of norms, 80–82 internal and external negation of, 79–80 relative and absolute, 86

norms
and defeasibility, 107–114
and language, 34
and logic, 34, 50–61
and norm-propositions, 58–61, 78
and truth, 34–38, 61–63, 66
conditional, 91–97
negation of, 79
norm-formulations, 66
pragmatic conception, 68, 71–77 satisfaction of, 54–55
semantic conception, 69–70 syntactic conception, 67 unconstitutional, 120, 134

obligation, 19
and sanction, 22

permission, 19, 43–44
double, 20
positive and negative descriptive concepts, 80–82

positivism
and incorporation thesis, 233–240 and legal gaps, 158–162 possible worlds, 23
accessibility relation, 23
actualism and possibilism, 62–63 deontically ideal, 31
deontically perfect, 32–34
Kripkean model, 29–30
semantics, 23

predicate logic, 13–18
atomic and molecular formulas, 14 free and bound variables, 15 language of, 14
monadic and polyadic predicates, 14 propositional function, 15 quantifiers. See quantifiers
semantics, 16
square of opposition, 16–17
syllogistics, 13
well-formed formulas, 14
Prior, A., 39, 41, 42, 44, 46, 49, 92 prohibition, 19
promulgation
material and formal, 205–208
propositional syllogistics, 13
well-formed formulas, 14
atomics and molecular formulas, 8
axiomatic system, 12
connectives, 9. See propositional connectives tautology, 10
truth tables and logical validity, 11
well-formed formulas, 14
propositional connectives, 5–9 biconditional, 9
conjunction, 9
disjunction, 9
interdefinitions, 11
material conditional, 9 monadic and dyadic, 8
negation, 9
quantifiers, 14–16
existential and universal, 15
interdefinitions, 15
scope, 15

Quine, W., 62, 160
Raz, J., 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 132, 133, 135, 144, 158, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 170, 196, 197, 198, 201, 215, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 239 detached normative statements, 124
relevant properties, 157
Rescher, N., 39
Rønneidal, D., 104
Ross, A., 40, 41, 42, 44, 46, 49, 54, 55, 56, 123
Schauer, F., 108, 109, 110, 111, 114, 132, 188, 236
Soeteman, A., 28, 50, 57, 113 truth
principle of bivalence, 9, 159–160 truth tables, 9
truth-logic, 159–160
unconditional norms
defeasible and indefeasible, 94
validity
legal. See legal validity logical. See logical validity von Wright, G. H., 24, 25, 26, 27, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 46, 49, 59, 60, 61, 63, 65, 67, 78, 81, 87, 88, 90, 92, 105, 106, 107, 201 Weinberger, O., 40, 57, 58, 127
Wittgenstein, L., 68, 126
Zuleta, H., 65, 66, 104, 105