

Contents

Acknowledgements	page viii
Publisher's note	xi
 Introduction by Dr Jennifer Davis, Wolfson College, University of Cambridge	 1
Bombay's perennial modernities	12
Sewers	31
Peasants and proletarians in Bombay city in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries	59
State and society in colonial India	83
Religion and nationalism in India	103
From neighbourhood to nation: the rise and fall of the Left in Bombay's Girangaon in the twentieth century	121
Historians and the nation	191
Urban history and urban anthropology in South Asia	206
Aspects of the historiography of labour in India	236
Postscript by Professor David Washbrook, Trinity College, University of Cambridge	251
 Bibliography of the published works of Rajnarayan Chandavarkar	 260
Index	262