

INDEX

- 2008 Olympics, emergency powers and see China
- 9/11, judicial review strategies post-judiciary
- absolutism, need for emergency powers
 under 57–61
- abuse of powers see also specific countries
 ‘better laws, institutions and norms’, remedy 16; see also Sri Lanka constitutionalised powers as check on 16–17, 53–4
 constitutionalism’s legitimisation
 of 122
 continuing problem of 393–4 enabling by emergency powers laws 6
 examples of 394–6
 potential for 4–6, 63–4 resistance to abuse of powers 17; see also specific countries result of more law, as 6 widespread issue, as 16
- Aceh
 autonomy legislation, failure of government’s 225 ‘dual-track’ approach by government 222–3 government decides on ‘special autonomy’ 218–19 government’s response to separatist conflict in 213–14
 Helsinki peace agreement removes justification for further military action 228
- shows ineffectiveness of military response 232 shows limitations of emergency powers 231–2
 signing of 231
- introduction of Islamic law contribution to rule of law,
 overview of 235–6
 effect of increased religious violence following 229–30 effect on authority of state 228–31, 232–5 longer-term benefits from 230–1 military support for 219, 220–1 opposition to 220
 reasons for failure of 229 reasons for government’s decision 219 religious leaders’ responses 228–9
 scope of chapter 214
 support for 224–5
- introduction of religious law 9
- Islamic leaders, role of 217–18
- Islamist groups gathering in 230
- martial law
 choice of over civil emergency 225–6
 economic and political benefits for military from 227–8 effect on authority of state 227–8 success of 226–7
- martial law in 272
- Megawati, President Sukarnoputri ‘dual-track’ approach 223

- Aceh (cont.)
 opposition to autonomy 224 support for increased military operations 223–4 military operations absence of formal state of emergency 215–16
 Habibie's refusal to resume 218
 Helsinki peace agreement removes justification for 228 Helsinki peace agreement shows ineffectiveness of 232 judiciary's role in justifying 228 justification for 216–17 legality of 216
 Megawati's support for increased 223–4
 'war on terror' as justification for 221–2 nationalist claims of Aceh activists 220 referendum on independence, support for 219–20 state of emergency, government's reasons for postponing 222
 US influence on government policy 221
 Wahid's attempt at negotiated settlement 223
- Ackerman, Bruce
 existential threats, on 43
 'supermajoritarian escalator' 26–7
 Sri Lanka, applied to 133
- Afghanistan
 emergency powers laws 259–61
 rule of law compromised by UN 257–61
 use of powers 261
- Africa, states of emergency declared in 62
- Agamben, Giorgio
 exception as norm, on 140–2
 'force-of-law' concept 141–2
- anti-terrorist measures see specific countries; terrorism
- Aquino, Corazon see Philippines
- Arroyo, Gloria Macapagal see Philippines
- Asia, reasons for focus of study on 2–3
- Aung Sang, role in Burmese independence 155–60
- Australia
 judicial review of Crown immunity 402–3 peacekeeping operations in East Timor 31, 44, 243, 246–52
 post-Bali bombing pressure on Indonesia 287 pressure on Indonesia as to mining in protected forests 289–90, 291–3
- Baker v. Carr* on political question doctrine 323–4
- Bali terrorist attack see Indonesia
- Bao Dai see Vietnam
- Bengal, 'Burma Rebellion' linked to unrest in 199–210
- Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act 1925, applied to 'Burma Rebellion' 198–205
- Benvenisti, Eyal, survey of judicial review 470–2
- 'better laws, institutions and norms', remedy 16
- Bolivia, security as state's singular activity 142
- Brunei
 constitutional development 161–3
 emergency powers laws 162
 history up to British 'Residency' 161 independence, gaining of 162
 need for constitutionalised powers 185 remains British colony 160–1 reserved colonial powers 162
 state of emergency against People's Party revolt 162 status as monarchy 185 Sultan's role 162–3
- Burma
 annexation by Britain as beginning of emergency powers discourse 192–3

- Aung San Suu Kyi, denied power 176
- Aung Sang's role in independence 155–60
- 'Burma Rebellion' 8, 194–5
- Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act 1925 applied to 198–205
- emergency legislation in response to 197–9
- Emergency Powers Ordinance extends powers to deal with 207–8
- linkage with unrest in Bengal 199–210
- portrayal of, to secure Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance 199–210
- report on origins and causes 195–7
- securing of powers to deal with 199
- Trials Ordinance 198–9
- trials, role of judiciary and Tribunals 196–7
- U Oktama's role in 201–3
- colonial rule
- authorities 8
 - growing political and social unrest against 193–4
 - influence on post-independence use of powers 210–11
 - province of India, as 193–4
 - use of powers during 8; see also 'Burma Rebellion' above
- Constitution 157–8
- constitutional development 175–6
- constitutionalised powers, opposition to 8
- Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance 197–8
- debate on 205–7
- Maung Gyi's role in debate on 205–6
- opposition to 206–7
- portrayal of 'Burma Rebellion' to secure 199–210
- definition of culture through perspective of emergency 210
- definition of emergency through criminalisation of culture and ethnicity 200, 207–10
- emergency powers laws 157–8
- 'Burma Rebellion', in response to see 'Burma Rebellion' above
- Emergency Powers Ordinance 207–8
- independence, gaining of 155–6
- judiciary's role in 'Burma Rebellion' trials 196–7
- legal basis for use of powers by colonial authorities 8
- Maung Gyi, Sir Joseph, role in debate on Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance 205–6
- military intervention against political opposition 176
- military prevents civilian rule 176
- Ne Win
- caretaker military government 175
 - Presidency 175–6
- Saya San's role in 'Burma Rebellion' 194–5
- single-party rule, choice of 184–5
- Tharrawaddy district, rebellion in see 'Burma Rebellion' above
- Tribunals' role in 'Burma Rebellion' trials 196–7
- U Nu, presidency 175–6
- U Oktama, role in 'Burma Rebellion' 201–3
- use of powers 210–11
- Cambodia
- constitutional development 167–8
 - factors in 185
 - emergency powers laws 168
 - UN intervention 168
- Canada, judicial review in 471
- Chaudhry, Chief Justice Iftikhar Muhammad 93–6
- Chen, Albert, on operation of powers 399–401, 480

China

- 2008 Olympics, emergency powers and 343–4, 369
- Constitution, role of 372
- constitutional foundation 79
- Dyzenhaus, David
 - ‘compulsion to legality’ applied to China 342
 - ideas applied to 342, 388
- economic development, use of powers to support 365
- emergency powers laws 79–80, 81–2; see also emergency responses provisions below; martial law provisions below
- adoption and use of 343
- apparent meaninglessness of 342–3
- benefits of clearly defined limits 345–6
- constraint on state power, as:
 - overview 374, 375–6;
 - power-creating law 376–9
- establishing legal framework for 347–54
- external sources of disorder, seen as guarding against 368–9
- features of 345
- importance for ‘rule-of-law’ project 345–7
- limitations on derogations from, setting 354
- non-emergency ‘incidents’, use in 356
- power-creating law, as:
 - authorising and defining powers 357–60;
 - historical development 356–7;
 - limiting state power 376–9;
 - strengthening state institutions and central control 360–3
- reasons for adopting 344:
 - problems in analysing 344–5
- scope of chapter 345
- seemingly superfluous need for 342
- tool and restraint of regime, as 345

- use of international law to legitimate 372–3
- using law to authorise and define 370–5
- emergency powers laws as constraint on executive 12–13, 15
- ‘emergency powers paradox’ applied to 346
- emergency responses provisions 357–8
- calls for improved 354
- citizens’ duty to assist enforcement of 360
- constitutional amendment:
 - adoption of 343; arguments for 351–3; purpose of 357–8; use of 343–4
- constraint on state power, as:
 - protection of rights 382–8;
 - substantive justifications 379–82
- Emergency Response Law 2007:
 - 2008 Olympics, and 369;
 - adoption of 343;
 - constitutionalisation of 373–5;
 - criticism of 358;
 - power-creating law, as 358–60, 362–3; protection of rights by 384; restraint on state power, as 377–8, 379–80; role of 352–4; use of 343–4, 353–4;
 - use to support economic development 369–70; use to support preservation of social and political order 368, 369
- legal basis for use of powers, as 353–4
- use of existing laws to claim authority for 359–60
- executive power and rule of law 12–13, 14–15
- Gross, Oren, ideas applied to 388
- Hong Kong, extension of Law on Martial Law to 385–6
- judiciary, role of 342–3
- list of main laws 343
- martial law provisions

- 1996 Law: adoption of 343;
 - constitutionalisation of 373–5;
 - constraint on state power, as 379; extension to Hong Kong 385–6; power-creating law, as 358; role of 350; use to support preservation of social and political order 367–8
- citizens' duty to assist enforcement of 360
- constitutional provision: adoption of 343; importance of 347–51; legal basis for use of powers 347–50; power-creating law, as 361–2; use of 343
- external sources of disorder, seen as guarding against 368–9
- operation of 79–82
- protection of rights by 383–4
- restraint on state power, as 376–7
- Tiananmen Democracy Movement challenges validity of proclamation 382–3
- use of 79–82
- use to support economic development 369
- 'moralised politics' applied to 390
- rights
 - protection by emergency powers laws 382–8
 - protection by Emergency Response Law 384
 - protection by martial law provisions 383–4
 - 'rights consciousness', growth of 371–2
- rule of law
 - achievements of programme 346–7
 - importance of emergency powers for 'rule-of-law' project 345–7
 - increasing emphasis on 346
 - increasing need to safeguard 347
 - lack of robust 342
 - post-Mao turn to 346
 - prospects for future growth of 388–90
 - ranking 344
- SARS crisis, response to 343–4, 350–2, 359–60, 361, 362–3, 367, 369–70, 373–4, 377, 383
- Sichuan earthquake, response to 343–4, 353–4, 358, 360, 363, 370, 374, 375–6
- snowstorms of 2008, responses to 353–4, 358, 363, 370, 374, 375–6
- stability, use of powers to support maintenance of 365
- state of emergency, permanence of 342
- success of powers in restoring normalcy 84–5
- Tiananmen Democracy Movement challenges validity of martial law proclamation 382–3
- evocation of legal rights by 371–2
- responses to 343, 347–50, 357, 359, 360–1, 366–7, 368–9, 373, 376–7
- Tibetan unrest, responses to 343–4, 347–50, 358, 359, 360, 363, 366, 368–9, 373
- Tushnet's 'moralised politics' applied to 390
- type of political system 83
- use of powers 80–1
 - achievement of government priorities, to support 364–5: economic development 365, 369–70; social and political stability 365–9
- Churchill, Winston
 - opposition to colonial independence 155
 - view on emergency powers 149
- coercive powers, emergency powers as 2
- colonial powers' use of emergency powers see specific countries
- colonialism see postcolonial/post-conflict transitions
- Communist Party, Indonesian see Indonesia

- 'compulsion of legality' applied to Sri Lanka 126–32, 144–5
 - Constitution see also specific countries
 - amendment enabled by constitutionalised powers 399–401
 - emergency powers as mainstay of 149–50
 - splitting 142
 - transitional role of 46
 - 'constitutional authoritarianism', Marcos's see Philippines
 - constitutional baselines 119
 - constitutional model see neo-Roman/constitutional model
 - constitutional orders
 - distinction between use of emergency powers by established and developing 4
 - political and social cultures' role in supporting 50
 - constitutionalised powers
 - abuse of 53–4
 - arguments for and against 407–9
 - constitutionalism, and
 - overview of perspectives 409–11
 - scope of chapter 393
 - effectiveness as constraint on use of powers 16–17
 - enabling of constitutional amendments 399–401
 - features of 394
 - judiciary's response to 10, 13–14
 - means of entrenching state power, as 396–9
 - need for 314–15
 - non-constitutionalised powers
 - case for 402–3, 407–9
 - overview of use of 401–2
 - proportionality 403–7
 - opposition to see specific countries
 - theories of 26
 - constitutionalism 64; see also rule of law; specific countries
 - competing principle with emergency, as 311–12
 - constitutionalised powers, and
 - overview of perspectives 409–11
 - scope of chapter 393
 - 'crisis constitutionalism' 6
 - dichotomy between normalcy and exception 63
 - emergency powers as catalyst for reform 339–40
 - emergency powers as continuing barrier to 120
 - emergency powers as foundation for 6
 - emergency powers concept as completion of 58–9
 - 'emergency powers paradox', and 29, 41–2
 - executive powers, and see executive powers
 - gap between theory and reality 28–9
 - general theory of emergency powers and, toward a 88
 - historical link with emergency powers 57–61
 - legitimation of abuse of powers 122
 - liberal theories of, applicability of 6, 188–9
 - link with emergency powers 83
 - need for emergency powers 58
 - non-legal controls on powers, importance of 54
 - normalcy, need for 58–9
 - precondition of strong judicial review, as 17
 - relevance of study of emergency powers to study of 17
 - requirements of 58
 - strength of 16, 151
 - subversion by emergency powers 5, 64
 - theories of, link to theories of emergencies 4
 - transitional, use of powers in context of 45–50
 - transplantation of, scope of chapter 56–7
 - use of powers to avoid 5–6
- Cornelius, Justice Alvin Robert admiration for 436–7

- analyses problem of government's
 - refusal to accept constraints 451–2
- anticipates 'emergency powers paradox' 438
- anticipates question of differing
 - function of emergency powers 437–8, 448–50
- becomes Chief Justice 451
- British constitutional history, draws
 - lessons from 452–3
- calls for Constitution embedded in
 - expectations of the people 451
- constraints on government
 - establishing new legality, on 448–50
- defence of rule of law 11–12, 14–15, 17, 49
- derivation of validity of human
 - rights, on 447–8
- discretion to declare emergency, on 443
- emergency powers superseding
 - constitution, on 446
- frustration with lack of commitment
 - to rule of law 444
- frustration with law's weakness 444
- Islam and 'culture of
 - constitutionalism', on 12–13, 14–15
- Islamisation of legal system, on
 - arguments for 453–9
 - criticism of ideas 461–2
 - declining awareness of ideas 461–2
 - further development of
 - arguments 459–60
 - relevance of ideas 462–5
 - religious basis of judicial
 - authority, on 452–3
 - scope of chapter 436, 437
 - sees necessity for 438–9, 440–1, 450, 453
- judiciary's ability to constrain, on 452
- life and career 439–41
- right of constitutional convention to
 - enact Constitution, on 442
- role of judiciary, on 438
 - protection of rights, in 440
- unlikely champion of Islamisation, as 437
- coups d'état*, use instead of emergency
 - powers see Thailand
- courts see judiciary
- 'crisis constitutionalism' 6
 - Sri Lanka, in 132–43
- Crown immunity doctrine, judicial
 - review of 402–3
- culture
 - defined through perspective of
 - emergency 210
 - emergency defined through
 - criminalisation of 200, 207–10
- 'culture of justification'
 - (Dyzenhaus) 40–1
- Curzon, Lord George, on Oriental
 - perspective of governance 237, 263
- decolonisation see postcolonial/
 - post-conflict transitions; specific countries
- defining emergency powers 2
- 'degree of commitment to the rule of
 - law' (Tushnet) 42
- democracy
 - emergency powers and growth of see specific countries
 - incorporation within
 - Rechtsstaat* 275
 - prospects for 185–6
- detention
 - debate over use of preventive
 - 24–5
 - judicial review of preventive
 - detention laws 404–7
 - oversight of use 67
 - Reid Commission on 159
 - UN's use of 253–5
- Diem, Ngo Dinh see Vietnam
- 'doctrine of state necessity' 102–4, 106–7
- Dower, John, whether Japan's
 - Constitution imposed by US, on 330

- Dyzenhaus, David
 assumption of presence of liberal-democratic institutions 27 compulsion to legality applied to Sri Lanka 126–32, 144–5
 ‘culture of justification’, on 40–1 emphasis on preserving rule of law 28
 ‘experiments in institutional design’ proposal applied to Sri Lanka 133–4
 Gross–Dyzenhaus debate applied to Indonesia 292
 Japan, ideas applied to 340–1
 ‘legal black hole’ theory applied to
 Pakistan 105
 ‘legal grey hole’ theory applied to India 111
 role of courts, on 26, 49
 role of political and social culture,
 on 50
 ‘sleeping exception’, on 480 application to India 481
 theories applied to China 388 ‘weatherman’ role of judges,
 on 490–1
 application to India 491–4
- East Timor
 Australian peacekeeping mission 31, 44 choice of law 248
 constitutionalism and use of
 powers 29–34, 41
 emergency powers laws 32–3, 249–51
 existential threat to 43–4 Indonesian policy on 271–2 judiciary’s role 248–9
 limitation of powers 17 martial law, under Indonesian 271
 UN mission to 243, 246–52
 use of powers 31–2, 33–4, 251–2 economic crisis as catalyst for terrorism 285–6
- Egypt development of judicial review 486 role of Islamic law 214
- ‘emergency’
 place in legal structure 187–8 problems of defining 187 emergency/exception see state of emergency emergency powers laws see also constitutionalised powers;
 specific countries; state of emergency absolutism, need for powers
 under 57–61
 British enactments 61 constitutionalism’s need for 58 contrast in degree of use worldwide 62
 contribution to rule of law 87–8 controls other than formal legal,
 importance of 54
 differing function according to strength of rule of law 437–8 effectiveness as constraint on use of powers 5
 enabling of abuse of powers 6 focus for anti-authoritarian opposition, as 5 history 57–61 invocation of, need recognised in international law 403–4 judicial review see judiciary mainstay of Constitution, as 149–50
 necessity for 393–4 non-constitutionalised powers see constitutionalised powers origin of 59
 power-creating law, as see China spread worldwide 61–2 state of siege, development of concept of 59–61
 transplantation of, scope of chapter 56–7
 US federal laws, in 61
 use of international law to legitimate
 see China
 using law to authorise and define see
 China
- ‘emergency powers paradox’ 4–5, 8, 22;
see also specific countries
 arising of 44–5, 188

- context-dependent experience
 - of 42–3
- Cornelius anticipates debate on 438
- definition 22
- implications of 43
 - existential threats, as to 43–5
 - proportionality principle 50–2
 - transitional constitutionalism, as to 45–50
- scope of chapter 21–3
- theoretical debate 25–8
- UN, applied to 239–40
- European Convention on Human Rights, recognises need to invoke emergency powers 403–4
- Evatt, Justice Herbert Vere, ‘responsible government’ of colonies, on 154
- ex post* justification, applied to Pakistan 104–5
- exception see state of emergency
- ‘exception-in-rule rule of law’ 143
- executive powers
 - constitutionalism, and see also specific countries
 - main theme of study, as 3–4
 - overview of perspectives 10–13
- existential threats
 - Bruce Ackerman on 43
 - use of powers against 43–5
- ‘experiments in institutional design’ applied to Sri Lanka 133–4
- extra-legal measures model (Gross) see Gross, Oren
- extraconstitutional use of powers see also specific countries
 - characteristics of
 - ‘extraconstitution’ 90
 - colonial influence on 115–19
 - compared with constitutional use 90–1
 - emergency as extraconstitution 92–105
 - Pakistan 89–111
 - transform political system, to 89–91, 93
- federalist tensions in postcolonial societies 9–10
- Ferejohn, John and Pasquino, Pasquale
 - contrast in degree of use of powers worldwide, on 62
 - neo-Roman/constitutional model applied to Malaysia 407–8
 - emphasis on preserving rule of law 27–8
- Fiji, use of non-constitutionalised powers 401
- ‘first political question’ (Williams) 43–4
- ‘force-of-law’ concept applied to Sri Lanka 141–2
- France
 - decolonisation 163
 - defeat in Vietnam 163–7
 - foundation of constitutional review 486
 - state of siege, development of concept of 59–60
- Fuller, Lon, Hart–Fuller debate 46–7
- Gandhi, Indira see India
- Germany
 - Hart–Fuller debate on legality in post-war 46–7
 - judicial review in 472
 - state of siege, development of concept of 60
- Ginsburg, Tom, ‘insurance model of judicial review’ 485
- governance models, transplant of 280
- Gross, Oren
 - assumption of presence of liberal-democratic institutions 27
 - emphasis on preserving rule of law 28
 - ex post* justification theory applied to Pakistan 104–5
 - extra-legal measures model 25–6, 134–5
 - Japan, applied to 320–1
 - Sri Lanka, applied to 134–5
- Gross–Dyzenhaus debate applied to Indonesia 292
- theories applied to China 388

- Habibie, Bacharuddin Jusuf see Indonesia
- Hart, H. L. A., Hart–Fuller debate 46–7
- Helsinki peace agreement for Aceh see Aceh
- Ho Chi Minh see Vietnam
- ‘home of illiberal democracy’, Asia as 467
- Hong Kong
- civil unrest in 66
 - detention without trial, oversight of use of 67
 - distinction between normalcy and emergency 67–8
 - emergency powers laws 65–7
 - establishment of rule of law 65
 - extension of China’s Law on Martial Law to 385–6
 - post-war political and economic development 66
 - success of powers in restoring normalcy 84
 - type of political system 83
 - use of powers 65–8
- human rights see also specific countries
- Cornelius on see Cornelius, Justice Alvin Robert
 - European Convention, recognises need to invoke emergency powers 403–4
 - incorporation within Rechtsstaat 275
 - whether emergency powers can eclipse 158–9
- independence see postcolonial/post-conflict transitions; specific countries
- India
- abuse of powers 395–6
 - anti-terrorist measures
 - judicial review of 476
 - legislation 476 - antidemocratic tendencies in legal system 92
 - colonial concept of rule of law, influence of 119–20
 - colonial influence on use of powers 91–2, 115–19
 - Constitution, debate over emergency powers in draft 477–9
 - constitution splitting 142
 - detention, use of preventive 475–6
 - Dyzenhaus’s ‘sleeping exception’ applied to 481
 - emergency powers as continuing barrier to constitutionalism 120
 - emergency powers laws 473–4
 - categories of 474–5
 - constitutional powers for declaring emergency 475
 - danger of entrenched 479
 - debated at drafting of Constitution 477–9
 - retained from colonial administration 473–4 - ‘emergency powers paradox’ applied to 477
 - extraconstitutional use of powers 90–1, 111–15
 - ex post* accommodation 114–15
 - legal ‘grey hole’, as 111
 - non-legal factors affecting outcome 115
 - opposition to 113–14
 - political transformation, to achieve 112–13
- Gandhi, Indira
- state of emergency, abuse of powers 395–6
 - use of powers 5, 90–1, 111–12
 - use of powers as extraconstitution 111–15
- judicial review
- acceptance of 482–3
 - anti-terrorist measures, of 476
 - Dyzenhaus’s ‘judge as weatherman’ idea applied to 491–4
 - increase in 467
 - Justice Khanna’s defence of 492–4
 - recent cases 486–9
 - strength of 472–3
 - legal basis for use of powers 5

- opposition to constitutionalised powers 17
- Supreme Court as world's 'most powerful court' 467
- Indonesia
 - Aceh, unrest in see Aceh
 - Anti-Subversion Law (1963)
 - adoption of 270
 - repeal of 281–2
 - anti-terrorist measures see terrorism below
 - Bali terrorist attack
 - judiciary's role in trial of bombers 287–9
 - pressure from USA and Australia following 287
 - response to 272, 287–91
 - civilian government, use of powers against 269
 - Communist Party
 - Suharto puts down September 30 Movement revolt by 173–4
 - use of powers against 269
 - confrontation with Malaysia 182–3
 - Constitution
 - amendments to 175, 273–84
 - human rights in 282
 - importance of constitutionalism 270
 - reform of 282
 - constitutional development 168–9, 173–5
 - declaration of state of emergency
 - Sukarno, by 268
 - Wahid, by 272
 - democracy, progress toward 267
 - Dutch emergency laws, legacy of 215, 268
 - East Timor, emergency in see East Timor
 - emergency, need for clear definition 291–2
 - emergency powers and rule of law, scope of chapter 267, 268
 - emergency powers laws 173, 270, 271, 281–2
 - importance of Law No. 23/1959 215
 - legal framework 215
 - emergency powers, need for clear definition 291–2
 - emergency powers paradox
 - applied to Indonesia 289–90, 291–3
 - 'war on terror', as to 287–9
 - executive power and rule of law 10–11, 13–15
 - Gross-Dyzenhaus debate applied to 292
 - Habibie, Bacharuddin Jusuf
 - East Timor policy 271–2
 - human rights reform 281
 - policy on Aceh see Aceh
 - presidency 174–5
 - reform of press freedom 281
 - reforms 174–5
 - reforms driven by IMF 280
 - human rights in Constitution 282
 - human rights reform 281
 - independence, gaining of 169
 - instability post-independence 173
 - judiciary, role of
 - Bali bombers trial, in 287–9
 - decision on validity of Perpu as to mining in protected forests 289–91
 - justifying military operations in Aceh, in 228
 - Law Concerning Emergency Situations, opposition to 271–2
 - legal formalism, use of 269–70
 - legal transplant to 268
 - martial law, Megawati declares 272
 - media
 - reform of press freedom 281
 - use of powers against 269
 - Megawati, Sukarnoputri 272–3
 - Bali terrorist attack, response to 287–91
 - becomes President 272–3
 - bows to anti-US pressure 286–7
 - declares martial law in Aceh 272

Indonesia (cont.)

Perpu Regulations, use of 272–3, 287–91

policy on Aceh see Aceh

mining in protected forests

Australian pressure as to 289–90, 291–3

judiciary's decision on validity of Perpu 289–91

use of Perpu to facilitate 272–3, 289–91

Nasution, General Abdul Haris attempted assassination of 174 role in drafting emergency

laws 269

negara hukum see negara hukum

opposition to emergency measures 271–2

Perpu Regulations

constitutionality of use of 289–91

judicial decision on validity of 289–91

Megawati's use of 272–3

mining in protected forests, use as to 272–3, 289–91

'war on terror', use in 287–91

Yudhoyono's use of 273 political parties, use of powers against 269

reform

condition for receiving international aid, as 278–9

Constitution, of 282 effectiveness of initiatives 282–3 gradual and long-term approach, need for 292–3

human rights 281

international pressure for 278, 280, 283–4 nature of law reform process 277

press freedom 281

US support for 221

September 30 Movement, Suharto

puts down 173–4

single-party rule, choice of 184–5

strategic importance 284

Suharto

effect of centralisation of power by 277–8 emphasis on economic over legal/political development 276–7 opposition to reform of constitution 174, 282 political legacy 283

presidency 174–5

puts down communist September 30 Movement revolt 173–4

use of powers 174, 269–71

Sukarno, Ahmad

Confrontation with Malaysia 182–3

presidency 173–4

role in independence 169

use of powers 173, 268–9

terrorism

emergency powers paradox as to 'war on terror' 287–9 impact of 267–8

impact of 'war on terror' 268, 284–6, 291 increasing emphasis on treating as emergency 285 measures against 272

PERPU Regulations, use

against 287–91

pressure to use emergency powers in 'war on terror' 284–7 response to 'war on terror' 287–91

use of emergency powers, overview of 268–73

Wahid, Abdurrahman

policy on Aceh see Aceh

use of powers 272

'war on terror' see terrorism above

Wiranto, General

proposes draft State Security

Law 271

refuses to implement Suharto's emergency measures decree 270–1

Yudhoyono, Susilo Bambang, advises

Megawati on martial law in

Aceh 272

- 'insurance model of judicial review' (Ginsberg) 485
- International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights
 - proportionality principle, on 51
 - recognises need to invoke emergency powers 403–4
- international financial institutions (IFIs)
 - belief in ease of transplanting Western legal models 279–80
 - pressure on Indonesia for reforms 278
 - reform as condition for receiving aid from 278–9
- international law
 - recognises need to invoke emergency powers 403–4
 - used to legitimate emergency powers see China
- International Monetary Fund (IMF),
 - pressure on Indonesia for reforms 278
- Islam and 'culture of constitutionalism' 12–13, 14–15
- Islamic law
 - examples of use to strengthen state control 214
 - introduction to Aceh see Aceh
 - Islam and 'culture of constitutionalism', on 12–13, 14–15
 - use of powers and introduction of 9
- Islamism and emergency rule in
 - Pakistan see Cornelius, Justice Alvin Robert
- Islamist movements, growth of 285–6
- Japan
 - administrative guidance, use of 317–21
 - Constitution, proposed revision of 340
 - constitutionalised powers, whether need for 333
 - constitutionalism and use of powers
 - appearance of model liberal constitution 328
 - authority for use of powers 339
 - constitutional origins of weak rule of law 317
 - Emperor's role in enactment of Constitution 331–3
 - powers as catalyst for constitutional reform 339–40
 - prospects for continuing debate on rule of law 340–1
 - scope of chapter 315–17
 - undermining of rule of law by emergency powers 339
 - weak rule of law: blurs line between normalcy and exception 316–17; limits of constitutionalism, and 328
 - whether Constitution imposed by USA 328–33
- Dyzenhaus's ideas applied to 340–1
- emergency powers laws 315–16, 336–9
 - constitutional authority for 339
 - linked to threat from North Korea 336
 - oversight of 338
 - war contingency legislation, enactment of: administrative reforms supporting 335; factors for difficulties in 334; Koizumi's support for 335; political changes supporting 334–5; progress of legislation 333–4; US pressure for 335–6
- executive power and rule of law 11–12, 14–15
 - judicial review, role of see judicial review, role of below
- Gross's extra-legal measures model, applicability of 320–1
- judicial review, role of 321–4, 338
 - Nike II* case 322–4
 - political question doctrine as to 322–4: US Supreme Court practice compared 323–4
- Koizumi, Junichiro
 - reform programme blocked 326
 - support for war contingency legislation 335

- Japan (cont.)
 legal basis for use of powers 11–12
 UN peacekeeping missions, involvement in 336
 use of powers, political constraints
 on 325–8
- judiciary see also specific countries
 judicial review 404–7
 acceptance of 481
 Benvenisti's survey of 470–2 constitutional culture as precondition 17
 Crown immunity doctrine 402–3 Ginsburg's 'insurance model' 485
 increase in 467
 Kavanaugh on reasons for judicial deference 490
 Posner on judicial deference 490 post-9/11 strategies 471: refer back to executive 471; refer case or question of law to legislature 471–2; refer matter to legislature 471; send law back to legislature to re-enact 472; striking down unconstitutional emergency statute 472 potential for stronger 15 reasons for review of emergency powers 489–94
 recent trends 462–5, 481 UN's use of targeted financial sanctions, of 256–7
 Western liberal democracies, in 469–72
- response to constitutionalised
 powers 10, 13–14
- role of Cornelius on see Cornelius, Justice
 Alvin Robert
 David Dyzenhaus on 26, 49:
 'weatherman' role 490–1
 emergency proclamations, in 185
 Kosovo peace mission, in 247–8, 253–5
 main theme of study, as 3–4
 overview of perspectives 10–11, 13–15
 scope of chapter 466, 468–9, 494
 UK and USA, in 61
 use of powers against India 5
 Pakistan 5
- Kavanaugh, Aileen, reasons for judicial deference to executive on emergency powers 490
- Khanna, Justice, defence of judicial review in India 492–4
- Koizumi, Junichiro see Japan
- Kosovo
 choice of law applied to 247–8 executive detention, use by UN 253–5
- Laos
 constitutional development 166–7
 emergency powers laws 167
 independence, gaining of 166
 Pathet Lao, role of 166–7
 single-party rule, choice of 184–5
- legal and political theory see also constitutionalism; theories of emergency powers
 overview of perspectives 4–7 perspectives as main theme of study, as 3–4
- legal basis for use of powers
 colonial authorities in Burma 8
 India 5
 Japan 11–12
 Pakistan 5
 Thailand 11
- 'legal black hole' theory applied to
 Pakistan 105
- legal formalism, use of 269–70
- 'legal grey hole' theory applied to India 111
- legal transplant see also specific countries
 constitutionalism and emergency powers, of, scope of chapter 56–7
 critique of 279–80 difficulty of 279
 governance models, of 280

- legality see constitutionalism; rule of law
- liberal approaches to powers see theories of emergency powers
- Lincoln, Abraham duty to preserve the nation, on the 150 strength of republic, on 58
- Macapagal-Arroyo, Gloria see Philippines
- Malaysia/Malaya 157–8
abuse of powers 394–5, 396–8, 399–401
confrontation with Indonesia 182–3 constitutional commission (Reid Commission) 158–60 constitutionalised powers, arguments for and against 408–9 constitutionalism and use of powers 38–42, 396–8
continuing state of emergency in 40–1, 45 ‘culture of justification’ in 40–1 declarations of state of emergency 182–3
emergency powers laws 182–3, 394, 399–401
Federation of Malaysia established 160–1 fundamental rights and emergency powers, Reid Commission on 158–9 independence gaining of 156–60, 161 reserve powers at 160
judicial review
effectiveness of 408–9 Ginsburg’s ‘insurance model’ applied to 485 preventive detention laws 404–7
judiciary’s role 397–9
neo-Roman/constitutional model applied to 407–8 political struggle to achieve rule of law 49–50
preventive detention, Reid Commission on 159 reserved colonial powers 157–8 reserved powers at independence 160 retention of reserve powers 185
role of judiciary 39–41, 49–50
state of emergency abuse of powers 394–5, 399–401 against communist insurrection 155–60 law on proclamation of 394 UN fact-finding mission 161
use of powers 38–9
Marcos, Ferdinand see Philippines
Marshall, David, role in Singapore’s independence movement 160 martial law see also specific countries British use of 60–1
definition 60
effect of authority of state, example of Aceh see Aceh Maung Gyi, Sir Joseph see Burma media, use of powers against see Indonesia Megawati, Sukarnoputri see Indonesia military intervention see specific countries
‘moralised politics’, Tushnet on 327
Musharraf, General Pervez see Pakistan
Myanmar see Burma
Nasution, General Abdul Haris see Indonesia national survival, use of powers to preserve 150 Ne Win see Burma negara hukum (rule of law in Indonesia) attempts to establish, overview of 273–84 debate over meaning of 274–5 economic and political pressures for implementing 276–80 equivalence to Rechtsstaat 274–6 equivalence to rule of law 10, 13–14

- negara hukum* (cont.)
 hope that constitutional amendments will lead to 273–4
 importance of 292
 need for legal framework 276 progress towards 281–4 neo-Roman/constitutional model see Ferejohn, John and Pasquino, Pasquale
 Netherlands, decolonisation in Indonesia 168–9
Nike II case 322–4
 normalcy
 Carl Schmitt on sovereignty and 58–9
 constitutionalism's need for state
 of 58–9
 dichotomy between exception and 63
 basis for 315
 exception, of, Agamben on 140–2 state of emergency as 122–3 success of powers in restoring 84–6 use of powers as stimulus for demand for 86–7 normalisation of powers 149; see also specific countries
 colonial legacy, resulting from 151
 North Borneo see Malaysia/Malaya
 North Korea see also South Korea Japan's emergency powers enactments linked to threat from 336

 Olympic Games 2008 see China opposition to use of powers 5; see also specific countries
Origins and Causes of the Burma Rebellion 1930–1932, The 195–7
 Pakistan
 antidemocratic tendencies in legal system 92
 Chaudhry, Chief Justice Iftikhar Muhammad, role in Pakistan's judicial crisis 93–6
 colonial concept of rule of law, influence of 119–20

 colonial influence on use of
 powers 91–2, 115–19
 Constitution agreement on principles 441–2 court's powers under 444
 need for 441
 rejection of draft 442
 Cornelius, Justice Alvin Robert see
 Cornelius, Justice Alvin Robert
 curbs on civil and political rights 99 declaration of emergency by Musharraf 96–9 emergency powers as continuing barrier to constitutionalism 120
 emergency powers laws 97–8
 extraconstitutional use of powers compared with Thailand's use of coups d'état 296–7 constitution as extraconstitution 110–15
 constraints on 105–10
 'doctrine of state necessity' 102–3, 106–7 effect on Constitution 99–105 ex post justification 104–5, 107–8, 109–10
 judicial crisis of 2007, in 89–111
 'legal black hole', as 105 non-legal factors affecting outcome 115 normalisation of extraconstitution 103
 opposition to 107–9
 stages in 100–4
 Islam and 'culture of
 constitutionalism' 12–13,
 14–15
 Islamic law, role of 214 judicial crisis of 2007 93–6
 judiciary, role of 95–6, 102–4, 107–8, 109–10; see also Cornelius, Justice Alvin Robert constitutional power of review 444
 protection of rights, in 441
 review of Laws (Continuance in Force) Order 445–50

- review of legality of state of emergency 442, 443
 - review of military actions 444
- Laws (Continuance in Force) Order
 - issue of 445
 - judicial review of 445–50
- legal basis for use of powers 5
- martial law of 1958 444–5
 - Laws (Continuance in Force) Order, issue of 445
- motivation for using powers 95
- Musharraf, General Pervez, use of powers 5, 89–111
- opposition to emergency powers 94–5
- opposition to use of powers 95–6
- political struggle to achieve rule of law 49
- purging of judiciary 5
- religious law and rule of law 12–13, 15
- role of judiciary 11–12, 14–15, 49
- suspension of Constitution 98–9
- use of powers compared with Thailand 296–7
- Zia al-Haq, Islamist policies 461–2
- Pasquino, Pasquale see Ferejohn and Pasquino
- Pathet Lao see Laos
- peacekeeping missions
 - East Timor see East Timor
 - Kosovo 247–8
 - UN see United Nations (UN)
- ‘People Power’, defeats Marcos 171
- Perpu Regulations see Indonesia
- Philippines
 - Aquino, Corazon
 - 1987 Constitution 171–2
 - becomes President 171
 - presidency 171–2
 - use of powers 434
 - use of war powers clause 422, 423
 - commander-in-chief clause in Constitution 420–2
 - ‘constitutional authoritarianism’, Marcos’s 430–1
 - constitutional development 152–3, 169–73, 414–16
 - democratic ethos of 1987 Constitution 171–2
 - Marcos’s reforms 415
 - US influence 171–2
 - constitutionalised powers, manipulation of Marcos’s institutionalised emergency 416–19
 - overview of perspectives 430–3
 - scope of chapter 413–14
 - economic emergencies clause in Constitution 422–3
 - emergency powers laws 152–3, 172
 - institutional checks on: Arroyo’s avoidance of 431–2; Commander-in-Chief clause 420–2; economic emergencies clause 422–3; failure of 432–3; overview 419–20; post-Marcos 434; war powers clause 422
 - Estrada, Joseph
 - presidency and use of powers 415–16
 - use of commander-in-chief clause 423–4
 - use of powers 434
 - human rights
 - Macapagal-Arroyo’s record on 429–30
 - UN report on 429–30
 - judicial review 11, 14, 170
 - role of 420–2
 - ‘state of rebellion’ 424–9
 - use of commander-in-chief clause 423–4
- Macapagal-Arroyo, Gloria
 - declares state of emergency 172–3
 - evasion of constitutional checks 431–2
 - human rights record 429–30
 - manipulation of powers 412–13, 416, 424–9, 434–5
 - pragmatic approach to use of powers 433
 - presidency 172–3, 423, 424

- Philippines (cont.)
 use of economic emergencies clause 422–3
 use of powers 11, 14
 Marcos, Ferdinand
 ‘constitutional authoritarianism’ 430–1 constitutional reform 170–1, 415, 416–19
 growing opposition to 170 institutionalised
 emergency 416–19
 manipulation of powers 434
 ‘People Power’ ousts 171
 presidency 170–1
 use of emergency powers to reform society 412, 416–19, 430–1, 433–4
 use of powers 11, 14, 170, 415
 martial law 170
 retention of reserve powers 152–3, 185
 ‘state of rebellion’, judicial review
 of 424–9
 war powers clause in Constitution 422
 political and social culture acceptance of authoritarian rule 64 role in supporting constitutional order 50 political parties, use of powers against see Indonesia political question doctrine role of judicial review, as to 322–4 US and Japan’s approach compared 323–4
 political struggle to achieve rule of law,
 concept of 49–50
 political struggle to achieve rule of law
 in South Korea 86–7 political system, extraconstitutional use of powers to transform 89–90, 93 political systems categories of 82–3
 examples of types of 83–4 political theory see legal and political theory
- Posner, Judge Richard, judges’
 deference to executive on emergency powers, on 490 postcolonial/post-conflict transitions
 see also specific countries
 colonial influence on use of
 powers 291–2
 colonial legacy of powers 189–90, 393–4 colonial perspectives, importance for study 211–12
 colonial powers’ use of emergency powers see specific countries colonialism’s link with emergency
 powers 6–7
 Constitution’s transitional role 46 federalist tensions 9–10 importance of powers post-independence 149–50 independence, gaining of see specific countries
 main theme of study, as 3–4 normalisation of powers resulting from cultural legacy 151
 overview of perspectives 7 political and social changes resulting from colonialism 191–2 political and social influences on colonial administrations 192
 retention of reserve powers 151, 185 survey of use of powers, scope of chapter 149–51
 preventive detention see detention proportionality principle 50–2 distinction between preserving and establishing rule of law, as to 52–3
 legal basis of 51
 non-constitutionalised powers 403–7
- Ramraj, Victor see ‘emergency powers paradox’
rechtsstaat
 distinction from rule of law 275 equivalence to negara hukum 274–6 ‘rule by law’, as 275 ‘thin’ version of rule of law, as 275–6

- Reid Commission see Malaysia/Malaya
- religious law see Islamic law
- Rendel Constitutional Commission see Singapore
- reserve powers see postcolonial/post-conflict transitions; specific countries
- 'responsible government' of colonies defined 154
- rule by law
- distinguished from rule of law 48
 - meaning of 275
 - Rechtsstaat* as 275
- rule of law see also 'emergency powers paradox'; specific countries
- colonial concept of, influence of 119–20
 - commitment and conceptions 47–50
 - 'degree of commitment' to (Tushnet) 42
 - developing states, role in 314
 - difference between establishment and preservation of
 - emphasis on preservation 27–8:
 - distinction between established and developing constitutional orders, as
 - existence of 24
 - importance of 22, 45–6
 - proportionality principle as to 52–3 - distinction from Rechtsstaat 275
 - emergency powers laws, contribution by 87–8
 - emphasis on preservation
 - distinction between established and developing constitutional orders 42 - 'exception in rule' 143
 - Hart–Fuller debate 46–7
 - identity of state, as 143
 - Kosovo, applied to 247–8
 - political struggle to achieve, need for 49–50
 - role of 276
 - rule by law, distinguished from 48
 - 'thick' and 'thin' versions 275–6
 - UN, and see United Nations (UN)
 - use of powers to serve 42–3
 - existential threats, against 43–5
 - proportionality principle 50–2
 - transitional constitutionalism, in context of 45–50
- sanctions, UN's use of targeted financial 255–7
- Sarawak see Malaysia/Malaya
- SARS crisis, response to see China
- Saya San see Burma
- Schmitt, Carl
- responses to 25
 - sovereignty and normalcy, on 58–9
 - sovereignty and the exception, on 63
- scope of study
- debates within 1–2
 - divergence and convergence of issues 15–17
 - focus on Asia, reasons for 2–3
 - main themes 3–4
 - relevance to study of constitutionalism 17
 - working definition of emergency powers 2
- security provision as state's singular activity 142
- Shari'a law see Islamic law
- Sichuan earthquake see China
- Singapore
- constitutional development 160, 161, 180–3
 - emergency powers laws 181–2
 - independence, gaining of 156–61
 - joins Federation of Malaysia 161
 - judicial review of preventive detention laws 404–7
 - leaves Federation of Malaysia 181
 - Marshall, David, role in independence movement 160
 - power to suspend Constitution, use of 160
 - Rendel Constitutional Commission 160
 - reserve powers at independence 161
 - reserved colonial powers 157–8, 160
 - retention of reserve powers 185
 - single-party rule, choice of 184–5

- snowstorms in China 2008, responses to see China
- South Korea see also North Korea
constitutionalism, success of 78–9
emergency powers laws 73
establishment of constitutionalism 72–3
judicial review
acceptance of 483–4
Ginsburg's 'insurance model'
applied to 485
martial law in 73–8 martial law protests 17 post-emergency political transition 78–9
type of political system 84
use of powers 73–8
use of powers as stimulus for demand for normalcy 86–7
- Sri Lanka
colonial influence on use of
powers 123–4
compulsion to legality applied
to 126–32, 144–5
constitutional legitimisation of abuse of powers, as example of 122
crisis constitutionalism 132–43 effect of powers on political development 125–6
emergency powers laws 124–5
'experiments in institutional design'
proposal applied to Sri Lanka 133–4
extra-legal measures model applied
to 134–5
'force-of-law' concept applied
to 141–2
liberal approach to powers applied
to 132–5
normalisation of powers 6, 125, 135–9
Agamben's analysis applied 140–2 techniques 137–9 paradigm for post-9/11 emergency regimes, as 139–43
remedies for abuse of power institutional reform 129–31 legal reform 127–9
renewal of political culture 131–2
state of emergency as norm 122–3
'supermajoritarian escalator' applied
to 133
use of powers 122–3 stability, emergency powers as instruments 4–5, 8
state of emergency see also specific countries
Carl Schmitt on sovereignty and exception 63
declarations worldwide, statistics
on 62
dichotomy between normalcy
and 63, 143–4
basis for 315
distinction between normalcy
and 67–8
identity of state, as 143
judiciary's role in declarations of 185
norm, as 122–3
Sri Lanka as paradigm for post-9/11 regimes 139–43
state of siege historical development in France and Germany 59–61
Taiwanese law, in 69
Sudan, role of Islamic law 214
Suharto see Indonesia
Sukarno, Ahmad see Indonesia
'supermajoritarian escalator'
(Ackerman) 26–7
Sri Lanka, applied to 133
- Taiwan
constitutional foundation 68–9
constitutionalism, success of 72
emergency powers laws 69
judicial review
acceptance of 484
Ginsburg's 'insurance model'
applied to 485
martial law, use of 69 political history post-1894 68

- post-emergency political transition 72
- success of powers in restoring normalcy 85–6
- type of political system 83–4
- use of powers 69–72
- terrorism see also specific countries
 - Asian economic crisis as catalyst for 285–6
 - increasing international co-operation against 285
- Teubner, Gunther, difficulty of legal transplant, on 279
- Thailand
 - Constitutional Court's role in oversight of powers 303–5
 - constitutional development 177–80
 - difficulties in establishing rule of law 312–13
 - emergency powers as barrier to 300
 - need for culture of legal restraint 313
 - constitutionalism and use of powers 34–7, 41
 - competing principles, as 311–12
 - revocation of Constitution to give legal immunity to coup 297
 - scope of chapter 300
 - weakness of constitutionalism 311
- coups d'état*
 - justification of 297–8
 - use compared with Pakistan 296–7
 - use instead of emergency powers 295–6
 - use of 185
- emergency powers laws
 - Internal Security Act 2007 306–11
 - martial law 305–6
 - opposition to 294
 - oversight of 303–5
 - overview of 300–1
 - relationship to fundamental rights 305
 - scope of 301–3
- emergency powers paradox applied to 294–5, 296
- executive power and rule of law 11, 14
- human rights
 - emergency powers and 305
 - lack of accountability for abuses in 'war on drugs' 298–9
- Internal Security Act 2007 306–11
- judiciary's role in oversight of powers 303–5
- legal basis for use of powers 11
- martial law powers 305–6
- monarchy's political role 297
- normalisation of emergency 311
- normalisation of military intervention 11
- Parliament's role in oversight of powers 303–5
- use of powers
 - compared with Pakistan 296
 - constitutionalism, and, scope of chapter 300
 - 'technique of government', as 296, 299–300
 - 'war on drugs', lack of accountability for human rights abuses in 298–9
- theories of emergency powers 315
 - applicability of liberal theories 15–17, 21–2, 315
 - understanding reasons for non-applicability, importance of 54–5
- approaches taken by 1
- colonial perspectives, importance for study 211–12
- common features
 - assumption of presence of liberal-democratic institutions 26–7
 - emphasis on preserving rule of law 27–8
- completion of constitutionalism, as 58–9
- constitutionalised powers 26
- constitutionalism and emergency as competing principles 311–12

- theories of emergency powers (cont.) constitutionalism, and, towards general theory of 88 contemporary theories 23–8 ‘emergency powers paradox’ 25–8 historical link with constitutionalism 57–61
 levels of debate 23–4 liberal approach to powers 121–2 contrast with Southeast Asia 149
 Sri Lanka, applied to 132–5
 link to theories of constitutionalism 4, 83
 theory, legal and political see legal and political theory
 Tiananmen Democracy Movement see
 China
 Tibet, unrest in see China
 Timor-Leste see East Timor torture, debate over use of 24–5 transitional states see postcolonial/post-conflict transitions Tushnet, Mark
 ‘degree of commitment to the rule of law’, on 42
 ‘moralised politics’, on 327 applied to China 390
 role of political and social culture,
 on 50
- U Nu see Burma
 U Oktama see Burma
 United Kingdom
 colonial influence on use of powers in India and Pakistan 115–19 constitutional history, Cornelius draws lessons from 452–3 decolonisation in Southeast Asia 153–4; see also specific countries
 emergency powers enactments 61
 judicial review in 471
 ‘responsible government’ of colonies defined 154 retention of reserve powers 154; see also specific countries
 role of judiciary 61
- state of emergency in colonies, use of see specific countries
- United Nations (UN) applies international humanitarian law to peacekeeping operations 237–8 assertion of ‘superior legal and moral position’ 237–8 detention, use in Kosovo 253–5 ‘emergency powers paradox, applied
 to 239–40
 fact-finding mission to Malaysia 161 financial sanctions, use of 255–7 human rights in Philippines, report
 on 429–30
 peacekeeping missions 243, 246–52
 East Timor 29–34
 Japan’s involvement in 336 reflection of Western values and rule of law, as 239–40
 rule of law
 applied to use of powers 9 compromise of 252–61 compromised in Afghanistan 257–61
 East Timor, application in 246–52
 invoking by UN as response to
 emergency 240–1
 lack of clarity on whether applying to UN 238
 Security Council’s uses of 241–6 whether applies to UN 252–3 UNTAC mission in Cambodia 168
 use of powers
 derivation in UN Charter 238–9
 overview 261–3
 rule of law applied to 9
 scope of chapter 238, 239
 willingness to exercise 142–3
- USA
Baker v. Carr on political question doctrine 323–4 decolonisation in Philippines 152–3 federal statutes conferring
 powers 61

- influence on Indonesian policy in Aceh 221
- influence on Philippines
 - constitutional development 171–2
- Japan's Constitution imposed by, whether 328–33
- Japan's security policy, influence on 335–6
- judges' deference to executive on emergency powers, Posner on 490
- political question doctrine, Supreme Court's approach compared to Japan 323–4
- post-Bali bombing pressure on Indonesia 287
- role of judiciary 61
- use of powers 31–2; see also abuse of powers; extraconstitutional use of powers; specific countries
- ability of established democracies to control 62–3
- Albert Chen on 399–401, 480
- colonial influence on 115–19
- colonialism and see postcolonial/post-conflict transitions; specific countries
- compared with extraconstitutional use 90–1
- conservative purposes, for 92–3
- continuing barrier to constitutionalism, as 120
- danger to ordinary governance 480–1
- decision for 63–4
- distinction between established and developing constitutional orders 4
- 'emergency powers paradox' 4–5, 8
- human rights can be eclipsed by, whether 158–9
- justified as maintaining stability 4–5, 8
- need to account for differences in 83
- political and social culture, acceptance by 64
- postcolonial/post-conflict transitions, in see postcolonial/post-conflict transitions
- preserve status quo, to 89–90
- preserve the nation, to 150
- preserve the state, to 184
- rule of law applied to 9
- rule of law, to serve see rule of law
- stimulus for demanding return of normalcy, as 86–7
- subversion of constitutionalism by 64
- success in restoring normalcy 84–6
- 'technique of government', as 296, 299–300
- UN's see United Nations (UN)
- Vietnam
 - Bao Dai's role in independence 163–7
 - constitutional changes in South Vietnam 164–5
 - constitutional development 163–6
 - Diem regime in South Vietnam 164–5
 - emergency powers laws
 - post-reunification 166
 - South Vietnamese 165
 - French defeat in 163–7
 - Ho Chi Minh, role in independence 163–7
 - martial law in South Vietnam 165
 - single-party rule, choice of 184–5
- 'war on drugs', lack of accountability for human rights abuses in 298–9
- 'war on terror' see specific countries; terrorism
- Williams, Bernard, 'first political question', on 43–4
- Wiranto, General see Indonesia
- World Bank, reform as condition for receiving aid from 278–9
- Yudhoyono, Susilo Bambang see Indonesia
- Zia al-Haq see Pakistan