

Cambridge University Press

0521778654 - Chinese Urban Life under Reform: The Changing Social Contract
Wenfang Tang and William L. Parish

Index

More information

Index

- acquisitiveness (see also consumption): 103, 107, 119, 121–22
- administrators (see also bureaucrats; civil servants; corruption; technocrats): advantages of, 51, 56, 64, 65, 68, 81, 87–88, 90–91, 93–94, 95, 97, 99; ages of, 174–75; attitudes of, 115–18, 169–72, 177–78; and civil service regulations, 167; and corruption, 313; definition of, 317; differential fate of, 315; education of, 61, 62, 68–69, 168; income of, 95, 174, 181, 182, 183, 284–86; and income, 95, 284–86; and interest articulation, 197, 198–200, 202; as new class, 51n; quality of, 173–75; and seniority, 280–81; in Taiwan, 276, 280–82, 284–87, 289, 291, 292, 294; in transition, 163, 165; types of, 167–72, 315
- affirmative action, 10, 52, 55, 57, 65, 74–75, 78, 310
- age (see also seniority): and assertiveness with spouse, 259–61; and attitudes about bureaucracy, 170, 172; and divorce attitudes, 264; and expectations, 282; and interest articulation, 204, 282; and optimism, 120; and political attitudes, 294; and reform attitudes, 115–18; 125–27; in Taiwan, 294; and work, 216, 219, 221–23, 311, 312
- alienation, 5, 11, 136n, 308–11
- Almond, Gabriel, 6–7, 306
- appliances, and women's chores, 237, 238, 250–52
- assertiveness, individual: and age, 259–61; and cultural framing, 302n; delayed, 307; and education, 259–60, 306; female, 259–62; individualism, 311; male, 172, 228n, 202–3, 204 fig.; in private sector, 197, 204 fig., 309; with spouse, 302n; in Taiwan, 302n; of workers, 146, 153–54
- attitudes (see also assertiveness; expectations; satisfaction): 14–15; attitude scales, 325–31; about bureaucrats, 169–73, 180; by cohort, 287–94; determinants of reform attitudes, 104–7; and material conditions, 104, 110; satisfaction with reform, 108–14; spillover effect, 114; in Taiwan, 288–94
- authoritarianism (see also dependency): 9, 23, 185, 309; fragmented, 166n, 309
- autonomy, in marriage, 238, 240
- backyard steel mills, see Great Leap Forward
- bamboo curtain, see migrants
- bargaining (see also intergenerational bargaining; spousal bargaining; work units, bargaining among; worker bargaining): 10, 12, 13, 14, 16; individualistic, 186–87
- bargaining school (see also administrators, advantages of; firms, types of; market transition, debates about; party members, advantages of; work units, bargaining among): 12–13, 51, 80–81, 99–100, 314
- Baron, James, 53n, 314
- Becker, Gary, 15
- Berk, Sarah, 15, 234n
- Bian, Yanjie, 13, 51, 52, 55, 56, 57, 60, 69, 71, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85n, 92, 98, 100, 131, 194, 314
- blue-collar workers, see manual workers; workers
- Brines, Julie, 15, 234, 235, 248
- Burawoy, Michael, 80, 130, 135
- bureaucracy (see also principled particularism; retirement, mandatory): 7; bureaucratic control, 70, 124, 164; centralization, 104, 110, 166; decentralization, 179; in Taiwan, 276

Cambridge University Press

0521778654 - Chinese Urban Life under Reform: The Changing Social Contract
Wenfang Tang and William L. Parish

Index

More information

382

Index

- bureaucrats (see also administrators; civil servants; managers; technocrats): 163, 165, 315; attitudes of, 168–73; number of, 175–77; objective indicators of, 173–77; subjective indicators of, 177–78
- capital: financial, 97; human, 84, 97, 315; social, 97, 315
- cash nexus, 103
- child care, 213–14, 252n
- children, and friction with spouse, 260–61; and sexual behavior, 263n
- Chirot, Daniel, 5, 134, 307
- chores, household: and appliances, 237, 238, 250–52; and bedrooms, 252; and hired help, 252; and satisfaction levels, 253–54; and women's income share, 236, 248–53, 300–302; and women's labor, 222; in Taiwan, 300–302
- cities (see also urban areas): city size and demand for women's labor, 215, 221–22; imperial, 18; specific cities (Beijing, Guangzhou, Shanghai, Tianjin), 105, 106, 110, 114, 115, 116, 117, 119; and western contact, 18–19; and Opium War, 18
- civil servants (see also administrators; bureaucrats; managers): 47; in income scale, 331–33
- class interests, see administrators; bargaining school; group interests; professionals
- class structure, see intergenerational mobility
- class system, caste, 17, 31–32
- clerical workers (see also pink-collar jobs; white-collar jobs): 73 fig., 74; attitudes of, 119–22, 125–27, 169–72, 177–78; definition of, 317; and interest articulation, 202
- cohorts (see also age; seniority): and attitudes, 289–90, 291, 292, 294, 304; defined, 287–88; geologically layered, 17, 18; in Taiwan, 288–90, 291, 292, 294; in U.S., 287, 305
- commercialism, see consumption
- connections (see also interest articulation, channels for): kin, 71; use of, 11, 187, 194, 196, 199n, 205, 309, 315
- consumption (see also acquisitiveness): 18; commercialism and weddings, 242–43, 266; consumer vs. producer society, 58; consumerism, 41–43, 104, 214; marriage rituals, 242; wife's income share and, 245; and women's chores, 237
- convergence (see also education, and assertiveness; education, and expectations; Inkeles, Alex; market and socialist systems): 6, 306; and individualism, 309
- corporatist channels (see also dependency; interest articulation; principled particularism; worker bargaining): 9, 185–86, 202, 306, 307
- corruption, 164, 167, 168, 178–81, 313; and media publicity, 47; and public resentment, 117, 123, 179–80
- courtship, 239, 242
- credentialism (see also education; interest groups; intergenerational mobility): 14, 53; and bureaucrats, 62, 173n; and income, 87; job entrance exams, 71–73; and jobs, 56; screening device, 55
- crime, prevention of, 28
- Crowley, Stephen, 129–30, 145
- Crozier, Michel, 7, 135n, 310
- cultural frames (see also popular culture), and spousal bargaining, 15, 235, 302n, 305
- Cultural Revolution (see also cohorts): and attacks on managers, 136; and education, 52, 54, 55, 59, 60, 61, 64, 65, 72, 77; effects of, 22; and life chances, 310–11; and mobility, 57, 74, 75; and personalized dependency, 308
- Dahrendorf, Ralf, 159, 162, 310
- danwei*, see work unit
- dating, see courtship
- Davis, Deborah, 10, 24n, 57, 246n, 248n
- democratization: perceived importance of, 9, 124, 309; in Eastern Europe, 9; in Taiwan, 276–77
- dependency (see also workers, dependency among): 5, 10, 11–12, 29, 307–10; and attitudes, 288–94; among bureaucrats, 169
- developed market societies, comparisons to (see also United States): and early industrialization, 8; education, 72n; job mobility, 76n; labor history, 162, 310, 162; segmented labor markets, 79, 81; strikes, 159; voting, 200; worker bargaining, 129
- developing country comparisons, education, 62, 77
- development, see convergence; industrialization
- diffusion (see also under Hong Kong;

Cambridge University Press

0521778654 - Chinese Urban Life under Reform: The Changing Social Contract
Wenfang Tang and William L. Parish

Index

More information

Index

383

- Taiwan): 307
 discrimination, see under women's work divorce, 263–66, 302–3; and bargaining, 237, 264, 266; in other societies, 302; and remarriage by gender, 266; in Russia, 234n, 266 double bind, of family and work (see also chores), 211, 218 du Plessix Gray, Francine, 211, 218, 234
- Eastern Europe (see also European socialist societies; specific countries): 4, 13, 57, 80, 82, 187
- education (see also credentialism; women's education): 52–56; and assertiveness, 6, 47, 52–56, 259–60, 282, 306; and chores, 251, 252; and complaints, 198; consequences of, 59–62; credentials, 105, 217, 220, 229; and expectations, 255, 282, 306; and income, 81–82, 84–87, 91–92, 98, 228–29, 284 fig., 286; and jobs, 71–73, 216–17, 220, 280–82; and marketization, 70; mixed effects on attitudes, 106; and parents' education, 63–69; and satisfaction, 253–54; school consolidation, 54; tracking, 61; vocational, 54, 61; and work unit bargaining, 56
- Edwards, Richard, 10, 11, 135, 162, 310
- efficacy (see also assertiveness; individualism): economic, 125–27; political, 201, 203–4; sense of, 121, 309; in Taiwan, 290–91
- egalitarianism (see also affirmative action; market transition): 5–6, 12, 51, 76, 310; and attitudes, 12, 102, 103, 181, 288–94, 312; “bread nexus,” 103; zero-sum assumption, 103n
- Einhorn, Barbara, 210, 211, 212, 237
- elections: electoral law, 194–95; in Taiwan, 276–77; and voting, 199–200
- embourgeoisement, interrupted, 97n
- employer discrimination, see women's work, managerial discrimination
- Engels, Friedrich, 237
- “erosion from above/below,” see market transition
- European socialist societies (see also specific countries): chores in, 249; interest articulation in, 190; job mobility in, 10, 76n, 308
- exams, see civil servants; credentialing; meritocracy; technocrats
- expectations: and education, 6, 45–46, 47, 253–54; and worker bargaining, 146, 153
 experience, work, see seniority
- family, see chores; divorce; intergenerational bargaining; marital satisfaction; marriage; old age; spousal bargaining
- Farrer, James, 232n, 238n, 242
- firms (see also state sector; work units): size of, 136; types of, 32, 137, 144n, 147, 157
- Fish, Stephen, 129, 145
- France, 7, 135n, 159n
- French Revolution, 17, 22
- Friedman, Milton, 41
- fringe benefits (see also bargaining school; income): 80, 83, 84, 85, 308
- gender (see also women): 15–16, 298, 315–16; gender display and chores, 235, 300–302, 316; segregation by occupation, 229, 316
- generations, see cohorts
- Goldin, Claudia, 213, 229
- Goode, William, 233, 234n, 302, 306
- government, see administrators
- Great Leap Forward, 21–22, 59
- great transformation, the (see also market and socialist systems), 8
- guanxi*, see bargaining school; connections
- Guthrie, Douglas, 13, 283, 285, 306, 313, 314
- health care, 38–41
- heavy industry, 14, 19; and interest articulation, 188 fig.; and women's work, 212, 226
- Hershatter, Gail, 212, 214, 241, 242
- historical eras (see also cohorts), 18–23
- Hochschild, Arlie Russel, 234
- Honig, Emily, 212, 214, 241, 242
- Hong Kong: and foreign investment, 90; and diffusion, 106, 107, 122, 124, 307; and firm size, 136; as model, 214, 307; and romantic behavior, 239, 241; women's income, 227; women's work, 218
- Hough, Jerry, 166, 185, 186
- household registration, 26, 28; and survey, 28n
- housework, see chores
- housing, 37–38; of administrators and managers, 89, 90–91, 174–75; and bargaining, 87, 88–90, 91, 95; bedrooms,

Cambridge University Press

0521778654 - Chinese Urban Life under Reform: The Changing Social Contract
Wenfang Tang and William L. Parish

Index

More information

384

Index

housing (cont.)

252; and chores, 238, 251, 252; and old age residence, 247–48; and sexual behavior, 263n

Hungary, 14, 76n, 81, 313; and worker solidarity, 130

Huntington, Samuel, 6, 45, 47, 306

income (see also education, and income; seniority, and income): attitudes about, 121, 125–27, 288–90; and in-kind benefits, 80–81, 87–90, 174–75; per capita, 42; in Taiwan, 283–87; wage reform of 1993, 40income share (see also spousal bargaining): 244–46; in Taiwan, 299–300individualism, see acquisitiveness;

assertiveness; convergence; efficacy

industrialization, 6, 19; rural, 27 inequality (see also egalitarianism): market vs. structural determinants, 53; trends in, 92–95

inflation, and attitudes, 104, 110, 123

informal sector (see also firms): 24, 30, 79; Taiwan comparisons, 275, 295

Inkeles, Alex, 5, 6, 43, 47, 106, 306

intellectuals (see also professionals): 20, 52interest articulation (see also corporatist channels; elections; worker bargaining):

9; and age, 190, 203, 204, 282, 306; bifurcation in mode of, 153–54, 161, 184, 188, 189–90, 198–200, 203, 204; channels for, 5, 9, 148–54, 184, 187–88, 192–96, 202, 204–5, 308–9; and education, 199, 204 fig., 306; effective channels for, 195–96; and gender, 190–91, 204 fig.;

letters to the editor, 47; mandatory, 185;

by occupation, 196–98, 200, 202–3;

particularized complaints, 189; particularized contact, 5, 189; protests, 193n;

trends in, 201–3; and urban elites, 52

interest groups: educated, 173n; and interest articulation, 188; and reactions to reform, 14–15, 105–6, 117, 125–27; types of urban residents, 122; urban aristocracy, 23–24; urban elites, 52–53, 77, 310; and voting biases, 200

intergenerational bargaining (see also old age), 246–48intergenerational mobility (see also affirmative action; credentialism; education; job mobility): 51, 53, 58, 74–76, 77, 310, use of education, 72

Jacka, Tamara, 212

Jacobsen, Joyce, 213, 228n, 229, 238

Japan, comparisons: complaints, 191; firm size, 313; job mobility, 280; returns to human capital, 84; women's work, 214; women's income, 227

Jefferson, Gary, 81, 133

job mobility, intra- and interfirm, 35; education and 72–73; structural opportunity and, 6, 73–74, 78; in Taiwan, 278–82

jobs (see also occupations; job mobility): difficulties in finding, 216; dissatisfaction in, 154–58; recruitment channels, 70–72; satisfaction in, 10–11, 135, 311–12; satisfaction in, bureaucratic, 171–72; satisfaction in, by cohort, 288, 289–90; satisfaction, determinants of, 154–58; satisfaction, female, 218–20; security in, 34–36; U-shaped curve in, 72, 74, 77

Kaminski, Antoni, 5, 307

Kornai, Janos, 5, 18, 51, 52, 130, 136n, 210n, 211n, 306, 307

labor markets, segmented (see also bargaining school; firms; informal sector; migrants and migration, restraints on): 79–80, 81, 100, 314; internal labor market, 105

Lapidus, Gail, 211, 237

Latin America, 23–24, 30, 31; bureaucracy in, 165n

law, rule of, 179; and workers, 11, 162

Lee, Hong Yung, 308

Lenski, Gerhard, 5, 12, 312

Lieberthal, Kenneth, 166n, 185, 186, 312

life chances (see also education; job mobility): 10, 310–11

life satisfaction: complaints in other countries, 191; and occupation, 254 fig.; optimism about, 120–21; and reform, 120–21; of women, 253–54

light industry, 14; and job opportunities, 58; and optimism, 120; and women's chores, 237; and women's work, 212–13, 215

Lin, Nan, 51, 52, 56, 80, 100

Lindblom, Charles, 5n, 41

Logan, John, 13, 55, 80, 82, 83, 84, 98, 100, 314

managers, attitudes of, 115–18, 125–27, 170, 172, 178; background of, 174;

Cambridge University Press

0521778654 - Chinese Urban Life under Reform: The Changing Social Contract
Wenfang Tang and William L. Parish

Index

More information

Index

385

- definition of, 317; and income, 174–75, 284–85; and interest articulation, 197, 198, 200, 204; in Taiwan, 284, 289, 291, 292, 294
- manual workers (see also workers):
complaints by, 285; as percent of labor force, 73–74; social origins in Taiwan, 279
- marital satisfaction (see also divorce; spousal bargaining): and assertiveness, 302n; complaints and disagreements, 254–63; physical violence, 266
- market and socialist systems, consequences of, 306–12; dilemmas in, 46–48; for education, 51–56, 59–70, 77; for family life, 236–40, 268–70, 300–305; for gender equality, 62; for interest articulation, 184–91; 204–6; introductory observations, 4–12; for jobs, 57–58, 70–78, 278–82; malleability/constancy of society, 52, 76–78; negative consequences, 9–11; Taiwan comparisons, 273–74, 300–305; for women's work, 209–12, 230–31, 295–99
- market societies, see developed market societies; Hong Kong; Japan; Taiwan; United States
- market transition (see also market and socialist systems): and actually existing market societies, 79; and bureaucracy, 163–64, 171–72, 182–83; debates about, 12–15, 51, 52, 53, 80–83, 98, 282–86, 293n, 312–15; and education, 70; emerging market pattern, 87; erosion from above and below, 82, 96, 98–99, 313; incentive transformation, 182–83; market transformation view, 81–82, 93; political nature of, 52–53, 54, 184; and spousal bargaining, 238, 269–70; and technocratic continuity, 83; technocratic transformation and incentive transformation, 182–83; timing and, 82, 313; value transformation, 102
- marriage (see also marital satisfaction):
age at, 240; autonomy in, 238–41, 243; ideal mate in, 241; rituals of, 239, 242–43, 266
- Marx, Karl, 5, 8, 10, 77, 103, 308
- Maurer-Fazio, Margaret, 55, 85, 228n
- media, mass, 18, 43–45; on corruption, 47; and diffusion of foreign messages, 6, 307; and interest articulation, 193–94, 196; letters to the editor, 47; television, 43–44
- meritocracy (see also credentialism; education; technocrats): 53, 55, 72; redistributive virtuocracy to technocratic meritocracy, 163–66, 182
- migrants and migration (see also urban areas, growth in; rural): 24–25, 30–31; blaming migrants, 31n; restraints on and women's labor, 215; in Taiwan, 275–76; trends in, 58
- mobility, see intergenerational mobility; job mobility; life chances
- Moore, Barrington, 166
- multinomial logit coefficients, explained, 322
- Nee, Victor, 12, 51, 81, 83
- neighborhood organizations, 27–28; public security bureau, 28
- occupations (see also jobs; job mobility; white-collar jobs): classification of, 317–19; and life satisfaction, 254 fig.; mobility in, 6, 226; prestige rankings of, 6; segregation by gender, 227, 229–30; women's, 225–26
- odds ratios, explained, 321
- Oksenberg, Michel, 166n, 185, 186, 308
- old age: and dependence on children, 247–48; and help with chores, 251–52, 300–301; pensions, 247
- opportunity, see life chances; education; income; job mobility
- optimism, see life satisfaction
- p* (probability), explained, 322
- parental influence, U-shaped curve in, 64, 77
- parents, see intergenerational bargaining; old age
- Parish, William, 7n, 10, 24n, 52, 54, 55, 56, 57, 65, 68, 74, 80, 102n, 210, 213, 215, 234, 237, 246n, 247n, 293n, 296
- party members (see also administrators; bargaining school): 11, 81; advantages of, 69, 87–88, 89, 91, 97, 99, 100; by age, 173–75; attitudes of, 170 fig.; in the bureaucracy, 173; education of, 173–75; and interest articulation, 190, 199n, 204 fig.; by occupation, 320; and reform attitudes, 116, 118 fig., 125–27
- path dependence, 80, 314
- patrilineal residence, 247–48

- pink-collar jobs (see also clerical workers; sales and service jobs): in Taiwan, 297–98; and women, 62, 212–13, 226, 229, 315
- Poland, worker solidarity in, 130
- Polanyi, Karl, 8, 12, 103, 307
- political efficacy, perceived, 9, 292–94
- political participation, see democratization; elections; interest articulation; political efficacy
- popular culture (see also media, mass), 44–45, and diffusion of models from abroad, 307
- principal–agent problems (see also bureaucracy), 183
- principled particularism (see also corporatist channels; dependency), 11, 164, 307, 311
- private sector, 32–34; attitudes of, 105, 121; and autonomy, 309–10; and bureaucracy, 183; entrepreneurs of, 95–99, 313; and income, 284–85; and interest articulation, 188, 197, 198, 200, 202–4; and jobs, 58, 73 fig., 74; and spontaneous privatization, 97; in Taiwan, 275, 279, 284–85; and view of reform, 116, 118–19; and women's income, 229
- producer society (see also heavy industry; manual workers; Stalinist model): 58, 74
- producers (see also market transition, debates about; managers; private sector), 12, 163, 312
- professionals (see also education; expectations): and children's education, 55, 63–65, 68; complaints by, 60, 125–27, 287, 312; and income, 94–95, 126, 284; and interest articulation, 197, 198, 202–4; numbers by year, 73 fig.; and optimism, 120 fig.; and reform attitudes, 115–18, 125–27; Taiwan comparisons, 284 fig., 287, 289 fig., 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 304, 313
- proportional change coefficient, explained, 321
- public firms/public sector, see state sector
- Pye, Lucian, 165
- Rawski, Thomas, 81, 133
- redistributive system, 105
- redistributors (see also administrators; bureaucrats; market transition debates): 3, 12, 94, 163, 182, 312
- regional variation: in acquisitiveness, 106–7, 121–22, 124; in sense of efficacy, 204 fig., 309; in job satisfaction, 157; Muslim provinces and women's work, 217; in optimism, 119–21; in political participation, 187, 188, 203–4; in reform attitudes, 114–15, 118; rustbelt and sunbelt, 14, 93, 104, 107, 110, 116, 119, 120, 127, 307; in worker bargaining, 147–48
- regression coefficient, explained, 321
- retirement, mandatory, 58, 163–64, 166, 312
- Romania, 134
- Róna-Tas, Ákos, 13, 14, 80, 81, 82, 83, 95, 99, 164, 313, 314, 315
- Rosen, Stanley, 214
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 164
- rural, areas: education in, 60; elections in, 194, 195; and industrialization, 27; in Taiwan, 278–79
- Russia (see also Soviet Union): 125, 209, 234n, 263n; divorce in, 266; worker bargaining in, 129–30, 134
- sales and service jobs; and age, 281; in Taiwan, 280–81; by year, 73 fig., 74
- satisfaction, see attitudes; job satisfaction; life satisfaction; marital satisfaction
- Schmitter, Philippe, 186n
- seniority, in work: and attitudes, 290, 294; gerontocracy, 312; and income, 84–85, 284 fig., 286; and job satisfaction, 311–12; Taiwan comparisons, 280–82, 290, 294
- service sector (see also pink-collar jobs; white-collar jobs): 73 fig., 74, 92, 93
- sexual behavior, 239, 241–42, 262–63
- Shi, Tianjin, 187, 193n
- Shirk, Susan, 125
- Singapore, 106, 123, 124
- social contracts (see also market and socialist systems): 3, 8, 15; consequences of change, 46–48; market social contracts, 307; old and new, 102, 123, 316; public goods-based, 46; rearrangement of, 17; shifting social contract, 51; social security, 36–37; socialist social contracts, 34–41, 307, 311; with workers, 128–29, 162
- social opportunity, see education; job mobility; life chances
- social surveys, 4, 28n; 1988 CHIP Survey, 349–50; ESRIC Surveys, 343–46; 1991 Firm Survey, 346–47; 1992 Firm Survey, 347–49; from Taiwan, 350–51; 1991 Women's Survey, 350

Cambridge University Press

0521778654 - Chinese Urban Life under Reform: The Changing Social Contract
Wenfang Tang and William L. Parish

Index

More information

Index

387

- socialist system (see also market and socialist systems; social contracts):
China's version of, 309; debates about former socialist economies, 79; in Europe, 312; institutional legacies of, 17; and spousal bargaining 236–38, 268–69; systematic consequences of, 5
- South Korea: firm types, 313; bureaucracy, 165; comparative political development, 106, 124; economic growth pattern, 123
- Soviet Union (see also European socialist societies; Russia): 4, 7, 8; bureaucracy, 166; corruption, 179n; education, 54, 55; political participation, 185–87, 199; women, 209–10
- spousal bargaining, 234; chores and, 248–53, 267–68, 300–302; and cultural frames, 302n, 305; complaints and, 255–62; disagreements and, 257–59; divorce and, 266; income shares and, 243–46; in Taiwan, 300–302
- Stalinist model (see also heavy industry): 19, 58; and bureaucratization, 22
- Stark, David, 80, 130, 314
- state sector: and bargaining, 284, 314; and income, 284; Taiwan comparisons, 275, 284, 314
- statistics, procedures, 319–22
- strikes, history in the West, 132, 310; trends, 158–60
- structural transformation view, see market transition
- structuralist perspective, see labor markets
- supervisors, see worker bargaining
- Szalai, Erzsebet, 99
- Szelényi, Iván, 12, 13, 51, 55, 81, 82, 83, 96, 97n, 98
- Taiwan: 4, 9, 10, 13, 14, 16, 273–305; attitudes in, 288–94; bureaucracy, 165; comparative political development, 106, 124, 276–77; connections, 209; and diffusion of models, 307; economic growth rates in, 123, 273; and firm size, 136, 313; as foreign investor, 90; income, 283–87, 313; individual efficacy, 209; managers, 90; as model for future, 34; as model for private sector development, 27n, 275–76; as model for romance, 239; as model for women, 214; old age support, 247n; returns to human capital, 84; state sector, 275, 284–85, 314; surveys in, 350–51; urbanization, 275–76; and weddings, 243; women's work and income, 295–300, 316
- Tang, Wenfang, 37n, 102n, 140n, 144n, 190, 195
- technocratic continuity (see also market transition, debates about): 82–83, 84, 96, 97, 99, 164, 314
- technocratic transformation, 163, 182
- technocrats (see also administrators; bureaucrats): 82–83, 163–64, 315
- unemployment, and downsizing, 134; trends, 58, 134n; and youth, 26
- United States: bureaucratic job satisfaction, 171n; Chicago politics, 189; chores, 249; complaints, 191; Cultural Revolution and Great Depression, 287, 305; divorce, 265n; fringe benefits, 84; income by occupation, 93, 94, 95, 285n; income by type of firm, 84, 90; job mobility, 280; spousal bargaining, 234; spousal violence, 266n; strikes, 159n; women's work, 218; worker bargaining, 129n, 135
- urban areas (see also migrants and migration): aristocracy, 23–24; benefits, 25; entitlement, and administrative adjustments, 25–27; growth, 31; reform, 22–23; in Taiwan, 275–76
- Verba, Sydney, 6, 189, 191
- virtuocracy, 3n, 53, 55, 163, 164; redistributive virtuocracy to technocratic meritocracy, 165–66, 182
- Walder, Andrew, 10n, 11, 84, 85n; on bargaining, 80, 100, 128, 129, 131, 145; on bureaucratic control, 164, 167, 182
- weighting, of statistics, 347–49
- white-collar jobs (see also light industry; pink-collar jobs): and seniority, 280–82; in Taiwan, 280, 285, 289, 291, 292, 294; U-shaped pattern in, 73–76; and women, 212–13, 225–26
- Whyte, Martin, 7n, 10, 56, 57, 74, 164, 210, 237, 242, 246n
- women (see also women's education; women's health; women's income; women's work): 15; and attitudes, 288–94; and child care, 213–14; and chores, 222, 237, 238, 250–52; mobilization of, 21; in Soviet Union, 209–10
- women's education, 68, 211, 213, 217; and husband's education, 243–44; and jobs,

Cambridge University Press

0521778654 - Chinese Urban Life under Reform: The Changing Social Contract
Wenfang Tang and William L. Parish

Index

More information

388

Index

- women's education (cont.)
216, 217, 220; and son preference, 56, 68;
trends in, 61, 62
- women's health, 211; and jobs, 216
- women's income, 85, 86, 211, 217, 219, 284 fig., 286; in Asia, 227–28; and husband's income, 244–45; private sector and, 229;
in Taiwan, 284 fig., 286, 299–300; trends
by year, 226–30
- women's work, 209–31; age patterns in,
221–24; demand for, 212, 219–20,
226–27; Hong Kong comparisons, 218;
and job concentration, 297–98; and job satisfaction, 218–20; M-shaped curve in,
214, 220, 224, 295, 315; and managerial discrimination, 212, 213, 214–15, 223n; and Muslim provinces, 217; and perceived discrimination, 216–18; quality of, 224–30; regional variation in, 215,
217, 224; rural, 215; supply of, 213,
219–20, 226–27; in Taiwan, 295–99;
United States comparisons, 218; and willingness to continue working,
218–20
- work, see job mobility; jobs
- work units (see also firms; private sector;
state sector): 29; bargaining among,
80–81, 87–90, 93–95, 100, 110, 284–85;
and education bargaining, 56, 69; and elections, 194; and interest articulation, 192–93; and job recruitment, 71; and systematic consequences, 307; types of, 137
- worker bargaining (see also strikes): 10,
128; and age, 134, 161; channels, 134,
148–54; and cooptation devices, 130, 134,
144–45, 153, 155; and dependency, 128–30, 144, 150–53, 161; determinants of, 150–54; and disciplinary measures, 137–39; and education, 134, 161; and exit tendencies, 155; by historical period,
131–34; and in-kind benefits, 129–30,
134, 145–46, 161; and managerial authority, 133–34, 141–43, 150–53, 159, 161; in Russia, 129; and shared residence, 131, 132; and single-industry cities, 129; and skilled workers, 130–31;
and social networks, 131–32, 140–41,
153, 160; and soft-budget constraints,
130, 133–34; and supervisors, 135; types of, 134–35; and unemployment rate, 130,
134; in the U.S., 129
- workers (see also manual workers;
unemployment): complaints by, 139–40;
decision-making authority, 140, 141 fig.;
and kin in firm, 140–41; and labor
contracts, 35, 137, 159; and laggard behavior, 139
- youth (see also age), 26