

Contents

---

Acknowledgements	page x
Note on transliteration	xii
List of groups, networks and organizations	xiii
List of abbreviations	xv
Introduction	1
1 Up against conceptual frameworks: post-orientalism, occidentalism and presentations of the self	19
2 Contextualizing the Egyptian women's movement	51
3 Self and generation: formative experiences of Egyptian women activists	86
4 Secularism: challenging neo-orientalism and 'his-stories'	128
5 From words to deeds: priorities and projects of contemporary activists	149
6 A mirror of political culture in Egypt: divisions and debates among women activists	185
Conclusion: 'standing on shifting ground'	216
Bibliography	233
Index	253