

Cambridge University Press

0521785693 - Writing the English Republic: Poetry, Rhetoric and Politics, 1627-1660

David Norbrook

Table of Contents

More information*ContentsList of illustrations [viii]Acknowledgements [ix]Note on references and abbreviations [xii]*Introduction: acts of oblivion and republican speech-acts [1]

1. Lucan and the poetry of civil war [23]
 2. The king's peace and the people's war, 1630–1643 [63]
 3. Rhetoric, republicanism and the public sphere:
Marten, Waller and Milton, 1641–1644 [93]
 4. Uncivil peace: politics and literary culture, 1645–1649 [140]
 5. Defending the Commonwealth, 1649–1653 [192]
 6. Double names: Marvell and the Commonwealth [243]
 7. King Oliver? Protectoral Augustanism and its critics, 1653–1658 [299]
 8. Republicanizing Cromwell [326]
 9. Culture and anarchy? The revival and eclipse of republicanism, 1658–1660 [379]
 10. Paradise Lost and English republicanism [433]
- Appendix: Henry Marten's poem to Cromwell [496]

Index [497]