

Contents

Introduction: philosophy as ethical exegesis	page 1
PART I. EXCEEDING PHENOMENOLOGY
1 Bergson and the emergence of an ecological age	27
2 Science, phenomenology, intuition, and philosophy	53
3 The good work of Edmund Husserl	99
4 Better than a questionable Heidegger	120
PART II. GOOD AND EVIL
5 Alterity and alteration: development of an opus	145
6 Maternal body/maternal psyche: contra psychoanalytic philosophy	161
7 Humanism and the rights of exegesis	216
8 What good is the Holocaust? On suffering and evil	266
9 Ricoeur and the lure of self-esteem	283
10 In-conclusion	326
Index	345