

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-80441-7 - Political Extremism and Rationality

Edited by Albert Breton, Gianluigi Galeotti, Pierre Salmon and Ronald Wintrobe

Index

More information

Index

- Africa see Algeria; Burundi; Egypt; Tunisia
- African National Congress, 172, 173
- agitators: in ethnic violence, 225–7, 228
- Algeria: Islamic fundamentalism in, 63, 187, 191, 201, 202, 206–8
- Americas see Cuba; Nicaragua; United States
- Amish: education restrictions, 20
- anarchism, 156, 172
- Arab-Islamic states: characteristics, 200–3; democracy in, 210–12; Islamic fundamentalism in, 17–18, 190–1; see also Algeria; Egypt; Iranian revolution; Tunisia; Turkey
- assimilation: ethnic, 9, 14–15
- audience responsiveness: and terrorist activity, 59–63
- Australia: One Nation Party, 90
- authoritarian democracy, 185–6
- authoritarianism, 30
- authority: and knowledge, 6–8
- autonomy: potential for, 48–52, 55
- belief: development of see socialization; and fanatical action, 15–16, 18–19; and knowledge, 46; see also religious beliefs
- Bentham, Jeremy: on fanaticism, 3–4, 10
- Bosnia: ethnic violence in, 17, 18–19, 220–1, 222, 226n, 228; see also Yugoslavia
- Bousquet, René: trial of, 84–5
- brainwashing see socialization
- bribery, 34–5
- Burundi: ethnic violence in, 219–20n, 222, 228n, 232n
- byproduct knowledge, 6, 7
- Cambodia: Pol Pot regime, 177–8
- campaign strategies: of political parties, 106–7, 108–15
- Catalonia see Spain
- Central Africa see Burundi
- centrism: efficiency of, 93–5
- centrist co-location: breaking of, 95–100
- centrist monomaniacs, 74, 78–9
- charisma: and extremism, 101–3
- China: policy choices in, 176, 178, 179
- civil war: probabilities, 191–200, 213–15; see also ethnic violence; violence
- Civil War (UK), 129–30
- coalitions, 74–81; non-responsibility in, 81–2
- collaboration: and patriotism, 83–4
- communications gap see social holes

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-80441-7 - Political Extremism and Rationality

Edited by Albert Breton, Gianluigi Galeotti, Pierre Salmon and Ronald Wintrobe

Index

More information

236

Index

- communism: development of, 156–7, 175–6; see also Cambodia; China; Cuba; Marxist dialectic; Nicaragua; Soviet Union
- competition: constraints on, 128–30; and democracy, 136; and social holes, 32–3
- compromise see political compromise
- conditioning see socialization
- conformity, xi, 23, 24; culture of, 127–8; in democracies, 122, 144; incentives for, 53; models of, 27–30, 32, 40–1, 49; potential for, 48; see also repression; socialization
- consent see conformity
- constitutional boundaries: of political action, 124–6
- constitutional rules: and political exclusion, 135, 136
- constitutional stability: motivations, 126–7
- contracts see political contracts
- Cuba: policy choices in, 174, 175, 179–80
- de-Islamization, 189
- democracy: authoritarian, 185–6; and competition, 136; conformity in, 122, 144; and controversy, 131–3; development of, 128–31; in Islamic states, 210–12; and political extremism, 90–1, 104, 130–1, 136–7, 141–5; and responsiveness, 140; and war, 102
- destabilization, 63
- discontent: signaling of, 59–62
- economic theory of knowledge, 4–6
- education see information; knowledge
- Egypt: Islamic fundamentalism in, 187, 201, 202, 204–6
- elections: of US presidents, 105–6, 116–20
- electoral competition: rhetoric in, 101–3
- electoral stability, 95–7
- electoral strategies see campaign strategies
- electoral success: and policy choices, 97–100
- England see United Kingdom
- entrepreneurs: and group formation, 56–8; and social holes, 32–3; see also leadership
- epistemology, 4–6, 13; crippled, 11–12, 17, 19, 20; see also knowledge
- esteem: and conformity, 29
- ethnic assimilation, 9, 14–15
- ethnic capital, 218–20, 227
- ethnic pluralism, 13–15
- ethnic violence: and agitators, 225–7, 228; in Burundi, 219–20n, 222, 228n, 232n; conditions for, 228–32; definition, 217–18; and ethnic capital, 220; model, 220–33; payoffs, 221–2, 227, 232–3; and state collapse, 224–7; and xenophobia, 227–8; in Yugoslavia/Bosnia, 10–11, 17, 18–19, 220–1, 222, 226n, 228
- ethnicity: and extremism, 9, 10–11
- exclusion norms, 9–10, 11
- exit options: in politics, 9
- expressive voting, 100–3, 107; and policy choices, 98–100
- extremism: definitions, xii–xiii, 25, 47–8, 72–4, 125; see also fanaticism; political extremism
- fanatical action, 15–16, 18–19; see also political action
- fanaticism, 3–4, 10, 13; see also extremism
- fascist regimes: policy choices in, 172–3, 175–6, 177–8, 180–1
- France see Vichy France
- French Revolution, 178–9
- fundamentalism: definition, 183n; see also Islamic fundamentalism
- Germany see Nazi Germany
- global cycling, 95–7

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-80441-7 - Political Extremism and Rationality

Edited by Albert Breton, Gianluigi Galeotti, Pierre Salmon and Ronald Wintrobe

Index

More information

Index

237

- group dynamics, 55–6
- group leadership see leadership
- group reinforcement, 4, 8, 10–12; and
 - fanatical action, 15–16, 18–19;
 - and nationalism, 18–19;
 - techniques, 53–5; see also
 exclusion norms
- groups: homogeneity in, 54–6; see also
 - coalitions; political extremist groups
- happenstance knowledge, 6, 7
- ideological beliefs: and authority, 7–8
- inconsequential monomaniacs, 74
- indoctrination see socialization
- infantile extremism, 156, 158, 163–4, 166
- information control: model of, 46–52
- instrumental voting, 107
- interests see motivation
- Iranian revolution, 174–5
- Islamic fundamentalism: in Arab-
 - Islamic states, 17–18, 63, 175, 187, 190–1, 201–10; and
 - development of extremism, 186–7; history, 183–4, 188–91; list of parties, 201; models, 191–200, 213–15; objectives, 184, 188, 189; and policy choices, 194, 195–6, 198–200; and political compromise, 198–200, 202, 208–10; and violence, 184–5, 186, 195–200, 202, 205–6, 207–8; see also Muslim Brothers
- Islamic revival, 188, 190
- Islamic states see Arab-Islamic states
- isolation see social isolation
- Israel: extremism of ultra-orthodox
 - Jews, 11–12; religious control in, 143–4, 146; see also Jews
- Italy: fascist regimes, 172–3, 180–1
- Jews: deportation from France, 83–4; ultra-orthodox, 11–12; see also Israel
- Khmer Rouge, 177–8
- King, Martin Luther, 185n
- knowledge: and authority, 6–8; costs and benefits, 5–6, 46; group reinforcement of see group reinforcement; restriction of, 17–18, 19, 20; see also epistemology; information control
- labor-managed firms, 160–1
- leadership: and group formation, 56–8; in models of extremist development, 38–41; and political contracts, 36; and social holes, 33; and terrorism, 149–50; and voting behaviour, 26–7; see also agitators; charisma; entrepreneurs
- Lenin, Vladimir Ilyich: on extremism, 156–7
- Marxist dialectic: and social holes, 31
- mass ethnic violence see ethnic violence
- materialism, 17
- mature extremism, 156–8, 164–5, 168–71; examples, 171–80
- median voter model, 8, 92, 95–100
- mergers: in extremist groups, 161–2, 166
- moderation: definition, 72–3; in political extremist coalitions, 80–1
- monomaniac extremists, 69–74; in coalitions, 75–81
- moral beliefs: and authority, 7–8
- motivation: for extremism, 16–19
- Muslim Brothers, 183–4, 188–9, 201, 204, 205
- nationalism, 12–13; extremism in, 13–15, 18–19, 164; and group reinforcement, 18–19; and xenophobia, 218–19
- Nazi Germany, 79, 135; development of totalitarianism, 175–6, 177, 178; see also Vichy France

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-80441-7 - Political Extremism and Rationality

Edited by Albert Breton, Gianluigi Galeotti, Pierre Salmon and Ronald Wintrobe

Index

More information

238

Index

- negative campaigning: strategies, 106–7
- Nicaragua: Sandinistas, 172, 173
- non-responsibility: in coalitions, 81–2
- non-violent extremism, 185n
- One Nation Party (Queensland), 90
- parties see political parties
- patriotism: and collaboration, 83–4
- payoffs: of ethnic violence, 221–2, 227, 232–3
- personal capital: and conformity, 28
- persuasion, 53, 54
- pluralism, 13–15, 144–5
- Pol Pot regime, 177–8
- polarization see social polarization
- policy choices: and campaign strategies, 106–7, 110–14; in communist regimes, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177–8, 179–80; and electoral success, 97–100; examples, 171–81; in extremist organizations, 158, 162–5; in fascist regimes, 172–3, 175–6, 177–8, 180–1; and Islamic fundamentalism, 194, 195–6, 198–200; optimization models, 165–71; productivity effects, 158, 162–3, 165–71, 178; in South Africa, 172, 173; in totalitarian regimes, 173–81; utility effects, 158, 162
- political action: constitutional boundaries, 124–6; intensity of, 58–63; see also fanatical action; revolutions; terrorism; violence
- political compromise: and Islamic fundamentalism, 198–200, 202, 208–10
- political conflict: models, 191–200, 213–15
- political contracts: equilibrium in, 35–6
- political exclusion, 133–5, 136
- political extremism: in communism, 156–7; definitions, 25, 140–1, 142, 155–6; and democracy, 90–1, 104, 130–1, 136–7, 141–5; development of, 8–9, 26, 36–41, 132–5, 147–8, 157–8; dynamics of, 146–8; efficiency of, 91–5, 161–2; and expressive voting, 100–3, 107; models, 36–41, 186–7, 191–200, 213–15; non-violent, 185n; perceptions of, 82–5; political ends, 89–90; and political exclusion, 133–5, 136; psychological factors, 24, 30; purpose, 59–63; and rational actor analysis, 90–2; in small political parties, 105–6, 110–14; see also infantile extremism; Islamic fundamentalism; mature extremism; revolutions; senile extremism; state extremism
- political extremist coalitions, 74–80; moderate views in, 80–1; non-responsibility in, 81–2; in Vichy France, 82–5
- political extremist groups: characteristics, 159–61; formation, 56–8; list, 45, 201; mergers in, 161–2, 166; policy choices in see policy choices; repression by, 150
- political extremists: characteristics, 24; see also monomaniac extremists
- political parties: campaign strategies, 106–7, 108–15; extremism in, 90; relation of size and extremism, 105–6, 110–14; selection of candidates, 98; in US presidential elections, 105–6, 116–20
- popularity see esteem
- producer cooperatives, 160–1
- productivity effects: in policy choices, 158, 162–3, 165–71, 178
- psychological factors: of extremism, 24, 30
- Queensland: One Nation Party, 90

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-80441-7 - Political Extremism and Rationality

Edited by Albert Breton, Gianluigi Galeotti, Pierre Salmon and Ronald Wintrobe

Index

More informationIndex

239

- radicalism see political extremism
- rational actor analysis: and political extremism, 90–2
- rational extremist passion: models of, 36–41
- reformist movement (Islamic), 188
- religious beliefs: and authority, 7–8; and fanaticism, 3–4; and social holes, 32; see also Islamic fundamentalism; Jews
- rent seeking: models of, 34–6, 38, 41–2
- repression, 150, 174; see also conformity; totalitarianism
- resocialization see socialization
- revolutionary parties see political extremist groups
- revolutions: extremist development in, 156–8; see also French revolution; Iranian revolution; student movements
- rhetoric: in electoral competition, 101–3
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques: and totalitarianism, 13–14
- salience: and extremism, 73–4, 82, 83, 102–3, 143, 146
- Sandinistas, 172, 173
- senile extremism, 158, 180–1
- Serbia see Yugoslavia
- signaling: and campaigning, 114–15; of discontent, 59–62
- social capital: and conformity, 28
- social comparison, 53–5
- social conformity see conformity
- social corroboration, 54, 55
- social holes, 30–3, 37–8, 39, 40
- social isolation: and group reinforcement, 10–12
- social movements: participation in, 28–9
- social polarization, 56
- socialization, 47–9, 53–5; see also autonomy; conformity
- South Africa: African National Congress, 172, 173
- Soviet Union: policy choices in, 176, 178, 179
- Spain: anarchist and fascist regimes, 172–3
- state collapse: and ethnic violence, 224–7
- state extremism, 185–6
- status see esteem
- structural holes, 30–1, 32
- student movements (1968), 163–4
- surveys: analysis of, 80–1
- terrorism, 58–63, 148–50; see also violence
- totalitarianism, 13–14, 173–81
- trust: lack of see social holes
- Tunisia: Islamic fundamentalism in, 187, 201, 202, 203–4
- Turkey: Islamic fundamentalism in, 187, 191, 201, 202, 208–10
- uncertainty: and extremism, 71–2; and voting behaviour, 114–15
- United Kingdom: Civil War, 129–30
- United States: presidential elections, 105–6, 116–20; see also Amish
- utility effects: in policy choices, 158, 162
- utility models: of conformity, 27–8, 29, 32
- Vichy France: retrospective assessments, 82–5
- violence: and conformity, 127–8; and Islamic fundamentalism, 184–5, 186, 195–200, 202, 205–6, 207–8; motivation for, 134–5; see also civil war; ethnic violence; non-violent extremism; terrorism; war
- voters: effects of campaigning, 109
- voting behaviour: influence of leaders, 26–7; and uncertainty, 114–15; see also expressive voting;

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-80441-7 - Political Extremism and Rationality
Edited by Albert Breton, Gianluigi Galeotti, Pierre Salmon and Ronald Wintrobe
Index
More information

240

Index

voting behaviour: (cont.)
 instrumental voting; median voter model

war: and democracy, 102; see also civil war

xenophobia, 218–19, 227–8

Yugoslavia: ethnic violence in, 10–11,
 220; see also Bosnia