CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

Index

abolitionist approach, to child labor, 225
absenteeism, and education of street children in South Africa, 38
Abu El-Rous, G., 15, 273 acceptance, cultures of in urban Germany, 106–107 accommodating approach, to youth crime prevention, 149, 153–5 adolescence and adolescents: as collaborators in social science research, 73–9; definition of as period of transition in South Africa, 23. See also youth
Adolescent Development Index (ADI), 79
Adult Basic Education and Training (ABET) Institute, 50
Africa: childhood in South Africa and indigenous values, 37; and child labor, 218, 236. See also South Africa; Uganda
African Americans, and homicide in U.S., 165, 170–1
African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child, 9, 33, 35 African National Congress (ANC), 31, 33 age: and child labor, 220, 224; of juvenile offenders, 140, 141, 170
Agenda, 21, 35, 53
AIDS epidemic, and youth in Uganda, 246, 252, 253, 254, 255, 258, 260 ambivalence, and socialization of contemporary German youth, 91. See also fatalism American Psychological Association, 172
America's Children: Key National Indicators of Well-Being (U. S. Federal Interagency Forum, 1997), 64
Amin, Idi, 248
Anti-Slavery International (ASI), 223
antisocial behavior, and juvenile crime, 140, 142 Anzorena, J., 52
apprenticeship, and child labor, 236
Aprender, Brincar e Crescer (Learn, Play, and Grow Centers, Brazil), 128–9
Arbeton, A., 133
ARCO Product Company/Prestige Stations, Inc., 186 aspirations, and urban neighborhoods in Jordan, 199–201 Australia: and juvenile justice system, 148; and youth crime prevention, 152, 154 authority: figures of and Project on Human Development in Chicago Neighborhoods, 78–9, 81; and patriarchal society in Jordan, 192 autonomy, and child labor, 231–2 balance model, of child labor, 230

Bandura, A., 42, 50
Bangalore, and child labor, 237
Barker, G., 12–13, 272
Barling, J., 231
Bellamy, C., 220, 226
Benson, P. L., 66
Bequele, A., 234–5, 238
Bernstein, P. L., 21–2, 28
Betram, H., 107

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America, 179
Biko, Steve, 25
Black Consciousness Movement, 8, 25
Blueprint for Violence Reduction (Pittsburgh Public Schools), 186
Bohman, J., 70
Boston City Hospital Violence Prevention Program, 178, 183, 185
Boyden, J., 238–9, 240
Boys Clubs of America, 179
Boys & Girls Clubs of Western Pennsylvania, 186
Brazil: and child labor, 237, 239; street children and homelessness, 12–13, 113–35; and Urban Child Project, 51
Brown, D., 144
Burman, E., 234

Cahill, M., 124
Cameroon, and child labor, 236
Canada, and juvenile crime, 141, 143, 144, 151, 173 capability approach: and developmental status of children, 71; and practice of discourse ethics, 75–9; and youth well-being, 80
Carlson, M., 9, 10–11, 272, 273
Carr, R. V., 232
Carraher, T. N., 236
Cassaniga, N., 12–13, 272
Cauffman, E., 231, 233, 239
causality, and youth employment, 228
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), 165, 166, 167–8, 169
Centerwall, B. S., 172
Chawla, L., 9, 48, 117
Chicago, and Project on Human Development in Chicago Neighborhoods, 59–81 child abuse: and self-esteem of street children in South Africa, 48; and youth violence in U.S., 172 Childhope, 116
child labor: cross-cultural study of, 16; and economic activity of school-aged children, 217–41; and education in Uganda, 251; and school attendance in Brazil, 116; and urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 195, 202. See also employment children. See youth
Children's Rights Councils (Brazil), 119
China, and juvenile delinquency, 141
Chism, C. B., 184
Cidade Mãe (Mother City, Brazil), 130–1 cigarette smoking, 180–3 citizenship: and immigration policy in Germany, 92; and life skills program in South Africa, 33; and participation in deliberative democracy, 67–73; and youth well-being, 66, 81 civil war, in Uganda, 246, 248, 250, 251 class, socioeconomic: middle class and education in Brazil, 125; social services and division of in Brazil, 131–2; and youth violence in U.S., 170 coercive approach, to youth crime prevention, 149–51
Cole, S., 231–2
collective nature, of youth well-being, 63
Colombia: education and child labor, 241; and risk-based prevention programs for youth, 124 communication: and life skills program in Uganda, 260; and youth crime prevention, 156 community: and context of youth crime, 147; and future research on support services for youth, 276–7; Growing Up in Cities and Street-Wise programs in South Africa, 44–54; and prevention efforts for street children in Brazil, 123, 127–8; and urban neighborhoods in Jordan, 191–214; and youth crime prevention, 153, 155–9
Complementary Opportunity for Primary Education (COPE), 261
Compressed Mortality Files (CDC), 166n2, 171n3 consultation, and youth crime prevention, 156 context, of youth well-being, 63. See also community
Contra Costa County Program (CCCP), 186–7
Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC): and child labor, 217; on children and expression of views, 273; and concepts of human rights, 33–4, 35; and definition of "child," 220; description of, 4–5; as ethical framework for research and policy, 58, 61, 68; and future research, 276–7; and global economy, 269, 270; and political rights of children, 69; and role of government, 274; and South Africa, 32, 49, 53; and street children in Brazil, 114, 134; and Uganda, 264 conviction rates, and juvenile crime, 139
Cook County Hospital (Chicago), 178

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

corporeal punishment, and youth violence, 171
cost-benefit analysis, of youth employment, 231–40 Cottingham, M., 226 counseling: and children at risk in urban Jordan, 200–1, 202; for families of street children in South Africa, 39
crèches, for children in South Africa, 47 crime: nature of urban youth, 139–49; prevention programs for youth, 149–59; youth delinquency and social ecology of poverty, 13–14. See also homicide; violence criminal justice system, and youth crime and violence, 146, 148, 174–83 crisis intervention, and Street-Wise program in South Africa, 50 cross-cultural studies: of child labor, 16; of children at risk in urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 191–214; of difference and child development, 27–9; and perspective on youth experiences, 11–15; and street children in Brazil, 113–35; of youth crime, 138–60; of youth in urban areas of contemporary Germany, 97–108; of youth violence prevention, 165–87 cultural relativism: and postmodernism, 27; and youth employment, 230 cumulation scenario, and interethnic conflicts in urban Germany, 101–2 curfews, and youth crime prevention, 150
Curumim Centers (Brazil), 129–30
Cyprus, and juvenile crime, 139

Dangschat, J. S., 104, 107, 108 decision making, and life skills program in Uganda, 258 Defense for Children International, 217 democracy, child citizenship and participation in deliberative, 67–73 demography: and adolescent violence in U.S., 169–70; and changes in urban landscape of Jordan, 191; and ethnocultural heterogeneity of urban population in Germany, 93–4, 101; and international indicators for urban youth, 6–8 development: and approaches to youth crime prevention, 148, 149, 151–3; child labor and psychosocial, 229; difference and cross-cultural studies of, 27–9; South Africa and research findings on, 22–4; support of nuclear and extended families, 9 developmental assets, and youth well-being, 66–7 developmental supports, and street children in Brazil, 114–15, 119, 123–8, 132
Dewees, A., 131 difference: and cross-cultural studies of youth development, 27–9; and youth crime prevention, 156 disabilities, and youth in Uganda, 251 discourse, and child participation in democracy, 69–70, 75–9 domestic services, and child labor in Indonesia, 223 dropout rates: and child labor, 237; and education of street children in South Africa, 38
Dryfoos, J. G., 183
Du Toit, M., 45–6

Earls, F., 9, 10–11, 272, 273
East Boston Neighborhood Health Center, 181
Eastern Europe: and child labor, 219; and immigrants to urban Germany, 92 economics: and child labor, 217–41; costs of youth violence in U.S., 168–9; and inflation in Brazil, 115–16; and social integration in urban Germany, 106, 107; underground in urban ghettos of Jordan, 195. See also poverty education: and child labor, 223, 233–41; and enrollment rate in Brazil, 116; growing inequalities of in urban Germany, 88; and prioritizing needs of youth, 271; and problems of youth in Uganda, 250, 253–5; and risk management strategies for youth in South Africa, 26, 27; and street children in South Africa, 38–9, 40, 41–2; and street educators in Brazil, 121–2; and urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 199; and youth violence prevention in U.S., 178. See also schools; teachers; vocationing training
Egypt, and child labor, 237, 238
Eisner, M., 93–4, 105
Elias, N., 97–8
El Norte (film), 77 employment, skills training and Street-Wise program in South Africa, 42–3. See also child labor; unemployment; vocational training empowerment: and youth crime prevention, 158; and youth well-being, 66

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

equalization scenario, and interethnic conflicts in urban Germany, 102
Erickson, E., 22
Esser, H., 100
ethnicity: and juvenile crime, 140, 170; and segregation in urban Germany, 96–103. See also African Americans European Union, and child labor, 219 evaluation, of intervention strategies for youth, 275–6 exchange scenario, and interethnic conflicts in urban Germany, 102 expectations, of youth in urban Germany, 88 extrinsic value, and well-being of children, 71, 73 family: counseling for and Street-Wise program in South Africa, 39, 43; future research on youth and, 277; and social services in Brazil, 132; and successful youth development, 9; and urban communities in Jordan, 192, 201–3. See also kinship networks; parenting Farrington, D., 145, 153

fatalism, and risk management for youth in South Africa, 28. See also ambivalence
Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), 167
Feldtkeller, A., 94, 97, 99
Feyerherm, W., 179
Finch, M. D., 227, 232
firearms, and youth violence in U.S., 167–8, 169, 171, 173–4, 182
First International Meeting of Working Children (1996), 237
First National Meeting of Street Children in Brazil (1986), 119
Forastieri, V., 231
Forgotten Workforce, The (Lavalette et al., 1991), 223
France, and segregation in urban life, 104
Friere, P., 42, 121n5
Frone, M., 228, 239, 240
Froude, J. A., 21
Fuller, R., 53–4, 226

Gambone, M., 133
gangs, and urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 195–6, 205
Gbadegesin, S., 37
Gellner, E., 27
gender: and community norms of urban villages in Jordan, 197, 202, 210; education and social norms, 237–8; and juvenile crime, 140, 141, 170; and problems of youth in Uganda, 252
Germany, youth experiences and integration in urban areas, 87–108 ghettos, and urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 194–6, 199, 200, 202, 203, 204, 205
Gillis, J., 28
globalization and global economy: social and developmental needs of youth, 4; and street children in Brazil, 135; widening divide between rich and poor as characteristic of, 32; and worldwide status of youth, 269; and youth crime prevention, 160 government, understanding roles of in youth support services, 274–5. See also policy; specific countries
Grady Memorial Hospital (Georgia), 178 graffiti, and vandalism, 143
Great Britain: and child labor, 219, 223–5, 231, 233; and compulsory education, 235; and youth crime prevention, 152
Greater Johannesburg Metropolitan Council (GJMC), 45, 47
Greenberger, E., 227, 229, 232, 233
Greenfield, P. M., 236
Grootaert, C., 220
Growing Up in Cities (South Africa), 9–10, 33, 36–7, 44–54
Growth, Employment and Redistribution (GEAR) policy (South Africa), 35
Guardianship Council (Brazil), 119, 120
Gyekye, K., 37

Habermas, J., 69, 75
Habitat Agenda of the Second United Nations Conference on Human Settlements (UNCHS, 1996), 35, 53
Harborview Hospital (Seattle), 178 harm minimization approaches, to youth crime prevention, 157
Harvard Community Health Plan Foundation, 185
Hamburg, D., 22, 23
Hart, R., 52, 74, 76
Häußermann, H., 94, 99–100, 105, 107 health and health care systems: and child labor, 231; and cigarette smoking, 180; and education in Uganda, 253–5; and youth

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

violence prevention, 178. See also AIDS epidemic; life expectancy Heaven and Earth (film), 77
Heitmeyer, W., 11–12
Heptinstall, E., 219
Heritage Foundation, 171
Hidden Army, The (Pond & Searle, 1991), 223
Hill, P. B., 98
Hobbes, Thomas, 34
Hobbs, S., 16, 231, 240, 272, 276
Hogg, R., 144
Hollands, R., 143
homelessness. See street children homicide, and youth crime in U.S., 165, 167, 169, 171, 173. See also crime housing: and favelas in Brazil, 116; and segregation in urban Germany, 95–105; and squatter sites in South Africa, 45–7, 49
Human Development Index (HDI), 79–80 human rights: children's rights in scheme of, 33–7; concepts of children's, 62; and street children in Brazil, 119–20, 134; Uganda and abuses of, 248, 249. See also Convention on the Rights of the Child identity: and structural segregation in urban Germany, 104; and urban villages of Jordan, 209; and youth crime, 147 immigration, and social integration of youth in urban Germany, 88, 92, 99, 100, 108. See also migration independence, and child labor, 231–2

India: education and child labor, 237, 238, 241; and street children, 42 indicators, of youth well-being, 64 individual: causality in research on children and youth, 59–60; and concept of youth well-being, 63
Indonesia, and child labor, 221–3, 235, 237
Institute of Teacher Education (Uganda), 259 institutions, and community development in urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 206–9 integration, and youth experiences in urban Germany, 88–93
InterAmerican Development Bank, 129
International Catholic Children's Bureau, 116
International Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences (Fuller, 1930), 226
International Labor Organization (ILO), 217, 218, 222, 225–6, 233
International Society for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, 217 International Working Group on Child Labor (IWGCL), 217, 223, 225, 230, 237, 238 intrinsic value, and well-being of children, 71, 73
Italy: and child labor, 219; and juvenile crime, 139

Japan: and compulsory education, 234; and juvenile crime, 139, 141
Jewish Healthcare Foundation, 186
Johnson, J., 70
Jordan, children at risk and creation of prosocial communities, 15, 191–214 juvenile delinquency, and social ecology of poverty, 13–14. See also crime; violence
Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act (1974), 179

Kanbur, R., 220
Keim, K.-D., 94
Kelloway, E. K., 231
kinship networks: and needs of youth, 272; and urban villages in Jordan, 196–7. See also family
Klees, S. J., 131
Knight, J., 70
Kundapur Declaration (1996), 237

LaGrange, T., 143
Lamb, M. E., 236
language, and residential segregation in urban Germany, 98
Latin America, and child labor, 218, 219
Lavalette, M., 220, 223, 234
Lehman, N., 77
liberal tradition, and concepts of human rights, 34 life expectancy, of youth in developed and developing countries, 6. See also demography; health and health care systems life skills: and definition of education, 235; and models for citizenship in South Africa, 33; Street-Wise and Growing Up in Cities programs in South Africa, 36–7; and support services for Ugandan youth, 246–65
Life Skills Intervention for Young People (Uganda), 17, 246–7, 249, 253–65

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

Locke, John, 34
Long Walk to Freedom (Mandela), 25
Lotion, R. P., 174
Lovell, R., 179
Lynch, K., 45

MacCurtain, B., 39, 43
Makerere University, 248
Males, M., 144–5
Management of Social Transformations (MOST) Program, 45
Mandela, Nelson, 25, 31, 32, 33
marginalization: and children at risk in urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 205–6; and youth crime, 159 Markel, K. S., 240
marriage: as risk management strategy for youth in South Africa, 26; and social norms in Uganda, 252
Marsh, H. W., 239
Mason, G., 142
Mbeki, Thabo, 31
McKechnie, J., 16, 231, 240, 272, 276 media: and effects of childhood exposure to violence, 172–3; and Growing Up in Cities program in South Africa, 52; and perceptions of youth crime and juvenile justice, 142, 143–8; and social change in Jordan, 193, 199n2; and street children in Brazil, 118; and youth in Uganda, 264 Mentoring – A Proven Delinquency Prevention Strategy (Grossman and Garry, 1997), 179 mentors and mentoring: and children at risk in urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 202–3; and youth violence prevention, 179 migration: to cities of Brazil during 1970s and 1980s, 118; and growth of urban areas in Jordan, 192. See also immigration Mihyar, H. A., 15, 273
Mill, John Stuart, 21
Miller, T. R., 168–9 mobility trap, and segregated residential areas in urban Germany, 97–8 modernization: and impact of media in Jordan, 199n2; and social integration in urban Germany, 90 Mogase, Isaac, 47, 49 morality, and social policies in urban Germany, 106. See also values Morocco: and child labor, 225; and immigration to urban Germany, 108 mortality rates, for adolescents in U.S., 167–8
Mortimer, J. T., 227, 240
Morton, H., 37
Myanmar, and juvenile crime, 139
Myers, W., 121, 123, 234–5, 238

National Crime Prevention Council (Canada), 151
National Crime Survey (U.S., 1990), 168, 170
National Curriculum Development Center (Uganda), 259
National Examinations Board (Uganda), 259
National Movement for Street Children (Brazil), 119, 121, 122
National Plan of Action for Children (South Africa), 52
National Resistance Army (Uganda), 249
National Union of Disabled People of Uganda (NUDPU), 251
National Youth Commission (South Africa), 23 negotiation: and life skills program in Uganda, 258; and youth crime prevention, 153 neighborhoods: social landscape of Jordan and types of, 191–214; and youth crime rates, 147 Nelson Mandela Children's Fund, 9, 32, 50 neoclassical economics, 70
Nepal, and child labor, 237
Netherlands, and youth crime prevention, 154
New Crossroads (South Africa), 29
New Internationalist (1997), 218
Nigeria, education and child labor in, 238, 240 nongovernmental organizations (NGOs): and child labor, 217, 230; and life skills programs in Uganda, 247, 259–60, 262; and programs for street children in Brazil, 118, 120, 121, 127, 134; and prosocial communities in urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 212; and Street-Wise program in South Africa, 39 norms: and child labor, 237; and gender in Uganda, 252; gender and urban villages of Jordan, 197; and social integration in urban Germany, 90
Nsamenang, A. B., 236
Nunes, T., 48, 50

objective behavior, and design of Project on Human Development in Chicago Neighborhoods, 60–1
Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (U.S.), 179

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

Ogwal-Oyee, F., 17, 272
Okolo, C. B., 37
Oloko, S. B. A., 240
orphans, and youth in Uganda, 252
Oswald, J., 94, 99–100, 105
Overcoming Obstacles (Los Angeles), 185–6

parenting, and urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 202. See also family participation: child citizenship and deliberative democracy, 67–73; and Project on Human Development in Chicago Neighborhoods, 74–5; and social integration in urban Germany, 90; and youth crime prevention, 153, 156–7; and youth as stakeholders in support programs, 272–4; and youth well-being, 66 patriarchy, and social organization in Jordan, 192, 197, 201 pavement schooling, for street children in South Africa, 39
Peace Program (U.S.), 184–5
peer groups: and Street-Wise program in South Africa, 40; and urban villages of Jordan, 197
Peru, and child labor, 220
Phillipines, and education, 241
Pittman, K., 124
Pittsburgh Public Schools, 186–7 police: and harassment of street children in South Africa, 40; and violence toward street children in Brazil, 118; and youth violence in U.S., 175 policy: and high-risk children in Brazil, 114; and life skills program in Uganda, 263–5; social integration and compensatory, 89–90; and structural segregation in urban Germany, 103–5, 108; and understanding roles of government, 274–5 politics, and rights of children, 69. See also citizenship; democracy
Pond, G., 223
Pope, C., 179
postmodernism, and cultural relativism, 27
posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD), 173–4 poverty: and child labor, 237; and children in Brazil, 115–17; and national statistics for South Africa, 32, 49–50; rates of among children, 3–4; and Uganda, 249; and youth crime, 146; youth delinquency and social ecology of, 13–14; and youth in urban Germany, 89–90; and youth violence in U.S., 171 prevention: and design of Project on Human Development in Chicago Neighborhoods, 60; and developmental supports for street children in Brazil, 123–6; of structural segregation in urban Germany, 103–5; of youth crime, 148–59; of youth violence in U.S., 177–87
Price-Williams, D., 236
private volunteer agencies, and building of prosocial communities in urban Jordan, 212 problem solving, and life skills program in Uganda, 258
Project on Human Development in Chicago Neighborhoods (PHDCN), 58–81 Promised Land (film), 77
prosocial behavior, and creation of communities in urban Jordan, 198–214 prostitution: and child labor in Great Britain, 224; and street children in Brazil, 122 Prothrow-Stith, D., 14–15, 270–1, 273 psychosocial issues: and child labor, 229; and street children in South Africa, 43–4 public health, and youth violence in U.S., 14–15, 174–87 public space, and youth crime, 142–3, 153–5
Pynoos, R. S., 173–4

Questscope social learning project (Jordan), 193–4, 198–214

Raised Voices (UNICEF film), 77
Ramphele, M., 8, 9
repression, and social policy in urban Germany, 106 research: adolescents as collaborators in social science, 73–9; future of, 276–7; Growing Up in Cities program in South Africa, 46–7; and life skills program in Uganda, 263–5; and street children in Brazil, 122–3 residential programs, and Street-Wise in South Africa, 40
Resolving Conflict Creatively Program (U.S.), 184
Reynolds, P., 45
Rhodes, C. N., 15, 273, 274
Richter, L., 44
risk factors, for youth crime and violence, 145–6, 171–3

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

risk management: and youth development under conditions of uncertainty, 9; youth and strategies of in South Africa, 24–9
Rizzini, I., 12–13, 272
Russia: and child labor, 219; child poverty rate in, 4; and immigration to urban Germany, 96, 103, 106; and juvenile crime, 141

Safe Schools Project (Pittsburgh Public Schools), 186–7 safety, and child labor, 231
Saltzman, W., 174
Sampson, R. J., 99
Sara Communication Initiative (Uganda), 260–1
Satterthwaite, D., 52
Save Our Sons and Daughters (SOSAD), 184–5
Saxe, G., 235–6
Schissel, B., 144
Schoenhals, M., 228, 240
School Health Education Program (SHEP), 253–5 schools: and life skills program in Uganda, 258, 259, 261–2, 263; and prioritizing needs of youth, 272; street children in South Africa and exclusion from, 38; and "work experience" programs, 235; and youth violence in U.S., 168, 184, 185, 186–7. See also education; teachers
Schorr, Lisbeth, 183
Scotson, J. L., 97
Scott, R. & W. A., 28–9
Search Institute (Minnesota), 64, 65–6
Searle, A., 223
Secretariat of Sports, Leisure and Tourism (Brazil), 129 segregation: and social classes in Brazil, 131–2; and living conditions of youth in urban Germany, 95–105 self-efficacy, and life skills programs in South Africa, 36–7, 48 self-esteem: and street children in South Africa, 48; and successful youth development, 28–9; and youth violence prevention, 181 self-report studies, on juvenile crime, 139–40
Sen, A. K., 70–1
Sennett, R., 107
Sentinel Community Surveillance Fifth Study Cycle (1997), 251
sex education, and life skills program in Uganda, 262
Shapiro, I., 34
Siebel, W., 107
Situation Analysis of Children and Adolescents (1994), 255, 256, 258, 261, 262
Skocpol, T., 13
slavery, and child labor, 230
Slovakia, and juvenile crime, 139
Social Action Secretariat (Brazil), 128 social centers, and urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 200, 202, 204, 207–8 social change: Chicago neighborhoods and participation of youth in Project on Human Development, 59–63; and participatory programs for street children in South Africa, 31–54; risk management strategies and youth in South Africa, 21–9; youth as force for, 8–11 social cognitive theory, and street children in South Africa, 47 social context, of urban youth in Jordan, 192–3 socialization: and ambivalence of contemporary German youth, 91; and urban neighborhoods in Jordan, 193 social justice, and community action for youth crime prevention, 155–9 social life. See integration; social change; socialization social services, for street children in Brazil, 120, 126, 131–2 social skills, and youth violence prevention, 181 socioeconomic status. See class
South Africa: and cross-cultural studies of youth development, 27–9; participatory programs for street children in, 31–54; research finding on youth and criteria for normative development in South Africa, 22–4; youth and strategies of risk management in, 24–9
South African Black Consciousness Movement, 8
Southeast Asia, and child labor, 219
Souza, Herbert de, 113
Statute on Children and Adolescents (Brazil), 114, 117–20, 124, 125, 133
Steinberg, L., 227, 229, 231, 232, 233, 235, 239
Stern, D., 227–8, 233
Stone, Irving, 77
Straight Talk Foundation (Uganda), 260

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

strategic alliances, and life skills program in Uganda, 258–9 street children: governmental and nongovernmental organizations in Brazil, 113–35; and homelessness in South Africa, 37–8; violence and poverty in Uganda and, 250–1, 262–3 Street-Wise (South Africa), 9–10, 32, 36–7, 37–44, 50–4 stress, and shack dwellers in South Africa, 44–5 Stringham, P., 181
substance abuse, and Street-Wise program in South Africa, 41 summer camp, for children at risk in urban Jordan, 200–1, 205–6
Swart-Kruger, J., 9, 117

Tanzania, and military junta in Uganda, 249 teachers, and life skills program in Uganda, 259, 261–2, 263. See also education; schools theoretical models, of child labor, 228–30
Tomsen, S., 142
Tonry, M., 140, 153
Touraine, A., 94–5, 105
Truth and Reconciliation Commission Report (South Africa, 1998), 24
Turkey, and immigrants to urban Germany, 88, 97, 98, 103, 108

Uganda: and child poverty rate, 6; violence and life skills programs for youth, 16–17, 246–65 underclass, and integration of youth in urban Germany, 11–12, 99 unemployment: and youth crime, 146–7, 159; of youth in urban Germany, 89
Uniform Crime Reports (FBI), 166n2, 171n3
United Nations: Development Programme, 79; Habitat Agenda of the Second United Nations Conference on Human Settlements (UNCHS, 1996), 35, 53; UNESCO, 45; UNICEF, 51, 58, 62, 116, 233, 261. See also Convention on the Rights of the Child
United States: and child labor, 233; child poverty rate in, 4; law enforcement and youth crime, 148; and national picture of youth well-being, 64; and patterns of youth crime, 141; youth development and risk-based prevention programs, 124; and youth violence and crime prevention, 14–15, 152, 153–4, 154–5, 165–87
United States Coordinating Council on Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, 152
U.S. Department of Justice, 170
U.S. Department of Labor, 222–3
U.S. Federal Interagency Forum on Child and Family Statistics, 64
U.S. Public Health Services, 166
Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948), 33
University of Cape Town, 27
University of Pittsburgh, Center for Injury Research and Control, 186
University of South Africa, 50
University of Washington, 64
urban areas: child poverty rates in, 3–4; cross-cultural perspective on youth experiences in, 11–15; and cross-cultural study of youth crime, 138–60; percentage of youth residing in, 3; prosocial communities and children at risk in Jordan, 191–214; and street children in Brazil, 113–35; youth and integration in contemporary Germany, 87–108. See also youth Urban Child Project (UNICEF), 51
utilitarianism, 70

values, and social integration in urban Germany, 90. See also norms vandalism, and juvenile crime, 143
Van der Walt, M., 44 village, and urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 196–7, 201, 202, 203, 204, 208, 209 violence: characteristics of youth violent offenders and victims in U.S., 169–71; definition and classification of, 166–9; and firearms in U.S., 173–4; integration and youth in urban Germany, 92, 95, 105, 106, 107; interviews with children about exposure to, 61; public health and criminal justice approaches to prevention in U.S., 14–15, 174–87; risk factors for in U.S., 171–3; and support services for youth in Uganda, 16–17, 249. See also crime Violence Prevention Curriculum for Adolescents (Education Development Center, 1987), 183 vocational training: and child labor, 232–3; and children at risk in urban neighborhoods of Jordan, 208, 210

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521809088 - Youth in Cities: A Cross-National Perspective
Edited by Marta Tienda and William Julius Wilson
Index
More information

Wacquant, L., 108
Weiner, M., 234
well-being: civic engagement and citizenship, 80, 81; comprehensive assessment of, 65–7; methodological challenges in measurement of, 10–11, 63–4, 64–5; and national picture of youth in U.S., 64
Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic, 186
White, R., 13, 221–2, 228–9, 235, 270–1
Williams, C., 38, 42
Williams, P., 34
Wilson, W. J., 99, 108, 170
Woodhead, M., 230
work: definition of, 220; understanding impact of on children, 225–30; and "work experience" programs in schools, 235. See also child labor
World Bank, 115
World Health Organization (WHO), 167, 251

youth: and child labor, 217–41; cross-cultural perspective on urban, 11–15; cross-cultural study of crime and, 138–60; evaluation of intervention strategies for, 275–6; as force for social change, 8–11; and futureresearch on support services, 276–7; globalization and social/developmental needs of, 4; integration and urban areas of contemporary Germany, 97–108; and life skills programs in Uganda, 246–65; and participation in Project on Human Development in Chicago Neighborhoods, 58–81; and participatory programs for street children in South Africa, 31–54; percentage of residing in urban areas, 3; prioritizing needs of, 271–2; prosocial communities and urban neighborhoods in Jordan, 191–214; and rates of poverty, 3–4; and sociodemographic indicators, 6–8; South Africa and research findings on normative development, 22–4; South Africa and strategies of risk management for, 24–9; as stakeholders in support programs, 272–4; and street children in Brazil, 113–35; and violence prevention in U.S., 165–87
Youth Quality of Life Scale (YQOL), 65
Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance System (YRBSS), 168, 173

zero tolerance, and youth crime, 150

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org