

Index

- Abe Yasurō, 93 addiction to performing arts, 152–153
 aesthetic civility, 140
 See also artistic knowledge as civility;
 enclave identities; iemoto system;
 nouveaux riches; status (mibun)
 system of Tokugawa shogunate;
 trespassing of status boundaries
 and cultural authorities, 160–164 need for investigation of hierarchical and, 324–327
 and private versus public, 140 and standard model of propriety, 140 use of artist names, 146–147 aesthetic Japan. See cultural identity of Japan
 aesthetic quality, judgment of, 83–84 aesthetic sensitivity, 285 aesthetic sociability, 366–368
 and counter publics, 39–40
 and emotional transaction cost, 31–32
 and enclave identities, 367–368
 in enclave publics, 38–41
 Watanabe Kazan's self-assessment, 367
 weak ties, 366–367
 agency, and culture, 55–56, 58
 agent of change, fashion as. See fashion
 politics
 agents, haikai literary, 179–182, 186 Aizawa Muan, 215, 216 alliances, ikki. See ikki allusions. See haikai poetry ambiguity
 See also Kokugaku Japanese versus Chinese national identities, 232–234
 problems in political discourse, 381–383
 skirmish between Oe Kenzaburo and Kawabata Yasunari, 3, 231
 in tacit modes of communication, 230–235
 Amino Yoshihiko, 88–90, 96
 Amorous Books (kōshoku bon), 299, 309
 Anderson, Benedict, 290
 Anderson, P. W., 52–53 anonymity, authorial, 184–186 aristocracy. See emperors; imperial court artistic knowledge as civility, 140–144
 See also arts; civility; performing arts education of samurai, 143 in merchant families according to Shōbai ōrai, 143
 rise in number of masters according to Kyōhabutae, 142
 artists as public persons, 197–203 and critical political consciousness, 201 Watanabe Kazan, 198–203
 arts
 See also aesthetic sociability; associations; communal arts and literature; haikai poetry; iemoto system; imperial court; nouveaux
 riches; overlapping networks; performing arts; trespassing of status boundaries; women's participation in arts; Za arts and literature collective nature of, 4, 71–75 increasing autonomy of, 141–143 and magical power, 108 performance as holy act, 92–93
 for pleasure (yūgei), 142
 as public affair (kuji), 82
 as technology of transformation, 82–83
 Vincent Van Gogh's comment on Japanese, 19

440 Index

- asa* textiles, 252 cotton compared with, 252–253
 production of, 252
- Ashikaga shoguns. See Ōnin war
- Ashikaga Yoshimitsu, 98, 114
- Ashikaga Yoshinori, 114
- associations, 44–64
See also aesthetic sociability; communal arts and literature; complexity of networks; linked poetry; organizational transformation and za arts; overlapping networks; performing arts; publics; quantitative changes in networks; state; Tokugawa network revolution; voluntary associational networks
- Alexis de Tocqueville's analysis of, 11–12
- flexible, 164
- participation in and Tokugawa status system, 148–149
- phenomenological complexity of, 46–47
- and politics, 67–75
- samurai ikki and, 115
- and social capital in rural communities, 207–208
- authorial anonymity, 184–186
- autonomy, corporate, loss of, 119
- autonomy of arts, 141–143, 160–164, 170.
See also cultural authorities
- Ayanishiki* (anthology), 188
- Baba Bunkō, 317–318
- bans, of fiction, 309
- Bashō. See Matsuo Bashō
- Bath House in the Floating World*. See Ukiyoburo
- bath houses, 286
- Bath Women*. See Yunazu
- beauty
See also bodily discipline; civility; Confucian propriety; imperial court and power in court culture, 83
- Beckett, J.V., 42
- Bessho Makiko, 187–188
- best sellers, rise of, 305–306
- bodily discipline, 342–345
See also table manners artistic (keiko), 224
Onna shōrei ayaniishiki, 339, 342
 Ise Sadatake's advice on chopstick use, 343
 and politeness, 332–345
shitsuke as appropriate term to describe, 344–345
- Steven Ozment's study of etiquette in Europe, 343
- body
See also bodily discipline; tacit modes of communication Jishū's emphasis on, 97 and mind non-duality, 222–227
 as public in performance, 79, 225 relationship of mind and, 224, 225
 and tea ceremony, 226
- book distribution networks, 302–306
See also book peddlers; book rental shops
 Santō Kyoden on best seller phenomenon, 305–306
- book ownership, 301
- book peddlers, 302–303, 304
- book rental shops (kashihon ya), 303, 305, 306
- books, art. See commercialization of haikai practice
- books, pattern. See pattern books
- books of civilized knowledge, 327–347
See also Confucian propriety; manners as best sellers, 298–299
chōhōki, 298–299, 328
 counsel for gracious living in, 358
Daii setsuyōshū, 354
Dai Nihon eidai setsuyō, 154, 357, 358
Shonin chōhōki, 329
 geographical articles in, 353
 historical articles in, 353–358
 Inamura Jōhaku's, 330 increased number of publications of, 297–298
 Kaibara Ekken's authorship of, 329
Kinmō zui, 328
Nan chōhōki, 358
Onna chōhōki, 281, 330
setsuyō shū, 302, 328, 339
Yamato Setsuyō-shū shikkai nō, 356
- book titles, list of, 298
- boundaries, status. See commonality; kugai; mu'en; trespassing of status boundaries; yasurai hana dances
- boundary trespass, impact of See also marginal groups on Tokugawa society, 158–160
- Bourdieu, Pierre, 161–162
- bourgeois society in Europe, 23, 25
- bowing, 332–335
 Ogasawara School, 332–335
 variety of, 334
 Wada Nobusada's Flexible Rules for Welcoming Guests, 333–335
- Brazilian challenge singing, 72
- bridges, symbolism of. See kugai; mu'en

Index

441

- Britain
 cultural mobility in, 41–42
 public schools in, 42 sober fashion in, 277
 sumptuary regulations in, 257
- Brown, Penelope, 351
- Brunfels, Otto, 343
- Buddhism
See also tacit modes of communication
 Dōgen's summation of philosophy, 223
 influence on tea ceremonies, 226–227 Jishū sect of, 96–97
 and performing arts, 92–93
 Buddhist philosophy of non-duality, 222–227
- burial grounds. See kugai; mu'en
- Burke, Peter, 72–73, 177
- Calhoun, Craig, 51
 capital. See cultural capital; social capital categorical identities. See identities categorical redefinition of publics reaction of populace to, 136
 under Tokugawa shogunate, 134–136
 categorical stratification, 242, 247–251, 276–279. See also fashion politics; kabuki-mono; publics; status (mibun) system of Tokugawa shogunate
- Caton, Steven C., 72
- censorship, 306–308
- certificates in iemoto system. See iemoto system
- challenge singing, Brazilian, 72
- Chartier, Roger
 emphasis on interdependence and civility, 22–23, 25 growth of publishing industry in France, 290
- Cherry Blossom linked verse (hana no moto renga), 85–87
See also “Ten Thousand Verses in a Day” events; linked poetry atmosphere of sessions, 87 organizations of sessions by marginal groups, 96–98 rise of sessions during Kamakura period, 86–87
- Cherry Blossom (sakura)
See also mu'en; yasurai hana dances and ikki, 218–220 militarization of image of, 378
 Mu'en symbolism of, 87–88
- cherry blossom viewing parties (hanami)
 as aesthetic civility, 160
Ōka eika no zu, 439
 and poetry, 159
 Tokugawa popularity of, 158–160
- chic, urban. See urban chic
- Chichibu Rebellion. See “Poor People's Party” Rebellion
- Chikamatsu Monzaemon, 144
The Love-Suicide of Sonezaki, 316–317
- China
 civil service examination system, 312
 Gozan editions of classics from, 291–292
 national identity of versus that of Japan, 232–234 value of silk from, 254
- Chinese-style poetry, 171–174
- chivalry. See civility
- chōhōki*, 298–299, 328
- chokusenshū* (royal anthologies of waka poetry), 83
- Chōnin kōken roku*. See Observations of the City-Dweller's World
- chopsticks, etiquette, 343
- Chūgi taiheiki*, 181
- Chu Tzu chia-li*. See House Rituals of Chu Hsi
- circles (ren), poetry. See haikai poetry; ren
- citizenship, 22–23
- civility, 19–43, 324–357
See also books of civilized knowledge; bourgeois society; commercial publication; Confucian propriety; cultural mobility; emotional transaction cost; fashion politics; manners; market; moral requirements of commercial societies; multiplicity of publics; polite capitalism; politeness; popularization of literature; state; state-market relations; za arts and literature and enclave publics, 38–41 and citizenship, 22–23
 and civil society, 14, 21–25
 and weak-ties, 12–13, 29
 in dominant publics, 37–38
 in early modern Europe, 22–23, 24–25
 Elias's model of, 27–28
 and feudal warrior society, 23–24 and image of Japan, 352–359 importance of, in villages, 326 interdependence and, 22–23, 25
 Ise Sadatake's commentary on good manners, 37–38
 need for investigation of aesthetic and, 324–327 Norbert Elias's Civilizing Process, 22
 publics as social scientific term, 24

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-80942-9 - Bonds of Civility: Aesthetic Networks and the Political Origins of Japanese Culture

Eiko Ikegami

Index

More information442 Index

- civility (cont.)
 as sociability, 19
 and trustworthiness, 28–32
 Vincent Van Gogh's comment on Japanese art, 19
 Yoda Nagayasu's diaries on, 326
Civilization of Modern-Day Japan, The, 375
- civilized knowledge. See books of civilized knowledge
- Civilizing Process*, 22
- civil society
See also civility
 definition of, 19, 23
 Habermas notion of, 23, 58
 weak ties and, 13
- cognitive associational networks, 46, 49, 56, 164, 171
- coinage, 128
- comical verse. See Edo haikai circles
- commercial concerns and sumptuary regulations, 259–260
- commercialization, 26–27, 34–35, 240
 of economy and increased cotton production, 252–253
 of fashion and political conflict, 284–285
- commercialization of haikai practice, 178–182
See also Edo haikai circles
 Bashō's criticism of, 182–184
 Edo city edict against, 182 extension to provinces, 180–181
Haikai Arukanaka, 181
 Kikaku's views on, 183–184
 literary agents, 179–182
 Nakajima Zuiryū's description of extent of, 180 through publication of instruction books, 179–180
- commercial publication, 286–322
See also book distribution networks; commercial publication, regulation of; commercial publication, social position of; popularization of literature; print media as bridges; publishing houses; woodblock printing of art books and iemoto system, 169 comparative overview, 289–291, 425 copyright, 293
 and cultural identity of Japan, 370–372
 French media revolution according to Elizabeth Eisenstein, 291 growth of in France according to Roger Chartier, 290 of haikai instruction books, 179–180
 Konta Yōzō's comments on, 288
List of Japanese and Chinese books in print, 286
 Lucien Febvre and Henri-Jean Martin on European, 289
 Norbert Elias's theory on civility and, 290
 Robert Darnton's comments on spread of ideas through, 289–290 and spread of conservative and subversive spirits, 323 and spread of literacy, 300–302
 and use of terms Nihon or Nippon, 371
- commercial publication, regulation of banning of fiction, 309
 early censorship efforts, 306–308
 Edo town ordinance regarding, 307 house arrest of Hayashi Shihei, 310
 Kansei reforms by Lord Matsudaira Sadanobu, 309–310
 Koikawa Harumachi and, 310 ordinance against sensationalism, 308 Publishing Regulations, 308–309, 430 reprimand of author Hōseidō Kisanji, 310 by state, 306–310
 by Tanuma Okitsugu, 309
 under Tokugawa Yoshimune, 308–309 against reckless songs, 308
- commercial publication, social position of, 310–313 and Chinese examination system, 312
 in France, 311
 and intellectuals, 312–313
 and lack of systematic cultural policy, 311–312
 Robert Darnton's description of, 311
- commercial society and beauty, 240–241
 and civility, 26–27
 and Trust, 30–31
 and emotional transaction cost, 29–31
- commercial structure of iemoto system. See iemoto system
- commonality, 9, 25, 68, 192–197
See also “Sake Drinking Battle, The” appeal of to samurai, 196–197 appeal to commoners, 197
 as characterized by life of Ōta Nanbo, 193–194 influence of haikai poetry on hobby circles, 192–193 as public, 69, 70
 symbolism of, 115
 Tanaka Yūko's comments on, 193
- commoners
See also fashion politics; sumptuary regulations; trespassing of status boundaries; urban mass fashion and urban chic, 282–284

Index

443

- communal arts and literature, 71–75
See also za arts and literature
 Brazilian challenge singing, 72
 in early modern Europe according to Peter Burke, 72–73 medieval Japanese philosophy on, 73–74
 Moroccan, 72
 North Yemen, 72
 Ogata Tsutomu's comments on origin of Japanese, 73 communication. See civility; tacit modes of communication communities. See imagined communities; rural communities; social power; villages Complete Book of Ogasawara School Manners, The, 332 complexity of networks, 209–211. See also emergent properties Confucian propriety
 Chinese concept of li, 346–347
House Rituals of Chu Hsi, 347
 and Japanese hierarchical civility, 346–347
 and Ogasawara School, 347
 Constitution, Itsukaichi, 217
Contemporary Fashionable Patterns, 275
 contemporary views of Japan's cultural identity, 3–5
 Kawabata Yasunari's Japan, the Beautiful, and Myself, 3
 Mercedes advertisement and, 5, 6
 Oe Kenzaburo's Japan, the Ambiguous, and Myself, 3 Ōoka Makoto's comments on, 5 contests
See also "Sake Drinking Battle, The"; fashion contests monthly haikai, 184 Suzuki Bokushi's poetry, 208–209
 contractual rule in medieval Europe, 118
 copyright page, 293
 corporate autonomy, loss of, 119 correspondence, formal. See formal correspondence cost, emotional transaction. See emotional transaction cost cotton production, 252–253
See also asa textiles expansion of and commercialization of economy, 252–253 cotton road of Japan counter publics, 39–40, 60
 court, imperial. See Heian period; imperial court courtesans, 92–93
See also ukiyo; Kabuki theater creation of quarter for, 268–269
 and sacred, 93
 courtesy. See civility; politeness critical political consciousness, 201 cultural authorities, 160–164 emergence of mass market, 162
 Pierre Bourdieu's concept of cultural fields, 161–162 cultural capital, 176–177, 216
See also literacy
 and haikai poetry, 214–216
 cultural fields, 161–162, 165 cultural identity of Japan, 3–6 See also aesthetic sociability; commercial publication; contemporary views of Japan's cultural identity; emperors; image of Japan; overlapping networks; proto-modernity; Tokugawa network revolution
 apolitical, 378–379
 Commodore Matthew Perry and, 363 constant reformulations of, 376–379
 and construction of modern nation-state, 363–365 daimyo politics and national cohesion, 363–364 and industrialization, 376 influence of Tokugawa culture on creation of, 363–379
 militarization of aesthetic, 378 Motoori Norinaga's search for, 233–235 and notion of publics, 7 political use of apparently apolitical, 378–379 rise of nationalism, 376–378
Songs selected by the Ministry of Education, 377
 versus that of China, 232–234 Yamaguchi Masao on civic counters to modernization, 378 cultural mobility
 in Britain, 41–42
 and civility, 41–43
 in France, 42
 J. V. Beckett's observations on public schools and, 42 culture
See also arts; associations; civility; haikai poetry; kaisbo (meeting place) culture; linked poetry; material culture; rural communities and agency, 55–58
 as cognitive associational network, 46, 56 effect of za arts on development of Japan's, 99

444 Index

- culture (cont.)
 as emergent property, 7, 54, 57, 368, 375, 376
 ocean liner metaphor, 56
 Peter Burke's description of European elite and popular, 177
 tool-kit metaphor, 55–56
- Dai Nihon eidai setsuyō* networks. See interaction of networks; quantitative changes in networks
- Daii setsuyōshū*, 354
- daimyo lords
See also sumptuary regulations; Tokugawa shogunate politics of and national cohesion, 363–364 and reorganization of samurai vassalage, 128
 vassalic bureaucracy, 132–133
- dances, 107, 156–157. See also yasurai hana dances
- dangi*, 316–317
- Darnton, Robert, 289–290, 311
- deconstructive nature of haikai poetry, 192
- dedication panels
 Moriyama Gunjirō's research on, 218–220
 in shrine to Sakura Sōgō, 218–220
- degrees of politeness and body movements, 332–345
- Dengaku* dance, 107
Manic Dancing, 109
 and marginal groups, 107–110
 marginality and madness in performing arts, 107–110 Shijyō disaster, 107–108
- design trends and sumptuary regulations, 275
- development of woodblock printing. See woodblock printing
- diffusion of za arts, 112–113
- discipline. See bodily discipline
- distribution of books, networks for. See book distribution networks
- Dōgen, 223
- dōhō shū*, 111
- domain, private, 145
- domestication of women, 278
- dominant publics
 and hierarchical civility, 37–38
 and interrelationships among publics, 59–60
 Ise Sadatake's commentary on good manners, 37–38
- doors, sliding. See sliding doors
- Dore, Ronald, 300
- drama. See also mixed media
- dress. See fashion politics
- drinking contests. See “Sake Drinking Battle, The”
- Echigo province
haikai network in, 208–209
 Suzuki Bokushi's poetry contest, 208–209
- Echigoya retail store, 272
- economics. See commercial society
- economy. See commercialization; markets; market economy
- Edo
See also Edo haikai circles
 city zoning, 240
 edict against commercialization of haikai practice, 182 Miura Jōshin's description of first kabuki theater in, 264–265 overview of, 18th century, 240
 sumptuary regulations in, 274
 town ordinance regarding publication, 307
- Edo daisetsuyō kainaizō*, 355
- Edo haikai circles, 184–187
 authorial anonymity within, 184–186
 Lord Tayaso Munetake's participation in, 185 Miyata Masanobu's study of, 185 monthly competitions, 184
Nakōdo guchi, 185
 Ōshima Ryota's school, 187
 samurai participation in, 185–186
 Senryū's popularity, 186–187
- education, 303
See also literacy
 artistic education for merchants, 143 artistic education for samurai, 143
 for girls, 155–157 spread of community schools, 204
- egōshū, Sakai, 121
- Ehon Sakaegusa*, 303
- Eisenstein, Elizabeth, 291
- Elias, Norbert
Civilizing Process, 22, 192
 on dual nature of human perception, 55 model of civility by, 27–28 on nose-blowing in medieval Europe, 335 study of table manners, 340 theory on civility and publishing, 290
- elite culture, 177
- emergent properties, 53–55
 aesthetic image of Japan as, 368, 375 culture and meaning of, 7, 54, 57, 368, 376

Index

445

- and historical trajectories, 53
- “more is different” and, 52
- emotional transaction cost
 - See also* commercial society
 - and civility, 29, 31–32
 - reduction of, 28–32
 - as seen in The Taming of the Samurai, 31
- emperors
 - See also* imperial court
 - aesthetic role in Tokugawa state system, 372–373
 - maternal image of, 377
 - as paternalistic symbol of military strength, 377
 - Regulations for the Imperial Court and Aristocracy*, 372–373
- enclave identities, 41, 43, 144–145
 - See also* enclave publics; jōruri songs and aesthetic sociability, 367–368
 - Mukashi Mukashi Monogatari*, 144, 145
 - Watanabe Kazan’s self-assessment, 367
- enclave publics
 - See also* enclave identities; publics
 - and aesthetic sociability, 38–41
 - and counter publics, 39–40
 - and interrelationships among publics, 60–61
 - and privacy in Tokugawa state, 136–139
 - and reclassification of public versus private, 137–138
 - Tokugawa departure from za arts, 137
- England. See Britain; sumptuary regulations
- Enlightenment, Scottish. See Scottish Enlightenment
- Enomoto Seifu, 189
- etiquette
 - fan etiquette, 336
 - passing of knives, 336
 - sliding doors, 336, 337
 - See also* civility; bowing; nose-blowing; politeness; table manners
 - Steven Ozment’s study of European, 343
- Europe
 - See also* Britain; France
 - Albert Hirschman’s The Passions and the Interests, 26
 - civility in, 22–23
 - civility in early modern, 24–25
 - communal literature and popular culture, 72–73
 - comparative overview of commercial publication, 289–291
 - contractual rule in medieval, 118
 - Lucien Febvre and Henri-Jean Martin on printing in, 289
 - Peter Burke’s description of elite and popular culture, 177
 - Robert Darnton’s comments on diffusion of ideas in, 289–290
 - sumptuary regulations of as compared with in Japan, 257–259
- examination system, Chinese, 312
- “Fake Purple Rural Genji, The,” 319–321
- fan etiquette, 335, 336
- fashion contests, 273, 274
- fashion politics, 245, 442
 - See also* Kabuki theater; kabuki-mono; material culture; sumptuary regulations; urban chic; urban mass fashion
 - as agent of change, 284–285
 - and categorical stratification, 247–251
 - and changes in samurai functions, 277
 - civility and status, 276–279
 - commercialization and conflict, 284–285
 - and gender differentiation, 276–278
 - Georg Simmel’s comments on social adaptation and, 246
 - and increased domestication of women, 278
 - and increased level of aesthetic sensitivity, 285
 - men’s functional work dress, 276–278
 - relationship of urban commoners to, 278
 - Shijo kawara yūrakuzu*, 249
 - Yunazu*, 248
- Febvre, Lucien, 289
- feeding a child in public, 340
- female hand (onnade), 221–233, 396
- feudal warrior society
 - See also* Tokugawa shogunate and civility, 23–24
- fiction
 - See also* gesaku; mixed media
 - Takizawa Bakin’s statistics on banning of, 309
- fields, cultural, 161–162
- Five Mountains editions. See Gozan editions of Chinese classics
- flexible associational networks, 164
- Flexible Rules for Welcoming Guests*, 333–335
- floating world. See ukiyo
- formal correspondence, 330–331, 332
- formal publics. See dominant publics
- formal rankings, 148

446 Index

- France
See also sumptuary regulations
 cultural mobility in, 42
 media revolution in according to Elizabeth Eisenstein, 291 organizations of intellectuals, 311 publishing industry in, 290 and social position of commercial publication, 311
 “Freedom and People’s Rights” movements and haikai circles, 216–218 and Itsukaichi Constitution, 217 frugality, 275
 Fryer, Peter, 72
- Gay, Peter, 25
 Geertz, Clifford, 72
 gender. See also, categorical stratification, homosexuality, women
 and fashion politics, 276–278
 and poetry, 187–191, 394n
 subversion of in Kabuki, 263–266
 Genroku era. See sumptuary regulations
Genroku Taiheiki, 298–299
 geography in books of civilized knowledge, 353, 354, 355
gesaku (comic fiction), 153
 Goffman, Erving, 48
goryō (the spirit of the angry dead), 88
 Gozan editions of Chinese classics, 291–292
 graceful style of Nō drama, 110–111
 gracious living, 358. See Onna shorei
ayonishiki, 339, 340, 342
Graffiti of the Nijō Riverbank, 113
 grand master system. See iemoto system Granovetter, Mark, 12, 61, 366–367 graveyards. See also kugai; mu’en, 86, 87, 90, 95
 Greif, Avner, 30–31
 guilds. See za organizations
- Habermas, Jürgen, 23, 58–59, 62–63, 380–381
Haikai Arukanaka, 181
Haikai Mikawa Komoachi, 188
haikai poetry, 171–195, 204–220
See also “Freedom and People’s Rights” movements; “Poor People’s Party” Rebellion; artists as public persons;
 commercialization of haikai
 practice; commonality; dedication panels; Edo haikai circles; horizontal structure of haikai organizations; Kokugaku; literacy; overlapping networks; rural communities; social power; women poets
 Aizawa Muan’s participation in, 216 allusion and subversion in, 191–192 competitive scoring system, 178 contest by Suzuki Bokushi, 208–209 early networks for, 178
 in Echigo province, 208–209 Hamamo’s participation in, 171–172
 impact on network complexity, 180–181, 210–211
 in setsuyō-shū, 357 Ishikawa Jun’s insight on deconstructive nature of, 192
 Matsuo Bashō’s style of, 173–174
 and mediation of cultural and social capital, 214–216
 meetings for, 174
 “Poor People’s Party” Rebellion, 218–220
 and travel, 172, 182–183
 unspecificity of particulars, 230
 verse-capping, 178
 women’s anthologies of, 188
- Harte, N. B., 257
 Haru, 191
 hats, rush, symbolism of, 96
 Hayashi Shihei, 310
 Heian period beauty and power during, 83
 Lady Murasaki’s Tale of Genji, 83 linked poetry during, 85–86
 socialization during, 84
 hierarchical vassalage system, reconstituted, 118–119
 hierarchies, political. See political hierarchies Higashisanchū ikki, 116
hiinagata. See pattern books Hirschman, Albert, 26
 historical sociology, 16–18
History of Japan, 19–20
 hobbies, 158
 flower arrangement as gentlemen’s, 154 influence of haikai organizational structures on circles for, 192–193 Hojō Tokiyori, 319
 holy acts, performing arts as, 92–93 homosexuality, 263, 269–270
 horizontal associations. See associations;
ikki; organizational transformation and za arts; za organizations horizontal structure of haikai
 organizations, 174–177 endowment of cultural and social capital, 176–177
 importance of naming, 176 role of teachers in, 175
 Hōseidō Kisanji, 310

Index

447

- House Rituals of Chu Hsi*, 347
 human perception, dual nature of, 55 humorous illustrated books (kibyōshi), 305 Hut, Piet, 51–52
- identities, 51–52
 See also associations; cultural identity of Japan; enclave identities categorical, 51
 and essentialism, 51 formation of, 51, 54
 in motion, 51–52
 switching of, 70, 134, 383–385
 transformation in performing arts, 93
- ideogram (public), 68. See also publics (shitsuke), 344–345
- iemoto* system, 164–167, 408n
 as artistic institute, 163–164 authority and commercial structure of, 167–170
 and autonomy of arts, 170 certificates and name-takers in, 167–170 and commercially printed art books, 169 compared to ren circle, 164
 Ikenobō School, 165–166
 Moriya Takeshi's comments on, 167
 Sen tea ceremony schools, 168
 standardized instruction in, 168–169
 tea ceremony schools, 167
 Shoryō iemoto kagami, 166–167
- Igarashi Hamamo, 171–172, 189–190
igo players. See za arts and literature
- Ihara Saikaku, 150, 275
- ikebana* (flower arrangement). See arts; Ikenobō School; women's participation in arts; za arts and literature
- Ikenobō School, 165–166
iki. See urban chic
- ikki*, 113–117
 See also linked poetry
 under Tokugawa shogunate, 128–129, 205, 219, 285
 Graffiti of the Nijō Riverbank, 113
 Higashisanchū, poetry and, 116
 Ikkō ikki, 119
 as mutual military protection, 104 rituals of initiating, 115 social power and village based, 205 symbolism of, linked poetry, 116–117 Tsurusaki Hiroo's study of networking among samurai, 115 illustrated books, humorous, 305
- Imagawa, 113
 image of Japan, 352–359. See also books of civilized knowledge; cultural identity of Japan imagined communities, 290 imayō (medieval popular songs), 88, 92 impartial spectatorship, 26–27
 imperial court
 See also emperors; Heian period; aesthetic quality, judgment of; technologies of transformation and beauty in ancient and medieval Japan, 81–84 gate-keeper for beauty, 83–84
- Inamura Jōhaku, 330
 industrialization, 376. See also proto-modernity
- information revolution. See commercial publication
- Inoue Denzō, 218
- institutionalization of Kabuki theater and prostitution, 270–271
- institutional segmentation, 128–131
 control of ikki and za organizations, 128–129
 reorganization of samurai vassalage, 128
 and socialization, 130–131
- institutional segregation, 32–33
- institutional support of intellectuals, 312–313
- instruction, standardized, 168–169
- instruction books for haikai poetry, 179–180
- interaction networks, 49–51, 392
- interdependence and civility, 22–23, 25
- internal rules of conduct in merchant houses, 349–350
 Kobayashi Chōjiya, 350
 Mizuguchiya, 350
 Shirokiya, 349–350
- Introduction to Good Writing and Manners for Various Occasions*, 339–340
- Ippen. See Jishū sect of Buddhism
- Ise Sadatake
 on chopstick use, 343
 commentary on good manners, 37–38
- Ishikawa Jun, 192
- Ishikawa Rokubei
 confiscation of property, 273–274 fashion contest between wives of Naniwaya Jūemon and, 273
- isolation and socialization in za arts, 99–101
- isolationism of Tokugawa shogunate, 19–20

448 Index

- Itsukaichi Constitution, 217
Iwasa Mtabei, 109
- Japan, cultural identity of. See cultural identity of Japan
Japan, the Ambiguous, and Myself, 3
Japan, the Beautiful, and Myself, 3
Jishū sect of Buddhism, 96–97, 111
Jiyū Minken. See “Freedom and People’s Rights” movements
- jōruri*
See also mixed media; tacit modes of communication by Chikamatsu Monzaemon, 145 lowly status of, 145
popularity of, 144–145
Uji Kaganojō and Takemoto Gidayū, 144
- kabuki-mono*
See also Ōtori Ichibei
attacks on by Tokugawa shogunate, 268–269
and categorical resistance, 260–263
early ordinance against, 261 fashion and hair styles of, 261
and homosexuality, 263
“Rule of Military Houses,” 262–263
Tōdaiki’s description of Tokugawa Ieyasu’s punishment of, 263
- Kabuki* theater, 263–271
attacks on by Tokugawa shogunate, 268–269
audience, 267
creation of by Okuni, 264 and creation of courtesan quarter, 268–269 and floating world, 266–268
and homosexuality, 269–270
influence on fashion, 280
institutionalization of prostitution and, 270–271 Kabuki-zukan’s depiction of Uneme’s performance, 265–266
as male-only dramatic form, 269–270
Miura Jōshin’s description of Edo’s first, 264–265
Shijo kawara yurakuzu by Seikado, 249 women and subversion of gender roles in, 263–266
- Kabuki-zukan*, 265–266, 267, 440
Kaempfer, Engelbert, 19–20
Kaibara Ekken, 329, 342–343
kaisho (meeting place) culture, 110–112 See also tea ceremonies
dōhō shū in, 111
and refinement of za arts, 110–112 role of mu’en and kugai in, 111
kakushiki (formal rankings), 148
“Kamakura Cherry Blossom Ten Thousand Verses in a Day,” 114
- Kamakura period
linked poetry during, 86–87
rise of Cherry Blossom sessions, 86–87 rise of za as organizational category, 80 vassalage compared with Muromachi, 102
- Kamo no Mabuchi, 232–233
Kansei reforms, 275, 309–310
Kantō, 205–206
Katsumata Shizuo, 91
Katsushika Hokusai, 442
Kawabata Yasunari, 3
Kawachiya Kashō, 151
kawara. See riverbanks (kawara) kegare (polluted), 80, 399
and riverbanks as mu’en, 107 and various marginal people, 94–95
- Keichō kenmonshū*, 261
Keijo, 188
keiko (lessons, artistic training), 156–157, 224
- Kikaku, 183–184
kimono. See asa textiles; cotton production; fashion politics; silk textiles; sumptuary regulation; urban chic; urban mass fashion
- Kimmō zui*, 328
Kinugawa Yasuki, 158
Kitano shrine, 114
knives, passing of, 336 knowledge, civilized. See books of civilized knowledge
- Kobayashi Chōjiya, 350
kō (public). See ōyake and kō kōgi (public propriety), 87, 135, 138, 140, 307, 366
- Koikawa Harumachi, 310
Kokinwaka-shū, 83
- Kokugaku*
and ambiguity, 232–235
and haikai poetry networks, 211–212
implications of study by Sugi Hitoshi, 211–212
Japanese versus Chinese national identities, 232–234
Kamo no Mabuchi, 232–233
Motoori Norinaga’s search for authentic Japanese culture, 233–235 and overlapping networks, 368–369
as prelude to Meiji restoration, 212–214
Shimazaki Tōson’s Yoakemae, 213

Index

449

- kōmin* (public person), 68
Konmin-tō Rebellion. See “Poor People’s Party” Rebellion
Konta Yōzō, 288, 317–318
kosode. See pattern books
kugai (public realm) Amino’s comment on, 90
 as intersections of networks, 91
 Mu’en, Kugai, Raku, 88–90
 origin of term, 90
 persons’ role of in kaisho culture, 111 Kuge shobatto. See Regulations for the Imperial Court and Aristocracy kugutsu (puppeteers), 95
kuji (public affairs), 82
Kuki Shūzō, 247
kumi-ren (circles). See ren
kuruu (go mad), 108, 124
Kyōhabutae, 142
kyōka (humorous poetry), 174, 193, 212
Kyoto
 See also commercialization of haikai practice; Heian period; kaisho (meeting place) culture; Kamakura period
 and development of money economy, 106
 establishment of Muromachi shogunate, 105–106 and topographical shift of publics, 105–106 late medieval Japan, 102–109. See also national unification in Japan; organizational transformation and za arts; topographical shift of publics; za arts and literature; za organizations, decline of Levine, Donald, 231
Levinson, Stephen, 351 li (Confucian propriety), 346–347
linked poetry, 76–89, 113–117
 See also “Ten Thousand Verses in a Day” events; Cherry Blossom linked verse; haikai poetry; ikki (alliances); imperial court; marginal groups; performing arts; sacred; za arts and literature Bashō’s style of, 173–174
 cultural significance of, 84–85
 an example from Sarumino, 228–230 Hamamo’s practice of, 189–190 during Heian period, 85–86
 ikki and, 116–117, 218
 during Kamakura period, 86–87
 Matsuoka Shinpei’s analysis of, 116–117
Morikawa Kyoriku’s methods for linking stanzas, 228 Ogata Tsutomu on trustworthiness in, 114
as performative literature, Nijō Yoshimoto’s notes on, 85 symbolism of rush hats (kasagi renga), 96
and tacit modes of communication, 227–230
and unspecifiability of particulars, 230
List of Japanese and Chinese books in print, 286
literacy, 214–216, 300–302
 in case of Aizawa Muan, 215 commercial publication and spread of, 300–302
 Ebon Sakaegusa, 303
 Ronald Dore’s study of, 300
 as seen in diary of Mori Chōemon, 301 shopkeepers, 300 survey of participants in “Poor People’s Party” Rebellion, 215 and Tokugawa social control, 95, 300 Yokota Fuyuhiko on widespread ownership of books, 301
literary agents, 179–182
literature. See communal arts and literature; parodic literature; popularization of literature Love-Suicide of Sonezaki, The, 316–317 madness in performing arts, 107–110 Maeda Ai, 314
Maghiribi traders, 30–31
Make This Flower Bloom. See Sake ya ko no hana
male-only dramatic form, Kabuki theater as, 269–270
Manic Dancing, 109
manners, 330–345. See also civility; formal correspondence; politeness; table manners manuals. See books of civilized knowledge marginal groups, 93–98. See also mu’en; kugai, kegare; riverbanks Ashikaga Yoshimitsu’s favoritism toward Zeami, 98
 in Japanese medieval scholarship, 95
 Jishū sect of Buddhism, 96–97
 and madness in performing arts, 107–110 and national unification in Japan, 119 nenbutsu hijiri, 96–97
 and open, playful atmosphere of performing arts, 94–98

450 Index

- marginal groups (cont.)
 as organizers of Cherry Blossom sessions, 96–98 paradoxical nature of, 95–96
 reorganization of during Tokugawa period, 133–134 and symbolism of rush hats in linked poetry sessions, 96 varieties of, 94–95
- market economy, 133–134
See also commercial society;
 state-market relations
 cotton's role in expanding, 253
 cultural implications of nationwide, 27, 239
 Habermas's view of impact on publics, 62–63
 influence on proto-modernity, 374
- markets
See also kugai; mu'en; state-market relations institutional constraints on, 35–37
 and sacred, 91
 as spheres of transformation, 91
- martial arts. See tacit modes of communication
- Martin, Henri-Jean, 289
- masters
See also merchant tea masters artistic, 142
- material culture, 251–255
See also cotton production; silk textiles Oan's observations on development of, 251 use of asa textiles, 252
- Matsudaira Sadanobu, 275
See also Tama Migaku Aoto ga Zeni
 and regulation of commercial publication, 309–310
- Matsuo Bashō, 173–174
- Matsuoka Shinpei, 116–117
- media. See mixed media; print media as bridges
- medieval Europe
 contractual rule in, 118 nose-blowing in, 335
 table manners in, 340
- meeting places. See kaisho culture meetings, poetry, 174
- Meiji restoration
See also cultural identity of Japan;
 proto-modernity
 and emperor symbolism, 372–373
Kokugaku as prelude to, 212–214
 Shimazaki Tōson's Yoakemae, 213
- Mendel, Franklin, 15
- men's functional work dress, 276–278
- merchant houses. See internal rules of conduct in merchant houses
- merchants
See also nouveaux riches artistic education for according to Shōbai ōrai, 143
 polite arts, 150, 349–350
 merchant tea masters, 122
- militarization of Japanese cultural identity, 378
- military strength, emperor as symbol of, 377
- Miura Jōshin
 description of first Kabuki theater in Edo, 264–265
Keichō kenmonshū's account of Ōtori Ichibe, 261
- mixed media, 315–318
See also theaters
 Baba Bunkō use of, 317–318
 Chikamatsu Monzaemon's The Love-Suicide of Sonezaki, 316–317 and sensationalism, 317–318
- Miyata Masanobu, 185
- Mizoguchi Yūzō, 69
- Mizuguchiya, 350
- Mizuno Tadakuni, 275, 316
- mobility, cultural. See cultural mobility
- model of propriety, standard, 140
- modernization of Japan, 374–376
See also cultural identity of Japan
 civic counters to, 378
- modes of communication, tacit. See tacit
 modes of communication
- Monbushō shoka*. See Songs selected by the Ministry of Education
- money economy, 106
- Monkey's Straw Raincoat, The*. See
Sarumino
- monks
nenbutsu-chanting, 96–97
 Zen'a, 90
- moral requirements of commercial societies, 25–27
See also Scottish Enlightenment Albert Hirschman's The Passions and the Interests, 26
 J. G. A. Pocock's Virtue, Commerce, and History, 26
- Mori Chouemon, 301
- Morikawa Kyoriku, 228
- Moriyama Gunjirō, 218–220
- Moriya Takeshi
 definition of arts for pleasure, 142
 on iemoto system, 167
- Moroccan communal poetry, 72
- Motoori Norinaga, 233–235

Index

451

- movable type, importance of, 291, 292–293
- Mu'en, Kugai, Raku*, 88–90
- mu'en* (no-relation)
 See also courtesans; kugai; marginal groups; markets; yasurai hana dances and marginal people, 94–98
 in Cherry Blossom linked verse, 87–92 importance of, for communication, 383–385 performance as holy act in folk story, 92–93 role of in kaisho culture, 111 spaces designated as, 88–90
 symbolism of cherry trees in bloom, 87–90
Tsukuba shū and public nature of poetry sessions, 90 and Zenna, 90
- Mukashi Mukashi Monogatari*, 144, 145
- Murasaki Shikibu, Lady, 83
- Muromachi shogunate
 See also “Ten Thousand Verses in a Day” events; Ōnin war
 and development of money economy, 106
 establishment of in Kyoto, 105–106
- musicians. See performing arts; za arts and literature
- Nagahara Keiji, 252
- Nagamatsu Shokyūni, 189, 190
- Nagatomo Chiyoji, 303
- Nakajima Zuiryū, 180
- Nakamura Kuranosuke, 273
- Nakaya Rokuemon, 195
- Nakōdo guchi*, 185
- namazu-e* (subversive prints), 320, 321–323
- names, artist, 146–147, 176
 artist names, 39, 176
haimei (haikai pen names), 175
 and identities, 12, 193–194
 Ōta Nanbo’s multiple names, 193–194
 as technology of alternative realities, 146–147
- name-takers (natori) in iemoto system. See iemoto system
- Nanbōroku*, 226
- Nan chōhōki*, 330, 358
- Naniwaya Jūemon, 273
- national cohesion, 363–364
- national identity. See cultural identity of Japan; image of Japan; tacit modes of communication
- nationalism, 376–378
- nation-state, 363–365. See also proto-modernity
- native learning. See Kokugaku
- Natsume Sōseki, 375
- negative space, public as, 44–46
- nenbutsu hijiri* (nenbutsu-chanting monks). See also Kugai, mu'en, 87–90, 96–97
- Nihon, 371. See also Japan
- Nijō Yoshimoto, 85
- Nippon, 371. See also Japan
- Nise Murasaki Inaka Genji*. See Fake Purple Rural Genji, The
- Nishikawa Joken, 150
- Nō* drama
 See also Jishū sect of Buddhism; tacit modes of communication; za arts and literature
 Ashikaga Yoshimitsu’s favoritism, 98
 Zeami’s graceful style of, 110–111
- no-relation. See mu'en
- normative concept of public sphere, 380–381
- North, D. C., 30
- nose-blowing, 335–336
 Norbert Elias’s notes on in medieval Europe, 335
 Ogasawara School’s teaching on, 336
- nouveaux riches*
 and arts, 149–153
 Ihara Saikaku on Osaka merchants, 150
 Nishikawa Joken on Tokugawa civilizing process, 150
Observations of the City-Dweller’s World, 152–153
 potential for addiction to performing arts, 152–153 Yoda Sōzo’s writings on social reputation, 151–152
- Oan, 251
- obligations, system of, 148
- Observations of the City-Dweller’s World*, 152–153
- occupational social groups, 148
- Oda Nobunaga
 and introduction of tea ceremony politics, 121 takeover of Sakai, 122 massacre of Ikko ikki, 119 policy against guilds, 119
- Oe Kenzaburo
Japan, the Ambiguous, and Myself, 3
 skirmish between Kawabata Yasunari and, 3, 231
- Official Record of the Tokugawa Clan, The*. See Tokugawa Jikki

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-80942-9 - Bonds of Civility: Aesthetic Networks and the Political Origins of Japanese Culture

Eiko Ikegami

Index

More information452 Index

- Ogasawara School
 and Confucian propriety, 347
 description of good table manners, 341 rise of and bowing, 332–335
 Wada Nobusada's Flexible Rules for Welcoming Guests, 333–335
- Ogasawara shorei daizen. See Complete Book of Ogasawara School Manners, The
- Ogata Tsutomu, 73, 114
- Ohnuki-Tierny, Emiko, 378
- Ōishi Shinzaburo, 375
- Ōka eika no zu, 439
- Okuni, 264
- On Hiinagata, 271–272
- Ōnin war, 112–113
- omade (female hand), 233, 396
- Onna chōhōki, 273, 281, 330
- onna shorei ayanishiki, 339, 340, 342
- Ono Sawako, 159
- Ooka Makoto
 explanation of dual dynamics of renga, 100
- openness in performing arts, 94–98
- oral reading, 314–315. See also mixed media
 Maeda Ai's description of, 314
 Yokota Fuyuhiko's analysis of silent reading, 314–315
- ordinances
See also commercial publication, against kabuki-mono, 261
 definitions of, 417n
- organizational transformation and za arts, 103–105, 117–120
See also za arts and literature
- origin and development of tea ceremonies, 120–121
- Osaka. See commercialization of haikai
 practice; nouveaux riches
- Ōshima Ryota, 187
- Ōta Nanpo, 193–194
- Ōta Shirayuki, 188
- Otori Ichibei
 as leader of group of kabuki-mono, 261–262
 Miura Jōshin's account of in Keichō kenmonshū, 261
 Tokugawa Jikki's comments on, 262
- overlapping networks, 180–181, 209–211, 328
 of Kokugaku and haikai, 210–211, 368–369
 strength of, 368–370
- overview, comparative, of commercial publication. See commercial publication
- ownership of books, 301
- ōyake and kō (Japanese terms for public), 68–70, 74, 82, 94, 104–105, 135, 137, 138, 196, 366. See also publics
- Ozment, Steven, 343
- painters. See Watanabe Kazan
 panels, dedication. See dedication panels paradoxical nature of marginal groups, 95–96
- parodic literature, 318–319, 323
See also subversive prints
 Santō Kyoden's Tama Migaku Aoto ga Zeni, 319
The Fake Purple Rural Genji, 319–321
- passing of knives, 336
- Passions and the Interests, The*, 26
- patronage. See diffusion of za arts
- pattern books (hiinagata), 271–272
- Peaceful Chronicle of Genroku. See*
Genroku Taiheiki
- peddlers, book. See book peddlers
- peeling a melon, 339–440
- performative literature, 85
- performing arts
See also associations; body; courtesans;
haikai poetry; Kabuki theater;
 marginal groups; sacred; tea ceremonies; za arts and literature
 and civility, 140–144
 education of samurai in, 143
 as holy act in folk story, 92–93 Kawachiya Kashō on need to learn, 151 madness and marginality in, 107–110 for merchant families, 143
 playfulness in performing arts, 94–98
 potential for addiction to, 152–153
 and tacit modes of communication, 221–222
- period, Heian. See Heian period
- period, Kamakura. See Kamakura period
- Perry, Matthew, Commodore, 363
- philosophy of artistic way (geidō ron), 73–74. See also Buddhism; tacit
 modes of communication
- Picture Book of Prosperity. See* Ehon
Sakaegusa
- playfulness in performing arts, 94–98
- Pocock, J. G. A., 26
- poetry
See also cherry blossom viewing parties;
 communal arts and literature; haikai
 poetry; linked poetry; social power;
 women poets; za arts and literature Oe Kenzaburo on inaccessible Japanese, 381
- poets, professional, 113

Index

453

- Polanyi, Michael
 remarks on tacit modes of communication, 223
 unspecificity of particulars, 230
 policy, systematic cultural, 311–312 polite capitalism, 348–352
See also internal rules of conduct in merchant houses Sukematsuya, 349
 politeness, 344–345
See also bodily discipline; bowing; fan etiquette; nose-blowing; sliding doors; table manners as civility, 19–21
 degrees of and body movements, 332–345
 Engelbert Kaempfer's History of Japan, 19–20 and isolationism of Tokugawa shogunate, 19–20 Penelope Brown and Stephen Levinson's theory on, 351 proper way for samurai to pass swords, 337
The Complete Book of Ogasawara School Manners, 332 political hierarchies, 128–131
 control of ikki and za organizations, 128–129
 reorganization of samurai vassalage, 128
 and socialization, 130–131
 politics
See also communal arts and literature; fashion politics; multiplicity of publics; state and associational networks, 67–75 critical consciousness of, 201 expansion of networks under Tokugawa state, 132–133 Mizoguchi Yüzō on notions of public and private, 69 use of apparently apolitical cultural identity of Japan, 378–379 use of Chinese ideogram for kō, 68 use of Japanese term ōyake, 68–70 politics of tea ceremony, 120–123
See also Oda Nobunaga; Sen no Rikyū; tea ceremonies
 Gaspar Vilella's comments on Sakai, 121
 Hideyoshi's use of, 122–123
 rise of merchant tea masters, 122
wabi-cha style of in Sakai, 121–122 politics, daimyo, 363–364
 "Poor People's Party" Rebellion, 218–220
See also dedication panels role of Inoue Denzō, 218 survey of literacy among participants, 215 popular culture, 177
 popularity of hobbies, 158
 popularization of literature, 297–300
 book titles, 298
 excerpt from Genroku Taiheiki, 298–299
 power
See also social power and beauty during Heian period, 83 printing. See commercial publication; woodblock printing print media as bridges, 313–323. See also mixed media; oral reading; parodic literature prints, subversive. See subversive prints private domain (watakushi), 136–139, 145, 147–149
 and aesthetic enclave publics, 136–139 Mizoguchi Yüzō's observations on public versus, 69 reclassification of public and, 137–138
 under Tokugawa shogunate, 136, 140
 professional poets, 113 propriety. See also Confucian propriety standard model of, 140
 prostitution
See also courtesans institutionalization of Kabuki theater and, 270–271 protection, military, 104 protest. See social power proto-industrialization, 15
 proto-modernity
See also commercial publication
 influence of market on, 374 and Japan's cultural identity, 14–16 and modern Japanese nation-state, 373–376
 Natsume Soseki's The Civilization of Modern-Day Japan, 375
 Oishi Shinzaburo's comments on, 375
 proto-industrialization, 15
 and voluntary associational networks, 368, 374
 and weak ties, 12
 Westernization and modernization, 374–376 provinces, extension of commercial haikai to, 180–181 publication, commercial. See commercial publication public nature of poetry sessions, 90 public persons, artists as. See artists as public persons

454 Index

- public rooms. See kaisho (meeting place) culture
- publics. See also Ōyake and kō, multiplicity of publics; kugai (public realm) categorical stratification of, 58–62, 134–136 counter, 39 enclave, 38–39 Habermas's view of, 58–59, 62–63 influence of state on, 62–64 interrelationships among publics and counter publics, 60 and dominant publics, 59–60 and enclave publics, 60–61 in Japan's cultural identity, 7 kōgi, 87, 135, 138, 140, 307, 366 komin, 68 kuji, 82 multiplicity of publics aesthetic sociability in enclave publics, 38–41 and associational networks in Tokugawa Japan, 380–385 and civility, 37–41 and counter publics, 39–40 hierarchical civility in dominant publics, 37–38 and identity switching, 383–385 importance of mu'en concept, 383–385 Jürgen Habermas's normative and unitary concept of, 380–381 tacit modes of communication and ambiguity, 381–383 weak ties, 61 as negative space, 44–46 and state, 63 and switching, 49–50 redefinition of, 47–49 as social scientific term, 24 transformation of Japanese term ōyake, 68–70, 135
- public schools, 42
- public versus private Mizoguchi Yūzō's observations on, 69 reclassification of, 137–138 under Tokugawa shogunate, 140
- publishing houses number of emerging, 296 number of new and closed, 296 Publishing Regulations, 308–309, 340 Putnam, Hilary, 56
- reading, oral. See oral reading reading, silent. See silent reading recital, student, 146
- reconstituted hierarchical vassalage system, 118–119
- redefinition of publics. See categorical redefinition of publics
- reference books. See books of civilized knowledge
- refinement of za arts, 110–112
- reformulations of cultural identity. See cultural identity of Japan
- regional warlords, 113
- regulations, sumptuary. See sumptuary regulations
- Regulations for the Imperial Court and Aristocracy*, 372–373
- rei*. See li
- religions. See Buddhism; Confucian propriety; Jishū sect of Buddhism; sacred
- ren* (circles), 164, 175, 185, 192
- renga*. See linked poetry
- reorganization of samurai vassalage, 128
- reputations, social, 151–152
- requirements, moral. See moral requirements of commercial societies
- restraint in urban chic, 282
- retail stores See also internal rules of conduct in merchant houses Echigoya, 272 increased number of, 272–273
- revolution, information. See commercial publication
- revolution, media, 291
- revolution, network. See Tokugawa network revolution
- Rinji Kyaku ashirai*. See Flexible Rules for Welcoming Guests
- riverbanks. See also kugai; mu'en
- riverbanks (kawara) female kabuki at Shijō, 249 kabuki audience at Shijō, 267 kawara-mono (riverbank people), 94 and performing arts, 266 as sites for funerals and executions, 268 as sites of kugai or mu'en, 88–90, 107
- Roche, Daniel, 257
- royal anthologies of waka poetry. See chokusenshū (royal anthologies of waka poetry)
- “Rule of Military Houses,” 262–263
- rules of conduct, internal, in merchant houses. See internal rules of conduct in merchant houses
- rural communities, 205–208 See also Echigo province; haikai poetry; literacy; social power; villages

Index

455

- criticism of cultural activities in Kantō area, 205–206 social capital and networks in, 207–208 rush hats, symbolism of, 96
Ryūjinhishō kudenshū, 88
- sacred artistic performance as holy act in folk story, 92–93 influence on performing arts, 92–93
symbolism of cherry trees in bloom, 88
Saikaku Oritome, 275
Sakai, 121–122
Gaspar Villela's comments on, 121
rise of merchant tea masters, 122
takeover of by Nobunaga, 122
Sakai Hoitsū, 195–196
“Sake Drinking Battle, The,” 195–196 sake pots, etiquette of, 339, 342 Sake ya ko no hana, 180
Sakura Sōgō, 218–219, 220
samurai
See also feudal warrior society;
kabuki-mono; late medieval Japan;
status (mibun) system of Tokugawa
shogunate; sumptuary regulations;
Taming of the Samurai, The appeal of commonality to, 196–197 changes in functions and fashion
politics, 277
in Edo haikai circles, 185–186 importance of artistic education for, 143 proper way to pass swords, 337 reorganization of vassalage, 128 Seji kenmonroku's comments on boundary trespass by, 157 Tsurusaki Hiroo's study of networking among, 115
vassalic bureaucracy, 132–133
sanctuaries. See kugai; mu'en sankin kōtai (alternate residence for daimyo lords), 132
Santō Kyoden, 305–306, 319
Sarumino, 228–230
Sasaki Dōyo, 111
“School of Native Learning.” See Kokugaku
scoring system, competitive, 178
Scottish Enlightenment
Adam Smith's impartial spectatorship, 26–27
sociability in, 26–27
seated art. See za arts and literature segmentation, institutional. See
institutional segmentation
segregation, institutional, 32–33
Seji kenmonroku, 157
Sen no Rikyū, 120, 122, 123–126. See also politics of tea ceremony; tea ceremonies
Senryū, 186–187
sensationalism and mixed media, 317–318 ordinance against, 308
Sen tea ceremony schools, 168
setsuyō-shū, 154, 328, 339, 353–358
shamisen, 40, 156–157, 225, 249, 265, 287
Shiba Sonome, 188
Shijō kawara yūrakuzu, 249
Shijyō tragedy, 107–108
Shikitei Sanba, 156–157, 279–281
Shimazaki Tōson, 213
Shintō shrines. See kugai; mu'en
Shirokiya, 349–350
shitsuke, 344–345. See also Ogasawara
School
Shōbai ōrai, 143
shogakai (open exhibitions), 192
shōgi, 143, 151, 152, 166, 206, 207, 287, 405 shogunate, Tokugawa. See Tokugawa
shogunate
Shonin chōhōki, 329
Shorei daigaku. See Shonin chōhōki
Shoryū iemoto kagami, 166–167
Shosatsu chōhōki, 331
shrines. See dedication panels; Kitano shrine; kugai; mu'en
Shunpu batei no kyoku, 283
Siebold, Philipp Franz von, 303, 304 silent reading, 314–315
silk textiles importation and production of, 253–255
value of Chinese, 254
Silver, Allan, 26
Simmel, Georg, 246
sliding doors, etiquette, 336–337
Smith, Adam, 26–27, 258
Sōchō, 113
sociability
See also aesthetic sociability; civility;
Scottish Enlightenment
civility as, 19
social adaptation, 246 social capital, 176–177, 216
See also networks
and haikai poetry, 214–216
and networks in rural communities, 207–208
social groups, territorial or occupational, 148

456 Index

- socialization
See also state formation, Tokugawa during Heian period, 84 and isolation in za arts, 99–101
 in linked poetry, Sōgi's views on, 78 during Tokugawa state formation, 130–131
- social power
See also “Freedom and People's Rights” movements; “Poor People's Party” Rebellion; haikai poetry; Kokugaku; literacy; rural communities and complexity of networks, 209–211 poetry, protest, and rise of, 204–220
 and village-based ikki organizations, 205
- social reputations, 151–152
- Sōgi
 patronage by warlord Uesugi, 113 on socialization in linked poetry, 78
- songs, jōruri. See jōruri songs
- Songs selected by the Ministry of Education*, 377
- sōson* (corporate village), 104
- spectatorship, impartial, 26–27
- standardized instruction, 168–169
- standard model of propriety, 140
- stanzas, associational, 228
- state
See also aesthetic sociability; commercial publication, regulation of; fashion politics; imperial court; Japan; nation-state; Tokugawa shogunate civility, and associational networks, 32–33
 Habermas's view of impact on publics, 62–63
 influence on networks and publics, 62–64 institutional segregation by, 32–33
 state-associational network relations, 32–33, 63, 127
 state formation, Tokugawa, 127–139
See also categorical redefinition of publics; enclave publics; Tokugawa network revolution
 control of ikki and za organizations, 128–129
 political hierarchies and institutional segmentation, 128–131
 reorganization of samurai vassalage, 128
 and socialization, 130–131
 state-market relations, 34–37
 Charles Tilly's views on, 34 institutional constraints on market, 35–37 socio-economic changes in early Tokugawa period, 34–35 status boundaries. See commonality; kugai; mu'en; trespassing of status boundaries; yasurai hana dances status (mibun) system of Tokugawa shogunate, 147–149
See also civility; commonality; fashion politics; kabuki-mono formal rankings (kakushiki), 148
 and invention of private domain, 136–139, 145
 and participation in associational networks, 148–149
 and social topology, 365–366
 and sumptuary regulations, 256–257 system of obligations, 148 and territorial or occupational social groups, 148
 three dimensions of, 147–149 status of jōruri songs, 145 stories, folk, 92–93
Stories of Olden Days. See Mukashi Mukashi Monogatari storytelling. See dangi; mixed media; za arts and literature strangership, 26–27, 29, 160
 stratification, categorical. See publics strength of overlapping networks. See overlapping networks strength of weak ties. See weak ties Structural Transformation of the Public Sphere, The, 58–59 student recital, 146
 subversion. See haikai poetry subversion of gender roles in Kabuki theater, 263–266 subversive prints. See namazu-e (subversive prints) subversive spirit, 323
 Sugi Hitoshi, 211–212
 Sukematsuya, 349
 sumptuary regulations
See also fashion contests
 Adam Smith's denunciation of, 258 and commercial concerns, 259–260
 in comparative perspective, 257–260 Contemporary Fashionable Patterns, 275
 and design trends, 275
 in Edo, 274
 English, 257
 for farmers, 259–260
 and fashion politics, 255–257
 French decree regarding, 257

Index

457

- Ishikawa Rokubei confiscation of property, 273–274
in Japan as compared with Europe, 257–259
Kansei reform, 275
Saikaku Oritome, 275
and status system, 256–257
Tenpō reform, 275
and Tokugawa Yoshimune's emphasis on frugality, 275 town ordinances regulating dress, 255–256 and urban mass fashion, 273–275
Suzuki Bokushi, 208–209
Swidler, Ann, 55–56
switch, 46, 49–51, 134 public and, 48, 197, 202, 383 structure and, 50, 392
switching and agency, 49–51, 101, 144–145, 197–203
switching of identities, 70, 147, 204, 367, 383–385 haikai poetry and, 176, 191, 194 reading as, 315
and za arts, swords, etiquette, 337
- table manners, 337–342
and beauty, 337–340, 342–345
Edo daisetsuyō kainaizō, 339
feeding a child in public, 340
peeling a melon, 339–340
Ise Sadatake's advice on chopstick use, 343
Kaibara Ekken's recommendations on, 342–343
Norbert Elias's study of medieval European, 340
Ogasawara School's description of good, 341
Otto Brunfels' teachings on, 343
in Yamato Setsuyoshu shikkai nō, 339 tactic modes of communication, 221–235
See also ambiguity; linked poetry and Buddhist philosophy, 222–227
discussion of in Nanbōroku, 226
Dōgen's summation of philosophy, 223
Michael Polanyi's remarks on, 223 in the performing arts, 221–222
as seen in tea ceremonies, 226–227 Yuasa Yasushi's description of, 225 and Zeami's aesthetic theory, 224–225
- Takemoto Gidayū, 144
Takizawa Bakin, 309
Tale of Genji, 83. See also Motoori Norinaga
Tama Migaku Aoto ga Zeni, 319
- Tamamo-shū*, 188
Tama region, 216–217
Taming of the Samurai, The, 31
Tanaka Yūko, 193, 408
Tani Bunchō, 195–196
Tanigawa Denjo, 188–189
Tanuma Okitsugu, 309
Tayasu Munetake, Lord, 185
tea ceremonies
See also Jishū sect of Buddhism; politics of tea ceremony; za arts and literature and body, 226
changes in, 111–112
development and origin of, 120–121
discussion of in Nanbōroku, 226
origin and development of, 120–121
by Sasaki Dōyo, 111 schools of, 167
Sen schools of, 168
and tacit knowing of Buddhist philosophy, 226–227 teachers, artistic, 142, 175
teaching, standardized, 168–169
tea masters, merchant. See merchant tea masters technologies of transformation arts as, 82–83
markets as, 91
temples. See kugai; mu'en
Tenpō reform, 275, 316
“Ten Thousand Verses in a Day” events, 113–114
“Kamakura Cherry Blossom Ten Thousand Verses in a Day,” 114
performance at Kitano shrine, 114 sponsorship by Ashikaga Yoshimitsu and Ashikaga Yoshinori, 114 terakoya (community school), 204 territorial social groups, 148 theaters
See also Kabuki theater commercial nature of Tokugawa, 316 medieval paid performance, 106 popularity of and mixed media, 315–317 restrictions on under Mizuno Tadakuni's Tenpō reform, 316 rise of yose, 316
Thomas, P., 30
Tilly, Charles, 34, 55
titles, book, 298
Tocqueville, Alexis de, 11–12
Tōdaiki, 263
Tōkaidōchū Hizakurige. See Travel on Foot, the Tokai Road
Tokugawa Ieshige. See Baba Bunkō

458 Index

- Tokugawa Ieyasu, 263
Tokugawa Jikki, 262
 Tokugawa network revolution, 131–134
 and cultural identity of Japan, 7–12
 definition of, 9
 expansion of political networks, 132–133
 and marginal groups, 133–134
 new market economy, 133–134
 ramifications of, 12–14
 and social topology, 365
 Tokugawa shogunate, 19–20 Tokugawa Yoshimune, 275, 308–309
 tool kit metaphor, 55–56
 topographical shift of publics, 105–112.
See also kaisho (meeting place)
 culture; Kyoto; late medieval Japan Tose Hayaru Hinagata. See Contemporary Fashionable Patterns town ordinances
See also commercial publication,
 regulation of regulating dress, 255–256
Toyokuni Saireizu. See Manic Dancing
 Toyotomi Hideyoshi, 119 and tea ceremony politics, 122–123 trade guilds, za. See ikki (alliances) trading posts. See kugai; mu'en tradition, Japanese. See cultural identity of Japan
 tragedy, Shijō, 107–108 transaction, emotional cost of. See emotional transaction cost travel, 6, 133
See also boundary trespass, impact of;
mu'en Bashō's, 182–183
 and haikai poetry, 172, 189, 190, 204
 Igarashi Hamamo's, 171–172
 Jishū's, 97
 Watanabe, Kazan, 198–201
 marginal people's, 96
sankin kōtai (alternate residence for daimyo lords), 132
 Shokyūni's, 189, 190
 Sōgi's, 107
Travel on Foot, the Tokai Road, 190
 trends, design, and sumptuary regulations, 275
 trespassing of status boundaries, 153–160
See also cherry blossom viewing parties;
 commonality; fashion politics;
haikai poetry; kabuki-mono;
 women's participation in arts
 impact of on Tokugawa society, 158–160
 Kinugawa Yasuki's comments on, 158
 popularity of hobbies, 158
Seji kenmonroku's comments on samurai and, 157
 trust Avner Greif's study of among Maghiribi traders, 30–31
 and civility, 28–32
 in linked poetry, 114
 samurai and, 31
 state and, 30
Tsukuba shū, 90
 Tsurusaki Hiroo, 115
 Uesugi, 113
 Ujie Mikito, 155–156
 Uji Kaganōjō, 144, 145
ukiyo
Onna chōhōki, 281
 influence on urban chic, 281–282
Ukiyoburo, 156–157, 279–281
ukiyo-e, 40, 252
ukiyo (floating world), 319
See also counter publics; Kabuki theater as counter public, 39
 definition of, 266
 influence on urban chic, 281–282
 and kabuki, 266–268
 Uneme, 265–266, 440, Plate 2
 unification in Japan, 118–120 completion of by Toyotomi Hideyoshi, 119 and loss of corporate autonomy, 119
 and marginal groups, 119
 reconstituted hierarchical vassalage system, 118–119 role of Oda Nobunaga, 119 Unkoku Tōgan, 89
 urban chic, 279–284
 as combination of dandyism and restraint, 282
 and commoner class, 282–284 influence of floating world on, 281–282
 Kuki Shūzō's explanation of, 247
 Kunisada's Woman Reading a Letter, 441
Onna chōhōki, 281
 as seen in Shikitei Sanba's Ukiyoburo, 279–281
Waga koromo's comments on, 279
 Yosano Buson's Variation on Spring Wind and River Ban, 283
 urban commoners, 278
 urbanization, 35 urban mass fashion, 271–275. See also pattern books; retail stores;
 sumptuary regulations

Index

459

- uta awase* (waka poetry meeting), 84, 178
uta makura (poetry place name), 353
- Van Gogh, Vincent, 19
- vassalage systems
 reconstituted hierarchical, 118–119
 reorganization of samurai, 128
- vassalic bureaucracy, 132–133. See also
 formal correspondence
- verse-capping, 178
- vertical network. See organizational transformation and za arts;
 vassalage systems
- villages
See also literacy; rural communities corporate village (sōson), 104 importance of hierarchical civility in, 326
 social power and ikki alliances in, 205
- Villela, Gaspar, 121
- Virtue, Commerce, and History*, 26
- voluntary associational networks
See also associations and proto-modernity, 368, 374
 and social topology of Tokugawa
 shogunate, 366
- wabi-cha* style of tea ceremonies, 121–122
- Wada Nobusada, 333–335
- “Waga koromo,” 279
- Wakan Shoseki mokuroku*. See List of Japanese and Chinese books in print
- waka* poetry
See also Kamo no Mabuchi; linked
 poetry
 and Japanese language, 79–83
 roles in court, 83–84
uta awase (waka poetry meeting), 84, 178
uta makura (poetry place name), 353
- Walthall, Anne, 219
- war, Ōnin, 112–113
- warlords, 113. See also daimyo lords;
 samurai
- warrior society. See feudal warrior society
- watakushi*. See private domain
- watakushi*. See private
- Watanabe Kazan
 and artists as public persons, 198–203
 self-assessment by, 367
- weak ties, 12, 29, 61, 366–367
- White, Harrison
 analytical model for identity formation, 51 “Goffman public,” 48
 on network switching, 392
- Woman Reading a Letter*, 441
- women
See also women poets
 increased domestication of, 278
 in Kabuki theater, 263–266 participation in arts, 153–158
Shijō kawara yūrakuzu, 249
 Shikitei Sanba’s novel Ukiyoburo,
 156–157
 Ujje Mikito’s study of, 155–156
Yunazu, 248
- women poets, 187–191
Ayanishiki anthology, 188
 Bessho Makiko’s survey of, 187–188
 Enomoto Seifu, 189
 Haru, 191
 Igarashi Hamamo, 171–172, 189–190
 Keijo, 188
 Nagamatsu Shokyūni, 189, 190
 Ōta Shirayuki’s *Haikai Mikawa
 Komoachi*, 188
 Shiba Sonome, 188
Tamamoshū anthology, 188
 Tanigawa Denjo, 188–189
- women’s participation in arts, 153–158
See also women poets
 flower arrangement as gentlemen’s
 hobby, 154
 Mikito Ujje’s study of, 155–156
Shijō kawara yūrakuzu, 249
 Shikitei Sanba’s novel Ukiyoburo, 156–157
- woodblock printing
See also commercial publication;
 publishing houses
 development and revival of, 291–294
 Gozan editions of Chinese classics, 291–292
 influence on commercial publication, 295–297
- work dress, men’s functional, 276–278
- world, floating. See floating world
- Yamaguchi Masao, 378
- Yamato Setsuyō-shū shikkai nō*
 historical articles in, 356
 on table manners, 339
- Yanagidaru*, 305
- Yaoya Oshichi Great Fire*, 307–308
- Yasuda Jirō, 116
- yasurai hana* dances (Dancing for the Cherry Blossoms), 88, 89 account of in Ryūjinbishō kudenshū, 88
- Yoakemae*, 213
- Yoda Nagayasu, 326
- Yoda Sōzo, 151–152
- Yokota Fuyuhiko, 301, 314–315

460 Index

- Yokoyama, Toshio, 21, 327–328
 Yosano Buson, 283
 yose theaters, 316
 Yoshiwara district. See courtesans; Kabuki theater Yuasa Yasushi, 225
yūgei (arts for pleasure), 142
Yumazu, 248
- za* arts, diffusion of cultivation of regional warlords by professional poets, 113 effects of Ōnin war on, 112–113
 Imagawa's patronage of Sōchō, 113
 Uesugi's patronage of Sōgi, 113
- za* arts and literature, 100, 102–109
See also body; Cherry Blossom linked verse; communal arts and literature; diffusion of za arts; late medieval Japan; linked poetry; marginal groups; organizational transformation and za arts; politics of tea ceremony; tea ceremonies; topographical shift of publics; yasurai hana dances
 and civility, 76–79
 departure of Tokugawa enclave publics from, 137 effect on development of Japanese culture, 99 Ichiza konryū in expression of Zeami, 79–83 importance of Rikyū's death, 123–126 influences on, 98–99
 isolation and socialization within, 99–101 marginal groups' influence on, 94–98, 107–110
 open, playful atmosphere of, 94–98 refinement of in kaisho culture, 110–112 religious origins of, 88, 92–93 rise of organizations for, 80–81 Sōgi's views on socialization in, 78
za organizations' influence on, 80 and Zeami, 79
- za* organizations, 117–120
See also national unification in Japan in comparative perspective, 118 connections with za arts and literature, 80 decline of, 117–120
 and hierarchical vassalage system, 118–119 rise of, 80–81
 variety of, 80
- Zeami
 aesthetic theory of, 224–225 favoritism towards by Ashikaga Yoshimitsu, 98 graceful style of Nō drama, 110–111
 significance of za, 79
- Zenna*, 90
 Zen temples. See kugai; mu'en