Index

Acción Cívica Nacionalista (ACN), see Nationalist Civic Action alcohol, see temperance reform
Alemán, Miguel, 299
Almazán, Juan Andreu, 130, 287; 1940 elections, 230, 286
American Smelting and Refining Company (ASARCO), 6, 134; and Mexican state, 148–9, 150, 159; see also ASARCO; foreign capital anarchism and anarchists, 28, 44, 121, 135; see also Casa del Obrero Mundial anticlericalism, 86, 284 anticommunism, 96–7, 204, 209–10, 217, 222, 231, 247–8; and government policy, 185–6 ASARCO, Monterrey smelter, 14–15, 110; and Local 66 (SITMMRM), 184, 250, 280; and paternalism, 57, 147–8; strikes at, 41, 47–8, 145, 159, 276; working conditions at, 151–2
ASARCO Production Workers Union, 150, 157, 181
Avila Camacho, Manuel, 286–7
Calles, Plutarco Elías, 175; labor policy of, 60, 113, 123; in Monterrey, 86, 130; opposition to, 124, 176–8
Camisas Dorados, see Gold Shirts
Campa, Valentín, 112, 118–19, 146, 160, 164
Casa del Obrero Mundial, 36, 263
Cementos Mexicanos (CEMEX), 140–1, 189 Cervecería Cuauhtémoc, see Cuauhtémoc Brewery charrismo, 299–300, 301, 307–8 Church: Catholic, see religion class, 39, 121–2, 142–4, 185–6 Communists, 137, 166, 204, 218, 226–7; and union leadership, 224–6, 232, 276, 292, 300; see also anticommunism; Campa, Valentín; Elizondo, Juan Manuel; Partido Comunista Mexicana company housing, 70, 89, 151, 267 company paternalism, see paternalism
Index

company schools, 25–6, 89, 100 company unions, 98, 149, 173, 293–4; founding of, 138–41, 195; government opposition to, 167, 174, 298; workers’ response to, 179–80, 182–3, 239; see also Cuahtémoc Workers Union; Independent Unions of Nuevo León; Steel Unions Confederación General de Trabajadores (CGT), 213, 243
Confederación Patronal de la República Mexicana (COPARMEX), 138, 294–5
Confederación Regional Obrera Mexicana (CROM), 46, 48, 52, 123–6, 145, 243
Confederación Sindical Unitaria de Mexico (CSUM), 146, 150, 160, 165
Confederación de Trabajadores de Mexico (CTM), 167, 178, 213, 217, 223, 243, 295–6, 301; opposition to, 256, 285; see also Lombardo Toledano, Vicente; Nuevo León Workers Federation; Velásquez, Fidel
Constitution: of 1917, see labor law cooperatives, 59–61, 70, 95–6, 133; see also Cuahtémoc Society
Cristalería, see Vidriera Monterrey
Cuahtémoc Society, 58–9, 61, 64–73, 121–2, 262
Cuahtémoc Workers Union, 139, 255–6, 261, 262–3 Cueva, Tomáš, 224, 229–30 economic conditions: Monterrey, 40, 48–9, 109–10, 153–6, 168, 241–2, 278, 288–90 education, 112–13, 175; vocational, 25–6; see also company schools; Obregón Industrial School electric power workers, 224, 245, 296
Elizondo, Juan Manuel, 226–7, 271, 292–3, 300–1
Federación de Sindicatos Independientes de Nuevo León (FSINL), see Independent Unions of Nuevo León
Federación de Trabajadores de Nuevo León (FTNL), see Nuevo León Workers Federation Federal Labor Law: 1931, 136–8, 149, 152, 172, 234 foreign capital, 15, 312 foreign workers, 22–5, 42, 56, 89, 148
Fundidora steel mill, 6, 17–18, 34, 115, 251; closure of, 310; labor relations at, 83–7, 97–100, 102–5, 186–8, 309–11; and Mexican state, 188–9; and paternalism, 50, 85, 88–96, 105–6, 270, 280–1, 306–7; strikes at, 42–5, 47–8, 50–3, 277–80, 291–2; working conditions at, 43, 101–4, 183; see also Local 67 (STIMMRM), Steel Unions
Garza Sada, Eugenio, 294, 309
Garza Sada family, 6, 16, 35, 62, 114, 208, 253, 274, 288, 303; see also Sada, Luis G.
gender, 219, 306; and paternalism, 75–8, 79, 258, 305; and unionism, 141–4, 256–7, 264;
Index

see also masculinity; women: in labor force
Gold Shirts, 213, 221–2, 227, 229, 274
González, Porfirio, 129–30
Gramsci, Antonio, 5, 119
Guerrero, Anacleto, 228, 230–1, 234, 242, 244, 245, 247, 248, 276
Gutiérrez, Juan, 247–9
Guzmán, Augustín, 179, 185, 186, 243
Hojalata y Lámina (HYLSA), 293 housing, 29, 110–11, 170; see also company housing identity formation, 5–6, 8–9, 26–7, 271–3; see also class; masculinity; regionalism immigration: to United States, 32, 34, 44, 47–8, 311; repatriation, 154–5 Independent Unions of Nuevo León, 139, 160, 171, 174–5, 186–7, 211–12, 218, 221, 246 industrialists, Monterrey, 4–5, 15–17, 43, 49, 114, 155, 158, 244, 273, 293, 302–3; distinctions between, 62, 88; and Mexican state, 18, 188–9, 190–1; national influence, 1726, 108, 129–30, 137–8, 284; political activism, 202, 205–6, 245, 249; see also Garza, Luis G; Garza Sada, Eugenio; Garza Sada family; press; Rocha, Joel industrialization, 13–18, 287–8 Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey (ITESM), 294 labor activists, 6, 40, 45, 97, 108–9, 116–20, 126–7, 135, 143–4, 151–3, 211, 225; see also Communists; railroad workers labor arbitration boards, 38, 41–2, 49, 104, 133, 158, 183, 238; delegates elected to, 42, 134–5, 174–5, 186–7; statistics, 133, 147, 170–1, 172, 241–43 labor aristocracy, 118–19 labor inspectors: federal, 39–40, 150, 152 labor law, 43, 108–9, 127–30, 164, 175–6; in Article 123 of 1917 Constitution, 37–41, 39, 128, 272; Communist opposition to, 137, 158, 159–60; and employer resistance, 40–1, 49, 66, 104, 129–30, 131–4, 137–8, 234, 259–60; see also Federal Labor Law; labor arbitration boards labor market, 21–2, 48; see also migration; Obregón Industrial School Local 67 (STIMMRM), 190, 222, 224, 226–7, 251; collective contracts, 187, 266–7; founding of, 178–9, 184–7; and political activism, 246, 248–9, 250; union leadership, 268–70, 271–3, 201–3, 307–10; see also Elizondo, Juan Manuel Lombardo Tóleido, Vicente, 125, 210, 211, 244, 247, 299; opposition to, 213, 228, 233, 248
Madero, Francisco, 32, 36; in Monterrey, 30, 33
Martínez Pérez, Tohiló, 174–5, 186, 205, 230 masculinity, 71, 92, 103, 185–6, 211; and unionism, 256–7, 269–70

© Cambridge University Press Masonic lodges, 119, 158, 204 metal workers, 46–7; see also ASARCO, Monterrey smelter;
Fundidora steel mill;
Miner-Metalworkers Union
migration: to Monterrey, 19–21, 63, 90, 110, 149, 154, 192, 288–9
Miner-Metalworkers Union, 184, 266, 278, 291–3, 300, 310; see also ASARCO: Local 66;
Elizondo, Juan Manuel;
Guzmán, Augustín; Local 67 mining industry, 14, 61018, 125–6, 150, 154
Monterrey Glassworks, see Vidriera
Monterrey
Monterrey Group, see Garza Sada family; industrialists Morales Sánchez, Gregorio, 178, 214 mutual-aid societies, 27–8, 29; see also cooperatives nationalism, see patriotism Nationalist Civic Action, 219–21, 222, 227, 229–32, 274, 284
Nuevo León Workers Federation, 178, 224, 229, 242, 245
Obregón, Alvaro, 49, 128; labor policy of, 46, 51, 83
Obregón Industrial School, 87, 113, 216, 260, 262 organized labor, 36–9, 120–3, 126–7, 223; and factionalism,
232–3, 242, 246, 247; and political activism, 127–30, 176–7, 234, 245–50, 287, 295; see also specific unions and federations; charroismo; Communists; labor activists;
railroad workers
Partido Acción Nacional (PAN),
219, 286, 287, 312
Partido Comunista Mexicana (PCM), 156; and labor movement, 145–6, 159–60, 165, 172; Monterrey
membership, 225; and political activism, 178, 203, 223, 228, 230–1, 250; see also
Communists; Confederación Sindical Unitaria de Mexico
Partido Nacional Revolucionario
(PNR), 137, 170, 173–4, 176
Partido Popular, 299, 301
Partido de la Revolución Mexicana (PRMI, 243, 245–6
Partido Revolucionario
Institucional (PRI), 301, 311, 312 paternalism, 4, 54–5, 67, 82–3, 107–9, 112, 115–16, 164–5, 251, 283, 298; government support of, 113–14; origins, 55–61; workers’ response to, 61,
71–3, 79–81, 95–6, 100, 105, 194, 305, 307, 312; see also specific companies; company housing; company schools patronism, 155, 210–11, 220; and industrialists, 11, 50, 58, 158; and working class, 11, 68, 82, 86, 93, 102–3, 275, 277, 279 pollution, 109–10 press, 114–16, 205, 209–10; industrialists’ control of, 50–1, 108; protests against, 227–8; see also radio
Prieto, Adolfo, 52, 88, 93, 95, 280–1 radio, 169–70
railroad industry, 13–14, 154, 247n64, 291
railroad workers, 86–7, 117–18, 120, 193; influence on labor movement, 36, 45, 123–6; unions of, 24, 28–9, 49, 51, 61, 122, 172, 224, 274, 299–300; see also Campa, Valentín; Cueva, Tomás; Gutiérrez, Juan regionalism, 8–12, 112, 114–16, 131, 155, 176, 209, 302–5, 313; and Monterrey working class, 26–7, 43, 52; and organized labor, 116–19, 139, 185–6; see also identity formation religion, 131, 212; and paternalism, 56, 57; see also anticlericalism Reyes, Bernardo, 13, 17, 24, 25, 26, 27
Rocha, Joel, 157
Sada, Luis G., 42, 57, 58, 60, 62, 64, 138, 158, 211, 265, 294
Sada, Roberto, 195
Sáenz, Aarón, 111–12, 129, 130–1, 177
Sindicato Industrial de Trabajadores Ferrocarrileros de la República Mexicana, see railroad workers
Sindicato Industrial de Trabajadores Mineros-Metalúrgicos de la República Mexicana, see Miners-Metalworkers Union
Sindicato Unico de Trabajadores de la Industria de Vidrio, see United Glass Workers Union
Sociedad Cuauhtémoc y Famosa (SCYF), see Cuauhtémoc Society Steel Unions (Federación de Sindicatos de Acero), 135, 139, 179–84, 187 students: university, 175, 225; see also Elizondo, Juan Manuel; Universidad de Nuevo León teachers union, 226 temperance reform, 68, 95 unemployment, 155–6, 242 unions, see specific unions; company unions; labor activists; organized labor United Glass Workers Union, 197, 207, 218, 235–40, 295
Universidad de Nuevo León, 175, 308–9
Velázquez, Fidel, 247, 299
Vidriera Monterrey, 6, 16, 23; interunion conflicts at, 190, 193–7, 240; labor relations at, 192–3, 235–40; and paternalism, 193–5; strikes at, 206–8, 296–7, 309; working conditions at, 191–3, 197–9; see also United Glass Workers Union welfare capitalism, see paternalism women: in labor force, 63–4, 72, 75–8, 208, 264, 305; see also gender