

Cambridge University Press

0521817080 - Post-Imperial Brecht: Politics and Performance, East and South

Loren Kruger

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

List of illustrations vi

Acknowledgments ix

List of abbreviations xii

Introduction 1

- 1 The political history of theatre and theory: Brecht and his contemporaries 19
- 2 Realism, socialism, and modernism in the production play 56
- 3 Broadcasting (a)socialism: Brecht, Müller, and Radio Fatzler 133
- 4 Specters and speculation: Brechtian futures on the glocal market 171
- 5 The dis-illusion of apartheid: Brecht and South Africa 215
- 6 “Realistic Engagement” and the limits of solidarity: Athol Fugard in (East) Germany 281
- 7 Truth, reconciliation, and the ends of political performance 337

Coda 376

Index 378