Contents

List of figures page ix
List of tables x
List of contributors xi
Preface xiii

1 Introduction: bringing domestic institutions back in
Linda Weiss 1

Part I: The resilience of welfare states

2 Disappearing taxes or the ‘race to the middle’? Fiscal policy in the OECD
John M. Hobson 37

3 Withering welfare? Globalisation, political economic institutions, and contemporary welfare states
Duane Swank 58

4 Globalisation and social security expansion in
East Asia
M. Ramesh 83

Part II: New economic challenges, changing state capacities

5 France: a new ‘capitalism of voice’?
Michael Loriaux 101

6 The challenges of economic upgrading in liberalising Thailand
Richard F. Doner and Ansil Ramsay 121
Contents

7 Building institutional capacity for China’s new economic opening 142
   Tianbiao Zhu

8 New regimes, new capacities: the politics of telecommunications nationalisation and liberalisation 161
   David Levi-Faur

9 Ideas, institutions, and interests in the shaping of telecommunications reform: Japan and the US 180
   Mark Tilton

10 Diverse paths towards ‘the right institutions’: law, the state, and economic reform in East Asia 200
    Meredith Woo-Cumings

Part III: Governing globalisation

11 Managing openness in India: the social construction of a globalist narrative 225
   Jalal Alamgir

12 Guiding globalisation in East Asia: new roles for old developmental states 245
   Linda Weiss

13 Governing global finance: financial derivatives, liberal states, and transformative capacity 271
   William D. Coleman

14 Is the state being ‘transformed’ by globalisation? 293
   Linda Weiss

List of references 318
Index 346