

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

Index

- absolutist thoughts, 200–201, 206
- administrative and bureaucratic measures
  - administrative capacity facilitated conquests, 97, 98–99, 219
- administrative layers of prefectures, counties, townships, and villages, 83, 98
- in Brandenburg-Prussia, 144, 148, 192
- centralized bureaucracy and state capacity, 43–44
- centralized bureaucracy and state capacity in ancient China, 1, 6–7, 97, 179
- in Chu, 179
- in the Dutch provinces/Republic, 143, 144
- invitation of talents, 60, 65, 104
- in Han (Warring States period), 85
- in the Han Dynasty, 221
- in Jin, 58
- in Louis XIV's France, 122
- meritocracy, 6, 31, 32, 34, 36, 44, 63, 81, 101, 103–104, 124, 127, 129, 183; see also agency
- in Qi, 63
- in Qin, 83–84, 102
- in Revolutionary and Napoleonic France, 127, 135
- transition from traditional to rational-legal authority, 39, 183–184
- Weberian ideal-type bureaucracy, 183
- in Wei, 98
- see also* direct rule; household registration; law; state
- agency
  - art of the impossible, 22–23
  - choice under constraints, 20
  - human creativity, 32
  - institutions as humanly devised constraints, 20
  - interaction with structure, 2, 11, 19–23
  - leadership competence, 101–102, 103
  - learning, 103, 104–105, 106, 144
  - Machiavelli on opportunities and constraints, 22
  - in macrohistorical processes, 227
  - opportunities and constraints, 21–22, 91, 113
  - in overcoming countervailing mechanisms and strategies, 11, 23, 29, 101, 109; see also rising costs; self-strengthening reforms; stratagem; strategy
  - Qin's superiority in statecraft, 97
- alliance
  - alliance pattern and self-strengthening reforms, 32
  - coalitional warfare and system maintenance, 139
  - and domestic resource mobilization, 214
  - Machiavelli on the unreliability of allied troops, 32, 37, 135
  - offensive, 136, 233
  - see also* balance of power; bandwagoning; divide and conquer; hezong; lianheng

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

286

Index

- appeasement, 27
  - by Han and Wei, 87
  - rationality of, 87
- asymmetrical warfare, 235–236
- balance of power, 1, 52
  - as balance of relative weaknesses in early modern Europe, 110, 118
  - as balance of relative wealth in early modern Europe, 111, 125–126
  - as balance of threat, 24
  - balancer, 65, 137, 232
  - balances as competition between co-hegemony, 138
  - balances as outcomes or equilibria, 26, 54
  - balances as stalemate in civil wars, 205
  - balances in ancient China, 58
  - balancing as a foreign policy or strategy, 26, 54, 79
  - balancing as resistance to domination, 137
  - balancing in ancient China, 55, 67; see also hezong; lianheng
  - buckpassing instead of balancing, 27
  - definition of, 24, 74, 138
  - distancing instead of balancing, 27
  - external balancing, 12
  - failure at balancing in ancient China, 8, 55, 74–79
  - internal balancing, 12, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 49, 60, 110; see also self-strengthening reforms; self-weakening expedients
  - self-interest and weak balance of power, 27, 55, 75, 79
  - weakness of balancing in early modern Europe, 136–139
  - see also* alliance; bandwagoning; divide and conquer; logic of balancing; rationality
- bandwagoning, 12, 27, 68, 76, 77, 130
  - Napoleon's attacks on bandwagons, 134
  - see also* divide and conquer; lianheng
- bankruptcy, 191
  - in France, 123, 126, 141
  - in the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 115, 117
  - see also* fiscal crisis
- battle deaths
  - in ancient China, 152–153, 253
  - in early modern Europe, 151–152
  - quality of data on, 90, 151, 254, 256
- the threshold of 1,000 for lists of war, 250, 251
- in wars of unification, 153
- see also* stratagem
- citizenship, see medieval constitutionalism; state-society bargains
- collective action problem, see rationality
- collective responsibility, see divide and rule
- colonies
  - decolonization, 234
  - as outlets for stratagems and territorial expansion, 142, 232
  - reflecting the relative openness of the early modern system, 51
- Confucianism
  - as façade of legitimacy in the Han Dynasty and subsequent dynasties, 220–221
  - on foreign policy, 156
  - on human dignity, 184
  - ideal of the Mean (zhongyong), 50
  - influence on Chinese politics, 18
  - as moral restraint on the exercise of power, 196, 220; see also medieval constitutionalism
  - at the village level, 220
  - see also* culture; freedom of expression; norms; rationality
- conquest
  - Chu's, of Lu, 71, 75, 255
  - Chu's, of Yue, 71, 75
  - Chu's consolidation of conquests in the early Spring and Autumn period, 56, 97
  - ease of in ancient China, 52, 96; see also offense-defense balance
  - Han's, of Zheng, 75, 255
  - Qin's, and consolidation of sovereign territorial states, 97–99; see also wars of unification
  - Qin's, of Ba and Shu, 85, 92, 98
  - Qi's, of Song, 64, 75, 85, 88, 155, 255
  - partition of Poland, 131, 155
  - profitability of, 29, 31, 97, 98, 131
  - Prussia's, of Silesia, 145, 155
  - systemic conquests in early modern Europe, 155
  - Wei's, of Wey, 75
  - Yue's, of Wu, 60, 104, 154
  - Zhao's, of Zhongshan, 75, 77

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

Index

287

- see also* administrative and bureaucratic measures; opportunistic expansion; piecemeal expansion
- consent
- contingent, 188
  - habitual, 45
  - see also* rationality: material incentives of rewards and punishments
- culture
- cultural compatibility and the promotion of Weberian state capacity and legitimacy in the Third World, 237
  - cultural homogeneity as result of homogenization policies, 165–166
  - cultural relativism, 18, 156
  - degree of cultural homogeneity and domination, 163, 164–165
  - degree of cultural homogeneity in ancient China, 52, 163, 165
  - degree of cultural homogeneity in early modern Europe, 52, 159, 164
- dating of system formation, 4–5; see also interaction capacity
- onset of the ancient Chinese system, 4, 5, 57
  - onset of the early modern European system, 5, 112
- democratic peace, 234–235, 236; see also norms
- direct rule, 7, 31, 43, 45
- in ancient China, 48, 54, 83, 98, 179, 180–181, 227
  - erosion of in the Han Dynasty and subsequent dynasties, 221
  - facilitated state domination, 178
  - in modern Europe, 179
  - in Revolutionary France, 127, 193
  - Shang jun shu* on, 180
- divide and conquer
- in ancient China, 67, 71, 79; see also lianheng
  - definition of, 27–28
  - by Louis XIV, 121
  - by Napoleonic France, 130–131
  - by Valois France, 114
- divide and rule
- in Castile, 199
  - collective responsibility and mutual surveillance in Qin, 186, 227
  - in England, 201
- Shang jun shu* on weakening the people, 185–186
- in state formation, 46–47
- economic measures
- attraction of immigrants, 82
  - in Brandenburg-Prussia, 145
  - in England, see public credit
  - ever-normal granary, 61, 171
  - land grants, 58, 60, 81, 171, 179, 209
  - land reform in Brandenburg-Prussia, 145
  - mercantilist measures, 122, 145
  - in Qi, 63
  - in Qin, 81–83, 187
  - in Revolutionary France, 127, 194
  - in Russia, 147
  - in Wei, 60–61
  - in Wu, 59
  - see also* monetization; public credit; revenues; trade
- emulation
- disjuncture between motivation and capability for, 86
  - Qin's efforts to minimize emulation by other states, 84–87
- feedback effect
- interaction of positive and negative feedbacks, 13, 25–26
  - negative, 13, 27, 29
  - positive, 13, 27, 29
  - see also* mechanism
- feudalism, 1
- corporate immunity, 183
  - definition of, 196
  - feudal bargain of land for military service, 171–172
  - Zhou, 3–4, 56, 157, 196–197
  - see also* medieval constitutionalism
- fiscal crisis
- in Bourbon France, 122
  - and military weakness, 119, 124
  - in Napoleonic France, 131–132
  - in the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 114, 117
  - in Valois France, 113
  - a vicious cycle, 119, 229
  - see also* bankruptcy
- fiscal expedients, 33, 36, 191
- in England, 124
  - in Louis XIV's France, 122–123

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

288

Index

- fiscal expedients (cont.)
 in the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 114–116
 in Valois France, 112–113, 140
 freedom of expression, 168, 173–177
 Chinese classics on reciprocal state-society relations, 174 duty to criticize rulers, 175, 176, 220
 erosion of in Brandenburg-Prussia, 193
 erosion of in Qin, 178, 182–183
 Hundred Schools of Thought, 168, 174
Jixia boshi (scholars beneath the Ji gate) in Qi, 173
fuguo, see economic measures
fuguo qiangbing, 29
see also self-strengthening reforms
- geography
 of the ancient Chinese system, 160 barriers of, 55, 90–91
 of Chu, 56, 92–93
 and costs, 94
 of the early modern European system, 160, 161, 214
 of France, 160
 of Han, 92
hezong and lianheng as geographical concepts, 68, 94
 not a hard constraint, 91–93, 160; see also agency peripheral location, 93–94
 problem of distance, 160
 of Qin, 91
Sunzi bingfa on, 90, 93
 of Wei, 92
Wuzi on, 92
 of Zhao, 93
guoren, see self-strengthening reforms
- hegemony
 hegemonic rise and decline, 25, 52, 236
 hegemonic stability, 234
 Qi-Qin co-hegemony, 64, 66, 72, 85, 110
 Qi's, 63, 66, 68, 72
 Qin's, 72, 85
 Wei's, 62, 68, 70
hezong (balancing) alliance, 68, 226–227
 comment by Han Fei, 74, 77–78, 79
 comment by Xunzi, 74
 controversy over hezong and lianheng alliances, 67, 78
 definition of, 67
 effectiveness of, 68, 76, 87; see also rationality
- Han-Wei alliance in 294–286 BC, 69
 Han-Wei alliance in 276–274 BC, 69
 involvement by Chu, 254
 involvement by Han, 254
 involvement by Wei, 254
 prospect of in the wars of unification, 100 against Qi's hegemony, 64, 66, 72, 85, 88
 Qin's manipulation of, 70, 72
 security alliance, 74–75
 unified command in, 68, 69, 89
 of 318 BC, 68–69, 76
 of 298–296 BC, 69
 of 287 BC, 68
 of 259–257 BC, 69, 134
 of 247 BC, 69, 100, 134, 254
 of 241 BC, 69, 254
 Hobbesian metaphor, 37–38, 156; see also logic of domination household registration, 43
 internal passports to control freedom of movement, 181
 in Qin, 48, 65, 84
 in Wei, 62
- institutional stasis and innovations, 2, 21–22
 persistence of inefficient institutions, 33
 persistence of self-weakening expedients, 120
see also self-strengthening reforms;
 self-weakening expedients
- interaction capacity, 5
- iron
 implements in agricultural tools, 61
 weapons, 95
- juridical equality, 194
 justice, 48, 168, 170, 172, 173, 182, 187, 188, 220, 227; see also law; legal protection
- late development
 advantage of backwardness, 80
 Brandenburg-Prussia as late developer, 144
 Qin as late developer, 80
 and strong state, 144
- law
fa as model institutions in Confucianism, 182
fa as penal codes in Legalism, 182
 legal positivism facilitated domination, 181–182

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

Index

289

- Qin Law*, 103, 180–181, 184
 rule by law, 181, 183
 rule of law, 181
Wei's Canon of Law, 81, 172
see also justice; legal protection legal protection, 172–173; see also justice;
   law
 Legalism
   and absolutism, 200
   in imperial China, 220
   and state power, 18, 181–182
lianheng strategy
   definition of, 67, 76
   Han Fei on, 78, 79
 logic of balancing
   definition of, 11, 225
   in international politics, 24–26, 54, 226; see also balance of power;
     rising costs
   in state formation, 41–42, 226; see also resistance; rising costs; state-society bargains
 logic of domination
   definition of, 11, 33–34, 225
   and Hobbesian metaphor, 38
   in international politics, 26–34, 54, 159;
     see also divide and conquer;
     self-strengthening reforms; stratagem;
     strategy
   in the modern world, 235
   in state formation, 42–47; see also divide and rule; self-strengthening reforms
   weakness of in early modern Europe, 166–167
 Mandate of Heaven, 176–177, 220
minben (people as roots), 176
   as popular sovereignty, 176, 197
   Son of Heaven, 176, 220
   tyrannicide, 176, 177
 material bargains
   in ancient China, 168, 171
   in Brandenburg-Prussia, 193
   in the Han Dynasty, 219
   in the Leviathan, 171
   as substitutes for political bargains, 45–46, 48, 187, 189, 227
 mechanism
   of balance of power or resistance, see balance of power; resistance coercive, 2, 224; see also logic of domination
   competing or opposite, 2; see also
     strategic interaction
   countervailing or checking, 2, 11, 55, 224; see also logic of balancing definition of causal mechanism, 8 of rising costs of administration or expansion, see rising costs and universal laws, 8, 9
 medieval constitutionalism, 196
   comparison of estate-based assemblies
     and geographically based assemblies, 201 convention of entire guoren as hui in feudal Zhou, 202
   estatization of capital holders, 170
   feudal customs as checks on the exercise of power, 181, 198, 200
   feudal customs in Zhou, 196
   medieval assemblies in Brandenburg-Prussia, 198–199
   medieval assemblies in Castile, 199 medieval assemblies in the Dutch provinces, 143
   medieval assemblies in England, 201
   medieval assemblies in Europe, 41, 198, 201
   medieval assemblies in France, 199–200 origins in fiscal crises, 202; see also fiscal crisis
   three social orders in medieval Europe, 202–203
   worthiness of medieval assemblies, 202
   see also feudalism; state-society bargains method, 7–10
   alternative explanations, 52–53, 111, 159
   ceteris paribus assumption, 7, 8, 50 common foundations, 7, 8
   comparability of ancient China and early modern Europe, 5, 7, 111
   computer simulation, 10, 37, 51, 149
   counterfactual China, 10
   counterfactual Europe, 10
   critical junctures, 21, 22
   deviant case, 8–9, 183
   historical contingency, 2, 32, 35, 51, 230–231
   historical institutionalism, 8, 20, 51
   initial and environmental conditions, 2, 8, 51, 52, 111, 139–142, 169
   methodological individualism, 15, 19
   path dependence, 8, 21, 51
   punctuated equilibrium, 21, 22, 60, 179, 180 retrospective and prospective perspectives, 9, 196

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

290

Index

- method (cont.)
- symmetric (both Eurocentric and Sino-centric) perspectives, 9–10, 11, 52, 107
  - timing, 8, 51, 85, 140, 141
  - uncommon foundations, 2, 8
- military conscription
- cantonal system in Russia, 147
  - cantonal system in Sweden, 147, 194
  - Compagnies d'Ordonnance* in Valois France, 112, 140, 200
  - in Hungary, 146
  - Kantonsystem* in Brandenburg-Prussia, 145, 146, 192
  - levée en masse* in Revolutionary and Napoleonic France, 128, 130, 133, 143, 161, 194
  - and lower relative costs of war, 150–151
  - Machiavelli on, 128, 140
  - as a qiangbing-oriented or military-based self-strengthening model, 143
  - Roman model, 147
  - tercio* in the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 113–114, 115, 117, 118
  - universal conscription, state-society bargains, and direct rule, 178, 194, 195
  - universal conscription and its abolition in the Han Dynasty, 221
  - universal conscription in Warring States China, 35, 83
- military entrepreneurs and mercenary troops, 32, 36, 128, 129, 162
- in Brandenburg-Prussia, 146
  - and costs of war, 36, 112, 118, 141
  - in France, 112, 122, 140
  - Machiavelli on, 36, 37, 128, 140–141, 162
  - as the most self-weakening expedient, 146, 229
  - mutiny, 117, 119, 123
  - as the root cause for state deformation, 190–191
  - and state-society bargains in early modern Europe, 192
  - in Sweden, 147
  - in the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 114, 115, 117
- military measures
- in England, 126
  - generalship of Frederick the Great, generalship of Napoleon, 129–130, 162
  - in Jin, 58
  - in Louis XIV's France, 121
  - military capability not a function of army size, 89–90
  - in Qin, 80–81
  - in Russia, 147
  - in Wu, 58
  - in Zhao, 73, 86
  - see also* asymmetrical warfare; military conscription; military entrepreneurs; strategy; stratagems
- military technologies
- in ancient China, 95–96; see also iron
  - in early modern Europe, 161
  - military organization more important than weapons, 161, 162
  - military revolution, 161
- monetization, 141
- and commercialization of public functions, 141
  - credit instruments, 141, 143, 209
  - level of, 51
  - scutage* (money payment in lieu of knight service), 141
- motivation
- fear and harsh punishments, 182
  - heterogeneous human motivations, 11, 13–19
  - passions and emotions, 13
  - see also* norms; rationality
- mutual constitution
- of international competition, state formation, and self-strengthening reforms, 2, 23, 30–32, 42, 48, 169, 195
  - of self-weakening expedients and state deformation, 49, 169
  - of states and system, 19, 20–21, 23
- nationalism, 128, 175
- norms, 13, 17–18
- in the conduct of war and diplomacy, 17, 18, 26, 111
  - Confucian-Mencian, 157
  - democratic, 18, 234, 235
  - international commerce provided material incentives for moral commitment, 233
  - just war, 157
  - as organized hypocrisy, 159
  - in social structure, 17, 46
  - in society of states, 158
  - territorial sovereignty norm, 154, 237

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

Index

291

- violation of in ancient China, 157–158
- violation of in early modern Europe, 158–159
- Zhou rites, 157
- see also* motivation; rationality
- offense-defense balance, 52, 111, 159–160
  - as cost ratio
  - as ease of conquest, 159
  - and ease of conquest in ancient China, 90–97
  - see also* conquest; geography; military technologies; rising costs
- “one country, two systems” in early Han, 219
- opportunistic expansion, 24, 28, 32, 35, 38
  - in ancient China, 79, 86, 252
  - British restraint in, 232
  - definition of, 14, 32
  - in early modern Europe, 111, 113, 131, 139
  - by Qin, 65
  - by the United States, 234
  - see also* piecemeal expansion
- peaceful transformation in the modern era, 232–235
- perceptual shock, 77
- piecemeal expansion, 28, 76, 94, 160
  - and consolidation of conquests, 99
  - and costs, 94
  - Fan Sui on, 100
  - and weaker balance of power, 76–77, 94
  - see also* opportunistic expansion
- public credit, 37, 50, 143, 146
  - definition of, 124–125
  - as a fuguo-oriented or fiscally-based self-strengthening model, 143, 193
  - and parliamentary oversight, 193, 230
  - see also* fiscal crisis; medieval constitutionalism; monetization; self-strengthening reforms; self-weakening expedients; trade
- qiangbing*, see military measures
- rationality
  - as benign self-interest, 17
  - as calculation of costs and benefits, 13, 18, 19, 20, 75, 105
  - and cheating, 14–15
  - and the collective action problem, 15–18, 23, 33, 46, 77, 138, 224, 226
  - in Confucianism, 18
  - convergence and divergence of individual interests and national interests, 15, 105, 107, 119, 120, 189; see also state: as unitary actor
  - convergence and divergence of long-term and short-term, 105
  - convergence and divergence of rulers’ personal interests and national interests, 15, 106, 175, 221
  - convergence of national interests and the common interest in the modern world, 233, 234, 237
  - and effectiveness of balance of power, see balance of power
  - and effectiveness of stratagems, see stratagem
  - as enlightened self-interest, 231
  - in Han feizi, 19, 82, 105
  - material incentives of rewards and punishments, 48, 80–81, 82, 107, 182, 187, 227
  - as narrow self-interest, 13, 17, 26, 38, 231
  - and the Prisoners’ Dilemma, 16–17, 18
  - and rent-seeking activities, 119–120
  - in Shang jun shu, 19, 80, 107
  - in Sunzi bingfa, 19, 80
  - see also* balance of power; divide and conquer; divide and rule; opportunistic expansion
- rebellions
  - Catalonian revolt, 118
  - in the Chunqiu and Zuo zhuan, 185
  - Dutch revolt, 116, 118, 144
  - in the Han Dynasty and subsequent dynasties, 219, 221, 222
  - Portuguese revolt, 118, 121
  - in the Qin Dynasty, 216, 217–218
  - Spanish rebellion, 132–133, 134
  - tax rebellions in early modern Europe, 122, 188
  - see also* revolution
- regime defection, 43, 218
- religion, 53
  - the Church and administrative model, 204
  - the Church and state-society bargains, 204
  - and resistance in early modern Europe, 203–204
  - and the trading class, 204, 210
  - see also* resistance

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

292

Index

- resistance, 40–41, 44, 170, 184–185
 communal land use and likelihood of, 47, 185 guerrilla, 132, 135, 204
 Huguenot doctrine of, 197, 200, 204
 rightful, 188
 social basis for, 46–47, 48, 185, 186, 222
see also logic of balancing; norms; rationality; rebellions; religion; state-society bargains
- revenues
 in Brandenburg-Prussia, 145
 commercial taxes in ancient China, 210–211
 commercial taxes in Europe, 141, 147, 211 contributions from the Dutch and Italian possessions to the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 114, 141
 in England, 124, 126, 131
 extractive capacity of early modern European states, 119, 140, 141, 145, 210
 income tax in England, 131
 influx of silver, 51, 113, 114, 116, 141 land taxes, 58, 60, 179, 210, 211
 in Louis XIV's France, 122, 126, 127
 in Qin, 81
 subsidies, 121, 126, 137, 147
 in the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 114, 115, 199
 in Valois France, 112, 140, 200
 war chest, 145, 146
- revolt, see rebellions
- revolution
 French Revolution, 127, 188, 194
 Glorious Revolution, 123, 125, 193, 201
- rising costs of administration and self-strengthening reforms, 43
 in state formation, 42, 184
- rising costs of expansion
 in international competition, 24–25, 29, 55, 79
 for Napoleonic France, 132, 134, 135 for Qin (Warring States period) and efforts to minimize them, 88–90, 227;
see also divide and conquer; stratagem; strategy for the Qin Dynasty, 216–217
 and self-strengthening reforms, 29, 79
Sunzi bingfa on, 87–88, 157
 for the United Habsburgs/Habsburg Spain, 114, 116–117
- Wuzi* on, 88
see also conquest; offense-defense balance; opportunistic expansion; self-strengthening reforms; self-weakening expedients
- self-help, 30, 101; see also self-strengthening reforms
- self-interest, see rationality
- self-strengthening reforms and ascendancy in relative capability, 79–80 compelled by international competition, 139 controversy over self-strengthening reforms in Qi and Jin in the early Spring and Autumn period, 57, 58
 definition of, 29–32, 79, 228
 and domination in international competition, 34, 35, 50, 110–111, 122, 135, 228, 229–230
 and domination in state-society relations, 42–44, 47 and extension of military service and land tax from guoren (feudal warriors) to yeren (subject populations) in ancient China, 39, 58, 172, 179–180, 197
 Han Fei or Han Feizi on, 79
 as industrialization in the modern world, 231 and the intensity of international competition in ancient China, 38, 146, 149, 227–228
 and the intensity of international competition in early modern Europe, 36–37, 167 and the intensity of international competition in the modern world, 231–232 and the logic of domination, 44, 50, 197–198, 225, 228
 Machiavelli on, 29, 35
 in the People's Republic of China, 223
 in postwar Germany and Japan, 235
 in the Qing Dynasty, 29, 223 resistance to reforms, 21, 102, 125, 127, 155; see also institutional stasis and state capacity, 31–32, 215, 225, 234 and state domination in ancient China, 48, 169, 179, 190, 227
 and state domination in early modern Europe, 50, 192–193, 204, 216

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

Index

293

- a systemic phenomenon in ancient China, 58, 84, 85–86, 104
- three models in early modern Europe, III, 143, 207–208
- and the uniformity of state formation processes in ancient China, 213–214
  - see also* administrative and bureaucratic measures; economic measures; military measures; mutual constitution; rising costs; state
- self-weakening expedients
  - definition of, 32–33, 34, 228
  - and disjuncture of state capacity and state autonomy, 215–216, 222
  - and diversity of state formation processes in early modern Europe, 214
  - in the Han Dynasty and subsequent dynasties, 221–222
  - and the intensity of international competition in early modern Europe, 38, 149, 154, 159, 166, 229
  - and the likelihood of domination in international competition, 34, 36, 110, 122, 228–229
  - and the logic of balancing, 50
  - as a vicious cycle, 120
  - and more extensive state-society bargains in early modern Europe, 49, 229
  - shadow of a self-weakened past, 37, 131, 136, 167, 230
  - and state deformation in early modern Europe, 48–49, 169, 190, 229; see also mutual constitution
  - see also* fiscal expedients; military entrepreneurs; monetization
- sovereignty
  - anarchical conception of, 154
  - markers of territorial in ancient China, 5–6
  - as mutual respect for territorial integrity, 154
  - as right of war, 154
  - Zuo zhuan* on, 153
  - see also* state
- state
  - distinction between the state and the ruler, 175
  - evolution of guo in ancient China, 3–6, 197, 207
  - failure at state building in the Third World, 236–237
  - Greek polis, 202
  - predatory state, 15
  - sovereign territorial states in ancient China, 1, 3
  - state autonomy, 215
  - state capacity, 215
  - state strength, 214
  - survival and death of states, 153, 156; see also conquest
  - survival and death of states in ancient China, 96, 153–154, 156, 157
  - survival and death of states in early modern Europe, 154, 155–156
  - survival and death of states in Sunzi bingfa, 153
  - as unitary actor, 15, 105, 107, 119, 120
  - Weberian state as a balance between the logic of balancing and the logic of domination, 50; see also strategic interaction
  - Zhongguo* (central states), 1, 5, 39, 55, 64, 74, 75, 78, 90, 97, 163, 222
  - see also* self-strengthening reforms; self-weakening expedients; sovereignty
- state-society bargains, 42, 43, 168
  - in ancient China, 1, 7, 48, 168, 171, 226; see also freedom of expression; justice; legal protection; Mandate of Heaven; material bargains
- benevolent rule as self-strengthening and oppressive rule as self-weakening, 80, 157, 174, 177
- citizenship as an abortive development in ancient China, 178
- citizenship rights, 41, 168, 177
- citizenship rights and property rights, 44–45, 187
- and civil wars, 205–206
- concessions to societal actors, 170, 179, 186, 214
- consolidation of citizenship rights in early modern Europe as a historically contingent phenomenon, 169, 195, 205
- in early modern Europe, 41, 234; see also self-weakening expedients
- erosion in the Han Dynasty and subsequent dynasties, 219–220, 222
- erosion in Qin, 178, 189–190
- military basis of citizenship and democracy, 41, 47, 168, 170, 198
- right of exit (freedom of movement), 177
- see also* logic of balancing; resistance; rising costs

Cambridge University Press

0521819725 - War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe

Victoria Tin-bor Hui

Index

More information

294

Index

- stratagem, 28–29
 assassination, 101, 136
 bribery, 59, 72, 86, 87, 101, 120
 brutality, 28
 and costs of expansion, 29, 89; see also
   rising costs
 deception, 28, 70–71, 104
 effectiveness of, 28, 105, 106, 107
lijian (estrangement), 29, 69, 73, 100, 104, 106, 107, 134
 Machiavelli on, 28
 mass killing of defeated armies, 62, 86–87, 135, 152
 reliance on allies as a disincentive against the use of, 135
 unorthodox tactics and the cavalry, 73
 unorthodox tactics by Qin, 67, 70, 79, 109
 unorthodox tactics in the Sunzi bingfa, 28, 174
 use of stratagems a rare phenomenon in early modern Europe, 109, 136 use of stratagems a systemic phenomenon in ancient China, 104
 use of stratagems in the twentieth century, 232
see also strategy
- strategic interaction
 between competing strategies and mechanisms, 11–13
 between domination-seekers (states or rulers) and targets of domination
   (other states or societal actors), 2, 11–12, 40, 224
 between the logic of balancing and the
   logic of domination, 11, 26, 33–34, 42, 136, 139, 169, 178, 225
 multiple equilibria, 2, 13, 34
 rough or uneasy balance between the logic of balancing and the logic of domination in early modern Europe, 50, 169, 193, 205, 230
see also feedback effect
- strategy
 coercive, 2; see also logic of domination
 competing or opposite, 2; see also
   strategic interaction
 countervailing, 2; see also logic of balancing
- grand strategy, 33, 101, 104; see also
 logic of domination
- indirect strategy, 59; see also
 asymmetrical warfare
- and meritocracy, 32
- scorched earth tactic, 133, 135, 147
- yuanjiao jingong* (befriending faraway states and attacking nearby states), 94,
 135; see also piecemeal expansion
- totalitarianism, 184, 216
- trade, 1, 51, 141, 144, 208
 in ancient China, 208–209
 British trading empire, 233
 and diversity of state formation processes, 208
 social status of the trading class in ancient China, 210, 212
 social status of the trading class in Europe, 209–210
 and state-society bargains, 203
 suppression of in Qin, 212–213 suppression of as self-strengthening in ancient China, 212
 timing of expansion, 211–212
- treaties
 as codified norms, 158
 involved multiple parties, 139
 Machiavelli on, 158
 as temporary stratagems, 158, 253
- war weariness, 231
- wars involving great powers, 64, 65, 75
 in ancient China, 150–151, 242–248
 in early modern Europe, 149–150, 239–241
 operational criteria, 249–256
- wars of unification, 66, 99–101
 brutish measures to control conquered populations, 217–218
 against Chu, 90, 134
 ease of unification, 100; see also conquest: ease of against Zhao, 73, 134
- yeren*, see self-strengthening reforms
- zhongguo*, see state