

Contents

List of illustrations	page x
Acknowledgments	xii
Introduction	I
1 A showboat for the people	7
2 Glenn's plan	21
3 Hoofers, mystics and a singing bird	33
4 Typists and models	49
5 A Negro theatre	61
6 Power and control	78
7 Dunbar and the children	91
8 Slums and syphilis	105
9 See How They Run	122
10 Flotilla of Faith	137
Conclusion	150
Appendix A: production calendar	158
Appendix B: glossary of names	160
Notes	162
Bibliography	176
Index	185

Illustrations

- |  |               |
|--|---------------|
| 1 The ferry City of Bremerton . This was Edwin O'Connor's choice to convert into a Federal Theatre showboat. Museum of History and Industry, Seattle.   | page 9 |
| 2 The Hill-Billies were a featured act of the Variety shows and one of Seattle's most popular attractions. School of Drama, University of Washington.  | 42            |
| 3 The Baron Knights (Tom Hanns, Ralph Lamar, Vernon Wade and Frank Freeman) here perform their popular "Transom Blues" with Syvilla Fort. Library of Congress, Federal Theatre Project.                  | 47            |
| 4 Model of the Acropolis including the Theatre of Dionysus. School of Drama, University of Washington.   | 54            |
| 5 Model of a "generic" Roman stage based on the Theatre at Orange. School of Drama, University of Washington.  | 54            |
| 6 Stevedore was one of the most successful productions by the Seattle Federal Theatre. Joe Staton as Blacksnake is seated center ( UW 9782 ). MSCUA, University of Washington Libraries.   | 69            |
| 7 The Federal Theatre Children's unit performing Brer Rabbit and the Tar Baby , featuring Sara Oliver without her red bandanna ( UW 1707 ). MSCUA, University of Washington Libraries.     | 95            |
| 8 The finale from An Evening With Dunbar ( UW 9825 ). MSCUA, University of Washington Libraries.   | 102           |
| 9 This production shot from Flight (1938) shows the interior of the Federal Theatre, Seattle where Edwin O'Connor struggled to produce large productions such as One-Third of a Nation and |               |

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS	xi
See How They Run . Library of Congress, Federal Theatre Project.	112
10 Exterior of the Federal Theatre; sign says “See How They Run Now Playing” ( UW 21075 ). MSCUA, University of Washington Libraries.	132
11 This rare rehearsal photo shows the company readying Flotilla of Faith in May, 1939. The swastika on the woman’s skirt was a prominent Native-American symbol. Museum of History and Industry, Seattle.	146