

Contents

List of figures	page ix
List of tables	x
Foreword	xi
Preface	xiii
List of abbreviations	xvi
1 Introduction	1
Appendix: A theory of corporate entrepreneurship	19
2 Why a consistent emphasis and approach for new business creation is beneficial but difficult to achieve	29
I The business environment
3 The external business environment	41
4 The internal business environment	54
II The management culture
5 Shared beliefs about rewards, risks, opportunities, and rule-bending	63
6 Shared beliefs about control and learning	80
III The corporate executives
7 The bigger-is-better corporate philosophy	93
8 The small-is-beautiful corporate philosophy	106
9 New business creation challenges for corporate executives	117

viii	Contents
10	Guidance and coaching by the DGM's boss and support and challenge by the controllers	133
IV The division general manager
11	The DGM's personal assets	149
12	The DGM's motivation and strategy for new business creation	166
13	Building corporate support for new business creation	182
14	Leading the division for new business creation	197
V The division and its top management team
15	The identification and pursuit of new business opportunities	215
16	Other new business creation challenges for the division	237
17	The division's organization, competence, and collaboration for new business creation	254
18	The effectiveness of the division's top management team	270
VI Putting it all together
19	How the five major influences interact to drive new business creation	283
20	Managing ten critical issues in new business creation	293
	Notes	313
	Bibliography	359
	Index	376