

Index

- administrative authorities, job shift impact of, 250
- administrative cadres, distinguished from professionals, 13
- administrative career line, 168, 183
- administrative (salary) grades, 157
- administrative hierarchy of the cadre system, 156
- administrative ladder. See professional ladder
- administrative occupations, 171, 173–179
- administrative ranks
- age-related promotion rate for, 186
 - distribution of in 1993, 159
- age. See also seniority
- effects on 1993 income across cohorts, 290
 - effects on formal promotion rates, 186
 - effects on internal job shifts, 262
 - effects on job-shift rates across sectors, 268
 - of entry into the workforce, 280
 - as an indicator of political allegiance, 168
 - rates of job shifts and, 261
 - restrictions in allocating political opportunities, 181
- Allison, Paul D., 62
- allocative mechanisms
- across cohorts, 278
 - changes in, 81
 - effects moderated by life course factors, 276
- Alonso, William, 99
- Althausser, Robert P., 15, 101, 102
- Alwin, Duane F., 127, 328
- Anderson, Margo J., 99
- Andorka, Rudolf, 73
- Arendt, Hannah, 318
- Aschaffenburg, Karen, 59
- Asselain, Jean-Charles, 13
- Atkinson, Anthony B., 304
- authorities, access to, 31
- authority relationships
- in organizations, 319
 - under state socialism, 8
 - in work environments, 10, 303–306
- Bachman, David, 155
- Barnett, A. Doak, 155
- Baron, James N., 15, 99, 102
- Bauman, Zygmunt, 8, 154
- Becker, Gary Stanley, 8, 100, 200
- Beckett, Katherine, 8
- Beijing, 216
- Bendix, Reinhard, 5
- Bennett, Gordon A., 155
- Bernstein, Thomas P., 125
- Bialecki, Ireneusz, 73
- Bian, Fuqin, 244
- Bian, Yanjie, 11, 14, 15, 27, 28, 29, 30, 41, 64, 102, 164, 198, 200, 201, 221, 227, 232, 244, 246, 249, 275, 277, 312
- Bielby, William T., 15, 99
- Biggart, Nicole Woolsey, 31
- biographical life stage, 274

- Blau, Peter M., 5, 15, 23, 71, 100, 223
- Blossfeld, Hans-Peter, 72, 96
- Boisot, Max, 32
- Bourdieu, Pierre, 72
- Bruszt, Laszlo, 25, 31
- Brzezinski, Zbigniew, 318
- Bunce, Valerie Jane, 19
- Burawoy, Michael, 8, 299, 304, 316
- Bureau of Policies and Regulations, Ministry of Labor, 131, 149, 156, 226, 229, 327
- bureaucracy, 156 advancement in, 156-162, 173-179, 182-192
benefiting from political authority and market opportunities, 275 versus bureaucrats as a social class, 165 career tracks in, 157 identifying sources of personnel supply to, 174 as an organizational weapon of the state, 163
- bureaucratic allegiance, 165
- bureaucratic career, 171 lines, 13, 191 opportunities, 171-173
- bureaucratic career patterns, 162-171 dual path model for, 162-164 historical evolution of, 155 macro-political processes and shifting state policies, 164 theoretical models for, 167-171
- bureaucratic class, 154, 300 defining, 13, 300
dismantlement during the Cultural Revolution, 127 in state socialist societies, 10
- bureaucratic class thesis, 9-16, 300-309 conclusions on, 314 criteria to evaluate, 10
- bureaucratic hierarchy, levels of, 55
- bureaucratic privileges, socio-economic status and, 300-303
- bureaucratic promotions distinctive patterns of, 193 institutional channels of, 12 opportunity structures of, 189
- bureaucratic reforms, 333
- bureaucratic resistance, 170, 171
- bureaucratic system, evolution of, 157-159
- bureaucrats, 13, 156. See also cadres versus all other social groups, 9 authority of, 9 mid- and low-level, 11 reallocating opportunities among different cohorts of, 169 in the redistributive economy, 101
- Burns, John F., 163
- cadre background, 60
- cadre career line, 191. See also administrative occupations
- cadre class background label, 120
- cadre cohort effects, 181
- cadre retirement system, 167
- cadre status alternative measures of, 200 alternative specifications of, 210 different operationalizations of, 197 measures of, 214
regional findings, 220 regionalized returns to, 219
- “cadre” system, 156
- cadres, 9, 55, 157. See also bureaucrats; high-rank cadres career lines for, 164
composition of, 45, 159, 191
differentiating between public sector and economic sector, 210
entry into, 112, 173-179 “high-rank” and “low-rank” groups of, 210 rate of becoming, 105
rates of income for, 206 sending on-the-job to colleges, 47 socioeconomic conditions of, 11
- Cai, He, 305
- campaigns. See political campaigns
- Campbell, John L., 30
- Cao, Yang, 27, 29, 223
- capitalist societies. See market societies
- capitals, impacts on life chances over time, 23
- career tracks, 157, 162
- Carroll, Glenn R., 253
- CCP rectification, 17
- central government firms, 43, 57
- central planning authority, allocating resources as latent benefits, 228

- centralization during the 1949–1965 historical period, 36
 gradual decline of, 39 impact of economic disaster on, 37
- centralized state capacities for resource allocation and transfer, 20 contention with bureaucratic interests, 164 monopolizing resources for social mobilization, 318
- Chen, Danyan, 75
- Chen, Shaoping, 101, 156, 159
- Chen, Zhili, 38, 165
- Child, John, 32
- children of the Cultural Revolution, 38 job allocations for, 133 sent-down experience consequences, 127
- Chirot, Daniel, 12
- cities. See sampling
- class background. See family class background
- class identification in Communist ideology, 24
- class reproduction, 10, 170 absence of parental effects on promotion, 193 central to the making of a social class, 306 principles of, 10
 processes reflected by educational stratification, 71
- classes. See also social classes; social groups constructed in terms of occupations, 22 stable boundaries, 314 state policy shifts, sensitivity to, 22
- clerks, 44, 45, 56. See also office workers
- clientelist system, 319
- Clipp, Elizabeth C., 127, 328
- coevolution assessing the outcomes of, 33 mechanisms governing, 31 of politics and markets, 30–33, 197
- Cohen, Ronald L., 127, 328
- cohort effects, 252 for administrative and professional promotions, 188 on Communist Party membership, 181–182 in gaining political status, 169 on job-shift rates across sectors, 268 on work organization promotions, 189
- cohort variations in access to the opportunity structure, 293 among different types of organizations, 289 in economic benefits, 277, 290–293 in the effects of social positions on job shift patterns, 290
- cohort-based seniority principle, 188
- cohorts, 274. See also historical cohorts;
 professional cohort results allocative mechanisms across, 278 analytical importance of, 125 characteristics of historical, 283 competing incentives for different, 277 differences in response to opportunities, 276 distinctive historical contexts, 281 distinctive opportunities, 294 distribution of job destinations, 282 entering the work force, 279 exposure and response to social change, 274 variations in job shift patterns, 284–290
- Coleman, James S., 5
- collective action opportunities in the state-society relationship, 321 transforming unorganized interests into, 320
- collective firms (jiti qiye), 14, 57, 65
 job shifts to, 253
 under local governments, 37 proportions employed in, 41
 rates of first entry into, 106
- collective inaction critical role of, 321 stratification dynamics and, 324
- collective sector, 39, 40, 44 expansion of, 44 industrial output by, 47 presence of, 325
 rates of first entry into, 105
- collectivization of the craft industry, 36
- college education effects in different cohorts, 290 effects on entering high-status organizations, 116 effects on job shifts, 265, 288

- college education (cont.)
 - rate of job shifts to government agencies, 258
 - rate of returns across selected years, 206
- college graduates
 - downward mobility experienced by, 114
 - entering the administrative system, 103
 - internal job shift rates, 262
 - moving to the private sector, 331
- “college granting associate degree” (dazhuan), 55
- colleges
 - admission closed, 38
 - enrollment rate into, 47, 48
 - entry into, 83, 84
 - number of, 77, 78
 - rates of entry into, 76, 77, 80
 - reopening of, 77, 129
 - transition rates to, 95
- commune and collectivization movement, 17
- communist new traditionalism model, 319
- Communist Party
 - authority exercised by, 8
 - interwoven with the administrative apparatus, 57
 - recruitment into, 165, 179–182
- Communist Party membership, 179
 - acquisition of as a political status, 167
 - effects on formal promotion rates, 187
 - effects on promotions in work organizations, 189
 - income advantages of, 214
 - as an indicator of political capital, 55, 162, 200
 - rates of entry into, 171
 - regionalized income returns to, 216
 - role in administrative recruitment and promotion, 168, 183
- community college education, 49
- competence. See also educational credentials
 - emphasized as a selection criteria, 167
 - versus political loyalty, 12
- Connor, Walter D., 8, 13, 228
- cultural capital, 72
- Cultural Revolution (1962–1968), 17. See also children of the Cultural Revolution
 - disruption of educational progression, 82
 - effects on bureaucrats, 323
 - elimination of gender equality, 90
 - impact on high school and college rates of entry, 76
 - “send-down” policies, 115
 - targeting and purging of bureaucrats, 166
 - treatment of intellectuals, 23
 - cumulative advantage (or disadvantage), 274
- data collection for social science research, 50
- Davis, Deborah, 15, 19, 23, 126, 244, 249, 250, 282
- Deng, Xian, 129, 130, 328
- Deng, Xiaoping, 255, 332
- Deng, Zhong, 73
- “destratification”
 - egalitarian policy of, 65
 - policies during the 1960–1965 historical period, 82
 - state policies during the Mao era, 209
- Diggle, Peter, 63
- DiPrete, Thomas, 5, 15, 335
- directives, on recruitment, promotion and salary changes, 161
- discrete-time event history model, 62, 108
- Djilas, Milovan, 9, 10, 12, 73, 154
- Dobbin, Frank, 226
- Doeringer, Peter B., 102
- Douglas, Mary, 99
- dual path model, 155
 - compared to the stratification dynamics model, 167
 - evidence consistent with, 192
 - explaining bureaucratic career patterns, 162–164
 - explaining cadre and professional trajectories, 12
 - predictions regarding bureaucratic career lines, 168
- dual structure of workplace and occupation, 103
- Duncan, Otis Dudley, 5, 23, 71, 100
- durable inequality, based on social relations and social closures, 6
- dynamic aspects of state socialist redistribution, 19
- dynamic modeling, 60, 62

- “economic adjustment”, policies of, 37
- economic agents, rent-seeking behavior of, 32
- economic benefits
 - cohort variations in, 277
 - distribution of, 54, 228
 - low disparity in, 315
- economic resources
 - cross-cohort variations, 279
 - variations in distribution over time, 207
- economic rewards
 - cohort variations in, 290–293
 - in the form of redistributive benefits, 227
- economic sectors, 15, 58, 265. See also industries
- external job shifts moving across, 265–268
- importance in the redistribution of resources, 13
- tracked by official statistics, 99
- types of, 248
- variations in redistributive benefits across, 228
- education. See also “technical school” (jixiao); college education; high schools; middle schools
 - composition in the sample, 48
 - credentials emphasized in the reform era, 169
 - credentials important for professional career lines, 168
 - effect on 1993 income by cohort, 291
 - effect on Communist Party membership, 179
 - effect on entering cadre and professional occupations, 115
 - effect on entering high-status organizations, 116
 - effect on formal promotion rates, 186
 - effect on housing allocation, 238
 - effect on individuals’ life chances, 23
 - effect on job shifts to work organizations, 288
 - effect on upward mobility, 163
 - effect on work organization promotions, 189
 - impact entry into jobs, 177
 - impact on entry into a professional occupation, 114
 - important for promotion along the professional ranks, 187
 - low returns compared to industrialized societies, 223
 - regionalized returns to, 219
 - role in first-job destinations, 122
 - role in social mobility, 70
 - as a sorting mechanism for class reproduction, 73
 - summary of findings on returns to, 309
 - suppressed returns to, 309
 - value to a socialist planning system, 201
- educational attainment, 69
 - direct role of the state and state policies on, 74
 - distinctive pattern of, 96
- industrialization hypothesis, 88
- mediating effects of stratification dynamics, 123
- role of social origins in, 85
- educational credentials, 201
- educational examination system, 69
- educational levels
 - advanced, 48
 - composition of, 48
 - distribution in the sample, 49
 - probability of entering, 86–87
 - processes reflecting the attainment of, 81
 - transition rates of entry into, 81
- educational opportunities, 47–49
 - dramatic fluctuation over time, 75
 - expansion during the early period, 77
 - historical evolution of, 75–80
 - historical trend of, 75
 - increasing over time, 283
 - in socialist societies, 73
- educational qualifications
 - as indicators of political loyalty, 168
 - treating as political liabilities, 23
- educational stratification, 53, 69–97
 - mechanisms of, 73
 - models of, 72
 - patterns of, 70
 - stability over time and across societies, 71
- egalitarian policy in the Mao era, 302
- Elder, Glen H., Jr., 20, 126, 127, 128, 272, 274, 328
- elementary or no education, 48, 54
- employees, distribution across types of organizations, 41
- equalizing opportunities, periods of great achievement, 315

- Erikson, Robert, 5, 101
 Esping-Andersen, Gøsta, 6, 30, 335
 Evans, Peter B., 30, 333 event history analysis, 252 of continuous-time and discrete-state outcomes, 61–64 logistic regression model, 62 “exploiting class”, 60, 120 children experiencing a declining rate, 95 children sent to rural areas, 137 children systematically discriminated against, 120 external job shifts, 252 across economic sectors, 265–268 across types of organizations, 255–261
- family class background (jiating chushen), 82 basis of, 93 class label of, 38 effects of, 93–95, 141 labels, 59
 official label of, 59, 120 variations with entries into first jobs, 120
- family resources, individual-based, 72 famine (1959–61), 1 farms, 58
 entry into, 107
 occupation, 56, 114 origin, 259 sector, 44
- fathers education, 59, 90, 110 occupation, 59, 138, 141
 socio-political status, 59
- Featherman, David L., 5, 6, 101 female employees entry into administrative and professional occupations, 174 lower promotion rate of, 186 maternity leave policy, 226–227
- Feng, Denggong, 37
 Ferber, Marianne A., 223 first jobs association with social origins, 108 distribution by cohort, 281
 entry into, 104, 108, 112–116, 131 patterns of attainment, 98–111, 123 role of education in, 122 shifts away from, 252 for urban youth during the Cultural Revolution, 133
- Flakierski, Henryk, 228
 Follis, Jane Thompson, 19 foreign-owned firms, 58 nationalization of, 36 significant presence of, 331
- Freedman, Ronald, 88
 Freidson, Eliot, 6
- GANZEBOOM, Harry B. G., 6
 Gardiner, Karen, 304
 GEE (generalized estimation equation) model, 63, 183
- gender educational attainment transition rates by, 89 effects on formal promotion patterns, 186 effects on transition rates to educational levels, 85–92 rates of income differences over selected years, 206 gender gap in Communist Party membership, 179
 gender inequality in educational attainment over time, 88 patterns over time, 88
 in the reform era, 169
 gendered jobs, 112, 174 generalized estimation equation (GEE) model. See GEE model
- George, Linda, 126
 Gerber, Theodore P., 27, 29, 32, 59, 73, 88
- Giele, Janet Zollinger, 272 Gini coefficients, 303 in income inequality across countries, 303 measuring the USSR’s income inequality, 223 for urban and rural China, 224
- Goldthorpe, John H., 5, 101
 Gottschalk, Peter, 224, 335 government agencies (zhengfu bumen), 57 analysis of cohorts entering, 281 changing from redistributors to regulators, 32 downsizing in the reform era, 295

- first entry into, 106
- higher rate of entry into the Communist Party, 182
- job shifts to, 253
- government sector, 248
- grade system for salaries, 157
- Granovetter, Mark, 31
- Great Depression in the United States, 126
- Great-Leap-Forward, 17, 313
 - extreme economic conditions, 323
 - high college enrollment rate, 48
 - impact on high school and college rates of entry, 76
- group boundaries, 323, 326
- Grusky, David B., 5, 6, 15, 335
- Guan, Ying, 244
- Guseva, Alya, 29
- Gustafsson, Bjorn, 224, 335
- Guthrie, Doug, 30, 197, 226

- Hallinan, Maureen T., 95
- Hamilton, Gary G., 31
- Hankiss, Elemer, 19
- Hanley, Eric, 73
- Hannan, Michael T., 60, 62
- Hannum, Emily, 27, 73, 88, 216, 221, 232, 275
- Harding, Harry, 9, 12, 163, 166
- Hauser, Robert Mason, 5, 6, 101
- Havel, Vaclav, 320
- hazard rates, 131, 253
 - capturing variations in, 62
 - of entry into advantageous positions, 171
 - of entry into different types of work organizations, 105
 - of entry into first jobs, 104, 131
 - of job entries, 103
 - of job shifts, 253
 - of promotion, 172
 - of returning to urban areas (1967-1987), 131
- heavy industry, 58, 248
 - favored by state growth strategies, 14
 - favored over consumer goods, 7
- Heyns, Barbara, 73
- hierarchical order
 - among types of work organizations, 202
 - of jobs and workplaces, 100
- hierarchical system for salary grades, 157

- hierarchies
 - related to the social construction of jobs, 122
 - of work organizations, 14
- high schools
 - enrollment rate into, 48
 - entry into, 76, 77, 79, 84
 - transition rates to, 93
- higher education institutions, 77, 78. See also colleges
- high-rank cadres (chu or above), 13, 44, 45, 55, 301
 - access to housing resources, 238
 - channeling children back earlier from rural areas, 152
 - children entering high-status organizations, 119
 - children returning to urban areas, 138
 - Cultural Revolution's impact on the children of, 134
 - housing quality, 240
 - income in the pre-reform era, 213
 - living space and facilities, 243
- high-rank professionals, 44, 45, 56
- high-status groups, protecting children from state policies, 78
- historical approach
 - to analyses of job shift patterns, 270
 - to patterns of social stratification, 25
- historical cohorts, 280. See also cohorts
 - 1949-1965, 280, 281, 294
 - 1966-1979, 281, 283, 289, 294
 - 1980-1994, 281, 289
 - life course location, 280
 - rates of job shifts, 285, 288
- historical periods
 - 1949-1965, 36-37
 - 1966-1979, 38-39
 - 1980-1994, 39
- for analyses of educational stratification, 82
- characterizing changes in policies and political processes, 36-39
- criteria of political selection, 166
- effects of key covariates over time, 168
- impacts of state policies on individual life chances, 61
- job shift patterns across, 255-268

Hodgson, Geoffrey M., 31

Hodson, Randy, 102

Hogan, Dennis P., 126, 295

- Hollingsworth, J. Rogers, 30
- household size, effect on living space, 235
- housing
- administration, 234
 - authority under the metropolitan government, 234
 - construction, 231
 - distribution, 233-240
 - facilities, 240
 - inequality related to, 244
 - as a latent benefit, 231
 - privatization of ownership, 244
 - quality, 239
 - space, 234-239
- housing allocation, 233-240
- “need-based” principle, 235
 - constraints in urban areas, 234
 - in Hungary, 233
- housing markets
- absence of, 233
 - emergence of, 244
- Hout, Michael, 5, 6, 23, 27, 32, 59, 72, 73
- human capital
- allocating and rewarding, 201
 - internal job shifts in different types of organizations, 262
 - in a market economy, 8
 - measures of, 54, 210
 - versus political, 8, 200-201, 309-311
 - regionalized returns to, 219
 - role in job shift decisions, 258
 - role in job shifts across economic sectors, 265
- hybrid firms, 44, 58
- higher returns to those working in, 215
 - job shifts to, 253
 - as nonstate organizations, 248
 - presence of, 331
 - rate of income for, 207
 - rates of entry into, 107
 - rise in employment in the reform era, 270
- ideological crises, life experiences and, 327-330
- income. See also personal income
- assessing the quality of data, 203
 - distribution in years of historical significance, 203
 - effects of the sent-down experience on, 148
 - as an indicator of social inequality, 198
 - information collected in the sample, 203
- income determinants
- changes among urban residents over time, 198
 - cross-sectional analyses of, 202-209
 - for the sent-down experience, 146-151
- income inequality
- fundamental changes among social groups, 199
 - Gini coefficients for, 303
 - redistribution and marketization implications for, 199-202
- income regimes over time, 207
- individual mobility, 65
- individual-based family resources, 72
- individual-based skills, channeling into occupational careers, 100
- industrial output, 46, 47
- industrial workers, high political status of, 24
- industrialization thesis, 96
- “ideal” scenario consistent with, 88
 - of increasing educational opportunities, 72
- industrialized market societies. See market societies
- industrialized societies, work organizations
- in social stratification processes, 102
- industries
- prioritized on political goals, 7
 - redistribution of resources and, 13
- institutional arrangements
- of urban economies, 220
 - of work organizations, 201-202
- institutional changes
- assessments of large-scale, 246
 - explaining outcomes by the advance of market economies, 28
 - impacts on individuals at different life stages, 274
 - implications of, 333
 - life course implications and, 274-277
 - multifaceted, 216, 332
 - path dependent characteristics of, 25
 - in the post-Mao era, 195
 - processes of, 30, 39
 - as processes of coevolution, 30-33
 - in the reform era, 26-33

- shaped by the state, 332 social basis of, 324 from social stratification to, 330–333 through generational replacement, 295 in the transformation of state socialism, 3, 25
 institutional economics, 31 institutional model of unorganized interests and collective action, 320–322 institutional persistence, 202, 222 institutions
 distribution of attention in, 99 links between the state and individual life chances, 41
 role in the processes of social changes, 28 intellectuals, 60. See also professionals incorporating into the political elites, 11 as initiators of political disturbances, 70 intelligentsia, “contradictory location” in the class structure, 12 interactions between existing and emerging institutions, 28
 between stratification dynamics and life course factors, 54 interest politics in the political arena, 31 intergenerational inheritance, 10, 58, 170, 306 education as a critical mechanism in, 71 findings regarding, 307 literature based on occupational categories, 101 over time, 5
 as a potential source of career patterns, 178 reinforced by the “replacement” policy, 307 suppressed during the Cultural Revolution, 115
 internal job shifts, 252, 261–265
- Jacobs, Jerry A., 15
 Jermakowicz, Wladyslaw, 19
 Jiang, Kun, 130 job shift patterns, 247 across different types of work organizations, 277
 across historical cohorts, 288 across historical periods, 255–268
 across types of organizations, 285–290 among types of economic sectors, 248 among types of organizations, 247, 248 cohort difference in response to opportunities, 277–279
 comparing over time, 270 as a focus of study, 247–253 historical trends of, 253 outside economic sectors by period, 265–268 outside type of work organization by period, 255–261 overall trends over time, 258 patterns capturing distinctive career pathways, 277 rates to private firms, 260 response to opportunities and risks, 284–290
 to the state sector, 253 within type of organization by period, 262–265
- jobs, 99–104, 255. See also occupations destinations by cohort, 282 entry pattern into, 107–111 mobility, 53, 98 patterns of attainment, 100, 111–120, 269 patterns of entry, 104 social origins and, 107 state policies allocating, 103 joint venture firms (sanzhi qiye), 44, 58
 Jones, F. Lancaster, 5 junior high. See middle schools
- Kahneman, Daniel, 276
 Kalleberg, Arne L., 15, 102
 Katz, Zev, 12
 Kaufman, Robert L., 102
 Keister, Lisa A., 197
 Kelly, Erin, 226
 Khan, Azizur Rahman, 233, 244
 King, Lawrence P., 8 kitchen as a housing facility, 239
 Kohli, Martin, 272, 274
 Konrád, György, 8, 11, 12, 163, 201
 Kornai, János, 8, 37, 40, 303
 Kostello, Eric, 30
 Kraus, Richard Curt, 73
 Krotov, Pavel, 304
- labor force
 composition of, 40–46
 duration, 55

- labor force (cont.)
 entry into, 98–107, 123
 participation, 38
- labor insurance, 229, 231
- labor statistics, 99
- Lampton, David M., 31, 165, 166, 319
- Lardy, Nicholas R., 20
- large numbers phenomenon, 321 basis for, 325
 stratification dynamics and,
 322–323
- Larson, Magali Sarfatti, 6
- latent benefits, 225 allocated to industries or work organizations, 14 compared to effects of education and political position, 232 distributed through work organizations, 243 historical overview of the distribution of, 229–233
- Lavelly, William, 88
- Lee, Ching Kwan, 27
- Lee, Hong Yung, 9, 12, 22, 23, 24, 155, 163, 165
- Li, Bobai, 11, 12, 13, 155, 162, 163, 164, 201
- Li, Bohua, 88
- Li, Cheng, 155
- Li, Guangping, 328
- Li, Hanlin, 15, 229, 244
- Li, Kang, 15
- Li, Lulu, 15, 229, 244
- Li, Meng, 15
- Li, Peilin, 15, 229, 232, 313
- Li, Qiang, 276, 277
- Li, Xiaohua, 130
- Lian, Peng, 29
- Liang, Kung-Yee, 63
- Lieberthal, Kenneth, 31, 166, 319
- life chances affected by political dynamics and shifts in state policies, 16 consequences of state socialist redistribution on individual, 16 effect of education on, 23 effects of individual or family-based attributes and capital on, 23 impacts of state and state policies on, 20, 40 impacts on individuals', 16 processes influencing, 293 re-valuing social resources for, 16
- life course, 272 contextual constraints on the social stratification processes, 295 effects of the sent-down experience, 145 effects on internal job shifts, 262 effects on job-shift rates across sectors, 268 implications of institutional changes, 274 moderating the impacts of social changes, 274 perspective, 272, 295 relationship to social change, 126 role in job shift decisions, 261 shaping individual life chances, 293 transformations experienced at different stages of, 273
- life course approach, 293 bridging macro-level events and micro-level biographies, 296 facilitating assessment of allocative mechanisms across cohorts, 294
- life experiences ideological crises and, 327–330 recording over time, 50
- life history data from “the State and Life Chances” project, 50–52
- lifetime employment practice, 169. See also permanent employment
- light industry, 14, 58, 248, 249
- Lin, Nan, 14, 15, 102, 201, 249, 312, 333
- Lindberg, Leon N., 30
- Lindblom, Charles Edward, 7
- Liu, Ji, 38, 165
- Liu, Lufeng, 37
- local governments authorities over state firms, 37 decisions on individual life chances of workers, 103 firms owned by, 43, 57 increasing role of, 28 strengthening the power of, 200
- Logan, John R., 11, 14, 27, 28, 29, 30, 164, 200, 221, 227, 232, 246, 275
- logistic regression model for event history analysis, 62
- low social inequality, costs of, 315
- Lu, Feng, 15

- Luckacs, Janos, 8, 304
Lüscher, Kurt, 274
- MacFarquhar, Roderick, 23 macro-institutional changes, links with individual life chances, 273
macro-political processes affecting life chances of all social groups, 23 affecting the very notion of “capital”, 74 association between social origin and social mobility determined by, 308 highlighted by the stratification dynamics model, 167 impacting educational attainment, 74 versus organizational attributes in regard to work organization promotions, 189 reshaping micro-level relationships between social origins and status attainment, 54 for social stratification, 19 sustaining an egalitarian policy, 314 managerial autonomy, increasing in industrial organizations, 305 managerial positions promotion within a workplace, 183 promotions into, 183 “manager-in-charge” policy (Changzhang buzhezhi), 165 managers. See also political managerial positions given more authority over political cadres, 165 holding dual track titles, 157 included with cadres, 55 limited authority of, 305 Manchin, Robert, 19, 126 manual and non-manual workers, 13 manufacturing industries (chanye gongren), 101
Mao era. See also post-Mao era “destratification” state policies, 209 egalitarian policy, 302 income regime associated with, 207 seniority emphasized in, 169 Mao Zedong, 124, 154
 “send-down” policy, 125 implementing his vision of socialism, 38 send-down 1968 instruction, 128 suspicion and mistrust toward intellectuals, 70
- Mare, Robert D., 81, 95 market economies convergence of, 39
 emergence of, 27, 42, 131, 250
market expansion, encouraged by the state, 32 market logic, reflected by market societies, 7 market mechanisms allocation of resources and, 251
 convergence of, 39
market societies, 5 consistent patterns of social mobility, 5 detailed classification of occupations in, 99 family social origins as an indicator, 72 job concept referring to occupational status, 100 labor markets role in social stratification processes, 15
 role of the state in shaping life course, 126 social mobility and status attainment, 5 social origins as channels of social stratification, 54 market transition theory, 27, 197, 330 competing explanations, 28 importance of emerging market economies, 27 institutional logic of markets, 29 market uncertainty versus political uncertainty, 323 “marketable skills”, acquisition of, 71 markets, 30
 emergence creating new opportunities, 199 expansion affecting different social groups, 275 expansion not self-evolving, 30 marriage age of the sent-down cohort, 142
Marshall, T. H., 5
Marxian approach to social class, 9 mass mobilization. See also political mobilizations consequences of, 20, 329 state-initiated to carry out new policy initiatives, 16 undermined by ideological crises, 329 Mateju, Peter, 73 maternity leave, 226–227
Matthews, Mervyn, 12

- Matthews, Rebecca, 29, 227
 “maximally maintained inequality” (MMI) hypothesis, 72
 Mayer, Karl Ulrich, 15, 126, 253, 272, 274, 335
 McAdam, Doug, 127, 328
 McAuley, Alastair, 13
 McKeever, Matthew, 73 membership. See Communist Party
 membership
 merit-based selection criteria for education, 78
 Merton, Robert K., 274
 Michelson, Ethan, 11, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 197, 202
 Micklewright, John, 304 middle class, 60, 71, 120 middle schools. See also education; high schools
 enrollment rate into, 48
 improvement in model fit for entry into, 84
 rates of entry into, 76
 military personnel, 56, 178, 182
 Mincer, Jacob, 8, 213, 223 mixed model, estimating panel data of income, 210 mobility tables, 306 mobilization. See mass mobilization
 Moen, Phyllis, 15, 27, 73, 83, 102, 126, 155, 164, 198, 247, 248, 249, 274,
 275, 277, 283, 285
 Moore, Barrington, 12
 Muller, Walter, 126, 274, 335 multi-stage sampling scheme, 51
- Nathan, Andrew J., 20
 Naughton, Barry, 29, 39, 250
 Nee, Victor, 9, 11, 27, 28, 29, 39, 197, 200, 202, 216, 223, 227, 246, 250, 275, 309, 330, 331 negative consequences of the sent-down experience, 128 neo-traditionalist model, 165, 304, 319
 “new class” theory, 12, 163
 Newcomb, Theodore M., 127, 328
 nonmonetary transfers, 232 nonprofit organizations in the public domain, 57 nonstate firms increasing status of, 261
 job shifts to, 253
 proportions employed in, 41 versus the state sector, 249 nonstate sector, 39 employment encouraged in, 326 types of organizations in, 44
 work organizations in, 57
 North, Douglass C., 32
- Oberschall, Anthony, 29, 198, 202 occupational groups, 55 constructed through deliberate state policies, 22
 effect on housing allocation, 238 inter-sector and inter-branch differentials, 228 in official statistics, 99 selected by the sent-down cohort, 145 social status of, 24 occupational hierarchies based on state redistributive institutions, 122 constructed by political processes, 24 occupational status, 55, 100–102
 effect on 1993 income by cohort, 292 effect on job shifts, 268, 289 occupations. See also jobs broadly defined, 101
 composition of, 44
 high-status, 110, 173 as indicators of political power, 259 low boundaries across within a workplace, 101 socioeconomic status of, 8, 101
 Office of Organization Committee, CCP Central Committee, 57 office workers, 56. See also clerks composition of, 45
 in government agencies, 56 higher rate of entry into the Communist Party, 182 as a supply to administrative occupations, 178
 Oi, Jean C., 29, 40, 197, 332, 333
 Oksenberg, Michel, 155 “old sent-down youth”, 133 on-the-job training. See work experience opportunities
 access to, 275
 changing, 293
 emergence of, 275

- mechanisms affecting, 293
state policy shifts expanding or reducing, 21
- O'Rand, Angela M., 15, 229, 246
- organizational hierarchy
based on state redistributive institutions, 122
constructed by political processes, 24 legitimizing the state socialist system, 14 of the redistributive economy, 214, 250 in urban economies, 215
- organizational locations effect on 1993 income, 292 effect on job shifts to different work organizations, 289
- organizational positions, official ranks of positions, 161
- “organizational weapons” of the communist state, 154
- organizations. See also work organizations entering high-status, 110, 116 erosion of basis of redistribution, 325–327 external job shifts moving across types, 255–261 failures generated by inherent tensions, 19 internal job shifts moving within types, 261–265 ownership of, 248 promotion rates within, 191 stratification in market societies, 15
summary of findings on returns to, 311
types of, 248
- organizing capacity of vested interests, 31
- Palmer, Edward, 224, 335
- panel data analysis, 209, 221
versus cross-sectional data, 198
- parental economic resources versus parental political status, 74
- parental status, 58 contributing to children's location in the labor force, 110 impacts on life chances over time, 23 mediating the effects of the send-down policy, 134
- Parish, William L., 11, 13, 14, 19, 22, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 36, 64, 65, 73, 126, 127, 197, 201, 202, 209, 302, 314, 318
- Parkin, Frank, 10, 71
- party secretaries (Zhenggong ganbu), 164
- Passeron, Jean Claude, 72
- peasants. See also workers children's rate of entry into high school or college, 79
- Peng, Yusheng, 11, 27, 227, 232, 246
- People's Republic of China (PRC), 2 changes since the mid-1990s, 332 distinctive historical periods of, 35 founding of, 35 future of, 334 labor policies and regulations in, 156 political/economic campaigns, 16, 17–18
- Pepper, Suzanne, 124
- periodization, 61, 215
- period-specific job attainment patterns, 111–120
- period-specific models, 112
- permanent employment, 333. See also lifetime employment practice
- persistent inequality, 96 for children with “cadre” background, 95 in processes of educational attainment, 72 regarding educational attainment in industrialized societies, 95
- personal income. See also income cohort variations in economic resources, 279–280 effects of the sent-down experience, 146
empirical evidence, 301 increasing disparity for sent-down youth, 151 as a small proportion of the redistributed economic benefits, 227
- personnel system in the Chinese bureaucracy, 156–162
- Piore, Michael J., 102
- pluralist model of interest politics, 318
- Poisson model for housing facilities, 240
- Polanyi, Karl, 7
- policy implementation, 165
- policy shifts. See state policy shifts
- political activists different cohorts of, 25 effects of shifts in state policies on, 24

- political cadres in the workplace, 155
- political campaigns
 - “4-Clean” campaign, 17
 - “5-Anti” movement, 17
 - during the 1949–1965 historical period, 37
 - anti-bourgeois campaign, 323
 - anti-criminal activities campaign, 17
 - Anti-Gao-Rao Clique Campaign, 17
 - Anti-Hu Feng Clique Campaign, 17
 - Anti-Peng Clique Campaign, 17
 - Anti-Rightist Campaign, 17–166
 - anti-spiritual pollution campaign, 17–329
 - anti-westernization campaign, 329
 - in the history of PRC, 16, 17–18
 - as an integral part of political and economic organization, 18
 - production enhancement and thrift campaign, 17
 - “san fan” movement, 17
 - thought reform movement, 17
 - “wu fan” movement, 17
- political capital
 - coexisting processes in allocating and rewarding, 201
 - versus human capital, 8, 200–201, 309–311
 - measure of, 55
- political control
 - exercising through elaborate authority relationships, 319
 - weakened by ideological crises, 327
- political criterion in administrative recruitment and promotion, 168
- political dynamics
 - bureaucratic career patterns and, 164
 - in the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, 19
 - taking the form of policy fluctuations or oscillations, 20
 - underlying sources of, 164
- political input from society, stratification dynamics and, 323
- political liability, education as, 70
- political logic of redistribution, 7–9, 314
- political loyalty
 - versus competence, 12
 - emphasized in the leadership career path, 163
 - as a mechanism for upward mobility, 25
 - premium placed on, 8
 - redefined as adherence to reform policies, 167
 - rewarding, 163, 200
- political managerial positions, 8
- political mobilizations, 18. See also mass mobilization
- political opportunities
 - of political/economic campaigns, 18
 - varying significantly across historical periods, 192
- political persecution during the 1966–1979 historical period, 38
- political pressures
 - enforcing the send-down policy, 129
 - generated by the return of the sent-down youth, 326
 - initiated by responses to political uncertainty, 324
- political processes
 - deciding allocative as well as redistributive priorities, 7
 - inducing unexpected shifts in state policies, 20
- “political recommendation”, replacing entrance examination for college, 38
- political screening
 - of bureaucrats, 163
 - party membership as an indicator, 167
 - in the recruitment and promotion of political career lines, 168
- political selection
 - criteria of, 168
 - for educational progression, 78
 - historical periods associated with criteria of, 166
 - processes under state socialism, 13
- political status
 - cohort effects in gaining, 169
 - contrast with human capital, 310
 - importance of parental, 74
- political uncertainty versus market uncertainty, 323
- political/economic campaigns. See political campaigns
- positional power
 - associated with the redistributive system, 280
 - income returns, 292
 - role in the second send-down period, 141
 - role in the transformation processes, 213

- post-Mao era, 39. See also Mao era; reform era
- cadre policies, 114
- changes in income determinants, 150
- education as a factor for upward mobility, 24, 70
- ideological crises in, 327
- institutional changes, 27, 197
- job shifts to nonstate organizations, 255
- resumption of the college entrance examination, 82
- sent-down experience effects, 146
- PRC. See People's Republic of China
- private entrepreneurs. See self-employment
- private firms, 14, 40, 44, 57
- disguised as "collective" firms, 32
- expansion in response to employment pressures, 153
- higher returns to those working in, 215
- income for employees in, 214
- job shifts to, 253
- largest income gains in the reform era, 209
- legitimized and encouraged in 1980, 327
- as nonstate organizations, 248
- presence of, 331
- rise in employment in the reform era, 270
- role in the new income regime, 222
- state policies opening in the early 1980s, 326
- private housing, 234, 239, 240
- private property rights in market societies, 5
- privatization of housing, 244
- producers
- conflict with redistributors, 199
- defining, 200
- power relative to "redistributors", 251
- production processes, property right relations in, 9
- production workers, 56
- professional cohort results, 182
- professional groups, advancing common interests, 6
- professional hierarchy of the cadre system, 156
- professional jobs, shifts to administrative jobs, 178
- professional ladder, 159, 168, 183
- advancement in, 161
- rates of promotion, 172
- professional occupations, entry into, 112, 171, 173-179
- professionals, 56. See also intellectuals
- children's rate of entry into high school or college, 79
- class position of, 12
- composition of, 45
- concentrated in public organizations, 110
- differentiating between public sector and economic sector, 210
- distinctive and segmented career lines for, 164
- distinguishing high-rank from rank-and-file, 12
- high-rank, 44, 45, 56
- integral to the Chinese "cadre" system, 156
- rate of becoming, 105
- rates of income for, 206
- specifying into "high-rank" and "low-rank" groups, 210
- "proletarianization" of society, 320
- promotion patterns, 53
- in the Chinese bureaucracy, 182-192
- comparing bureaucratic ladders with work organizations, 170
- in formal bureaucratic ranks, 183-188
- in work organizations, 170, 188-192
- promotions
- compared to job shifts, 252
- policies and practice of, 159-162
- types of, 183
- within work organizations, 161
- property rights
- firms closer to the state, 14
- in market societies, 5
- provinces, selected for data collection, 51
- Psachargopoulos, George, 71, 213, 223
- public organizations (shiye danwei), 43, 57
- job shifts to, 253
- rates of first entry into, 106
- public sector, 248
- "push" and "pull" factors, 295
- radical policies, 19, 167
- Raftery, Adrian E., 72
- rational choice explanation for maximally maintained inequality, 72
- Rauch, James E., 333

- 'rebellions' during the Cultural Revolution, 167
- "the rebellious spirits", recruitment and promotion of, 167
- recruitment
 - into the Communist Party, 179-182
 - in early career stages, 177
 - policies and practice of, 159-162
- rectification movement, 17
 - in literary areas, 17
 - in rural areas, 17
- "Red and Expert" (youbong youzhuang) slogan, 90, 201
- "Red Guard Rebellion", 124, 328
- redistribution, 7
 - bureaucratic channels in, 233
 - erosion of the organizational basis of, 325-327
 - favoring political capital, 309
 - institutional arrangements based on, 4
 - institutional logic of, 329
 - political logic of, 7-9, 314
 - under state socialism, 299-316
 - stratification dynamics and, 67
 - through centralized authorities, 335
 - work organizations as the major institutions of, 201
- redistributive economy
 - benefits offered by state organizations, 271
 - lifetime employment practice in, 169
 - as the main employer of the urban labor force, 44
 - measures of the extent of, 42
 - organizational hierarchy of, 213, 250
- redistributive institutions, 3, 36
 - as constraints on job shifts, 249
 - evolution of, 40-49
 - in social stratification, 311
 - thesis, 13-16
- redistributive system
 - government and public sectors at the center of, 248
 - mobilizing resources through nonmarket channels, 228
- redistributors, 9, 12
 - conflict with producers, 199
 - defining, 200
- refined periods
 - return to urban areas of sent-down youth, 141
 - for the send-down analyses, 137
- reform era, 39. See also post-Mao era changes and continuity in, 195
 - changes revealed by empirical evidence, 222
 - comparing with pre-reform, 209
 - income regime, 208
 - increase in economic inequality among social groups, 303
 - institutional transformation and stratification processes in, 26-33
 - negative effect of education on entering hybrid firms, 119
 - series of bureaucratic reforms, 333
 - substantial increase in overall income, 210
- "reform of the party and state", 167
- regional variations
 - in the effects of education, 219
 - exploration of, 216-221
- regulations and laws, affecting life course, 126
- Renwei, Zhao, 304
- "replacement" (dingti) policy, 307
- research design, general considerations, 52-60
- Research Office, CCP Central Committee, 37
- residential blocks (juweihui), 51
- residential housing construction. See housing
- Reskin, Barbara F., 15
- resource allocation
 - historical patterns, 3
 - role of the Communist Party, 7
 - through market transactions, 247
- resource transfers in state socialist societies, 22
- resources
 - allocation through a centralized authority, 7
 - redistributing across sectors, 22
 - state policies changing the meaning of, 23
- restroom as a housing facility, 239
- retrospective data collection, 50
- reward system, favoring political status and loyalty, 8
- "rightist", 49
- "risk sets", 104
 - concept of, 60
 - constructing, 83
- risk-averse attitudes, 276

- Riskin, Carl, 233, 244, 304
- risks
- involved in job shifts, 252
 - of new types of jobs, 275
- Rona-Tas, Akos, 25, 27, 28, 29, 30, 32, 249, 270
- Roos, Patricia A., 15
- Rosen, Stanley, 18, 73
- Rosenbaum, James E., 102
- Roth, Louise Marie, 226
- Ruan, Danching, 15
- Rueschemeyer, Dietrich, 30
- ruling class of the communist state, 154
- running water as a housing facility, 239
- rural residents versus urban, 13
- rural township enterprises, 46
- “rushed growth”
- during the 1949–1965 historical period, 36
 - expansion of educational institutions, 77
 - in industrialization, 37
 - resulting in economic disaster in the early 1960s, 37
- Ryder, Norman B., 125
- salary system
- formally established in 1955, 157
 - state-initiated reform of, 209
- sampling, 51–52, 54
- cities selected for, 51
 - distribution in selected provinces and cities, 52, 53
 - households selected for, 52
 - missing values, 64
 - spouses, 51
- Scalapino, Robert A., 155
- Schoepflin, Urs, 15, 126, 274
- Schurmann, Franz, 1, 154, 324
- Scott, James C., 322
- secondary schools. See high schools
- sectoral structure, 248
- segmented labor markets, evidence of, 289
- selection criteria, reflecting changes in gender roles, 169
- self-employment, 44, 45. See also private firms
- encouraged in 1980, 327
 - legitimizing of, 131
- Selznick, Philip, 154
- semi-professional jobs, 114, 159, 174
- semi-state organizations, 248
- semi-state sector. See nonstate sector
- send-down episode, 131, 152, 313
- send-down experience. See sent-down experience
- send-down policies
- abandonment of, 326
 - adverse effects on all social groups, 151
 - affecting the life chances of youth, 115
 - during the Cultural Revolution, 38
 - denunciation of, 130
 - forcing urban youth to rural areas, 107
 - implementation of, 127, 129, 131
 - institutionalization of over time, 137
 - of Mao Zedong, 125
 - targeted social groups, 129
- senior governmental officials, 157
- senior high. See high schools
- seniority. See also age
- effects on Communist Party membership, 179
 - effects on formal promotion rates, 186
 - effects on work organization promotions, 189
 - emphasized in the Mao era, 169
 - factor on housing allocation in the reform era, 238
 - main principle in pre-reform China, 280
 - rates of entry into administrative professional jobs, 174
- sent-down experience. See also sent-down episode
- as cohort-specific, 125
 - consequence of, 142–151
 - effects on life course, 145
 - effects on personal income in the post-Mao era, 146
 - effects on the life course of individuals, 328
 - in historical context, 128–131
 - pivotal role in China’s economic transformation, 153
 - positive consequences of, 153
- sent-down youth
- altered life courses of, 128
 - duration in rural areas counting as work experience, 150
 - economic well-being affected in the reform era, 151
 - opportunities to return to urban areas, 130
 - periods of time spent in rural areas, 130
 - rates of entry into first jobs, 131

- sent-down youth (cont.) rates of returning to urban areas, 131 return of, 326
- service industry, 58, 248, 249, 268
- service workers, 44, 45, 56
- Settersten, Richard A. Jr., 272
- Shao, Yanxiang, 18
- Shavit, Yossi, 72, 96
- Shi, Li, 304
- Shi, Weimin, 124, 130
- Shi, Xiaoyan, 130
- Shirk, Susan L., 18, 29, 31, 39, 166, 250
- Shu, Xiaoling, 164
- Shue, Vivienne, 166
- Simkus, Albert, 73
- skilled manual workers, 44, 45
- Skilling, H. Gordon, 318
- Skocpol, Theda, 30
- Slovic, Paul, 276
- social basis of institutional transformation, 324
- social boundaries, fluidity of, 22
- social changes emphases given to different processes, 29 relationship to life course, 126 as a trend of transcending boundaries, 335
- social classes. See also classes; social groups Marxian approach to, 9 promoting “collective projects” of class reproduction, 72 Weberian approach to, 9
- social groups. See also classes advancing own interests in market societies, 6 boundaries of, 22 discriminating among by occupational category, 101 distribution of political resources among, 130 eliminating autonomous intermediate layers, 22 impacts of state policies on, 133–142 shifts in status related to state policies, 22
- social inequality assessment of, 302
 legitimated in the reform era, 243
- social mobility channels of, 5 critical role of education in, 70
 in market societies, 5
- social origins alternative specification of, 119–120 association with educational attainment, 70, 85, 307 association with job destination, 107 effects on Communist Party membership, 182 effects on promotion, 188 effects on promotion patterns, 192 effects on returning to urban areas, 152 effects on transition rates to educational levels, 85–92 impact of education entry rates, 79 impact of radical social policies, 79
 measures of, 58, 82
 role in children’s educational attainment, 74, 83
- social policies affecting life course in market societies, 126 role in equalizing opportunities in the United States, 335
- social positions ability to resist macro-political processes, 25 cohort variations in effects on job shift patterns, 290 scarcity of individual-level information on, 15 variables directly measuring, 288
- social stratification, 2 bureaucratic class as the starting point for, 154 comparative, 4, 5–6, 24 descriptions of the patterns of, 306 dynamic processes under state socialism, 313 historical approach to, 25 including macro political processes and larger historical contexts, 21 interaction between institutions affecting patterns of, 28 mechanisms of, 130
 models of, 2
 patterns reflecting institutional arrangements of a society, 3 patterns showing significant changes, 330 redistributive institutions in, 311
 under state socialism, 299–316

- social stratification processes changes in response to state policies, 39 changing across historical periods, 122 distinctive patterns shaped during the Cultural Revolution, 125 mediating role, 152 methodological issues in studying, 25 socialist education movement, 17 socialist managers. See managers socialist redistribution. See redistribution socialist redistributive power, 199 socialist state. See state societal changes. See social changes societal transformations, impacts on careers, 275
 socioeconomic benefits, measuring, 301 socioeconomic changes, shaping the urban economy, 130 socioeconomic status bureaucratic privileges and, 300–303 as a function of income and education, 101 improvements in market societies, 5 Sørensen, Aage B., 5, 6, 102, 253
 Sørensen, Jesper, 5, 6 Soviet model, 7, 36, 40, 334 spouses, job shift patterns of, 285
 SSB (State Statistics Bureau), 39, 41, 46, 77, 99, 202, 230, 231, 249 stable institutional bases, emphasized by the dual path model, 167
 Stark, David, 8, 25, 27, 28, 30, 31, 32, 304, 305, 333
 Starr, Paul, 99 state actions affecting individual life course, 126 claiming a monopoly of public goods, 320 in the coevolution of politics and markets, 31
 collective defiance against, 321 critical role in setting up institutional rules, 30 encompassing role of, 7 impact on the opportunity structure, 73 life course institutionalized by, 274 organizational control, 325 reliance on bureaucratic organizations, 165 role in shaping life course, 126 wage policies, 101
 State and Life Chances project, 50–52 state building process, 36 state bureaucracy. See bureaucracy “state cadres” [guojia ganbu], 103 state firms
 rates of first entry into, 106 sense of entitlement of workers in, 305 types of, 43
 welfare programs in, 232 state organizations, 41, 248 compared to collective firms and “other” types, 231 enjoying advantages inherited from the past, 261 evidence of significant shifts to nonstate firms, 260 incentives to those with high human capital, 259 newly-developed market activities of, 271 proportions employed in, 41 protected by central and local authorities, 332 redistributive benefits offered by, 271 web of, 40 state policies affecting all social groups, 21 altering opportunity structures and individual life chances, 20 bureaucratic resistance to, 170 changing the mechanisms of social stratification, 123 creating incentives to stay in state organizations, 271
 effect on bureaucratic promotions, 171 expanding or reducing opportunities, 123 identifying historical periods associated with, 61 impact on individual life chances, 19 impacts on job shifts, 250 impacts on the labor force over time, 253 implementing in regard to recruitment and promotion, 162 opening the private sector in the early 1980s, 326 promotion in work organizations shielded from, 189 returns to work organizations varying with, 243
 sensitivity of the meanings and status of jobs to, 103

- state policies (cont.)
 - shaping educational stratification, 77
 - significant impacts on bureaucratic career patterns, 192
 - on social groups, 133-142
- state policy shifts, 18
 - consequences for individuals, 20
 - dynamics of, 20
 - effects on opportunities among bureaucrats, 164
 - generating variations in political opportunities, 168
 - impact on political opportunities, 168
 - political dynamics reflecting, 164
 - redrawing symbolic boundaries, 23
 - signaling struggles within the bureaucracy, 166
- state policy-induced social changes, 152
- state redistributive institutions,
 - organizational hierarchy based on, 122
- state sector, 14, 40
 - coexistence with nonstate, 295
 - composition of type of organizations in, 43
 - employees enjoying better welfare programs, 229
 - gradual shrinking of, 39
 - industrial outputs by, 46, 47
 - versus nonstate firms, 249
 - privatization, 333
 - rates of first entry into, 105
 - rates of income for organizations, 207
 - rates of job shifts to, 253
 - shifts less likely to nonstate sector, 289
 - types of organizations in, 43
 - work organizations in, 57
- state socialism
 - characteristics of, 20
 - compared to the USSR, 312
 - demise of, 317
 - educational stratification under, 73
 - evolution and decline as a political institution, 3
 - institutional changes in the transformation of, 3
 - interplay between redistribution and stratification dynamics, 2
 - link between the state and life chances under, 3
 - mechanisms in resource allocation under, 8
 - mechanisms leading to collective actions, 320
 - political turbulence rooted in, 19
 - redistributing economic benefits, 102
 - redistributing surplus centralized in the state budget, 228
 - redistribution and stratification
 - dynamics under, 7-26, 299-316
 - rethinking state-society relationships under, 317-330
 - role of society under, 318-320
 - social stratification under, 2, 7, 15, 16-26, 73, 299-315, 316
 - stratification as a top-down process, 22
 - transformation involving multifaceted processes, 29
 - transition from, 295
 - state socialist China as a model for developing countries, 315
 - state socialist countries, role of society in, 318
 - state socialist economy, stagnation of, 315
 - state socialist institutional structure, direct citizen linkage to the state, 22
 - state socialist model, movement away from, 334
 - state socialist planning, increasing emphasis on educational qualifications, 310
 - state socialist redistribution
 - evolution of, 35-65
 - fundamental break away from, 39
 - institutional legacies of, 335
 - social stratification processes and, 313
 - state socialist societies
 - authority relationship in the work environment, 303
 - bureaucrats and bureaucratic organizations as the cornerstone of, 154
 - distinctive stratification patterns in, 8
 - education opportunities and labor "markets" state, 73
 - explanations of collective actions in, 319
 - factions, groups, and classes in, 319
 - focusing exclusively on personal income, 246
 - greater and more uniform policy impacts, 21
 - political life chances in, 12

- resource transfers, 22
- stratification in, 6
- transformation of, 26
- state-owned firms (guoyou qiye), 57
 - job shifts to, 253
 - pushing into market competition, 32
 - shifts to from government agencies, 260
- state-society relationships
 - institutional structures of, 4
 - stratification dynamics and, 322-324
- statistical analysis, models and methods, 60-64
- status, modeling changes in, 61
- status attainment model, 71, 100
- status inheritance, evidence of, 114
- Stone, Katherine, 99
- Strang, David, 99
- stratification
 - empirical patterns in major areas of, 40
 - mechanisms, 270
 - order, 13
 - outcomes, 55
 - in state socialist societies, 6
 - as a top-down process under state socialism, 22
- stratification dynamics, 3
 - collective inaction and, 324
 - concept of, 16
 - examining the effects of, 168
 - institutional transformation and, 335
 - large numbers phenomenon and, 322-323
 - lasting impacts on individuals, 313
 - model of, 164-167
 - opportunities of political input from society, 323
 - producing fluid group boundaries, 322
 - as secondary consequences of state policies, 313
 - under state socialism, 16-26, 312-315
 - state-society relationships and, 322-324
 - undermining the organizational basis of redistribution, 325
- stratified random sample, 51
- structural aspects of state socialist redistribution, 19
- Suhomlinova, Olga, 15, 65, 201, 223, 238, 280, 311
- survey, large-scale, 50
- symbiotic relationship of socialist managers and workers, 306
- symbolic boundaries, redrawing in a politicized society, 23
- Szelényi, Iván, 1, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, 19, 30, 126, 154, 163, 199, 201, 228, 233, 302, 303
- Szelényi, Szonja, 59, 73, 88
- Tang, Wenfang, 27
- targets of political campaigns, 18
- “technical school” (jixiao), 48, 54
- tensions, inherent within state socialist institutions, 20
- theoretical models for analyses of bureaucratic career patterns, 192
- Thomas, Robert, 32
- Tilly, Charles, 6, 319, 320, 330
- timing of historical events, 274
- Titma, Mikk, 15
- totalitarian model, 318
- transformation processes, importance of incumbents and vested interests in, 29
- transition rates, 77
 - to college at different levels of father’s education, 91
 - to college by period and class label, 95
 - for educational attainment by period and gender, 89
 - of entry into different educational levels, 81
 - fluctuations associated with high school and college levels, 77
 - to high school at different levels of father’s education, 90
 - to high school by period and class label, 94
 - into lower educational levels, 77
 - measuring, 85
- transitional economies
 - interplay between politics and markets, 30
 - studying the unique Chinese experience, 26
- Treiman, Donald J., 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 72, 73, 96, 155, 162, 163, 201
- Tsou, Tang, 23, 38
- Tuma, Nancy Brandon, 15, 27, 60, 62, 73, 83, 102, 126, 155, 164, 198, 247, 248, 249, 253, 272, 275, 277, 283
- Tversky, Amos, 276

- Ultee, Wout C., 6
- unemployment, send-down policy as a response to, 133
- unexpected findings, 295
- Unger, Jonathan, 73, 124
- United States
- Great Depression, 126
 - impacts of governmental policies, 335
- unorganized interests, transforming into collective action, 320
- unranked cadres, 56
- unskilled manual workers, 44, 45
- upward mobility
- educational attainment as a channel of, 69
 - in occupational categories, 108
 - provided by educational opportunities, 47
- urban employment opportunities
- increased the probability of returning to urban areas, 141
 - increasing the return rate in the second send down period, 141
 - percentage change in, 133
- urban job opportunities, measure of, 133
- urban labor force
- composition across sectors, 41, 42
 - waves of expansion of, 107
- USSR, redistribution patterns compared to China, 310
- utopian socialism, impacts of flirtation with, 334
- vested interests
- advantage of, 31
 - influence in the remaking of institutional rules, 32
 - institution-based bureaucratic bargaining protecting, 202
 - in the transformation process, 29
- victims of political campaigns, 18
- “village” origin, 259
- Viola, Lynne, 19
- Vogel, Ezra F., 155
- Voslensky, Michael, 12
- Wade, Robert, 30
- Walder, Andrew G., 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 18, 24, 27, 29, 30, 40, 41, 64, 101, 102, 103, 120, 149, 155, 162, 163, 164, 165, 167, 168, 192, 197, 198, 200, 201, 202, 221, 227, 228, 232, 246, 250, 277, 304, 309, 310, 312, 319, 320, 325, 332, 333
- Walder’s Dual Path Model. See dual path model
- Wang, Weihua, 130
- “weapons of the weak”, 322
- Weber, Max, 5, 71, 154
- Weberian approach to social classes, 9
- Weberian characteristics of state bureaucracies, 333
- welfare benefits
- for employees in the state firms, 232
 - as positive incentives for compliance, 229
- welfare expenditure by type of organization, 231
- welfare programs
- enjoyed by employees of the state sector, 229
 - undermined in the era of economic reform, 230
- welfare state
- in the early 1950s, 226
 - in market societies, 126
 - rise of, 335
 - withering of, 333
- Wesolowski, Wlodzimierz, 228
- White, Lynn T. III, 22, 318
- white-collar occupations, 44, 45, 102
- Whyte, Martin King, 13, 14, 19, 21, 36, 38, 64, 73, 88, 126, 201, 209, 302, 314, 318
- within-cohort variations, 274, 281
- Wnuk-Lipinski, Edmund, 228
- Wolf, Arthur, 1
- Wolf, Margery, 88
- work experience
- as a factor in the reform era, 238
 - as an indicator of human capital, 54, 200
 - measuring, 55
- work organizations. See also organizations
- authority relationships in, 303–306
 - career tracks within, 162
 - centrality of in the stratification order in China, 247
 - effect on Communist Party membership, 182
 - effects on housing facilities, 240
 - empirical studies on, 14
 - heads of, 162
 - hierarchy of, 14, 102–103

- housing ownership and, 239
- importance in China's redistributive processes, 243
- importance in the redistribution of resources, 13
- increasing promotion opportunities in the reform era, 189
- institutional arrangements of, 201-202
- job shift events across different, 285
- low job mobility across, 98
- moving away from the command economy, 151
- overall patterns of entry into types of, 110
- promotion patterns in, 188-192
- promotion within, 161, 162, 170
- purchases of apartments, 244
- rate of first entry, 105
- role important only in the era of economic reform, 243
- role of, 102, 311
- sectors of, 14
- as a source of housing supply, 234
- tracked by official statistics, 100
- types of, 40, 57-58
- variations in the effects of types across regions, 220
- "worker/peasant" class background label, 120
- workers, 60. See also peasants
- concentrated in state or collective firms, 110
- rate of becoming, 105
- rate of entry into high school or college for children of, 79
- workforce, age of entry into, 280
- workplace origins, 259
- workplaces
- access to, 269
- direct link with the state, 321
- focusing on access to opportunities within and across, 247
- patterns of promotion within, 183
- promotion patterns in regard to seniority, 193
- "workunit" (danwei), 229, 319
- worldview, new, 334
- Wright, Erik O., 10, 12, 303
- Wu, Xiaogang, 222, 275
- "Wuxunzhuan" movie, 17
- Xiao, Zhenyu, 88
- Xie, Yu, 27, 73, 88, 216, 221, 222, 232, 275
- Xu, Songtao, 156, 161
- Xu, Xiao, 329
- Yamaguchi, Kazuo, 5
- Yang, Dali L., 2
- Yang, Zhiyun, 75, 130
- Yao, Ruobing, 74, 90, 91
- Yip, Kam-Bor, 96
- youth (age restriction) as a selection criteria, 167
- youthfulness, emphasized in the reform era, 169
- Yu, Fu, 130
- Zeger, Scott L., 63
- Zhang, Huiping, 101, 156, 159
- Zhang, Linyang, 156, 161
- Zhang, Yi, 15, 229, 232, 313
- Zhao, Shenghui, 37, 166, 167, 179
- Zhao, Wei, 193, 223, 311
- Zhao, Ziyang, 323
- Zhou, M. L., 15
- Zhou, Xueguang, 6, 9, 11, 15, 20, 22, 27, 28, 65, 73, 83, 102, 126, 155, 164, 167, 170, 193, 198, 201, 202, 210, 216, 223, 227, 238, 246, 247, 248, 249, 275, 277, 280, 283, 285, 311, 320, 321, 329
- Zhou, Zeizhou, 15
- Zukin, Sharon, 12