

Index

- Abbott, Consul General George: and Indochina strategy, 119
- Acheson, Secretary of State Dean G., 197, 251; attack by Time, 75; support of Hiss, 104, 123; wary of public opinion, 110; meeting with Dewey, 110; Communist China policy of, 111; National Press Club speech, 117; as a Luce target, 121; as alleged appeaser, 123, 138; appointment of Dulles, 133; main interests in Europe, 133; on South Korea, 134; called a “bastard” by Luce, 136; and weaning China away from Soviets, 138; and a unified Korea, 139; on Indochina, 142–148; reprimand of MacArthur in 1945, 150; counters MacArthur testimony, 146–152; and the Vincent case, 180
- “Achesonism”: attack by Clare Luce, 164; purge of, 179, 181
- Adenauer, Konrad: visit to Moscow, 193
- Aid Refugee Chinese Intellectuals, Inc. (ARCI), 167
- Aldrich, Winthrop, 160
- Alexander, Roy: with Luce, 71, 163; with Luce and Truman, 135; on World War III, 136; on Luce’s bellicosity, 137
- Ali, Muhammed, 243
- Amerasia*, and Amerasia case, 47; vindication of Luce’s suspicions, 47; and Fred Field, 68
- American Bar Association, 177
- American Bureau for Medical Aid to China (ABMAC), 65; Kohlberg inquiry, 65
- “American Century,” 2, 17; Luce on, 1940–41, 33–34; reactions to, 33; and China as the ultimate test of, 34; vs. bipolarity, 5, 49
- American China Policy Association (ACPA): Kohlberg’s founding of, 68, 89; Clare Luce president of, 89, 109
- American Friends of Vietnam (AFV): and chairman General O’Daniel, 205
- American Military Mission in China, 108
- American society: after World War I, 23; during the McCarthy era, 126; the civil rights struggle in, 224, 233; changing more rapidly than Time, 233–234; the Pill and its implications, 233; riots in Los Angeles 1965, 234; anti-Communism in decline, 234; and the war in Vietnam, 234, 241–242
- Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), 125; on opening to China, 201
- Amoy (Xiamen), 190
- USS Anderson, 141
- Army of the Republic of Vietnam (ARVN), 215, 220, 231; hapless performance of, 231; U.S. deaths outnumber ARVN deaths, 237; desertions in 1965, 239
- Ascoli, Max, 160; The Reporter on the China lobby, 165; and the Luce media, 165; counterattack from Chinese agents, 165
- “Asia-firsters,” 1
- Associated Boards for the Christian Colleges in China (ABCCCC), 34, 62
- Associated Press, 20
- Association for Asian Studies, 241
- Athenia*, 316
- atomic bomb, 147, 153
- Auchincloss, Douglas: and the IPR, 67–70
- Austrian State Treaty, 193
- Bailey, Wesley “Wes,” 11
- Baldwin, Gov. Raymond, 46
- Ball, Under Secretary of State George W.: doubts about Vietnam, 229; on McNamara, 242
- Banks, Louis, on alleged sellout of China, 110

- Bao Dai, Emperor, 119; and Luce, 142, 144–148, 149, 166, 169; Time cover, 142–148; weaknesses, 183; struggles to survive, 188
- Baruch, Bernard M.: and Clare Luce, 27
- Beal, John Robinson, 61, 120, 140, 174; and Chiang, 54; with Luce in China, 71; on McCarthy, 126; and his charges, 129; on Lattimore's crime, 130, 131; on possible Chinese intervention, 145–150, 151; on China as a Soviet puppet, 147; on Democrats' concerns about Indochina intervention, 185; on Ho Chi Minh, 186; on the Formosa Straits resolution, 192
- Beaverbrook, Sir Maxwell Aitken, First Lord of, 226
- Beijing: and Communist takeover, 108
- Bell, L. Nelson: letter on China, 201
- Ben Suc, 238
- Bentley, Elizabeth: on Communist subversion, 103
- Benton, William, Assistant Secretary of State: and recruitment of the Luces, 91
- Billings, John Shaw, xv, 28, 176; on the Luce marriage, 14; on Luce, 15, 17–18, 31; on Clare Boothe Luce, 28; on Japan crisis, 38; ridicules Hurley, 53; on Luce's China anguish, 80, 250; on Time Inc. fighting Communism, 82; on Luce "purge," 82; dislike of Bullitt, 89; on Hiss, 104; belief in Chambers, 104; on Cold War "dementia" at Time Inc., 108; on discomfiture of former radicals, 122, 181; fears of nuclear attack on New York City, 123; on dread of war, 136; on shooting "gooks," 144, 149; on Luce's recruitment of MacArthur, 150; on Luce's "Greatness," 145–152; on Luce's views on Eisenhower candidacy, 160, 161; on Luce as editor and partisan, 176; on McCarthy destroying himself, 182; on Luce in a nostalgic moment, 239
- Birch, Captain John, 51
- Blaine, Anita McCormick "Auntie": and Leftist ties of, 159
- Blaine, James G., 65
- Blair, Clay, 143–149; on General Bradley's plan, 144–149
- Booth, Win: on Truman's large crowds, 99; reports Truman had won the Korean War, 139
- Bourke-White, Margaret, 25
- Bouvier, Jacqueline (Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Jackie Kennedy): marriage of, 209
- Bowie, Robert, 175
- Bowles, Chester: and desire for land reform, 225
- Bradley, General Omar, 144, 149; plan for Korea, 144–149; suspected by MacArthur, 145–151; counters MacArthur testimony, 146, 152
- Bridges, Senator Styles, 94, 121, 180; and stalling Vincent, 75; on China debacle, 100; sends a team to China, 101; on Hiss and Yalta, 123; on Truman and MacArthur, 138; calls for war with China, 145–151
- British China Inland Mission School, 22, 73
- Brokaw, Ann, 56
- Brokaw, George T. "Teddy": and marriage to Clare Boothe, 27
- Brownell, Herbert, 160
- Buckley, William F., Jr.: on Time, xiii
- Budenz, Louis F., 131–132; criticism of, 132
- Buell, Raymond L., 48
- Bullitt, William C., former ambassador: as Luce's emissary to China, 89–90; congressional testimony, 90; on Marshall's aid plan for China, 91; views echoed, 98; on a Communist China, 101; as Luce's man in Indochina, 118–119; on Ho Chi Minh, 118, 119
- Bundy, McGeorge, 93
- Burnham, James: In Life, 81–82; The Struggle for the World, 88; Wedemeyer and, 88–89
- Business Week*: on McCarthy boycott, 160
- Byrnes, Secretary of State James F., 53, 54, 79; praise from Luce, 80
- Cambodia, 187, 205; recognition of Red China, 205
- Carter, Edward C., "Ned": Secretary General of the IPR, 64; and Pacific House, 64, 69; confronted by Kohlberg, 66, 68; and Russian War Relief, 67; pro-Communist attitude of, 67–70; and Luce, 69–70, 74; congratulated by White, 83
- Castro, Fidel, 217
- Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), 123; and failure to foresee Korean invasion, 134; use of Time Inc. by, 193; and covert action, 196
- Century Group, 32–33
- Chamberlain, Neville, 29, 123
- Chambers, Whittaker, 3, 45, 70, 102–104; impact on Luce, 42–44; marriage, 43; and Time, 43, 50, 105–107; Chiang's critics, 43; attack on Teddy White, 43; heart attack, 50, 103; HUAC testimony, 103; and "George Crosley," 104; and "pumpkin papers," 105; final confrontation with Luce, 107; Witness, 107; vindication from Nixon, 162
- Chan, Anna: and marriage to Chennault, 94
- Chang Chun, governor, see Zhang Qun, governor
- Chen Cheng, General, 81; squabbles with Wu, 179
- Chen Chih-Mai, 165

- Chen Lifu, 54; on Marshall, 54; on Stuart, 61
- Chen Yi, General and governor, 81
- Chennault, General Claire L., 87; critic of Stilwell, 40; the Flying Tigers, 40; Fourteenth Army Air Force, 40; and praise for Hurley, 52; on aid for China, 94; business interests in China, 94; turns against Wu, 179
- Chennault, Mrs. Claire (Anna Chan), 246
- Chiang Ching-kuo, 166
- Chiang Kai-shek, Generalissimo, 25, 129, 134, 135, 144–149, 154, 161, 164, 188, 197, 222, 225, 235, 248, 251; as a Methodist, 25; cultivates Luce, 9; Luce's man of destiny, 26; as tutor to his people, 10; Time's "disinterested patriot," 34; attacks Communists, 35; Time blames the Communists, 35; defies FDR, 44; and the Stilwell recall, 44; survives 1945 defeats, 46; unprepared for end of war, 51; criticized in the U.S. Senate, 53; supported by Luce, 53; thanks Luce, 47; worried about Marshall, 55, 72; praises Stuart, 72–73; prepares offensives, 55; patience is ebbing, 60–61; weary of Marshall mission, 61; wary of Stuart, 61; his birthday in 1946, 72–73; Luce hopes to send aid, 79; march toward disaster, 84; Time on his troops, 101–102; Luce losing hope, 108; and Lattimore, 128; Time on his loss of support, 129; welcomes Korean crisis, 135; offers troops to MacArthur, 135; lessons drawn from his failure, 141; rejects nuclear offensive, 147–153; the China lobby, 165; happy to see Luce, 166; glorified in Luce's magazines, 166; unleashed by Eisenhower, 174; publishes a piece in Life, 175; praised by Robertson, 190; thoughts on nuclear war, 192; and alleged peace plan, 193; in Luce's abortive 1955 plan, 197; Soviet Russia in China, 199–200; no U.S. aid for invasion, 200; renounces unilateral use of force, 201; death of, 246
- Chiang Kai-shek, Madame, 10, 248; warning for Americans, 37, 38; caution for Marshall, 55; determination to fight on, 93–94; ignores Luce's advice, 101; desperate visit to U.S., 102; audience with Truman, 102; clash with Wu, 179
- Chicago Tribune*, 104
- Childs, Marquis: denounces Luce, 154
- China: military debacle in 1944, 42; Luce's vision of, 33–35; vast postwar problems, 51; elusive unity, 51; Dulles on, 1946, 58; U.S. embargo, 62; ruinous inflation, 84; embargo lifted, 84–85; American assistance, 90, 95; election-year aid bill, 94; Time's sarcasm, 94; negative news from, 5, 96; U.S. unwilling to intervene, 119; IOC withdraws recognition, 202
- China, Communist (See also People's Republic of China): Kennedy and Luce on UN issue, 214; as the real enemy, 216; support for Kim Il Sung, 134; North Korean success and, 135; abandonment of Marxism in, xiv
- China Air Transport (CAT), 94; history and purpose, 148–154
- China Institute in America (CIAI): Luce and, 154; and Chiang's government, 154; May 1951 dinner, 154
- China lobby, 1, 10, 42, 70, 190, 197; stymied by Marshall, 80–81; progress of, 138; pleased by Eisenhower's rhetoric, 163; Eisenhower's failure to embrace it, 170; arguments against admission of Red China, 177; Committee of One Million (COOM), 177–178; losing some of its clout, 202, 246; appalled by Nixon opening to China, 246
- China Weekly Review*: publication of letters denouncing Luce, 101
- Chinese Combat Command, U.S., 9
- Chinese Mass Education Movement, 159
- Chongqing, 9, 35
- Christian colleges in China: Luce's support of, 11, 34; fund-raising for, 62; and Marshall, 85; fate under the Communists, 120
- Christian missions in China, 12
- Christian Nationalists, 147, 153
- Churchill, Prime Minister Winston: conversations with Luce, 161; and the Soviets, 176; ridicule of Chinese, 176; desire for peace talks, 185; and Geneva, 187; on Sino-Soviet tensions, 200
- Clark, General Mark: warning against Asian war, 228
- Clark, Worth: and the China lobby, 165
- Cleveland Council on World Affairs, 79–80; co-hosted by Time, 79
- Clifford, Clark: and the China lobby, 165; warning of quagmire, 232; as Defense Secretary, 245
- Clurman, Richard, 222; in Vietnam, 222
- Cohn, Roy, 182; and G. David Schine, 182
- Cold War, 3; in Asia, casualties, 3
- Collier's Weekly*, 50, 158
- Committee of One Million (COOM), 197, 201; and China lobby, 177–178; and Luce, 178, 202; administration wary of, 178; and the 1956 party platforms, 198; on lobbying for Diem, 204
- Communism: in Russia, 23; Luce on, 5, 108; Eisenhower on, 163; as "Satan in action," 197–198

- Communists, in China, xiii; Luce's opposition to, 2; as "agrarian reformers," 10; attractive to some Americans, 42; offensive from Henan, 14; offensive from Shanxi, 14; sources of strength, 84, 97; Luce's unfamiliarity of, 12; rarely acknowledged by Time, 97; drive on Beijing, 100
- Communists, in the State Department: allegations of, 109
- Communists, in the United States: at the end of World War II, 58; Luce's eagerness to expose them, 58
- Conlon Report, 203
- Connally, Senator Tom: on Chiang, 53
- Corcoran, Thomas "Tommy the Cork," 94, 101; and the China lobby, 165; helps Diem, 204
- Corregidor, Life's "Gibraltar of the Pacific," 38
- Council for Democracy: Luce's support of, 38
- Council on Foreign Relations (CFR): Luce's speeches before, 53; and Communist China, 126
- Cronkite, Walter, 243; and CBS News Vietnam coverage, 243; vs. Time's coverage, 243
- Crusade for Freedom, 123; and the CIA, 123
- Cue* magazine: salutes Luce, 37–38
- Czechoslovakia, 147–153
- Dai Li, 59; as the "Chinese Himmler," 59
- Daily Worker*, 67, 68, 159; and a Time Inc. employee, 82
- Dairen, see Lüda
- Dalrymple, Jean: and affair with Luce, 15
- Danang: Marines foiled by the enemy, 230
- Davenport, Russell W., 25, 248; Willkie's campaign manager, 32
- Davies, John Paton Jr., 46, 133
- Dewey, Governor Thomas E., 57; Luce's influence on, 98; and Bullitt, 98; anointed by Luce, 4; defeat in 1948, 100; plan to send Luce to China, 110
- Diem, Ngo Dinh: celebrated by Time, xiii; Luce's promotion of, 194, 204; on the American mission, 194; and tough times after 1954, 194; standoff with generals, 194; abandons elections, 195; overthrows Bao Dai, 195; receives an award, 205; reelection, 206; the "Churchill of Asia," 216; cautious on U.S. troops, 216; unpopular in rural areas, 217; Time more critical of, 217
- Dien Bien Phu, 184–185, 186
- Donovan, Hedley: as Luce's successor, 226–227; and China policy, 229; doubts about Vietnam, 238, 244, 245; as Fuerbringer's replacement, 245
- Dower, John, 48
- Doyle, Robert: advocates recognition, 293
- Drumright, Everett, 173
- Dulles, John Foster, 98, 176, 251; working with Luce, 57–58, 98; and Christian principles, 57; "Thoughts on Soviet Foreign Policy . . ." 57–58; as State Department counselor, 133; and Communist China, 133; the Japanese peace treaty, 147, 153; and the CIAI dinner, 154; and Luce in 1952, 162; "A Policy of Boldness," 162; rejects containment, 162; and Republican foreign policy plank, 162; strong ties to Luce, 177; wariness of COOM, 178; moves against Vincent, 180; on Ho's weakness, 185; and dilemmas in Indochina, 185, 186; opposition to Red China recognition, 186, 187, 200; on the PRC, 188; on Quemoy, 190; strategy in the Straits, 191; "Man of the Year," 191; Luce's advice to, 192, 193; and "brinkmanship," 198; grave illness of, 202
- Duncan, David Douglas, 144–150; work in Life, 183–184; on the French "quagmire," 175, 183; article an embarrassment to Luce, 184
- Duong Van Minh, General, 223
- East Asia: balance of power shifts, 116
- Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA), 95
- Eden, Foreign Minister Anthony: and Geneva, 187
- Edwards, Dwight: and Kohlberg, 65; support for Rhee, 114
- Eighth Route Army, 59
- Eisenhower, President Dwight D. (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: Eisenhower), xiii, 182, 184, 187, 251; and Luce, 177; image in Time Inc., 158; public opinion savvy, 158; Time Inc. editors rally to him, 160; and support from Luce allies, 160; and refusal to run for presidency, 161; resignation to run, 161; no expertise on the Far East, 161; dismissal of MacArthur strategy, 161, 163; intention to unleash Chiang, 161; echoes Time Inc. on Asia, 163; call for a coherent policy, 163; "I shall go to Korea," 164; and Luce's editing, 164; electoral landslide, 164, 249; wariness of McCarthy, 170; appointment of Clare Luce ambassador, 173; agreement to Korean armistice, 175; criticism of Chiang strategy, 190; ambiguous response to Luce, 192; on defending Formosa, 192; criticism of Robertson and Radford, 192; peace and prosperity themes, 192–193; suspicion of Asia-firsters, 193; heart attack, 197; inaction on Hungarian revolt, 199; 1956 landslide, 199; promise to block Far East "Munich," 200; reflection on Quemoy crises, 312n7; on the military-industrial complex, 204; skepticism about fallout shelters, 204; on Diem as a

- “miracle man,” 205; retirement in 1961, 206
- Eisenstadt, Alfred “Eisie”: at Life, 29
- Elson, Bob: on the China aid bill, 92; with Luce in China, 71
- Emmet, Christopher: and Diem, 205
- Erskine, General Graves B. “Bobby,” 143–148, 149; on domino theory, 143–149
- Europe: and growing Cold War tensions, 92; Time and World War III, 92
- Fairbank, Professor John King, 229; and Teddy White, 35, 37, 73; on Yan’an, 42; detests Time Inc., 45, 60; on Marshall’s failure, 276n95; support for IPR, 66; and praise for “White Paper,” 110; accused of infiltrating Reds, 111; reaction to Time on McCarthy, 160
- Fascism, 23
- FDR, see Roosevelt, President Franklin D.
- Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI): and Lattimore, 128, 131
- Federal Council of Churches: and Luce’s view of, 57
- Field, Frederick V., 67, 68, 159; and The Communist, 68; and attacks on the IPR, 83; targeted by Kohlberg, 83; resignation from board, 84
- Finch, Kip, 98; on Formosa as a police state, 166
- Fishel, Professor Wesley, 195
- Fitch, Geraldine, and Rhee, 114
- Foreign Service officers, in the McCarthy era, 133
- Formosa, 135, 161, 190; 1947 revolt, 81; at first ignored by Time, 81; in Luce’s strategy, 133; Seventh Fleet, 135; MacArthur’s visit, 136; and U.S. aid to, 136, 147–153, 192; and buying arms, 138; Life compares to England in 1940, 192; in Luce’s abortive 1955 plan, 197; democratization lauded by Time, 200; and an uneasy compromise, 201
- Formosa Resolution, 192
- Forrestal, James V., Secretary of the Navy, then of National Defense, 61, 79; on the “American Century,” 38; call for American leadership, 80; and support for military buildup, 92
- Fortune*, 1, 9; Luce’s plan for, 25; articles on anti-Semitism, 29; circulation ca. 1940, 25; maps showing Japan’s advances, 34; confidence on postwar China, 51; on the American stake in Asia, 92; on a U.S.-led bloc, 113; influence on business elites, 113; backs Korea aid bill, 116; on the appeal of Ho, 119; dismissal of Bao Dai, 119; opposition to atomic bombs to liberate China, 192; Chiang on an “Asiatic Elba,” 192; on possibility of liberation, 215; on U.S. buildup in Vietnam, 231; on looming war with Red China, 232; on guns and butter, 233
- Frankfurter, Felix, Justice: support of Hiss, 104
- Fuchs, Klaus: arrest and confession, 123
- Fuerbringer, Otto, 163, 224, 233; managing editor of Time, 211; admiration for Nixon, 211; and Cuban missile crisis, 214; “blow the hell” out of the Communists, 222; on hearing JFK shot, 224; flirtation with Goldwater candidacy, 227; Time overrules him, 227; shunted aside, 245; replaced, 245
- Fulbright, Senator J. William, 233, 245; hearings derided by Time, 233
- Gallup polls, 146, 152, 191, 201; American reaction to the China debacle, 109; majority opposed to Red China in UN, 201
- Garside, B. A., 197; on the decline of USC, 120; attack on K.C. Wu, 179; attack on Nixon opening to China, 246
- Gart, Murray, 223
- General Motors, 178
- Geneva peace talks 1954, 187–188; Time warns Dulles, 187; Vietnam divided, 187; limits on foreign personnel, 187; agreement reviled by Time Incers, 188
- Geneva summit 1955, 193; and “The Spirit of Geneva,” 193
- “George Crosley,” 105
- Giap, General Vo Nguyen, 118, 168, 217; on war of attrition, 168
- Ginsberg, Allen, 240
- Goldsborough, Laird: coverage of Jews, 29; a permanent “sabbatical,” 29
- Goldwater, Senator Barry M., 4; disdained by Time Inc., 230
- Goodwin, William J., lobbyist for Nationalist China, 94, 165
- Gore, Senator Albert, Sr., 233
- Gottfried, Manfred: ridicule of Madame Chiang, 102
- Gray, William “Bill,” 12; warning on trouble in China, 12; advice from Luce on how to cover China, 13–14; on Chiang’s government, 59–60; reporting heavily edited, 60; with Luce in China, 71; on Formosa revolt, 81
- Great Britain: 1940, 4; as a junior partner, 39
- “Great Leap Forward,” 200; fiasco exposed by Fortune, 200; ridiculed by Time, 200; Mao’s retreat from, 202
- Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution, 241, 246; Time sees possible Chiang reconquest, 241; China convulsed by, 241
- “Great Society,” 248; and Luce’s admiration for, 224

- Griffin, Allen: mocks Madame Chiang, 102
- Griffith, Thomas “Tom,” 211–212; on JFK and RFK, 211
- Gromyko, Ambassador Andrei: on Russian policy at Time Inc., 43
- Grover, Allen, xiv, 146–153, 166; on Carter and the IPR, 83; on the board of the American Committee for the Liberation of the Peoples of Russia, 123, 294
- Grover, Bea: on Luce’s bad manners, 18
- Gruening, Senator Ernest, 233
- Gruin, Frederick, 43, 45; on Marshall’s frustrations, 59
- Grunwald, Henry A.: admiration for Chambers, 43; on Luce and Donovan, 227; as successor to Fuerbringer, 245
- Guatemala, and Time Inc., 193
- Gulf of Tonkin Resolution: alleged attacks, 227; Time’s endorsement of, 227
- Guomindang, 147–153; Luce’s faith in, 41, 166
- Hadden, Briton, “Brit”: and Luce, 23; “most likely to succeed,” 23; death of, 25; impact on Luce, 25
- Haiphong, 168
- Halberstam, David, xiv, 249–250; on growing hostility to Diem, 222
- Hall, Gus, 80
- Hanoi, 144–149, 168
- Harkins, General Paul D., 218
- Harriman, W. Averell, 85
- Harvard University: Time Inc. dispatches at, xiv; Luce on its Communist alumni, 104
- Hearst, William Randolph: on Time, 248
- Heath, Ambassador Donald R.: on protest of Duncan article, 184; on possibility of French victory, 184
- Hecht, Ben, and Luce, 23
- Henry Luce Foundation, 148, 154; and ARCI, 167; and Luce’s will, 245
- Herald Tribune* (New York), 158
- Hersey, John, xiv, 82; on meeting White in China, 35; on leaving Time Inc., 49; on the board of the AIPR, 284
- He Yingqin, former war minister: visit to Time Inc., 63; on favoring use of force, 63
- Hirohito, Emperor of Japan, 48, 49
- Hiroshima: atomic attack on, 50; affect on Luce, 50
- Hiss, Alger, 197; accusation by Chambers, 103–105; president of the Carnegie Endowment, 103; celebrated by Time and Life, 103; guilty of perjury, 123; Luce feels vindicated, 123
- Hitler, Adolf, 29, 30, 31, 74, 234; “Man of the Year,” 29; compared to Chinese Communists, 187
- Ho Chi Minh, 141, 142–148, 185, 186, 217; on his revolution, 141; no puppet of Stalin, 141; accepts recognition by Tito, 141; beholden to Moscow says Time, 194; McNamara on, 318; Americans’ refusal to see him as a Hitler, 234
- Hobson, Priscilla “Prossy”: as employee of Luce, 103
- Hodge, Lt. Gen. John R., 114; and use of police who served Japan, 115
- Hodgins, Eric, 49
- Hoffman, Paul G.: on hearing Kohlberg’s charges, 65; and the IPR, 83; Fortune’s favorite industrialist, 95; suspends ECA funding in China, 100; and ARCI, 167
- Holloway, Jerome: on Republicans and China, 121
- Hong Kong: refugees, 167
- Hoover, Herbert, former president: on Wedemeyer’s plan, 89; on Korea, 147–153, 154; attacked by Time, 142, 148
- Hoover, J. Edgar, xiii, 109; and antiwar demonstrators, 234
- Hotchkiss School, 29
- Hotel Metropole: terrorist bombing of, 236
- Hotz, Lila: marriage to Luce, 24; divorce, 28
- House Committee on Un-American Activities (HUAC), 103; and endorsement from Luce, 46; ridiculed by Time, 131
- Hughes, Emmet John: on Luce, 18; on joining Eisenhower’s campaign, 163; “I shall go to Korea” speech, 164; working for President Eisenhower, 170
- Hume, the Rev. Edward H.: and the CIAI, 154
- Humphrey, Vice-President Hubert H.: on the Viet Cong, 234
- Hungarian revolution, 199
- Hunt, Michael H., 252
- Hurley, General Patrick, 100; warning to FDR not to lose Chiang, 44; failing in China, 46; resignation of, 52–53
- Hu Shih: and the CIAI, 154
- Hutchins, Robert M.: on Time Inc., 248
- Independent Citizens’ Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions (ICCASP), 58
- Indochina, and French effort in: U.S. support for the French, 117; “Revolt in Saigon” in Life, 117; Lt. Col. Peter A. Dewey, killing of, 117; aid from Truman, 135; French Union, 142–148; more U.S. aid, 143, 148; French position crumbling, 175; looking for a way out, 185
- Indonesia, 143–149
- Ingersoll, Ralph M., “Mac,” 25
- Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), 64; used by Time Inc., 64; defiance of Kohlberg, 68; financial woes exacerbated by Luce, 82–83; and McCarthy, 126; and McCarran, 158

- Internal Security Act: support from Time, 133
- International Olympic Committee (IOC), 202
- International Volunteer Service, 245
- Iran, 55
- Iraq, xiv
- Isaacs, Harold, 47
- Jackson, Andrew, 216
- Jackson, Charles Douglas “C. D.,” 2, 201; on Clare Luce’s hysteria, 14, 15; chair of Free Europe committee, 123; on Luce visit to Eisenhower, 158; on joining Eisenhower’s campaign, 163; work for President Eisenhower, 170; finds Dulles dull, 170; call for Indochina intervention, 186; and loss of Southeast Asia, 188
- Jacoby, Annalee, 13; fired by Luce, 13; coauthor of book with White, 52
- James, Sidney: and Duncan on Indochina, 183
- Janeway, Eliot, xiv; on the IPR, 67–70
- Japan (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: Japan): nuclear attack upon, 9; imperiled if South Korea falls, 135; Stalin’s warning to Mao about, 145; avoiding alliances with Chiang and Rhee, 168
- Jennings, Peter, 230
- Jessup, John Knox, 193; and Eisenhower campaign, 163
- Jessup, Ambassador Philip C., 110; and the “White Paper,” 110; attacked by McCarthy, 126
- Johnson, General Howard K., 231
- Johnson, Louis, 165
- Johnson, President Lyndon Baines (LBJ): fear of losing Indochina, 186, 223; visit to Diem, 216; Red China as the real enemy in Asia, 216; as president, 224; relations with Time Inc., 224, 251; and civil rights, 224; Luce on, 224; Fortune on, 224; visit with Luce, 227; deceptions glossed over by Time, 232; endorsement from Life, 230; doubts about air campaign, 230; refusal to call up reserves, 231; selecting bombing targets, 235; and the “credibility gap,” 231; gives information to Luce, 234; bombing pause, 236; Luce remains supportive, 237; needs billions for war, 241
- Johnston, Senator Olin, 233
- Joint Chiefs of Staff: southeast Asia critical, 140; cautions MacArthur, 145–151; some scoff at Mao’s threats, 145, 151; on deployment of U.S. troops, 216; opposition from Kennedy administration, 216
- Joint State-Defense Survey Mission to Southeast Asia, 143–148
- Judd, Dr. Walter, 121, 154, 180, 197; supporter of Chiang, 41; praise for Luce, 41; and Kohlberg, 66, 67; against the IPR, 82; advice rejected by Eisenhower, 170; attack on K.C. Wu, 179
- Karnow, Stanley, 217
- Kastner, Joseph, 108
- Kattenburg, Paul: on America and Vietnam, 293
- Kennan, George Frost: good source at Time, 56, 113; “long telegram,” 56; on postwar Japan, 113; support for engaging PRC, 120; protecting the State Department, 133; and change in Time’s line, 133
- Kennedy, President John F., “Jack” (JFK) (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: Kennedy): “New Frontier,” 142–148; on Time views on Asia, 186; in AFV, 205; help from Luce, 209; early praise by Time, 316; Why England Slept, 209, 317; saluted by Time, 209–210; political encouragement, 317; marriage as reported in Life, 209; hard line on Southeast Asia, 210; tries for vice-presidency, 210; personal life protected by Time Inc., 210; 1960 campaign coverage in Time, 211; convinced people read Time, 212, 249; on Luce and his father, 212; a new China ploy, 214, 215; not ready to defy Luce, 215, 216; compares escalation to drinking, 216; on news coverage on Vietnam, 217–218; shocked by murders in Saigon, 223; debate about his Vietnam intentions, 223; assassination of in Dallas, 224; Luce’s fond recollections of, 224
- Kennedy, Ambassador Joseph P. “Joe”: and Japan, 50; on Korea, 142–148, 153; first meeting with Luce, 209–211; family celebrated in Life, 209; growing antipathy to FDR, 209; massive stroke, 213
- Kennedy, Robert F. “Bobby”: praise by Time in 1960, 211; on U.S. winning in Vietnam, 217
- Khe Sanh, 245
- Khrushchev, Nikita: and Sino-Soviet relations, 199
- Kim Il Sung, 117; and Korean People’s Republic, 115; on invading South Korea, 134
- Kimmel, Admiral Husband E., 38
- King, Dr. Martin Luther, Jr., 234, 244; Time on his antiwar activities, 234
- Kissinger, Professor Henry A.: inspection of South Vietnam, 232; and opening to China, 246
- Knowland, Senator William F., 121; on the Chinese resistance, 142–148

- Kohlberg, Alfred: business interests in China, 64–65; ally of the Guomindang, 65; as vehement anti-Communist, 65; says UCR pro-Communist, 65; on discrediting IPR, 65–66, 67; praise for Bullitt's article on China, 89; alliance with Judd and Luce, 67–68; attack on Ambassador Stuart, 68; religion of, 68; defense of Rankin, 68; and mobilizing Luce, 68–69; “My Dream of World History,” 68; IPR contest, 83; on Carter as a Communist, 83–84; and the Wedemeyer report, 89; his charges impress Luce, 108; and McCarthy, 128; on Lattimore as a paid agent, 128; brags about his influence, 202
- Koo, Ambassador Wellington: and China betrayed at Yalta, 80; and China on road to democracy, 80
- Korea (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: Korea, Korean War): Christian converts in, 114; disappointment at disunity, 114–115; rising U.S.-Soviet tensions, 115; largely ignored, 115; Luce's growing interest in, 115; and Soviet-trained army, 115; Luce on South Korea, 115, 116; U.S. and South Korean government, 115; bloody encounters and refugee problems, 116; U.S. seeks to help economy, 116–117; MacArthur's strategy on, 161
- Korean Provisional Government, 114
- Korean War: signs of North's buildup, 134; veterans of China revolution mass, 134; major battles in, 135, 138, 143–146, 147–149, 151, 152, 153; administration willing to sign truce, 154–155; casualties listed by Time, 155
- Kung, Dr. H. H. “Daddy,” 192, 250; tea with Luce, 9; and optimism about the civil war, 72
- Ky, General Nguyen Cao, 232; admiration for Hitler, 232; derided by a Johnson adviser, 232; called a “national hero” by Time, 232; stalls on constitutional government, 236
- Laguerre, Andre: tours battlefronts in Indochina, 141; almost killed in Saigon, 141
- Lansdale, Col. Edward, 195
- Laos, 187, 205; and Time Inc., 205; no Diem there, 205
- Lapham, Roger: China views conveyed to Luce, 99
- Larsen, Roy: and Time, 24; and the March of Time, 24; as protector of Time Inc. image, 105; mixed record on civil liberties, 122; and killing A. J. Liebling essay, 122; and suppression of Sterling manuscript, 122; praised by Luce, 122; on relocating Time Inc., 136
- Lattimore, Eleanor, 159
- Lattimore, Owen: advice to Truman, 47; defense of Soviet purge trials, 69; accused of fellow-traveling, 111; on recognition of PRC, 120; cited by McCarthy as agent, 127; and Johns Hopkins, 127; and his writings, 127–128; as editor of Pacific Affairs for the IPR, 127; and promotion of Soviet involvement, 127; views on China, 128; in Afghanistan for UN, 129; confrontation with McCarthy, 130–131; denounced by Budenz, 131; called a Communist infiltrator, 132; support by Truman, 159; 1934 meeting with Luce, 159–160
- de Lattre de Tassigny, General Jean, 144, 149, 168; and visit to New York and Luce, 168
- Lauterbach, Richard, 82; and Danger from the East, 59
- Lawrence, David, editor of U.S. News, 109
- “lessons of Munich,” 135
- liberals, and contempt for Time, 249
- “liberation” in Time, 142–148; as a slogan, 178
- Liebman, Marvin, 178; as liaison for COOM with Asian allies, 178; on U.S. keeping Chiang tethered, 201; meeting with Diem, 204
- Life*
- the magazine: Luce as publisher of, 1; audience, 9, 157–158; revenues, 158; as victim of new trends, 245; suspends publication, 245; Life's Picture History of Western Man, 158
- China: praise of Marines in China, 14; attack on idea of coalition, 79; American skepticism about China aid, 81; on “Japs” becoming Japanese, 112; imminent collapse of Chiang, 100; “Red China” as a Soviet pawn, 100; demand for reinstatement of Chiang, 135–136; on Truman, 198; MacArthur's flight to Taipei, 136; Chiang and the mainland, 138–139; confidence in MacArthur, 136, 144, 149; on Chinese troops near North Korea, 145–150, 151; call for victory in Korea, 164; support for bombing Manchuria, 164; and blockade of China coast, 164; on Rhee to control most of Korea, 164; and all one war, our war, 169; Luce's “America and Asia,” 174–175; “Formosa Gets Ready,” 174; on Red China threat to Japan, 174; fears for the fate of Formosa, 191; Nationalist Chinese fear double-cross, 191; on U.S. commitment on Formosa, 192
- Indochina and Vietnam War: U.S. involvement in, 183; possibility of victory, 184; and warning Dulles, 187; on all-out effort in Vietnam, 195; “brinkmanship” article 1956, 198; and Laos, 198; and

- Cambodia, 198; on Dulles saving Quemoy, 198; and Matsu, 198; article angered Democrats, 198; Eisenhower helps Dulles, 198; on the “dirty little war,” 215; parrots administration line on Indochina, 230; and Lin Biao, 232, 241; Ho’s war not Chinese-inspired, 232
- McCarthy and Communism: opposition to Mundt-Nixon bill, 121; criticism of loyalty boards, 121; on McCarthy hurting Democrats, 138; attacks on Taft re: McCarthy, 159; on use of nuclear weapons, 176; attack on book purges, 181; and gloating about end of McCarthy, 182
 - politics: and anticipating Dewey’s election, 99; on the 1948 Truman victory, 100; “The Case for Ike,” 161; Eisenhower on, 161
 - World War II: Life’s Picture History of World War II, 158; call for embargo on Japan, 34; as America’s window on the war, 39; popularity of “Big Red,” 39, 50; loved by armed forces personnel, 39; on blaming Americans for China’s defeats, 45; and its competitors, 50
- Lippmann, Walter: and opposition to MacArthur China plan, 142–143, 148
- Liu Liangmo, 153
- Lloyd, David, 125
- Lockett, Edward, 101; and covering Truman for Time, 46; on Leighton Stuart, 61; and COOM in 1956, 198
- Lodge, Senator Henry Cabot, 94; and supporting Eisenhower, 160; on possible Sino-Soviet split, 200; as ambassador to South Vietnam, 220; and encouraging a coup, 223
- Longwell, Daniel “Dan,” 50; on Luce’s quirks, 3, 17; importance of Life to the war effort, 38; on publishing in the event of a third world war, 136
- Look*, 50, 158
- Los Angeles Times*: on Time, 248
- Loyalty Review Board: reopens Vincent case, 180
- Luce, Clare Boothe
- biography and marriage: as ambassador to Italy, 2, 173; at Vogue and Vanity Fair, 27; darker side, 27; marriage to George Brokaw, 27; dazzling Luce, 28; troubled marriage to Harry, 14–16; leaves U.S. House, 14; conversion to Catholicism, 14, 16; witness to Luce’s “Declaration of Intent,” 156; death of daughter Ann, 16, 56; on perplexing contemporaries, 16; on making enemies, 16, 17; gossip about her at Time, Inc., 16, 17; and taking LSD, 240
 - China and anti-Communism: common ground with Luce, 16; and praise from the Hearst newspapers, 47; as the “American Winston Churchill,” 47, 67; denounced by Communists, 47, 48; conversion of, 56, 156; audience with Pope Pius XII, 56, 156; on impeaching any “traitor,” 57; and franking privileges for Chiang, 67; pushing husband to act on the IPR, 83; backer of Rhee, 114; and the Luce-Chambers confrontation, 106; praise for Chambers’s book, 107; president of ACPA, 109; “Mystery of American Policy in China,” 109; correspondence with MacArthur, 146–152; McCarthyite rhetoric, 164; Mao as a servant of the Kremlin, 169; Geneva as an American Dunkirk, 188; on “massive retaliation,” 188
 - China, changing views on China: PRC here to stay, 229; musings on Sino-Soviet rift, 229; support for Nixon trip to China, 246–247; claims Luce would have agreed, 247
 - Vietnam: on Madame Nhu, 205, 217; in AFV, 205; wit remains lethal, 226; on threatening nuclear war, 228; and Madame Chiang’s views, 228
 - World War II: on the Western Front, 1940, 31; China as a hard sell in America, 34; confusion about China, 37; as informal publicist for MacArthur, 36–37; as congresswoman, 12, 47–48; on the Luce’s work in China, 12
- Luce, Elizabeth, the future Beth Moore, 21
- Luce, Emmavail, 21
- Luce, Henry III, “Hank,” xiv, 24; Eisenhower wary of Chiang offensive, 174; worries about Vietnam casualties, 239
- Luce, Henry Robinson, “Harry” (see also Luce, Clare Boothe; Life; Time; Time Inc.)
- the American Mission: a global calling, 1, 2; exaggerated nationalism, 22; pro-Allied in 1914–1917, 22; obsessed by foreign policy, 2; opposed to bigotry, 22; glories in U.S. power, 12; on the USS Alaska, 12; American omnipotence, 13; “peace through law,” 177
 - biography: birth in China, 1; tonsillectomy, 21n; tours Europe, 22; schooling, 22, 23, 264; in ROTC, 23; commissioned by U.S. Army, 23; tapped for Skull & Bones, 23; tour of British Isles, 23; his first marriage, 25, 27; as millionaire, 25; in the Social Register, 29, 30; as Yale alumnus, 12; his first sabbatical, 134, 138, 146–153
 - personality and faith: personality traits, 3, 21–22; isolation of, 18; manner and occasional kindnesses, 18–19; health, 19; oblivious to pain and danger, 20; molded by Protestant Christianity, 1, 3, 21, 22, 63; fears for fate of missionaries, 63; considers conversion to Catholicism, 156–157

- Luce, Henry Robinson, "Harry" (cont.)
- later years: signs of wear, 173, 226; contemplating retirement, 226; affair with Jean Campbell, 226; Clare's refusal to grant a divorce, 226; wants Donovan as successor, 226–227; tour of East Asia, 228; Donovan free to revise China policy, 229; confused by the '60s, 234, 240; Communists behind demonstrations, 234; compared self to Bertrand Russell, 239; years in Phoenix, 239–240; weathering Campbell storm, 240; reading Teilhard, 240; debating theology with Murray, 240; committed to Vietnam, 240; experimentation with LSD, 240; resented Supreme Court on God, 240; despised Ginsberg, 240; happy in Oskaloosa, 240; faith in American mission, 240–241; last visit to Yale, 244; speech at Morehouse, 244; final days, 244; burial at Mepkin Abbey, 244; estate of, 245
 - achievements, influence, and legacy: and interpreting him in a post-Cold War world, xiv; influence and limits, 1, 4, 115; self-description, 247; place in history, 247–250; the newsmagazine, and Fortune, 247; changed attitudes toward race, 247–248; Willkie candidacy, 248; Time, 248; impact of Time Inc. on the culture, 248; turning opinion against Japan, 248; Marshall on Life, 248; United China Relief, 248; foreshadowed Marshall plan and Peace Corps, 248; coined terms "Great Society" and "New Frontier," 248; understood dark side of Chinese Communists, 250; prophet of American engagement in Asia, 248, 250; anti-Communism of, 248; as Dulles's best public relations outlet, 248; popularized terms "liberation" and "rollback," 248; role in rebuilding of Germany and Japan, 249; bested McCarthy, 249; helped make Eisenhower president, 249; his influence at its peak, 249–250
 - problematic and tragic aspects: blinded by new realities, 251; self-deception of, 251; an ardent, degraded idealism, 252; who lost China?, 249, 250; helped to engender McCarthy, 250; tried to prolong and widen Korean War, 250; intervention in Vietnam, 249, 250; unrealistic image of Chiang, 248, 249, 251; bias of, 251; missed sources of Mao's strength, 251; missed nature of Sino-Soviet tensions, 251; wrong about Chinese or Soviet control of Ho, 251, 252; accepted almost any ally against Communism, 251; misconstrued Asian nationalism, 252; missed nationalist-peasant alliances, 252; at times a salesman not a promoter, 252; flawed nation-making ideology, 252
 - China; China policy: modernizing and uplifting China, 3, 21–22; return to China in 1932, 25–26; hard to sell China to Americans, 20; created the legend of Chiang, 40–41; faith in the Guomindang, 41, 53; warned Soong, 41; the Stilwell recall, 45; confident about China 1945, 51; visit to China in 1945, 52; praised by the Chronicle of Beijing, 9; passport revalidated, 9; visited Methodist missionary compound, 9; philanthropic network in China, 10; isolation from the masses, 11, 13; banquet in Beijing, 11; almost assassinated in Tianjin, 11–12; alignment with administration, 53; humanitarian appeals, 55; and Marshall, 55, 79, 80–81; worried about Manchuria, 55; and U.S. combat forces in China, 14; visit to China in 1946, 71; dined with the Marshalls and the Chiangs, 72; praised by the Central Daily News, 73; insisted Chiang can prevail, 80, 89; anger at being stereotyped, 64; on Wedemeyer's mission, 88–89; failure of Alpha divisions, 88; Life sends Bullitt to China, 89–90; Luce's anger at Stimson, 93; illusions about President Dewey, 97; military advice to Chiang, 101; wary of Madame Chiang, 102; admitted Chinese want peace, 102; Formosa as a vital link, 138; praised Chiang's regime, 166, 175; China an American responsibility, 173; Chiang "unleashed," 174; hopes for liberation of China, 201; visit with the Chiangs, 228; and Quemoy, 228
 - Chinese Communists; Communist China: moving away from the United Front, 46; little interest in the Communists, 26; access to intelligence reports on Communists, 47; on keeping Soviets out of China, 48; underestimated Communist strength, 51, 53; meeting with Mao, 10–11; attacked in the opposition press, 72, 147–153; meeting with Zhou, 72; view of Communist China, 100; wanted beachheads around China, 134; foresaw new offensives, 139; on the Chinese not invincible, 142–148; reconsidered China policy in 1955, 191, 196, 197; and a response to Zhou, 197; and "Spirit of Geneva," 197; and implications of the reconsideration, 197; on sending reporters to China, 199; anger at State Department veto, 199; study group for the CFR, 203; dismayed by Presbyterian paper on China, 242; recognition of Red China as disaster, 228, 234; emphasizes China subversion, 228
 - Communism, domestic: on pro-Communists at Time Inc., 58–59; alliance with Cardinal

- Spellman, 57; beginning to see broader conspiracies, 123; Lattimore as an enemy of China, 131, 132–133; supports Chambers, 103; embarrassed by Hiss-Chambers affair, 104; dislikes liberals supporting Hiss, 104; Chambers's espionage agitates him, 105–107; decides to fire Chambers, 106, 107; suspects treason in the State Department, 108
- Eisenhower, President Dwight D.: expectations, 166; hopes to educate him on China, 166, 168; meeting with Eisenhower early in 1953, 169–170; Eisenhower vague about Korea, 169; and refuses to visit Taiwan, 170; hopes new administration will change the world, 170, 182; urgent message to Eisenhower, 191–192; avoids repeat of “White Paper,” 191, 192; wants U.S. to bomb Chinese bases, 192; frustrated by China policy, 193; worries about China policies, 177; containment not liberation, 203
 - Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR): growing doubts about, 66–67, 70; rift with Carter, 67, 68–69; new inquiry into the IPR, 69; threatens to break with the IPR, 69; turns against the IPR, 82–83
 - Japan: experience in Japan, 112–114; hostile to “Unconditional Surrender,” 49, 50; heretical plan for Japan, 48; doubts about the Japanese-American danger, 48; meeting with Truman and U.S. senators, 49; meeting with Kennedy and Spellman, 50; as guest of MacArthur, 112; a rare television appearance, 147, 153
 - journalism; Time Inc.: Luce's journalism, xiv, 22, 23–24; his objection to objectivity, xiv, 24, 222; wariness of “flat-earth” types, 131; at the Yale Daily News, 22–23; commissions from sales, 264; work in Baltimore, 23; emergence of Time, 23–24; relations with colleagues, 17–19; continuing involvement with Time, 20; the TIME formula, 20; ownership of Time Inc. shares, 20
 - Kennedy, John F.: protects JFK, 210; friendship with Joseph P. Kennedy, 211; warns JFK on Communism, 211; expects JFK to hold Vietnam, 211; admires JFK's style, 211, 212; dismayed by Bay of Pigs, 212; new foreword to JFK book, 213; and American dream fulfilled, 224; warm message from JFK, 224
 - Korea, Korean War: Korea, 114; concerns about Soviet troops there, 114; Korean War vindicates him, 135; desire for total victory, 135, 155, 167–168; credits MacArthur with victory, 146–152; desire for wider war, 144–149; rallies to MacArthur, 142, 148; visit with Rhee, 167; confers with Van Fleet, 167; visit with MacArthur, 145–151, 152; questions Korean armistice, 175
 - Luce, Clare Boothe: meets and marries, 27–28; works for Chiang's victory, 17; troubled marriage, 80; happiness in Rome with Clare, 173; affairs, 15–16
 - McCarthy, Joseph R.: early ambivalence toward, 126, 146, 152; denounces “Achesonism,” 126, 146–152; Communism worse than McCarthy, 146–152; plans to attack McCarthy, 159; McCarthy critics trouble him, 164; Republican victory best answer to McCarthyism, 181; on McCarthy's political demise, 182
 - Republican politics: ignores bad omens before the 1948 election, 99–100; later friendship with Wallace, 98; a sore loser in 1948, 100; pessimistic in 1949, 108; hopes to topple Truman and Acheson, 121, 143, 149; visit with Truman in July 1950, 135; Time soon back on the attack, 135; Republican partisanship, 121–122, 146, 152, 157; MacArthur not “Man of the Year,” 146, 153; MacArthur isolated on the right, 146–153; Korea as Republican opportunity, 138; needs a candidate for Life, 157; impressed by Eisenhower, 158, 160, 161, 162; turns to Dulles for foreign policy plan, 162; expects policy of liberation, 163; worried about Eisenhower campaign, 163; euphoria on a campaign train, 163; inspires biased campaign coverage, 163, 164; sends C. D. Jackson to help, 163; ecstatic about 1952 victory, 165, 166; unhappy with Goldwater, 227
 - Roosevelt, Franklin D.: meeting with, 29; supports much of early New Deal, 29; meeting with FDR again in June 1940, 32; promotes Willkie, 32–33; angry at, 33; learns of death of, 46
 - Soviet Union and the Cold War: visit to the Soviet Union in 1932, 26; doubts about U.S. Soviet policy, 46, 49; prophet of Cold War, 82; uses Dulles, 57–58; on Communism, the Bomb, and humankind, 92, 137; wants defense buildup, 122; works with Crusade for Freedom, 123; and “lessons of Munich,” 135; thinks about moving Time Inc., 136; advocates guns-and-butter, 137; bidding for Cold War victory, 188–189, 198; as spokesman for the military-industrial complex, 204; pushes for bomb shelters, 189, 204; unwilling to launch first strike, 204; shelters rejected by Eisenhower, 189, 204; accepts the “Spirit of Geneva” reluctantly, 193; as proponent of universal intervention, 193–194

- Luce, Henry Robinson, "Harry" (cont.)
- United China Relief; China philanthropies: fond memories of Chinese Christians, 26; dismisses Kohlberg's complaints, 65; philanthropic work for China, 85; Scranton speech on American redemption of China, 85–86; upset at fate of Christian Colleges, 120, 144–149
 - Vietnam; Vietnam War: search for alternative to Ho, 117–118; as a beachhead against China, 139; a crucial commitment, 141; and Bao Dai, 142, 148, 169; review of Time coverage of, 168; and the corruption of colonialism, 169; senses Vietnamese fear Chinese, 169; wants French to make reforms, while arming them, 169; on cleansing Asia of Reds, 144, 149–150; Indochina war to be won soon, 182; nation-making in Indochina, by the U.S., 182, 183, 188; Time reporting belies cables, 182, 183; vows to sell Diem to Americans, 194, 204, 205; sees attacks on Diem akin to assault on Chiang, 222; misconstrues Buddhist revolt, 223; Time's preference for Catholics, 223; persists in his support for the war, 225; wants greater U.S. role in 1964, 228; journey to Saigon, 228; argument with a Time correspondent, 228; on U.S. nation-building role, 228, 239; praise for new constitution, 242; ignores basic problems, 242
 - White, Theodore H. "Teddy": meeting with in China, 37; wishes he had fired White, 45, 60, 183; and Annalee Jacoby, 13; Luce calls him pro-Communist, 51
 - World War II: early relations with Jews, 29; tours Central Europe in 1938, 29; in Europe during the blitz, 32; "Reorganization of the World," 16, 17, 39; visit to the Pacific Theater, 48, 49; spends time with MacArthur, 49; plans for postwar foreign policy, 48; on permanent U.S. defense perimeter, 48
- Luce, the Rev. Henry Winters, 21, 92, 246; fund-raising, 21; and Yenching University, 11; with Leighton Stuart, 61; "Brief Outline of the History of Chinese Communism," 36; death on the night of Pearl Harbor attack, 38
- Luce, Peter Paul, 25
- Luce, Sheldon, 21
- "Lucepower," 12
- Lüda: Chinese government forces barred from, 51
- McCarran, Patrick: Time on, 158–159; and Subcommittee on Internal Security, 158–159; Lattimore a target of, 159
- McCarthy, Joseph R. (see also Luce, Henry Robinson; McCarthy), 4, 181; early Time coverage of, 124; background and character of, 124; hopes to embarrass Acheson, 124; speech in Wheeling and Time's reaction, 125; style and personality, 126; on the IPR, 126; and Lattimore, 127, 129, 130, 132; receiving information from Kohlberg, 128–129; attacked by Life, 129; attacked by Time, 129, 132, 159, 160; on Meet the Press, 132; Osborne's warning about, 144, 149; on Truman's dismissal of MacArthur, 145, 151; and the 1950 elections, 146–152; on Luce following the Communist line, 159, 181; researchers sloppy, 160; and striking back at Luce, 160, 181; criticism of from New York Daily News, 160; Luce on, 164; wilder charges and behavior of, 181; Eisenhower above the fray, 181
- McClure, General Robert B., 9
- McCormack, Cyrus Hall, 21
- McCormack, Nettie Fowler: and H.W. Luce, 21; and funding Christian colleges in China, 21; impression of young Luce, 21
- McCormick, Anne O'Hare: Mao not a Soviet puppet, 293
- McCulloch, Frank, 228; on war going badly, 222, 231; anger at New York editors, 235–236; long experience in Vietnam, 236
- McGarr, Lt. Gen. Lionel C., 215
- McLeod, Scott, 180
- McNamara, Secretary of Defense Robert S., 216, 237; Pentagon sees U.S. victory by 1965, 223; "stay as long as it takes," 224; later admission of misjudgments, 318; doubts about air attacks on Hanoi, 230; gloomy on war, 231, 236, 242; on the limits of technology, 237; shouted down at Harvard, 241; departure from Pentagon, 245
- McNaughton, Frank, 140; and good access to Truman, 46; on the Wallace candidacy, 98; on paltry aid for Chiang, 100; and exposure of Budenz, 132; on trouble for Democrats in 1950, 138; on the hate-Acheson crowd, 147–153; on MacArthur, 143, 145, 148; endorsement of Truman approach, 146–152
- MacArthur, General Douglas A., 48, 101, 138, 144–149, 150, 152; meeting with Luce in Tokyo, 71; Luce on, 112–113; and praise from Fortune, 113–114; on zaibatsu, 113; and support of U.S. withdrawal from Korea, 115; authorized to commit ground units, 135; visit to Formosa, 136; Truman quashes his initiatives, 138; authorized to move north, 139; victorious in Korea, 144–150; cautioned by Joint Chiefs, 145–151; and Clare Luce, 146–152; warning against

- appeasement, 142, 148; feuds with Truman, 144–145, 150–151; Truman and Acheson furious, 144–150, 151; on using Chiang's troops, 145–150, 151; “no substitute for victory,” 145–150, 151; on learning of dismissal, 145–150, 151; country rallies to him, 145, 151; return to U.S., 145, 151; testimony in Washington, 146–152; on his spell dissipating, 146–153; Eisenhower's rejection of Far East plan, 163, 170; compared to de Lattre, 168; warns against Asian land war, 228
- MacLeish, Archibald, 25; on anti-Semitism, 29; on Luce's anti-Communism, 50
- Macdonald, Dwight: on Time and Luce, 27; on the magazine's lack of credibility, 248; on Luce and race, 247–248
- Magsaysay, Ramon: impresses Luce, 169; subsidized by the CIA through Time Inc., 169; “writes” article for Life, 169
- Manchuria: Japanese conquest, 26; Luce on, 12; Russians overrunning, 50; and blocking Chiang's forces, 51; Chiang plans offensive, 59; Wedemeyer plan, 88
- “Manchurian Manifesto,” 68
- “Man of the Year,” 191, 235
- Mansfield, Senator Mike: warning against Vietnam escalation, 225
- Mao Zedong, 35, 40, 100, 141, 217, 228; meeting Luce in 1945, 10; and occupation of Changchun, 59; as totalitarian, 74; hard line with the U.S., 111; on departure of Stuart and arrival of “White Paper,” 291; proclaims People's Republic, 116; and Stalin, 134, 293; and Lattimore, 127; North Korea and, 134; and support for attack on South Korea, 134; aid to Vietnam, 140; threatened by MacArthur advance, 145–151; Time's cover, 147; called Soviet puppet, 147–153; rankling the Soviets, 200; Time's hostility toward, 241; on America and fear of Soviets, 246; death of, 246
- March of Time*, 9, 50, 166; glorifies Chiang's reforms, 166
- Marcos, Ferdinand: celebrated by Time, 169
- Marines, U.S.: killed in China, 62; leaving China, 80
- Marshall, George C., General and Secretary of State, 44, 53, 121, 144–146, 149, 150, 151, 152; on Time Inc.'s influence, 30–31; praise for Life's role in preparedness, 38; warning of war with Japan, 38; mission to China, 53, 54–55; criticized by Chen Li-fu, 54; use of Time Inc. people, 54; friendship with Zhou, 55; skepticism about aid to China, 91; proposal for limited assistance, 91, 92; failure in China, 60; warning Chiang, 70; recalled by Truman, 79; Secretary of State, 79; criticism of government and the Communists, 59, 79; as honorary chairman of UCR, 62; on Luce being “taken for a ride,” 79; opposition to deeper involvement in China, 80–81; “Marshall Plan” address, 85; attacked by Time on China, 101; agrees that Chiang is finished, 102; accused in conspiracy theory, 128; suspected by MacArthur, 145, 151; countered MacArthur testimony, 146–152; and ARCI, 167; on Life, 248
- Martin, Rep. Joseph W., Jr.: on Chiang's army, 142–148; and seeking MacArthur's opinion, 144–151
- Mateer, Calvin, 63, 157
- Matsu, 192–197
- Matthews, Thomas “Tom,” 164; on Luce, 17, 157, 166
- Mays, Dr. Benjamin E., 244
- Mecklin, John, 185; on North Vietnam invasion, 194; on Diem blocking elections, 194; head of United States Information Service in Vietnam, 222
- Medina, Harold Jr., 105
- Meet the Press*, 132
- Melby, John: vs. Luce on changing China, 5; and Joint Survey Mission, 143–148; Indochina a “nightmare,” 143, 149; complaints about the French, 299
- Mendes-France, Premier Pierre: and Geneva, 187
- Military Assistance Command in South Vietnam, 218; pledged to win hearts and minds, 218
- Mitsubishi, 113
- Mitsui, 113
- Mohr, Charles “Charlie,” 222; report on Diem clan, 220; with Luce in India, 222
- Molotov, Foreign Minister V.M., 193
- Moore, Elizabeth “Beth,” 99; and the CIAI, 154; and ARCI, 167
- Moore, Maurice “Tex,” 31
- Morse, Senator Wayne: on investigating China lobby, 165
- Moyers, Bill, 237
- Mundt, Representative Karl, 103; Hiss as anti-Chiang, 104; Mundt-Nixon bill, 121; ridiculed by Time, 131
- Murphy, Charles J. V. “Charlie”: “China Reborn,” 14; plans for Life articles on China, 63–64; on Chiang as “great man,” 64; on Luce and Marshall, 64; on shift in U.S. strategy under Kennedy, 215; U.S. Army Special Forces to train ARVN, 215; pleased with JFK on South Vietnam, 216; on lack of U.S. Army preparedness, 231; criticism rejected by Fortune, 235; on elusiveness of Viet Cong, 231

- Murray, the Rev. John Courtney, 156–157, 240; a favorite of Time, 156
- Murrow, Edward R., 37
- Mussolini, Benito, 31
- Mydans, Carl, 144–150
- Nagasaki, 50
- Nanjing, U.S. embassy in, 5; evacuation of, 101
- National Committee for a Free Europe, 123; chaired by C. D. Jackson, 123
- National Laymen's Committee for the Restoration Fund of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., 177
- National Liberation Front (NLF), 218, 230, 232
- National Presbyterian Church, 177
- National Security Council (NSC): and fears of Communist victory in Indochina, 140; on use of nuclear weapons there, 185
- National Socialism, 23
- nation-building, nation-making, xiv, 3
- Navarre, General Henri, 183; "light at the end of the tunnel," 183; and Dien Bien Phu, 184–185
- Navarre Plan, 183
- Nehru, Prime Minister Jawaharlal, 138
- Neville, Robert, 147–153
- New Asia College, 120; and Luce, 167; and its site in Hong Kong, 167
- The New Leader*, 128
- Newspaper Guild at Time Inc.: Communists in, 42
- Newsweek*: different take on China, 47; more critical of Chiang, 47; coverage of China's civil war, 109; challenge to Time, 247
- New York Daily News*: criticism of McCarthy, 160
- New York Post*: praise for Time story on McCarthy, 160
- New York Times*, 94, 128, 250; on State Department China policy, 108, 138; on the "White Paper," 110; on the China lobby, 165; China coverage of, 166; regional editions, 247
- Nhu, Madame Ngo Dinh, 217, 220
- Nixon, President Richard M., 103; investigation of Chambers, 104; as vice-presidential candidate, 162; selection vindicated Chambers in Hiss case, 162; feels betrayed by Time Inc. in 1960, 211; admired by Fuerbringer, 211; and opening to China as president, 246
- Nolting, Ambassador Frederick, 216; leaving Vietnam, 220
- North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), 199
- North Korea, 134; military buildup, 134; belittled at State Department, 134; CIA fails to foresee its attack, 134
- Occidental College: Luce's address at, 187; massive evil of Red China and Red Russia, 187
- Office of Strategic Services (OSS), 111
- Office of War Information (OWI), 42; Lattimore at, 128
- Osborne, John, 50, 133, 149; on low morale on Formosa, 136; and fears of Chiang's secret police, 136; censorship of Life article, 136; on Korea and Asia, 144, 149; criticism of Formosa regime, 166; on Communist takeover in northern Vietnam, 186; on U.S.-crafted plan to contain Chiang, 193
- Oskaloosa, 240–241; Luce at William Penn College, 240–241
- Overseas Chinese, 167
- Patterson, Morehead, 23
- Pax Americana*, 239
- Pearl Harbor: visit by Luce in 1941, 38; Luce learns of the attack on, 38–39
- Pearson, Drew: on the China lobby, 165
- Peekskill riot, 122
- Pegler, Westbrook: critic of Luce, 104
- People's Republic of China (PRC) (also Red China, Communist China), 229; Time's view of as Soviet-dominated, 120, 147–153; mass killings in, 147–153; Neville foresees commune horrors, 147–153; Truman more hostile to, 147–153, 154; and Japan, 174; and visas to American correspondents, 199; "let a hundred flowers bloom," 200; "Great Leap Forward," 200; new bombardments of Quemoy, 200; suspension of bombardments, 201; U.S. experts advocate recognition, 241; but Time remains hostile, 241; and Lin Biao doctrine, 241; Mao incorrigible, 241
- Philippines, 143–149; overseas Chinese and, 167; as an American success story, 169; and Time Inc., 193
- Pirnie, Lee & Company: activity in China, 94
- Pius XII, 56, 156
- Plain Talk*, 68; distributed by Clare Luce, 68; received by Forrestal and MacArthur, 68
- Poland, 58
- Political Consultative Conference, 54
- Pravda*: attacks on Luce, 153
- Presbyterian Church: "Consultation Study Paper on China" attacked by Luce, 242
- Pressman, Lee: denigrates Chambers and Luce, 104
- Price, Boyce P., 69
- Price, Byron: criticism of the Time formula, 24

- Price, Harry B.: on American-run aid program for China, 91; leaks memo to Luce, 91; pessimism about China, 99
- Progressive Party convention 1948, 98
- Puerifoy, John: and McCarthy's charges, 125
- Pyongyang, 145–152
- Qingdao: evacuated by U.S. Navy, 100
- Quemoy (Jinmen), 190, 192; Luce demands U.S. action, 190; and Dulles, 192; Life on British appeasement, 190 public opposition to involvement, 191; new bombardment of, 200; Chiang's fighters defeat the enemy, 200; resupplied by U.S. Navy, 200; Dulles on U.S. use of force, 200
- Radford, Admiral Arthur, 192; and K.C. Wu, 179
- Ramparts We Watch*, 32
- Rankin, Karl, ambassador to China, 173
- Rather, Dan: growing skepticism about Vietnam, 232
- Reader's Digest*, 58
- Reagan, Ronald: on Communism and democracy, 121; and Screen Actors Guild, 121
- Republican Party: and Luce, 1, 4; 1952 convention, 161–162; the “Texas steal,” 162; Time accuses the Taft forces, 162
- Rhee, Syngman, 164: his American supporters, 114, 115; support from Luce, 115; and U.N. recognition, 116; denounced by Lattimore, 128; plans for a unified Korea, 139; praise from Time, 139; eagerness to see Luce, 166; and Liebman, 178; on war with Red China, 188
- Richardson, Sid: and Luce's project, 177
- Ridgway, General Matthew, 195
- Robertson, Walter, 192; Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, 173; praise from Time Incers, 173; opposition to Yalta and China arms embargo, 173; Zhou Enlai as a cutthroat, 173; on solidarity of Sino-Soviet alliance, 173; confidence in Chiang, 179, 190; tries to appease Time, 191
- Rockefeller, John D., “Mr. Junior”: and meeting with Rev. Luce, 21
- Rockefeller Foundations: and ARCI, 167
- Rogers, Will Jr.: on the American Century, 98
- “Rollback,” 142, 148
- “Rolling Thunder,” 230, 235
- Roman Catholic Church: and Luce, 3, 156, 196
- Roosevelt, Eleanor: and support of Hiss, 104
- Roosevelt, President Franklin D. (FDR) (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: Roosevelt): meetings with Luce, 30, 32; dislike of Time and Life, 30, 33; Luce's views on, 30, 33, 46, 227; musings about China, 41; Rep. Clare Boothe Luce on, 47; Luce and the destroyer deal, 4, 33; World War II as the “war for survival,” 39; refusal to recognize Rhee, 114; but favors eventual Korean independence, 114; and Indochina, 117; appointment of Lattimore, 128; and Yalta, 101, 193; death of, 46, 145–151
- “Roosevelt Recession”: Time Inc. on, 33
- Roosevelt, Theodore, 92; venerated by Luce, 1
- Root, Elizabeth, the former Henry R. Luce's mother, 21; settles with the Rev. Luce in Dengzhou, 21
- Ross, Charles, 9, 52
- Rowe, Professor David: and support for IPR, 66
- Rusk, Dean: warning Time Inc. on McCarthy, 143–149; main speaker at CIAI dinner, 154; attacks on Red China, 154; New York Times on end of “White Paper” policy, 154; and the Rockefeller Foundation, 167; support from Luce as Secretary of State, 212
- Russell, Bertrand, 239
- Russian War Relief, 67
- Saigon, 142–148: Caravelle Hotel, 222; depicted as corrupt by Time, 225
- Salisbury, Harrison, 49, 242
- Salisbury, Laurence, 67, 90, 91
- Saturday Evening Post*, 50, 158; publication of Witness., 107
- Schine, G. David, 182
- Schlamm, William, 42
- Schlesinger, Professor Arthur M., Jr.: on the “Time Inc. ethos,” xiii; aids in Luce's anti-Communist struggle, 58; on Time campaign coverage, 212
- Senate Armed Services Committee: MacArthur testimony, 146, 152
- Service, John S. “Jack,” 46, 133
- Sevareid, Eric: on Luce as promoter of China aid, 101
- Severinghaus, Rev. Leslie R., 25
- Shandong: Communists in, 10
- Shanghai, 12
- Shanghai Evening Post*: attack on Life, 101
- Shaplen, Robert, 47
- Sheehan, Neil, 222
- Sheen, Father Fulton J.: and Clare Luce, 56; on Communism, 56–57; appeal to Time of, 57
- Shemitz, Esther, 43
- Shepherd, Major General Lemuel: and Luce's recollection of, 13
- Shepley, James: hour of decision in China, 14; and the Marshall mission, 54; leaks to Time Inc., 54; on Chiang, 96; on the Lattimore hearing, 131; on bold Korea move, 134; U.S. could lose nuclear war, 137; undermining Wu, 179

- Sherrod, Robert “Bob,” xiv, 140, 146–152, 158; report on coming Japanese attack, 38; in Indochina for Time, 118
- Short, Rep. Dewey: and MacArthur as “a great hunk of God,” 151
- Sidey, Hugh, 212, 213; and Lyndon Johnson, 224, 242
- Sihanouk, Prince Norodom, 205
- Sino-Soviet relations, 175; solidity of, questioned by Henry Luce III, 175; effect of Khrushchev speech, 199; Churchill tells Luce of trouble, 200; Rockefeller Brothers Fund, 203; Time coverage of, 203
- Sino-Soviet Treaty 1945, 51–52; Luce and Time optimistic about, 51, 52
- Sino-Soviet Treaty 1950, 121; and Mao as Soviet ally, 121
- Smedley, Agnes: on Time Inc. support for Chiang, 44
- Smith, Howard K.: and Luce interview, 230
- Smith, Senator Margaret Chase: on McCarthy, 132
- Smith, Walter Bedell: on poor French performance in Indochina, 185
- Snow, Edgar: visit to China in 1960, 199
- Snow, Mrs. Edgar, 67
- Sokolsky, George, 108
- Soong, Madame: and lavish dinner for Stuart, 71–72
- Soong, Mei-ling, “Madame Chiang,” 10, 25
- Soong, T. V., 25, 41, 71, 81, 197; assures Luce on Communist defeat, 26, 72
- Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), 188
- South Vietnam: flawed reporting on, xiii; State Department pessimistic about, 194; difficult times after 1954, 194; 450,000 refugees in, 194; limited U.S. support for, 194; intensification of war in 1961, 215; infiltration by North Vietnamese, 215, 216; and Diem, unpopularity of, 215; more U.S. Army advisers to, 216, 218; U.S. planners see China as the enemy, 216; Time Inc.’s desire for more troops in, 217; Buddhist uprising in, 220; ramifications of backing Diem, 223; Buddhists and Viet Cong versions of nationalism, 223; infiltration of more enemy troops into, 230; Time thinks bombing would slow down the rate, 230; U.S. troop level estimates, 231, 232; ascendancy of Ky, 232; economy unhinged by the war, 235; but Fortune on opportunity for U.S. firms, 236
- Soviet Union (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: Soviet Union), xiv, 175, 202; Luce’s growing fear of, 2, 49; blamed by Luce for bad relations, 55–56; blocks distribution of Luce magazines, 82; troops in northern Korea, 114; air division to arrive in Manchuria, 145, 151; peaceful coexistence and Time, 175, 193; more SAMs in North Vietnam, 236
- Spaatz, General Carl “Tooe,” 71
- Spellman, Archbishop: and Cardinal Francis, 50; alliance with Luce, 57; and Sheen on Communism, 57; on America, 80
- Stalin, Joseph V., 43, 74, 137, 173; famine and collectivization, 26; possible concerns about Mao, 108; Luce’s antipathy to, 67; and Korea, 116, 117; has the Bomb, 116; and Mao, 293; support of Korean invasion, 134; recognition of Ho, 140; collusion with Mao on intervention, 145, 151
- State Department, U.S.: special committee on China, 120; Fairbank’s role in, 120; on use of U.S. troops in South Vietnam, 216; on increasing support for Diem, 217; Viet Cong more numerous and bolder, 220; on death of Americans in Vietnam in 1962, 220; “Huey” pilots engaged in combat, 220; pessimism about Vietnam in 1963, 223
- State of Vietnam, 142–148
- Steele, John: enthusiast for the Vietnam War, 235; defending Johnson’s veracity, 235; U.S. supports self-determination, 235; praised by Johnson, 235
- Sterling, Dorothy: Leftist critic of Time Inc., 122; manuscript blacklisted by Larsen, 122; on Luce the interventionist, 249
- Stevenson, Adlai E., 165, 166, 197, 243; attacked by Time, xiii, 163, 211; tied to Hiss by Clare Luce, 164; defeat in 1952, 164
- USS Stickell, 141
- Stillman, Charles L., 95–96
- Stilwell, General Joseph W., 87, 93, 179; in Burma in 1942, 39–40; contempt for Chiang, 39; on Communists’ fighting potential, 40; enjoys Marshall’s confidence, 40; attacked by Time, 101
- Stimson, Colonel Henry L.: meeting with Luce about China, 93; highly critical of Chiang and supportive of Stilwell, 93; and the CIAI, 154
- Stripling, Robert, 104; subpoenas Chambers-Hiss documents, 105
- Stuart, Ambassador Leighton, 61; ineffective ambassador, 61, 72–73; admiration for Chiang, 61; feted by Soong, 72; Communists un-Chinese, 72; and Wedemeyer, 88
- Sun Yat-sen, 25
- Sun Yat-sen, Madame, 120
- Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers (SCAP), 112

- Swanberg, W. A., 249–250; Luce and His Empire, 250; indicts Luce for Vietnam, 250
- Symington, Assistant Secretary of War Stuart, 71
- Tachen Islands, 191; evacuation of, 192
- Taft, Senator Robert A., 162; on the importance of the Far East, 94; Taft-Hartley Act, 99; support for McCarthy, 125; criticized by Life, 125; on the Korean defeat, 148–154; his isolationism worries Luce, 157
- Teilhard de Chardin, Father Pierre, 240
- Tet Offensive, 243; and press restrictions, 243
- Thomas, J. Parnell: and HUAC, 131
- Thompson, Edward “Ed”: on obeying Luce at Life, 4; warns U.S. nuclear arsenal inadequate, 137; and criticism of Chiang’s article, 175
- Thrasher, Corinne: no affection for her boss Luce, 18; on Luce becoming a Catholic, 156
- Tianjin, U.S. Navy at, 11
- Time Inc.
- the company, its readership and influence: diversity of its magazines, 3–4; saliency as a factor in its influence, 4, 146–152, 249; prosperity after the war, 20; Luce management style, 27; as a generous but patriarchal employer, 27, 263; stock appreciation, 25; expansion of employee rolls, 137; prosperity during Kennedy era, 223
 - China: warns of a Soviet China, 85; on fall of, 90; alliance with General Chennault, 94; poor framework for understanding China, 97; on Chinese guerrillas ready to follow Chiang, 142–148; volume of China coverage usually outstrips rivals, 166–167; on the PRC vs. Guomindang, 166
 - civil liberties: sometimes critical of the FBI as a “budding Gestapo,” 121; but supports the Smith Act, 122; demands sexual conformity, 122; less committed to civil liberties, 181
 - Indochina/Vietnam War: Indochina a critical test, 143, 149; largely ignores a cautionary voice on Indochina, 144, 149; propaganda for Diem, 204; on need for U.S. to fight in Vietnam, 218; usually ignores roots of the revolution, 218
 - Korean War: attacks withdrawal option in Korea, 148, 154; Your Stake in Japan, 147–153
 - Soviet Union, Cold War: Luce out to purge Communists, 82; speculation about a wider war, 136–137; sometimes an arm of U.S. foreign policy, 193; sometimes used by President Kennedy, 214
 - World War II: massive campaign for rearmament appreciated by General Marshall, 31; on the heroic Soviet ally, 42–43; Luce proud of its war effort, 50; wartime growth and profits, 50
- Time*
- Style, readership, bias: meaning to the author of, xiii; emergence of, 9, 23–24; influence of, xiii; and its limits, 249; creates new words, 24; early profitability, 24; upscale readership, 24; copy filtered through Luce’s prism, xiii; hostile to Democrats, xiii, 98; attacked by professors for its bias, 100; its formula, 30; circulation in 1936, 30; alternative to isolationist press, 30; flawed journalism in, xiv; advocacy by, xiv; “pony” editions, 9; its audience in 1945, 20; circulation 1945, 50; no longer unique national medium, 247; challenged by Newsweek, 247; great age of influence passes, 247; its readership in 1965, 233; many readers had fought in World War II, 233; its growing army of critics, 243–244
 - China: U.S. committed to China, 12; wants vast U.S. economic and military aid, 53; cover on Marshall in 1946, 55; warns against Soviets seizing China, 63, 85; optimistic about the civil war, 81; but sometimes provides troubling anecdotes, 84; wants aid with few strings, 88; reluctant to expose the China lobby, 95; instead exposes those losing China, 100–101; declares war on Communist China, 108; on Soviet policy in China, 108; understates Mao’s autonomy, 293; on mass murder in China, 147, 153; correspondents cautious on China issues, 175; attacks K. C. Wu, 179; and attacks Vincent, 180; opposes weak policy in East Asia, 191; thinks Dulles might defend Quemoy, 192; praises Eisenhower for Quemoy stand, 201; on the plight of Catholics in China, 201–202; sees signs of moderation in China, 202; but sticks to its policies, 202; admits Sino-Soviet relations have gone sour, 203, 214; concedes China may change, 245
 - Indochina, Vietnam War: hopes for Indochina autonomy, 117; explains away bad news from Indochina, 118; favors U.S.-led regional bloc, 119; see Philippines as a model, 119; sees more U.S. involvement, 140; reasons for intervention in Indochina, 141; U.S. destroyers in Saigon provoke riots, 141; U.S. must engage in Vietnam, 141–142; U.S. presence in Saigon growing, 142, 148; cover on Bao Dai, 142–148; might need to deploy U.S. troops, 142, 148; gap between its facts and its conclusions, 142–143, 148;

Time (cont.)

insists Red China a key to Indochina, 143–149; admits enemy strength, 168; on Giap's tactics, 168; demands greater U.S. involvement, 168; plays down Ho's nationalist appeal, 169; praises Vietnamese elections, 182; calls for attack on Red China, 184; foresees American bloodshed in Indochina, 184, 187; no full-time reporter in Hanoi, 184; on possible use of nuclear weapons, 185; reports American carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin, 185; ignores Ho's fear of China, 186; fears Free World retreat at Geneva, 187–188; lauds Diem, 194, 204–205; boosts the image of Madame Nhu, 205; pushes for more U.S. aid, 195; Diem's battle against the sects, 195; but some anecdotes show Vietminh strength, 195; used material supplied by Fishel, 195; Diem depicted as wildly popular, 195; Washington should stand by him, 195; reads Gandhi and is a devout Catholic, 195; free to overthrow Bao Dai, 195; U.S. needs new kind of military, 195–196; obsessed with counter-insurgency, 195; Lansdale celebrated for his work in Asia, 195, 196; celebrates Diem's South Vietnam, 206; but guerrilla threat rising, 206; magazine contradictory on Diem's "agrovilles," 206, 217; Diem the "father of his country," 206; asks if Marines would be fighting in the jungles, 206; intends to put pressure on Kennedy, 206; warns against abandoning Diem, 216; but more critical of him, 217; Mme. Nhu responds, 217; derided as Joan of Arc, 217; says Diem cannot win, 1962; wants more U.S. troops in Vietnam, 217, 220; moments of doubt, 218; but aggressors must not be appeased, 218–220; reports on first Americans to die in battle there, 220; Time worried about Buddhist troubles; reports Mme. Nhu comment, 220; reports coup coming, 220–222; Fuerbringer hopes for massive U.S. intervention, 222; attacks U.S. press in Saigon, 222; Mohr resigns, 222; admits war cannot be won by 1965, 223; spares readers Johnson's crudeness, 224; muses about American takeover of war, 225; supports air attacks on the north, 225, 239; ignores implications of its own facts, 229; admits Ho plays off Chinese against Russians, 229; China trying to avoid clash with the U.S., 229; but magazine insists Red China the enemy in Vietnam, 229, 232–233; complains about Johnson's caution, 230; uncertain about Viet Cong casualties, 234–235; downplays Soviet presence in North Vietnam, 233; attacks U.S. antiwar protesters, 233, 234; attacks Arthur Miller,

234; on the need for some kind of military success, 235; its burgeoning Saigon bureau, 236; but victory remains elusive, 236; despite huge U.S. buildup, 239; Time sees need for more troops, 236; its euphoria fading by winter of 1966, 236; admits Saigon a cesspool and vulnerable, 236–237, 242; sees Buddhist activists as dupes, 237; admits massive infiltrations, 237; and political anarchy, 237; depicts wounded children, 237; and the burning of Ben Suc, 238; advocates a universal "Pax Americana," 239; admits Beijing influence ebbing, 241; talks about 750,000 troops in Vietnam, 241; scolds European critics, 242; says Hanoi duped Salisbury, 242; Fuerbringer demands a bigger war, 242; attacks Ali, and salutes African Americans serving in Vietnam, 243; the growing gap between propaganda and reality, 243; its credibility undermined, 243, 245; but still insists war a noble battle against China, 243; after Luce's death magazine becomes more objective, 245; "The Limits of U.S. Power," 245; by 1968 advocates phased withdrawal, 245–246; no longer omniscient, 246; its reform a blow to China lobby, 246; supports Paris peace accords, 247; no remorse when South Vietnam falls, 247

—Korean War: ignorance of Korea, 114; later emphasizes the threat from North Korea, 115; but optimistic about South Korean military, 117; blames Moscow for Korean War, 134; celebrates MacArthur victory, 144–145, 150–151; mocks skeptics, 144–150, 151; doubts China will intervene, 144–151; yet warns of possible disaster, 146, 152; on rebuilding a united Korea, 145; premature sigh of relief, 146, 152; cover on Mao, 147–153; mourns loss of Asia, 147, 153; criticizes MacArthur, 147, 153; whom Luce defends, 147; UN on verge of disaster, 147–153; lists U.S. casualties, 161; opposes concessions in Korea, 138; on Truman's dismissal of MacArthur, 145–151; opposes return to prewar Korean line, 155

—McCarthy, Joseph R.: on McCarthy's early charges, 125; critical of both Lattimore and McCarthy, 129; opportunistic coverage, 129–130; denounced by Griffith, 129; Lattimore no Hiss, 131; but perhaps guilty, 133; its readership during the McCarthy era, 131; contrasted with his supporters, 131; supports Mundt-Ferguson bill, 133; and the McCarran act, 133; but cover on McCarthy hailed by Wallace, 160; compares Truman to McCarthy, 164; uses homophobia against McCarthy, 181; blasts McCarthy investigators, 181

- Republican politics, 1952: on Robert A. Taft, 157; Ike more likely to win, 162
- Soviet Union, Communism: Foreign News section, 43; impact of Chambers, 44; draws an iron curtain in 1945, 46; wants a postwar military buildup, 52; editors speculate about a nuclear war, 92; magazine attacks Hiss, 105; on the Soviet atomic bomb, 111; derides Louis Johnson budget, 123; fears atomic attack on New York City, 123; revives “Background for War,” 137; sees 140 U.S. cities as potential targets, 137; campaigns for huge military buildup, 137; wants to talk tough to Soviets, 175; covers for Eisenhower’s Korean truce, 175; and for his nuclear policy, 176; downplays liberalization in Eastern Europe, 199; slow to acknowledge impact of Khrushchev’s speech, 199; Hungarian revolt tests liberation ideology, 199; magazine still insists Communism “monolithic,” 233; despite protest by Donovan, 233
- Time* dispatches: collection at Harvard, xv
- Times-Herald* (Washington, DC), 128
- Tito, Josip Broz, 108, 121, 293
- Truman Doctrine, 81
- Truman, Bess: insulted by CBL in 1944, 91, 98
- Truman, President Harry S., 115, 161, 175, 197, 251; China policy, 14, 53; on the China “rat hole,” 20; Luce open-minded about, 46; on Soviet Union, 56; contempt for the Luce media, 9, 98; meeting with Luce, 49; rebuffed Luce on Japan’s surrender, 50; on avoiding use of U.S. combat troops in China, 52; names Marshall envoy, 53; criticism of Chiang, 61; on Marshall’s failure, 74; recall of Marshall, 79; attack on the “Loose” publications, 98, 146, 152; refuses deeper involvement in China, 74, 101, 108; sees Chiang as finished, 102; calming fears, 126; and Lattimore, 128; on committing U.S. forces to Korea, 135; and “lessons of Munich,” 135; more aid to Indochina, 135; and to the Philippines, 135; and Seventh Fleet to Straits of Formosa, 135; poor relations with Luce, 135; but praise from Time for Korean intervention, 135; chortles over attack on China lobby and Luce, 135; refusal to send military mission to Formosa, 135; on the nuclear option, 147, 153; on no wider war, 143–147, 148; feuds with MacArthur, 144–150; administration gathers data on Kohlberg, 165; and the CIAI, 165; but fails to act, 165; and the Vincent case, 180
- Tydings, Senator Millard: McCarthy subcommittee, 125, 130; on the IPR, 126; on the FBI and Lattimore, 131
- Unconditional surrender: Luce’s opposition to, 49
- Union Theological Seminary, 62, 274
- United China Relief (UCR), 1, 12, 62, 246; Luce’s role in, 34–35; raises $4 million, 34; distribution of literature, 41; hearing on Kohlberg’s charges, 65
- United Nations: plans for Korea, 114, 115; on the Communist China issue, 126; demand for North Korean withdrawal, 134; authorizes a unified, democratic Korea, 139; role in possible bombing of Manchuria, 147–153; and the Formosa question, 191; Kennedy and China issue, 214; on the admission of Outer Mongolia, 214; resisted by China lobby, 214; on the admission of Communist China, 246
- United Service to China (USC), 62; and Marshall, 85; the Luce and, 85; and Communist China, 120–121
- United States Information Service, 100
- United States News & World Report* (U.S. News): and high-quality coverage of China, 109
- U.S. Air Force, 230; losses due to SAM missiles, 235
- U.S. Army: vast expansion of, 143, 149; body counts and promotions, 231; and news policy in Vietnam, 243; restrictions on news after Tet, 243
- U.S. Economic Survey Mission to Southeast Asia, 141
- U.S. Marines: on leaving China, 59, 108
- U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group, 187
- U.S. Military Assistance Group: in South Korea, 117
- U.S. Seventh Fleet, 222
- Urley, Freda, 70–71; and Clare Luce, 70; writes for Scripps-Howard, 71; tries to write for Life, 71; unhappy with Luce, 71
- Valenti, Jack, 231
- Vandenberg, Senator Arthur, 4, 79, 121; promotes aid for China 1947, 80; China aid, and the influence of Luce, 95
- Van Dusen, Henry P. “Pitt”: ally of Luce, 62; on the “world Christian movement,” 80; support for new policy on Red China, 202
- Van Fleet, General James, 167, 187; U.S. commander in Korea, 178; pleases Luce with Life articles, 178, 193; Taipei visits for Eisenhower, 178; Life’s emissary to Formosa, 193
- “Venona,” 105

- Viet Cong, 215, 216; U.S. involvement augments their nationalist aura, 216; Time on China using them, 217; terror tactics of, 218; strike at will, 218; torture used against, 220; fighting U.S. personnel, 220; capturing more weapons, 223, 231; elusive aspects of, 230; and threats to U.S. bases, 231; increase in troop levels by 30,000, 231; accused of atrocities by Humphrey, 234; on gaining more recruits, 238, 239
- Vietminh, 118, 140, 142–148, 183, 194; nationalist appeal of, 186; forced to scale down demands at Geneva, 187
- Vietnam (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: Vietnam; South Vietnam) on U.S. intervention, 119; worsening of French position in 1950, 149; Time alarmed, 143, 149; de Lattre de Tassigny takes command, 144, 149; division of, 198
- Vincent, Betty: appeals to Luce, 180–181
- Vincent, John Carter, 75, 133; attacked by Time for years, 75; denounced by Kohlberg, 75; denounced by Luce while conferring with Stimson, 93; purged, 179–181; as a scapegoat, 180
- Wake Island meeting, 145, 151
- Walker, John: on Korea, 114
- Walker, Professor Richard L., 178
- Wallace, Henry A., 58; Progressive Party candidate, 98; accused of China sellout, 110; salutes Time story on McCarthy, 160
- Walsh, Father Edmund, 124
- Walsh, Bishop James E., 201
- “War on Poverty,” 224
- Washington Post*: China coverage by, 166
- Watson, Thomas J., 160
- Ways, Max, 163, 224
- Wedemeyer, General Albert C.: replaced Stilwell, 44; on Chiang regime, 44, 70, 88; doubts about Marshall’s mission, 59; 1947 mission to China, 86–88; prominent coverage by Time Inc., 87; Communists not real Communists, 88–89; trusteeship plan for Manchuria, 88; on stopping Chinese Communists, 89; praise for Time Inc., 248
- Welch, Joseph: on pixies and fairies, 182
- Welles, Samuel, 43; access to “long telegram,” 56; tour of Vietnam, 140; Ho can strike almost anywhere, 140; interviews Acheson, 140
- Wertenbaker, Charles, 165
- Westmoreland, General William, “Man of the Year,” 235
- “White Paper”: as historical account, 110; and a collection of documents, 110; condemned by Time, 110–111; Luce’s recollection of shame of, 191
- White, Theodore H., “Teddy” (see also Luce, Henry Robinson: White), 75, 82, 250; works for Hollington Tong, 35; employed by Time, 13, 35; on beginning to differ with Luce, 35–36; admiration for Chinese Communists, 35, 44–45; warns Luce against creating myths, 13, 41; heavily edited Life article on Chiang, 42; dismayed by Time on the Stilwell recall, 45; “Inside Red China” in Life, 000; disgust with Time Inc. on China, 45, 46; troubling questions about postwar China, 51; journey home, 52; works on China book, 60; more advice from Fairbank, 60; Thunder Out of China, 60, 73; breaks with Luce, 73–74; right and wrong about China, 74; congratulates Carter, 83; his edition of the Stilwell diary, 93; on the purge of the China hands, 133; blames Luce for Korea and Vietnam, 249–250
- Whitman, Walt, 240
- “Who lost China?” 4, 196, 246; how issue helped Luce on Vietnam, 251
- Wilde, Jim, 228
- Willauer, Whiting, 94
- Willkie, Wendell, 4; Luce and his candidacy, 32; Time Inc. and, 32
- Wilson, Charles E., “Engine Charlie,” 178
- Wilson, Woodrow, xiv, 216
- Winchell, Walter, 104
- World Council of Churches, 242
- World Culture*, 147–153
- World Order Study Conference of the Presbyterian Church: and call for recognition of Red China, 201, 202
- World War II, see Luce, Henry Robinson: World War II
- World War III: debated at Time Inc., 123
- Wu, K. C.: defection from Formosa, 178–179; Luce on, 178; antagonizes court around Chiang, 179; denounces Chiang, 179; charges upset Luce, 179
- Yale Daily News*, 22–23
- Yale-in-China, 12, 62, 85, 120
- Yale University, 104
- Yalta, 101, 173, 193; Dulles on, 162
- Yan’an, 10, 11, 44
- Yantai, 51
- Yenching University, Beijing, 11, 34, 61
- Yikiang Island, 191
- Zhang Qun, governor, 63
- Zhou Enlai, 145–151; meeting with Luce in 1945, 10; warns of civil war, 14; farewell to Marshall, 74; tells Stalin of Korea intervention, 146–152; on the peaceful liberation of Formosa, 193