

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-84282-2 - Group Dynamics and Emotional Expression

Edited by Ursula Hess and Pierre Philippot

Index

More information

Index

- action readiness, 34
- action tendencies, 72
- affiliation, 34
- attention
  - and emotion recognition, 15–16
- authenticity, 113, 120

- babyface, 35
- behavioral dispositions, 35
- behavioral intentions, 34
- Biased Emotion Evaluation, 113

- charisma, 124
- circumplex model of affect, 124
- compassion, 121
- cross-cultural differences
  - emotional facial expression, 53, 59, 62
- cultural familiarity, 11–12
- cultural learning, 56, 57, 141
- cultural stereotypes
  - and emotion recognition, 18

- decoder effects, 54
- decoding
  - motivational factors, 184
  - pattern matching, 183
  - perspective taking, 183
- decoding rule theory, 52, 57, 59
- decoding rules, 13, 15, 52–53, 55, 61, 63–64, 141, 172, 175, 188
- dialect theory, 52, 56–57, 59, 60
- display rules, 13, 70, 131, 133, 141
- distance regulator, 93
- dominance, 34

- emotion
  - social meaning of, 110
- emotion dialect, 155
- emotion dialects, 56, 150, 151, 167
- emotion expression
  - and competence, 100, 110
  - instrumentality of, 99
- emotion judgments
  - cultural differences, 140
- emotion norms, 183
  - workplace, 120
- emotion stereotypes, 19, 73, 131
  - and emotion recognition, 74, 75
  - and the attribution of action tendencies, 75, 76, 78, 80
  - and the decoding of emotional facial expressions, 77
- emotional contagion, 70, 83, 125, 133
- emotional dissonance, 120
- emotional intelligence, 66, 120, 124, 129
- emotional labor, 120, 121
- emotions, 56
  - in organizations, 119
- empathy, 121, 124, 125, 128, 131, 133
- equivalence hypothesis, 46–47
- ethnic bias, 53
  - and emotion recognition, 56
- expressions
  - signal value of, 184
- expressive gender norms, 184

- facial appearance
  - and perceived emotionality, 45, 46
- facial cues
  - of dominance and affiliation, 36

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-84282-2 - Group Dynamics and Emotional Expression

Edited by Ursula Hess and Pierre Philippot

Index

More information192 Index

- facial expressions
  - and interpersonal trait inferences, 69
  - signal function, 93
  - signal value of, 185
  - social signal value of, 184
- facial mimicry, 83–84
  - social costs of, 85
- facial morphology, 14, 35, 74, 79, 81, 152–154, 173, 183, 186
- familiarity, 10, 15, 62, 74, 78–79, 150, 184
  - cultural, 55, 65
  - interpersonal, 66
- gender
  - and perceived emotionality, 39–42, 46
- gender ingroup advantage hypothesis, 170, 172
- gender norms, 185
- gender role expectations, 131–133, 134
- gender stereotype
  - emotionality, 36, 39, 42
- gender stereotypes
  - of emotionality across race, 102
- group membership, 8
  - cultural, 7, 15
- Hebl and Dovidio model, 23–26
- ingroup advantage, 11, 18, 51, 56, 58, 61, 141–146, 148, 150–152, 154–156, 169, 172–174, 187
  - decoder effects, 151
  - encoder effects, 151
  - minority groups, 11
  - relative, 54, 143–144
  - simple effects version, 144
- ingroup attentional advantage, 16
- ingroup effect. See ingroup advantage
- ingroup favoritism, 73, 78, 81
  - and beliefs about emotion, 17
- ingroup hypothesis
  - relative difference version. See ingroup advantage: relative
- ingroup hypothesis. See ingroup advantage
  - simple effects version, 143
- intergroup communication, 8
- intergroup contact, 25
- intergroup interactions, 23, 25
- intergroup relations, 184
- JACFEE, 59, 164–169, 173
- leader role expectations, 131
- leadership
  - transformational, 122
- leadership, 121
  - and gender, 129
  - authentic, 123
  - effective, 119, 122
  - transformational, 122–123, 125, 132, 134
- leadership norms, 185
- manly emotion, 98, 100–102, 104, 112, 185
  - and competence, 100
- masculinity
  - and anger expression, 99
- moist eye, 95, 101, 104, 110
- motivation
  - and emotion recognition, 25
  - emotion recognition, 54
- motor mimicry, 70
- Multifactor Leadership Quotient, 129
- negative emotion, 125, 133
- neutral faces, 75, 78, 80, 187
- nonverbal accents, 14–15
- nonverbal dialects. See emotion dialects
- norms, beliefs, 182
- outgroup advantage, 55, 188
- perceiver effects. See decoder effects
- physiognomy. See facial morphology
- positive emotion, 124, 128, 130–132, 134
- powerful emotions, 99
- prejudice
  - and emotional facial expression decoding, 81
- social categorization, 10, 19
- social context, 70, 182
- social group membership, 71, 72, 85
  - and social perception, 9
  - emotional facial expression recognition, 70
- social norms
  - tears, 96

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-84282-2 - Group Dynamics and Emotional Expression

Edited by Ursula Hess and Pierre Philippot

Index

More informationIndex

193

- social power, 97
- social role expectancies, 42
- social role expectations, 70, 185, 186
- social roles, 42, 185
  - and emotional expressivity, 37
  - and perceived emotionality, 45
- emotionality, 46
- sociality, 70
- status
  - and emotion recognition, 9, 20–21
  - and emotional expressivity, 36
- stereotypes
  - and emotion recognition, 71
  - emotional trait, 73
- stimulus equivalence, 60–61, 146, 150
- storytelling, 119, 126
- subordination hypothesis, 21–22
- tear intensity, 104
- tears, 124
  - and anger, 101
  - and gender, 95
  - angry, 95, 101, 104, 110
  - as emotional communication, 94
  - as paralinguistic, 93–94
  - as social communication, 93
  - sad, 104
  - signal value, 95
  - social value, 95
- theory of infrahumanization, 17–18, 73
- universality
  - basic, 54
  - emotional facial expression, 53, 140
- universality hypothesis, 10