

Cambridge University Press

0521847370 - Fields of Faith: Theology and Religious Studies for the Twenty-First Century

Edited by David F. Ford, Ben Quash and Janet Martin Soskice

Table of Contents

More informationContents

Notes on contributors	page ix
Introduction	xiii
David F. Ford
 PART I THE END OF THE ENLIGHTENMENT'S NEUTRAL GROUND
1 The study of religion and the rise of atheism: conflict or confirmation?	3
Michael J. Buckley S.J.
2 Doing Theology in the university	25
Denys Turner
3 Shaping the field: a transatlantic perspective	39
Sarah Coakley
4 The study of religion as corrective reading	56
Gavin Flood
 PART II MEETINGS ON MUTUAL GROUND
Section I. Understanding Faith
5 God	75
Rowan Williams
6 Love	90
Julius Lipner

Cambridge University Press

0521847370 - Fields of Faith: Theology and Religious Studies for the Twenty-First Century

Edited by David F. Ford, Ben Quash and Janet Martin Soskice

Table of Contents

More information

viii	Contents
7	Scripture Peter Ochs	104
8	Worship Eamon Duffly	119
	Section 2. The Practice of Justice and Love
9	Argument Nicholas Adams	137
10	Reconciliation John W. de Gruchy	152
11	Friendship Janet Martin Soskice	167
12	Justice Maleiha Malik	182
RESPONSE
13	Fields of faith: an experiment in the study of theology and the religions Nicholas Adams, Oliver Davies and Ben Quash	207
	Index of names	222
	Subject index	225