

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-85677-5 - Yalta 1945: Europe and America at the Crossroads

Fraser J. Harbutt

Index

More information

Index

- Adenauer, Konrad, 121
 Afghanistan, 85, 268
 Albania, 385
 Anderson, Sir John, 3
 Anders, General W., 380
 Anglo-American Petroleum Agreement, 252
 Anglo-Persian Oil Company, 108
 Anglo-Soviet "Cold War," 380
 Anglo-Soviet cultural ties, 171
 Anglo-Soviet Public Relations Committee, 99
 Anglo-Soviet Trade Union Committee, 99
 Anglo-Soviet Treaty (1942) anniversary celebrated, 1944, 154 historical significance of, 74–78 negotiations for, 40–45, 52–66, 141 reception of, 69–78
 settlement of, 66–69
 Antonescu, Marshal, 187
 Argentina, 143, 272
 Atlantic Charter, 34, 38, 62, 73, 77–78, 148, 151, 276
 atomic bomb, 373
 Attlee, Clement, 42, 155, 239
 Auden, W. H., 22–23
 Australia, 42, 371, 405
 Austria, 385
- Badoglio, Marshal, 204
 Baldwin, Stanley, 16
 Ball, Senator Joseph, 258
 Bank of England, 242
 Barkley, Alben, 322
 Baltic states, 35, 41, 60–62, 133, 152
 Beard, Charles, 230
- Beaverbrook, Lord, 35, 41, 45, 71, 93, 239, 335
 Beck, Colonel, 170–171, 347
 Belgium, 118, 205, 213, 271, 337
 Benes, Eduard, 40, 72, 75, 96, 103, 110, 113, 117–119, 132, 140–141, 144, 189, 192, 219 meeting with Molotov, 1942, 75
 sees vindication in Anglo-Soviet Treaty, 72–73 self-image as East/West "bridge," 118 standing with Eden and Foreign Office, 116 and treaty with Soviets, 118, 137, 140–141
 visit to Churchill in North Africa (1944), 144
 Bermuda conference (1942), 236
 Bern Incident, 353
 Beveridge, Sir William, 122
 Beveridge Plan, 221
 Bismarck, Otto von, 47, 192
 Blaizot Mission, 207
 Bliven, Bruce, 17
 Board of Education (UK), 99
 Bohlen, Charles, 17, 131, 193, 297, 367, 378, 394–395
 Bonomi, Ivanoe, 204
 Boothby, Robert, 107
 Bor-Komorowski, General, 175
 Bottai, Giuseppe, 120
 Bracken, Brendan, 93, 155, 335
 Brazil, 267
 Bretton Woods decisions, 223, 235–238
 Briand, Aristide, 121
 British Broadcasting Corporation, 196
 Buhite, Russell, 19

- Bulgaria, 153, 166, 177, 186–187, 191, 195, 197, 286–287
- Bull, Hedley, 184
- Bullitt, William, 16
- Burgess, Michael, 121
- Burns, James McGregor, 17, 230
- Bush, George W. 20
- Butler, R.A., 41
- Byrnes, James F.
 appointment as secretary of state, 374
 at Moscow conference (December 1945), 375, 380–382 at New York Security Council meeting (1946), 388–392 at Potsdam, 374
 definition of new “firm” policy (February 1946), 395 diplomacy from appointment to Moscow conference (December 1945), 373–380
 inaugurates firm policy toward Soviet Union, 384–386 pre-Fulton associations with Churchill, 384–386 reasons for presence at Yalta, 278 role at Paris peace conferences (1946), 397 role at Yalta, 278
 role in defining Yalta, 320–324 role in policy transformation, 385–391, 394–395 tension with Truman (December 1945), 375
- Cadogan, Alexander, 64–66, 75, 156, 177, 275–305, 348
- Canada, 42, 405
- Cantril, Hadley, 270, 276
- Carr, E. H., 98, 122
- Casablanca conference (1943), 79
- Cavendish-Bentinck, Victor, 64
- Cazalet, Victor, 42
- Chamberlain, Neville, 28, 48–49, 53
- Chamberlain, William H., 17
- Chiang Kai Shek, 299
- China, 212, 299–300, 335, 386
- Churchill, Winston L. S. and Europe, 80–93
 and Roosevelt, xii–xiii, xv, 9–10, 33, 45, 128–138, 141–142, 161–166, 214–217, 229–234, 279–330, 344–354, 403 and Stalin, 31–32, 80–93, 128–138, 143–151, 166, 174–182, 183–210, 280, 330, 333–344, 349–371, 384–393, 403
- Churchill, Winston L. S. (before Yalta) agrees with Stalin on U.N. issues, 210–211 arguments in 1944 with Roosevelt over economics and strategy, 141–143 attempts in late 1944 at reconciliation with de Gaulle, 207–210 attempted negotiation with Stalin over Poland in early 1944, 143–151 comparison to Stalin, 80–81 confrontation with de Gaulle before D-Day, 155 consolidation of British “sphere” after Tolstoy, 1944, 199–210 criticism of Soviets at Quebec “Octagon” conference, 1944, 162–163 cultivation of small inner circle in Anglo-American relations, 93, 94 and de Gaulle, 206–210
 discourages protagonists of British-led Western Europe, 145, 156–158 difficulties with Foreign Office (1944), 195–196 faith in autonomous postwar Europe (1943), 80, 91–93 flaws in his summitry, 83
 and France, 206–210,
 functional cooperation in Europe with Stalin during war, 83–89
 hails Anglo-Soviet treaty (1942), 69–70 heightened activity in aligning Britain to Western Europe (late 1944), 204–210 humiliating setbacks at Teheran (1943), 128–138 late 1944 policies toward Greece and Yugoslavia, 199–200, 203–204 improved relations with Stalin after Tolstoy meeting (1944), 193–196 initial resistance to Anglo-Soviet treaty (1942), 41–42 meeting at Moscow with Stalin at “Tolstoy”, (October 1944), 174–182 misleading postwar characterization of October 1944 meeting, 185 n.3
 Paris visit (late 1944), 207
 “percentages” agreement with Stalin (October 1944), 176–182 pressures London Polish government (early 1944), 149–150 prompts to Moscow visit (October 1944), 167–174 response to Morgenthau plan, 165 return to Anglo-Soviet geopolitical collaboration (May 1944), 151–154 tensions with U.S. (late 1944 to February 1945), 213–224

Index

429

- visit to Moscow (August 1942) 81–82
 visit to United States (December 1941), 32–33.
- Churchill, Winston L. S. (Yalta and after) approach to Yalta, 284–288
 assessment of, historically, 401–405
 and Bern Incident, 352–353 blamed by Stalin for broken relations (1946), 392–394 campaign after Yalta to define conference, 337–341
 comparative immunity from Yalta criticism, 9
 concern over Europe's social problems, 356–357
 and France at Yalta, 292, 301, 307–309
 and Germany at Yalta, 291–295
 “Iron Curtain” speech (March 1946), 384–388, 392–393
 performance at Yalta reviewed in Britain, 334–335
 pessimism in mid-1945, 366–371 and Poland at Yalta, 295–310
 and post-Yalta crisis (1945), 333–372
 post-Yalta pressure on Roosevelt, 339, 346–354
 report to House of Commons on Yalta, 334 reaction to advent of Truman, 361–368 responses to Declaration on Liberated Europe, 304, 317
- Civil Aviation conference, 236, 245
- Clay, Lucius, 397
- Clemens, Diane, 18–19, 283, 299
- Comintern, 112
- Committee on Russia Studies (UK), 99
- Communist Party (UK), 99
- “confederations” projects in wartime
 Europe, 43–44, 59, 62, 71, 96, 118
 Polish-Czech and Greek-Yugoslav associations, 96
 Soviet initial acceptance of and later rejection of, 125–126
- conferences
 Moscow conference (December 1941),
 33–40
 Washington conference (December 1941), 32–33
 Moscow conference (August 1942), 81–82
 Moscow conference (October 1943),
 123–127
 Teheran conference (November– December 1943), 127–138 Dumbarton Oaks conference (August– September 1944), 159–160, 260–269 Quebec conference (September– October 1944), 161–167
 Moscow conference (October 1944),
 174–182
 Yalta conference (February 1945), 280–330
 Potsdam conference (July–August 1945), 373–374
 London conference (September 1945), 375
 Moscow conference (December 1945),
 381–382
 Paris conferences (1946), 397
 Congress of Friendship and Collaboration with the Soviet Union, 197
 Paris conferences (1946), 367
 Congress of Vienna, 1, 25, 30
 Conservative Party (UK), 27, 41, 339
 Conte, Artur, 7, 229
 Cooper, Duff, 156–157, 337
 Coudenove-Kalergi, Count, 121
 Council of Europe, 233
 Cranborne, Lord, 155, 352
 Crimean War, 30
 Cripps, Sir Stafford, 32, 41, 45, 57
 ambassador in Moscow, 32
 as supporter of Anglo-Soviet Treaty, 41, 45 on second front, 57
 Croce, Bernadetto, 204
 Crowe, Sir Eyre, 18–29
 Curzon Line, 25, 42, 119, 135–136, 144–145, 150, 283, 286, 295–297, 338, 347
 Cyrenaica, 379, 397
 Czechoslovakia, 40, 73, 75, 96, 110, 137–138, 140–141, 178, 188–189
- Dakar, 250–251
- Dallek, Robert, 17, 20, 214, 230
- Dalton, Hugh, 357
- Davies, Joseph, 367, 371
- Deane, John, 16
- Declaration of the United Nations, 236, 267
- Declaration of National Independence, 236
- Declaration on Liberated Europe
 Churchill's characterization of, 338, 347 content of, 313
 introduction of, at Yalta, 304, 309 response of Stalin and Molotov to, 314–320
 significance of, 360, 400–401
 significance of, at Yalta, 314
 Truman takes literal view of, 360 uses of, by Churchill and Foreign Office, 348
 uses of, in Roosevelt/Byrnes post-Yalta presentations, 4, 320–322
- Denmark, 192
- Democratic Party (U.S.), 18, 19
- Dimitrov, Georgi, 112–113
- Divine, Robert, 258, 261, 263

- Dixon, Piers, 156, 331, 334
 Dodecanese Islands, 379, 397
 Draper, Theodore, 20
 Dreiser, Theodore, 70
 Dumbarton Oaks conference, 1944,
 159–160, 260–269, 403
- “East/West” conception defined, ix–xii
 Eastern Europe, 112–113, 132–133
 Eden, Anthony accepts Soviet “bargain” approach to negotiation, 43
 August 1944 paper anticipating Moscow Order, 168–169
 campaign for Anglo-Soviet Treaty (1942), 52–69
 champions European-oriented policies in Britain, 95–97
 character assessed, 38–39
 comments on Yalta and Roosevelt’s role, 305
 credited for Anglo-Soviet treaty, 71
 and Iran, 202–203
 mission to Moscow and relations with Stalin (December 1941), 32–40
 Molotov’s view of, 38 presses European issues with Molotov at Moscow (1943), 123–127 promotes Anglo-Turkish ties after Tolstoy (1944), 201–202
 relations and discussions with Maisky (1943), 90
 seeks Anglo-Soviet concord over Iran, 202–203
 and Turkey, 201–202
 visit to U.S. and outcome (March 1943), 90–91
- Ehrenburg, Ilya, 82, 362
 Eisenhower, Dwight, 56, 88, 355, 365
 Emergency High Commission for Liberated Europe, 275–276, 313
- Europe
 Anglo-Soviet division of, 176–182
 Cordell Hull’s views on, 125 ideas of, during the war, 120–123
 limited knowledge of U.S., 46–50
 responses in, to Anglo-Soviet treaty, 72–73 reactions to Yalta, 334–337
 Roosevelt’s indifference toward, at Teheran, 130–138
 tendency of leaders to reinsure, 192–193 “Europe/America” conception, defined, x–xxiv
- European Advisory Commission, 126, 156, 234, 291, 359
 European cultural relations with the United States, 46–52
- Evatt, H. V., 156 exile governments (other than Polish government) in Britain:
 Benes’s role, 118–119, 140–141
 de Gaulle’s preoccupations, 119
 Spaak’s role in Western European unity movement, 117–118, 145–147 relations with British government 115–117 visits to the U.S., 117
- Far East, 110, 127, 195, 299–302, 308, 374–375, 383
 Farewell Address (Washington), 227, 347
 Finland, 35–37, 60, 62, 110, 191
 Flynn, Ed, 278
 Folly, Martin, 36–37
 Fontaine, Andre, 7
 food conference (1943), 236
 Forrestal, James, 361
- France
 de Gaulle supported by most French people as leader, 206
 in context of British alliance building, 206–210
 Poland, attitudes toward (1939), 22–23
 seen as indispensable for Western bloc, 206
 Yalta discussion about, 292
- Franco, Francisco, 215
 Fraser, Peter, 335
 Freidel, Frank, 229
 French National Committee, 146, 155
 Freston Mission (SOE), 190
 Fulbright, William, 259
- Gaddis, John Lewis, xii, 17
 Galbraith, John Kenneth, 240
 Gallipoli, 82
 Gasperi, de, Alcide, 121
 Gaule, Charles de
 Anglophobia of, 119
 British supporters (1944), 154–155 historical consciousness, 405 humiliations before D-Day, 155
 meeting with Molotov, 1942, 75
 reactions to Anglo-Soviet Treaty, 72
- George VI, King, 70
- Germany, 192, 374, 400
 discussion of postwar fate at Yalta, 291–295 discussions on, at Potsdam, 373–374 favored as prime agenda topic before Yalta, 217
 postwar fate of, British views (1944), 169–170
 reactions in, to Anglo-Soviet Treaty, 72 wartime attitudes toward European unity, 120–121

- Great Britain
- abdications in Soviet sphere after Tolstoy meeting, 186–190
 - attitudes toward Poland and Eastern Europe, 1939 and historically, 22–23
 - character of British “sphere” in Europe, 199–210
 - cultural activities with wartime Soviet Union, 99
 - divisions between “integrationists” and “accommodationists,” 144–147, 155–158
 - efforts to create a commercial nexus with Soviet Union, 220–222
 - expectations before Yalta of Anglo-Soviet-led Europe, 218–224
 - European-oriented political and media establishment, 93–99
 - Foreign Office and London Poles (1944), 170–173
 - Foreign Office commitment to Anglo-Soviet alliance, 95–97
 - Foreign Office draws Churchill back to Anglo-Soviet cause (1944), 152
 - Foreign Office outlook favors Europe and Anglo-Soviet line, 95–98
 - and France, 206–210
 - and Greece, 199–202
 - historical and geopolitical/strategic ties with Russia/Soviet Union, 30–33
 - and Iran, 202–203
 - limited knowledge of U.S., 46–50
 - limited knowledge of Soviet Union, 171–172
 - mixed public, parliamentary, and press reactions to Yalta, 334–335
 - positive response to Anglo-Soviet treaty (1942), 71–72
 - Post-Hostilities Planners and Germany’s future, 157
 - pre-Yalta tensions with United States, 210–224
 - pro-Soviet sentiment in (1942–44), 100–101
 - public attitudes toward allies, 99–101
 - public interest in European unity, 121–122
 - response to German invasion of Poland, 23–26
 - response to recognition of Lublin (1945), 216
 - Soviet “Cold War” against, 380–381
 - tendency to focus on Europe rather than United States, 95–101
 - tensions with United States over Five Senators outburst (1943), 238
 - tensions with U.S. over pre-Yalta European actions, 210–224
 - “Tolstoy” conference at Moscow (1944), 186–190
 - and Turkey, 201, 202
 - traditional foreign policies, 28–29
 - value of its historical archival resources, xxi–xxii
- Greece, 86, 108, 153, 163, 166–167, 187–188, 191, 199–200, 203–204, 212–213, 271–272, 286–288, 333, 349, 365, 369, 379
- British “sphere” includes it (May 1944), 153
- Churchill’s concern about (October 1944), 166–167
- Churchill raises alarm with Americans (Quebec, 1944), 163
- fears of Soviet expansion (1945), 333
- included in British “sphere” in Moscow Order (October 1944), 199–200, 203–204
- Maisky’s reassurances about (1943), 108
- prompt to Moscow “Tolstoy” conference (1944), 166–167
- Soviet pressures on (from May 1945), 365–369, 379
- Stettinius’s public criticism of British actions in (1944), 212–213, 271–272, 286–288
- valued association, for Britain, 86
- Gorky, Maxim, 48
- Grew, Joseph, 323
- Grey, Sir Edward, 28
- Gromyko, Andrei, 262–263, 267, 274, 287, 389–390
- Gunther, John, 51
- Hakimi, Ebrahim, 381–382, 388
- Halifax, Lord, 41, 53, 60–61, 63, 69, 90, 97, 152, 164, 214–215, 229, 239, 354–341
- Harper, John, 51, 130, 230, 233
- Harriman, Averell
- appointment as ambassador in Moscow, 142
 - approves new “firm” policy (1946), 391
 - assessment of Roosevelt before Yalta, 271
 - frustrations in Moscow (1944), 193
 - role at Yalta, in Far East negotiation, 299, 308
 - suggests Hopkins mission to Moscow (1945), 367
- Harriman, Kathleen, 305
- Harvey, Oliver, 150, 268
- Hathaway, Robert, 213–214
- Henderson, Hubert, 242
- Hickerson, John, 275
- Hirohito, Emperor, 212
- Hiroshima, 373

- Hiss, Alger, 15, 305
 Hitler, Adolf, 27, 39, 46, 48, 52, 104, 112, 212, 281–282
 Home Intelligence Survey (UK), 100
 Hoover, Herbert, 322
 Hopkins, Harry
 assists Churchill-Roosevelt exclusivity, 93 mission to Stalin (1945), 367–369, 402 and Quebec conference (1944), 161
 Horthy, Admiral, 188
 Hull, Cordell, 34, 53, 67, 123–127
 151–152, 213, 234, 246, 258, 264
 Hungary, 36, 110, 113–114, 178, 188–189
- Ickes, Harold, 240
 India Office (UK), 202, 234, 379
 Indochina, 207
 International Labor Organization
 conference, 236
 Iran, 88, 202–203, 268, 333, 377–378
 Bevin and Byrnes warn Stalin of looming U.N. confrontation, 381–382
 British premonitions of future trouble, 202–203
 Churchill resists notion of U.S. troops in, 88 protest in Security Council (January 1946), 381–383
 Soviet pressures against (1945), 377–379
 Soviets refuse to negotiate with Eden over (October 1944), 202–203
 Soviets thought to fear U.N. intervention prospect (1944), 268
 U.S. promotes return of, to Security Council (March 1946), 389
 U.S./Soviet Security Council confrontation over (April 1946), 389–394
 Italy, 87–89, 108, 110, 118, 192, 212, 251, 257, 272, 288, 337, 363, 397
- Japan, 40, 52, 56–57, 77, 89, 186, 299–300, 373–375
 Johnson, Lyndon, 18
 Judt, Tony, 280
- Kalinin, Mikhail, 69
 Katyn massacres, 79, 86–87, 96, 118, 287, 301, 311, 339
 Kennan, George F., xii, 193, 383–384, 393–394
 Kerr, Clark, 82, 116, 149, 151, 154, 201, 298, 343, 351, 362
 Keynes, John Maynard, 220, 240, 243–244, 248 and Bretton Woods agreements, 244 desire for closer Anglo-American politico-economic intimacy, 243 economic delegation leadership (1944), 243–247
 Khrushchev, Nikita, 393
 Kimball, Warren, 230, 286
 King, Admiral Ernest, 162
 Kirkpartick, Jeanne, 16
 Kohl, Helmut, 8
 Kollantai, Alexandra, 102, 362
 Konrad, George, 8
 Korea, 212, 308
 Krock, Arthur, 64, 74
 Kursk-Orel, Battle of, 96, 113
- Labour Party (UK), 98–99
 Laloy, Jean, 7
 Lane, Arthur Bliss, 271–272
 Laski, Harold, 99, 314
 Law, Richard, 307
 League of Nations, 160, 261, 266, 295, 314
 Leahy, William, 250, 289, 326, 361, 385
 Lebanon, 218, 355
 Lend-Lease, 233, 238, 241, 244
 Lenin Library gift, 171
 Levering, Ralph, 356
 Lie, Trygve, 145
 Lippmann, Walter, 17, 64, 74, 98, 253, 363
 Litvinov, Maxim, 54, 69, 102, 160, 191, 211, 218 commission on postwar policy assignment, 108–109
 pre-Yalta articles (in 1944), 160, 211
 Second Front and postwar political talks with Roosevelt (1942), 54–55
 Locarno Pact, 25
 Lodge, Henry Cabot, 259
 London foreign ministers conference (1945), 375
 Lothian, Lord, 121
 Louis, Wm. Roger, 234, 250
 Luce, Henry, 259
 Lundestad, Geir, 234
 Lvov, 295, 297
- MacLeish, Archibald, 277, 279
 Mahan, Admiral, 249–250
 Maisky, Ivan, 36, 44–45 commission on postwar Soviet policy report, 108–112 reparations issue presented at Yalta (1945), 293, 307 respect for, conveyed by Molotov, 109 and stage setting for looming tripartite conferences (1943), 106–108
 Malia, Martin, 103
 Mark, Edouard, 105, 112
 Marks, Frederick, 15, 230
 Marshall, George, 56, 58, 67, 233
 Matthews, H. Freeman, 213

- Massigli, M., 336
- Mastny, Voytech, 342
- media
- American press attitudes toward internationalism (1944), 253–254
 - Anglo-American press and radio wars (late 1944) 253–254
 - British press and its European focus, 98
 - mixed British press response to Yalta, 334–335
 - Orwell's critique of British press on Warsaw Uprising, 1944, 159
 - Polish press, its character and problems in wartime London, 172–173
 - responses of various elements to Anglo-Soviet Treaty (1942), 67–78
- Messer, Robert, 320
- McCarthy, Joseph, 15
- McCormick, Anne O'Hare, 9, 141, 253–254, 354
- Metal Reserves Corporation (U.S.), 252
- Mexico, 252
- Michael, King (Rumania), 343
- Middle East oil issues, 143
- Mikolajczyk, Stanislaw
- pressure from Churchill (early 1944), 148–150
 - pressure from Churchill and Stalin (Moscow, 1944), 179–181
- Mitterand, Francois, 8
- Molotov, Vyacheslav
- calls Anglo-Soviet treaty a “cornerstone,” 154
 - characterization of Eden, 38
 - negotiation of Anglo-Soviet Treaty, 55–69
 - response to British views of Yalta, 343–346, 351
 - role at Yalta, 293, 302–304
 - three-month “spheres” deal (1944), 153–154
 - in United States (1942), 66–68
- Monnet, Jean, 122
- Montefiore, Simon Sebag, 318
- Montreux Convention, 85, 136–137, 195
- Moran, Lord, 129, 305
- Morgenthau, Hans, 51
- Morgenthau Henry, 165–166, 240–241
- pressures Britain on postwar finances, 240–245
 - promotes pastoralization of postwar Germany (1944), 165–166
- Morgenthau Plan, 165–166
- Morrison, Herbert, 239
- Moscow conference, 1944 (“Tolstoy”), 167, 174–182, 217, 220
- Moscow foreign ministers conference (1943), 123–127
- Moscow Order
- consolidation of, 183–224
 - rationale for and characterization of, 140, 183–184
 - widespread support for, as future European framework, 218–229
- Mussolini, Benito, 35, 46, 48, 52, 120
- Nazi-Soviet Pact (1939), 20, 30, 37, 78
- Netherlands, 205
- Newsome, W. Brian, 26
- New Zealand, 42, 371, 405
- Niebuhr, Reinhold, 224
- Nisbet, Robert, 15
- Northern Tier, 86, 332, 403
- Norway, 192, 205, 366
- Nowak, Jan, 147
- Office of Strategic Services (OSS), 89
- Orwell, George, 100, 159, 224
- Overlord/D-Day, 128–129, 155, 159
- Pacific theater, 211–212
- Paderewski, Ignacy, 264
- Palmerston, Lord, 60, 171
- Pan-American Airways, 253
- Pares, Sir Bernard, 171
- Paris conference (1946), 397
- Paris peace conference (1919), 1, 25, 42, 297
- Parker, Ralph, 98
- Pasvolksy, Leo, 274–276
- Pearson, Drew, 213
- Pétain, Marshal, 87
- Peter, King (Yugoslavia), 147
- Petroleum Reserve Corporation (U.S.), 252
- Pieck, Wilhelm, 341
- Poland
- British and French attitudes toward (1939), 22–30
 - British constraints on Polish government (1944), 170–174
 - British responses to (1939), 22–29
 - Churchill's plans for Polish troops, 173–174
 - Churchill-Stalin discussions about, at Moscow (1944) 174–175, 179–182
 - difficulties of London Polish government with British authorities, 170–174
 - fruitless Anglo-Soviet negotiations over (early 1944), 143–151
 - German invasion of (1939), 22–23
 - future broached at Teheran conference (1943), 135–138
 - Katyn massacre issues, 175
 - Mikolajczyk at Tolstoy conference (October 1944), 179–182

Poland (cont.)

- Polish press in London, 172–173
- Warsaw Uprising (1944), 175
- Portugal, 118, 146, 379
- Post-Hostilities Planners (UK), 97, 157, 187–202
- Potsdam conference, 2, 332, 373–374
- Powell, Anthony, 116
- Priestley, J. B., 50
- Progressive Citizens of America, 18
- Qavam, Sultaneh el, 388–389, 392
- Quebec conference, 1944 (“Octogon”), 161–167
- Rakosi, Matyas, 114
- Rapallo conference, 78
- Reagan, Ronald, 19
- Reconstruction Finance Corporation (U.S.), 252
- Republican Party (U.S.), 15, 107, 245, 258
- Resis, Albert, 177
- Reston, James, 248, 261
- Ribbentrop, Joachim, 282, 335
- Revel, Jean-Francois, 7
- Reynaud, Paul, 206
- Reynolds, David, 9, 47
- Roberts, Frank, 156
- Roberts, Geoffrey, 318
- Roman Catholic Church, 121, 278
- Roosevelt, Eleanor, 367
- Roosevelt, Franklin D.
 - accepts Anglo-Soviet treaty, 61
 - and American international engagements, 400–401, 403
 - announces United Nations plans (June 1944), 159?
 - anxiety over waning support for internationalism before Yalta, 271–279
 - approach to Yalta, 282, 286, 311–313
 - approves Hull’s 1943 Moscow performance, 123–127
 - assessment of, historically, 399–404
 - attitudes toward the British Empire, 210, 234–251
 - attitudes toward Europe, 233–234
 - calls Dumbarton Oaks conference, 159–160
 - character of correspondence with Stalin (1941–45), 89–90
 - Churchill, relations with, xii–xiii, xv, 9–10, 128–138, 161–166, 214–224, 229–234, 270–279, 280–330, 344–354
 - conference with Churchill at Quebec (September 1944), 161–167

- distinctive approach to the war, 227–238
- endorses, then rejects, Morgenthau Plan, 165–166
- expected Anglo-Soviet domination of postwar Europe, 218–219
- fosters exclusive relationship with Churchill, 93
- death of, 354
- explanations of his apparent postwar scenario, 238
- and Far East at Yalta, 299–300
- and France at Yalta, 292, 301, 307–308
- and German issues at Yalta, 291–295
- historian’s views of, 229–231, 234
- move from traditional to radical diplomacy at Yalta, 301–320
- negotiation with Litvinov (1942), 54–55
- negotiation with Molotov (1942) 67–68
- offers second front (spring 1942), 67–68
- original focus on Germany for Yalta, 217
- overconfidence at Dumbarton Oaks, 264
- perceptions of health of at Yalta, 305
- policy approaches, 227–238
- and Polish issues at Yalta, 295–310
- and post-Yalta crisis, 333, 344–360
- private sessions at Teheran with Stalin, 132–134
- problems caused by erupting criticisms of Anglo-Soviet behavior, 210, 224
- report to Congress on Yalta (1945), 324–325
- reputation influenced by images of Yalta, 4–21
- response to Anglo-Soviet treaty proposals (1942), 54–61
- returns to detachment from European politics after Teheran, 141–142
- role as artist in politics, 231
- role as decision maker, 232–233
- role as political broker, 232
- role as wartime political manager, 231
- role at Teheran conference (1943), 127–138
- sharpening dilemma before Yalta, 257
- social missteps at Yalta, 291, 309
- and staged emergence of coherent postwar-oriented “web” (1941–45), 235–237
- Stalin, relations with, 54–57, 89–90, 128–138, 215–217, 261–279, 280–330, 400–401
- and United Nations, 159, 256–279
- uses of the Declaration on Liberated Europe at and after Yalta, 304, 309, 314–322

Index

435

- Royal Air Force, 84
 Rubber Reserves Corporation (U.S.), 252
 Rumania, 35–37, 60, 62, 153, 166, 177, 195, 186–188, 287, 343, 349, 385, 387
 Russell, Senator Richard, 246
 Ruthenia, 119, 178
- Sainsbury, Keith, 134
 Salazar, Antonio, 118, 146
 Sarfatti, Margherita, 48
 Sargent, Orme, 97, 152, 157, 177, 221, 307, 348, 370, 372
 Saudi Arabia, 252
 Schlesinger, Arthur M., Jr. 17, 213–214, 269, 273–274, 281, 284, 289, 293, 295–299, 308, 311, 316, 323
 Schmidt, Helmut, 19
 Schuman, Robert, 121
 Second Front issues, 84, 129, 131, 358
 Senarclens, Pierre de, 7
 Servan-Schreiber, Jacques, 7
 Seton-Watson, R.W., 26
 Sforza, Count, 204
 Shaw, George Bernard, 70
 Sherwin, Martin, 164
 Sikorski, Wladyslaw, 61, 115–116
 Skard, Sigmund, 46
 Skidelsky, Robert, 240–241, 243
 Smith, Bedell, 392
 Smith M. L., 120
 Smuts, Jan, 145–146, 156–157, 161, 288 attitude toward Anglo-Soviet Treaty (1942), 42, 73
 call for British-led Western Europe and Commonwealth, 145–156 urges Churchill to focus on Europe's future, 161
 Solzhenitsyn, Alexander, 9
 Soviet atomic spies, 383
 Soviet-Czech treaty, 141–144, 189
 Soviet Union
 campaign against British interests launched (June 1945), 369–372 celebration of Anglo-Soviet treaty (1942), 69–71 character of Soviet “closed” sphere in Eastern Europe (1944–45), 186–199 Dimitrov's role in Eastern European policy, 112–114 diplomatic establishment, 102 exclusive closed sphere in Bulgaria and Rumania, 186–187 explanations of Soviet attitudes at Dumbarton Oaks conference, 264–269 limits of post-Cold War Soviet evidentiary revelations, xix, xx, 102
- Litvinov's 1944 articles reflecting concern over U.N. proposals, 211
 Maisky's commission report (January 1944), 109–112
 Maisky's role in late 1943 stage setting, 106–108 negotiations and attitudes at Dumbarton Oaks conference (1944), 260–265 political character, 102–104 post-crisis reconciliation with U.S. (June 1945), 369 pressure applied to Hungary and Czechoslovakia, 188 pre-Yalta tensions with U.S., 214–224 primacy of Stalin, 102–105 relations with Britain closer after Tolstoy meeting (1944), 191–192 renewed strategic vulnerability (early 1942), 63–64, 66–69
 Stalin's policies and apparent objectives in Europe, 105–106, 112–114
 Stalin's “imperium” in Eastern Europe, 186–191 warm gestures to British after Tolstoy meeting (Moscow, 1944), 196–197
- Spaak, Paul-Henri, 116–119, 145–147, 156, 219 disappointment over British reluctance over Western Europe, 147 proponent of British-led Western Europe, 117–118, 145–147
- Spain, 146, 205–206, 339
 Spinelli, Altiero, 122
 Spykman, Nicholas, 259
 Stalin, Joseph and Churchill, 31–32, 80–93, 128–138, 143–151, 166, 174–182, 183–210, 280–330, 341–372, 384–393, 403 and Roosevelt, 54–57, 85–90, 128–138, 215–217, 261–279, 280–330, 351–354, 400–403 Stalin, Joseph (before Yalta) apparent objectives in Eastern Europe, 102–106, 112–114
 approach to Yalta, 284, 286–288
 improved relations with Churchill after Tolstoy meeting, 193–196 comparatively thin correspondence with Roosevelt, 88–89 completes advantageous Soviet-Czech treaty (December 1943), 140–141 desire for agreement with Britain (1941–42), 32 favors British role in postwar Pacific, 211–212, 308 hosts Churchill (August 1942), 81–82

- Stalin, Joseph (before Yalta) (cont.)
 introductory meetings with Churchill and Roosevelt at Yalta, 289
 meets with Churchill at Moscow (Tolstoy) (October 1944), 174–182
 military/strategic concerns at Yalta, 290–291, 294–295
 negotiations with Churchill over Poland (early 1944), 143–151 objections to U.S. plans for United Nations, 214 presses British for agreement (1942), 40–45 rejects Roosevelt's 1944 entreaties on veto and membership issues, 261–262 shows “bargain” diplomatic strategy, 43, 197, 311 reaches out to Roosevelt on “bargain” basis after Tolstoy, 197–198 talks with Eden in Moscow (December 1941), 34–38
- Stalin, Joseph (at and after Yalta) basic concerns at Yalta, 286–287 campaign against Britain (1945–46), 369–373, 376–382, 392, 396–397 decision to recognize Lublin regime, 270 evaluation of, historically, 400–404 and Far Eastern and Pacific issues at Yalta, 299–300
 and France at Yalta, 292, 301, 307–308
 and German issues at Yalta, 291–295
 and Hopkins mission (1945), 367–368
 introductory meetings with Churchill and Roosevelt at Yalta, 289 and Iranian issues, 377–382, 388–392
 military/strategic concerns at Yalta, 290–291, 294–295
 and Polish issues at Yalta, 295–310
 preoccupations with Big Three and Great Power unity, 290–291, 294, 325
 and post-Yalta crisis, 333–372
 reaction to Western powers view of Yalta, 343–346, 351–362, 366, 401–403 response to Declaration on Liberated Europe at Yalta, 314–320 and Security Council confrontations (March/April 1946), 388–392 and United Nations conference at San Francisco, 364–365 and United Nations issues at Yalta, 298–299
- Stalingrad, 52
- Stanley, Oliver, 239
- Stead, W. T. 46, 254
- Steiner, Zara, 29
- Stettinius, Edward R., Jr., 271, 284–288, 293, 311, 314, 327 and Anglo-American crisis (December 1944), 213–214 and conduct of Dumbarton Oaks conference, 261–269 and conduct of San Francisco conference, 364–365 and preparations for Yalta, 273–278 pre-Yalta focus on U.N. issues, 274–275
 role at Yalta, 293, 295, 302–304, 308
- Stimson, Henry, 58, 156, 240, 248–249
- Stoler, Mark, 250
- Sweden, 73–74, 126, 191, 366
- Swing, Raymond Gram, 213, 254, 363
- Syria, 208, 355
- Tangier, 370
- Tansill, Charles, 230
- Teheran conference, 2, 248–251, 285
- Tennyson, Alfred Lord, 25
- Tito, Josip Broz, 147, 178, 203
- Theoharis, Athan, 17–18
- Thompson, R.W., 10
- Thorne, Christopher, 234
- Togliatti, Palmiro, 204
- Toynbee, Arnold, 26
- Trade Union Council (UK), 99
- Treaty of Rome, 115
- Trieste issue, 363–364
- Truman administration, 112
- Truman Doctrine, 351
- Truman, Harry S.
 accession to presidency, 354 approval of Byrnes new hard line toward Soviets (1946), 391 chair of Senate National Defense Committee, 246–247 course between Potsdam conference and January 1946, 373–380 frustration in December 1945, 375–376 and Joseph Davies, 367
 and Hopkins mission, 367–368 initial militance, 354–355, 360–364 policy reorientation (February 1946), 386–388 pre-Fulton meeting with Churchill, 385 resists Churchillian strategy (spring 1945), 364–365 turn to accommodation with Soviets (May 1945), 367–372
- Turkey, 42, 61, 73–74, 85–86, 126, 136–137, 182, 186, 191, 195, 201–202, 308, 333, 335, 363, 365, 370, 377, 379

- Anglo-Soviet reassurances about (1941), 85–86
- British fear its gravitation toward Germany, 61
- British reassurances after Moscow conference (1944), 201–202
- Churchill's undermining references at Moscow conference (1944), 175, 182, 195
- Churchill urges assistance for (1946), 363
- discussed at foreign ministers conference (Moscow, 1943), 126
- fear of Russian/Soviet designs on the Straits, 42
- future discussed at Teheran (1943), 136–138
- offered membership in U.N. at Yalta, 308
- relief over Anglo-Soviet Treaty (1943), 73
- Soviet pressures against (1946), 363
- Ulam, Adam, 16, 20
- ULTRA, 282
- United Nations
- concept accepted by Britain and Soviet Union at Moscow conference, 1943
 - Dumbarton Oaks conference (1944), 159–160, 260–269
 - Roosevelt announces plans for (June 1944), 159–160
 - San Francisco conference, 371
 - United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, 236
 - United Nations conference at San Francisco (1945), 267, 319, 337, 351–352, 364, 368
 - United Nations Security Council, 373, 376, 381, 382–383
 - London meeting (January 1946), 388–392.
 - New York meeting (March/April 1946), 388–392
- United States
- adverse response to Lublin recognition (1944), 215–217
 - approval of Hull/Roosevelt diplomacy (late 1943), 127, 141
 - atmosphere in during war, compared to Europe, 225
 - congressional “nationalism,” 245–247
 - criticisms of British and Soviet actions (late 1944, early 1945), 210–224
 - disapproval of Soviet-Czech treaty, 1944, 141
 - economic pressures against Britain, (1944–45), 143, 241–248
 - evaluations of Teheran conference, 141
 - deteriorating support for internationalism (late 1944, early 1945), 271–279
 - and Dumbarton Oaks conference (September–October 1944), 260–269
 - expansory state and corporate activity during war, 252–253
 - “Five Senators” outburst (1943), 238, government/state economic leadership, 252
 - growing momentum in 1942–44 behind U.N. proposals, 259–260
 - historical context of U.S. diplomacy, 227–229
 - its distinctive governmental system, 226
 - little expectation of direct postwar role in Europe, 218–224
 - military establishment attitudes (1941–45), 248–251
 - nationalist, Anglophobic and anti-imperial attitudes, 238–248
 - New Deal militance (1933–1945), 240–241
 - positive reception of Anglo-Soviet treaty (1942), 73
 - preparations for Yalta (1944–45), 255–279
 - public support for U.N. proposals (1942–44), 258
 - public opinion, 253–255
 - Rooseveltian approaches, 227–238
 - Stettinius's public critique of British diplomacy (1944), 213–215
 - tendencies toward global economic “envelopment,” 254
 - thin prewar cultural ties with Europe and Britain, 50–52
 - public disinclination for foreign entanglement, 255
- United States Chamber of Commerce, 246
- Valery, Paul, 26
- Vandenberg, Arthur, 275, 285, 308, 322, 397
- Van Kleffens, E. N., 116–118, 145
- Vansittart, Robert, 156
- Venezuela, 252
- Voroshilov, Kliment, 331
- Vyshinsky, Andrei, 343
- Wallace, Henry, 18, 73, 240
- Ward, Geoffrey, 230
- Warsaw Uprising, 159, 213, 287, 311
- Watt, David, 11
- Watt, D. Cameron, xiii, 229
- Welles, Sumner, 53

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-85677-5 - Yalta 1945: Europe and America at the Crossroads

Fraser J. Harbutt

Index

More information

438

Index

- Wells, H. G., 26, 70
 West, Rebecca, 26
 Western bloc, 118, 144–145, 156–157, 169, 200
 White, Harry Dexter, 240–241
 Wilkinson, J. D., 121
 Willgress, Dana, 198
 Willkie, Wendell, 259, 312
 Wilmot, Chester, 9, 229
 Wilson, G. M., 76, 152, 186, 204
 Wilson, Woodrow, 47, 51, 91, 131, 142, 194, 213, 218, 228, 247, 259, 265, 314, 399
 Winant, John, 44, 65, 95
 Wittmer, Felix, 229
 Woods, Randall, 234, 240–243
 World War I, 30
- Yalta conference
 agreeing on location of, 280
 American images of, 14–18
 Anglo-Soviet issues and tensions at, 306
 American preparations for, 255–279
 bifurcation of meeting, at Roosevelt's hands, 310
 Big Three breakdown after, 333–372
 British images of, 9–11
 confusions in historical images of, 1–21 crisis following, 333–368
 Declaration on Liberated Europe, 304, 312–330
 discussion of Far Eastern issues at, 299, 308 discussion of French issues at, 292 discussion of German issues at, 291–295 discussion of military/strategic issues at, 290–291 discussion of Polish issues at, 295–310 discussion of reparations at, 293–294 discussion of United Nations issues at, 295, 298
 European images of, 6–14
 European powers preparations for, 210–224
 European sense of victimization at, 6–11 evaluations of, 325–330 getting to and discovering, 280–282 historiography of, ix–xxiv, 1–21 overview of, 280–330
 politicization of, 13–14
 preoccupations and strategies of the three powers at, 284–288 presentations by Byrnes and Roosevelt at, 320–330 reception of, in Britain, 334–335 reception of, in Europe, 336–337 reception of, in Soviet Union, 341–344 reception of, in U.S., 320–330 recurrent controversies over, 20 role in postwar U.S. political witch hunt, 15–16
 Roosevelt's report to Congress on, 323–324
 Roosevelt's shaping and symbolic role at, 4–6, 9–21
 significance of, 399–403
 steps in the creation of images of, 11–13, 15–18
 Yugoslavia, 108, 147, 153, 197, 203, 301
- Zaslavsky, David, 56, 342
Zhdanovschina, 396
 Zhukov, Georgii, 13, 333