A broken A L T A R, Lord, thy servant rears	92
Ah my deare angrie Lord	587
Alas, poore Death, where is thy glorie?	581
All after pleasures as I rid one day	292
Almightie Judge, how shall poore wretches brook	654
Almightie Lord, who from thy glorious throne	667
Although the Crosse could not Christ here detain	31
And art thou grieved, sweet and sacred Dove	473
As he that sees a dark and shadie grove	151
As I one ev'ning sat before my cell	485
As men, for fear the starres should sleep and nod	469
As on a window late I cast mine eye	414
Awake sad heart, whom sorrow ever drowns	399
Away despair; my gracious Lord doth heare	519
A wreathed garland of deserved praise	645
Blest be the God of love	231
Blest Order, which in power dost so excell	551
Brave rose, (alas!) where art thou? in the chair	488
Bright soule, of whom if any country knowene	22
Bright spark, shot from a brighter place	267
Broken in pieces all asunder	328
Busie enquiring heart, what wouldst thou know?	502
But that thou art my wisdome, Lord	343
Canst be idle? canst thou play	404
Come away	650
Come, bring thy gift. If blessings were as slow	509
Come Lord, my head doth burn, my heart is sick	384
Come, my Way, my Truth, my Life	537
Come ye hither all, whose taste	624
Content thee, greedie heart	480
Deare Friend, sit down, the tale is long and sad	453
Death, thou wast once an uncouth hideous thing	647
Do not beguile my heart	500
False glozing pleasures, casks of happinesse	571
Full of rebellion, I would die	155

Index of first lines

Having been tenant long to a rich Lord	132
Heark, how the birds do sing	458
He that is one	14
He that is weary, let him sit	284
Holinesse on the head	601
How fresh, O Lord, how sweet and clean	567
How should I praise thee, Lord! how should my rymes	193
How soon doth man decay!	353
How sweetly doth My Master sound! My Master!	604
How well her name an Army doth present	279
I blesse thee, Lord, because I GROW	464
I cannot ope mine eyes	226
I cannot skill of these thy wayes	345
If as a flowre doth spread and die	204
If as the windes and waters here below	462
If thou chance for to find	33
If we could see below	609
I gave to Hope a watch of mine: but he	428
I have consider'd it, and finde	116
I joy, deare Mother, when I view	390
I know it is my sinne, which locks thine eares	242
I know the wayes of learning; both the head	322
I made a posie, while the day ran by	341
Immortall Heat, O let thy greater flame	191
Immortall Love, authour of this great frame	189
I saw the Vertues sitting hand in hand	256
I struck the board, and cry'd, No more	526
It cannot be. Where is that mightie joy	196
I threatned to observe the strict decree	499
I travell'd on, seeing the hill, where lay	494
JESU is in my heart, his sacred name	401
Joy, I did lock thee up: but some bad man	449
Kill me not ev'ry day	224
King of Glorie, King of Peace	506
King of glorie, King of peace	686
Let all the world in ev'ry corner sing	186
Let forrain nations of their language boast	573
Let wits contest	632
Listen sweet Dove unto my song	213
Lord, how can man preach thy eternall word?	246

My comforts drop and melt away like snow	579
My God, a verse is not a crown	253
My God, if writings may	374
My God, I heard this day	332
My God, I read this day	350
My God, where is that ancient heat towards thee	4
My God, y ^e poore expressions of my Love	18
My heart did heave, and there came forth, O God!	265
My joy, my life, my crown!	576
My Lord a Diamond to mee you sent	20
My stock lies dead, and no increase	217
My words & thoughts do both expresse this notion	305
Not in rich furniture, or fine aray	182
O blessed bodie! Whither art thou thrown?	135
O day most calm, most bright	271
O do not use me	297
O dreadfull Justice, what a fright and terrour	491
Of what an easie quick accesse	371
O gracious Lord how shall I know	8
Oh all ye , who passe by, whose eyes and minde	96
Oh Book! infinite sweetnesse! let my heart	208

O my chief good	126
O sacred Providence, who from end to end	416
O spitefull bitter thought!	533
O that I could a sinne once see!	229
O that I had the wing and thigh	563
O what a cunning guest	442
O who will give me tears? Come all ye springs	560
O who will show me those delights on high?	656
Peace mutt'ring thoughts, and do not grudge to keep	250
Peace pratler, do not lowre	379
Philosophers have measur'd mountains	119
Poore heart, lament	466
Poore nation, whose sweet sap, and juice	523
Poore silly soul, whose hope and head lies low	397
Praised be the God of love	337
Prayer the Churches banquet, Angels age	178
Presse me not to take more pleasure	617
Rise heart; thy Lord is risen. Sing his praise	139
Shine on, majestick sowle, abide	27
Since, Lord, to thee	153
Sorrie I am, my God, sorrie I am	430
Souls joy, when thou art gone	635
Sure Lord, there is enough in thee to dry	6
Sweet day, so cool, so calm, so bright	316
Sweetest of sweets, I thank you: when displeasure	239
Sweetest Saviour, if my soul	407
Sweet Peace, where dost thou dwell? I humbly crave	438
Sweet were the dayes, when thou didst lodge with Lot	357

Thou, whose sweet youth and early hopes inhance	50
Throw away thy rod	621
To write a verse or two, is all the praise	221
Welcome deare feast of Lent: who loves not thee	311
Welcome sweet and sacred cheer	627
What doth this noise of thoughts within my heart	477
What is this strange and uncouth thing?	563
When blessed Marie wip'd her Saviours feet	598
When first my lines of heav'nly joyes made mention	367
When first thou didst entice to thee my heart	162
When first thy sweet and gracious eye	589
When God at first made man	548
When my dear Friend, could write no more	32
When my devotions could not pierce	288
While that my soul repairs to her devotion	235
Whither away delight?	530
Whither, O, whither art thou fled	556
Who is the honest man?	262
Who reade a chapter when they rise	347
Who sayes that fictions onely and false hair	200
Why do I languish thus, drooping and dull	410
With sick and famisht eyes	513
Wounded I sing, tormented I indite	546
You who admire yourselues because	28
