

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	page ix
Abbreviations	xi
Maps	xv
Introduction	xvii

CHAPTER ONE

Republican Rome's Rhetorical Pattern of Political Authority	I
Virtual Reality: To Win Fame and Practice Virtue	I
Creation of a Public Image: Rome's Virtuous Man	4
Virtue and Remembrance: The Tomb of the Scipiones	16
Variations on the Theme: Cicero's Virtuous Roman	24
Pater Patriae: Symbol of Authority and Embodiment of Tradition	32
The Virtuous Father: Gaius Julius Caesar	36

CHAPTER TWO

Empire of Words and Men	40
Augustus's Achievements: A Memory Shaped	40
Horace's Poem 3.2: Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori	50

viii / Contents

Nero: What an Artist Dies with Me!	55
Vespasian: The Upstart from Reate	62
Trajan: Jupiter on Earth	73
Maximus: Hollywood's Ideal Roman	77
CHAPTER THREE
Appropriation of a Pattern	81
Mending the Known World Order	81
A New World Order	89
Constantine, Very Wisely, Seldom Said "No"	94
A Pagan's Last Stand	99
Augustine: The Christian Cicero	107
Claudian's On the Fourth Consulate of Honorius	112
CHAPTER FOUR
The Power of Rhetoric	119
The Last Roman Emperor: Justinian	119
The First Byzantine Emperor: Heraclius	127
A View to the West: Charlemagne	134
Back to the East: A Theocratic State?	139
Conclusion	147
Bibliography	155
Ancient Authors	155
Modern Authors	156
Index	165