

CONTENTS

List of colour plates	page xi
List of black and white illustrations	xiii
Preface and acknowledgements	xv
How to use this book	xviii
A handbag?	xx
Endnotes	xxii
Further reading	xxii
Introduction	1
Starting points	1
Assumptions	3
Decisions	6
Key themes	6
Terminology	8
Interpretation	9
Disciplines	11
Structure	11
Further reading	12
1 Description and evidence	15
A description	15
Description and history	16
What is description?	18
Attention and time	20
Classification and hierarchy	22
Captions and titles	24
Guides and buildings	28

Contents

Criticism	30
Conclusions	32
Endnotes	34
Further reading	35
Bridge	37
Essay A 'sumptuous structure': the Wren Library at Trinity College, Cambridge	38
A special building	38
A partial description	39
Architectural historians consider the library	42
Wren's networks, Trinity's networks	46
Conclusions	48
Endnotes	49
Further reading	51
Bridge	52
2 Craft, skills and visual intelligence	53
Introduction	53
Methods and materials	54
Keywords	56
Myths of making	58
The diversity of work	61
Hats	64
How to ...	66
Visual intelligence	70
An artist and his materials	72
Conclusions	73
Endnotes	74
Further reading	75
Bridge	78
Essay 'The Jewel of the Church': Bernini's Ecstasy of St Teresa	79
Introduction: a church in Rome	79
The saint	81
The patron	83
The maker	85
The spectator	87
The style	89
Endnotes	91

Further reading	93
Bridge	95
3 Periodisation	96
Introduction: a feel for the past?	96
Periods and public culture	98
Periods and objects	99
Style	103
Words and things	106
Revolutionary ages	110
Modernism	114
Period consciousness	118
The period eye	120
Endnotes	123
Further reading	124
Bridge	129
Essay Photographing 'the Family of Man'	130
Photography: treachery and seduction	130
Edward Steichen: maestro	133
The book	135
'Migrant Mother'	139
Interpretation and historiography	141
Photography: special challenges?	143
Endnotes	146
Further reading	150
Bridge	153
4 Audiences and display	154
Audiences fight back	154
Concepts and contexts	155
Terms and conditions	158
Anxieties about audiences	161
Ways of seeing	162
Prints and markets	164
Problems of language	166
Quality and quantity	167
Audiences and their disciplines	169
Arts of persuasion	171
Dissecting display	174
Individuals and groups	177

Contents

Visual powers 179

Endnotes 181

Further reading 183

Bridge 186

Coda 187

Essay Deposits of friendship: Renoir's 1908 portrait of Ambroise Vollard 188

The painting 188

The genre 191

The textual penumbra 195

The visual penumbra 201

Endnotes 203

Further reading 204

Bridge 206

5 Comparative analysis 207

Similarity and difference 207

Comparison and disciplines 208

Comparison and context 211

Connoisseurship 211

Comparative literature 212

Comparative history 216

Looking comparatively 217

Pitfalls and problems 222

Types of affinity 224

Comparison in practice 225

Analysis? 229

Endnotes 229

Further reading 231

List of reference works 234

Illustration credits 236

Index 238