THE LETTERS OF ERNEST HEMINGWAY

“This latest installment of the monumental Hemingway Letters project is pure gold. This volume is a fascinating window into a pivotal time in his life, which we all but live alongside him as it unfolds. His fierce passion for fishing, the brewing war in Spain, his complicated relationships with other writers and friends – it all comes vividly alive in his own inimitable words.”
Lynn Novick, co-director/producer of PBS docuseries HEMINGWAY

“The mostly previously unpublished letters in Volume 6 vividly depict a period in which Hemingway’s celebrity becomes vaster and also onerous to him – further establishing his lifelong love–hate relationship with fame and public persona. Here we see the youthful literary sensation maturing into an established master who’s self-assured yet hustling to hold his hard-earned ground. A revealing look into the evolution of the Hemingway legend.”
Lesley M. M. Blume, journalist, historian, and New York Times bestselling author of Everybody Behaves Badly: The True Story Behind Hemingway's Masterpiece "The Sun Also Rises"

“The existence of some of these documents (predating Hemingway's fame) is close to a miracle, and 'The Letters' is without question a spectacular scholarly achievement.”
Arthur Phillips, New York Times

“A work of monumental authority, shrewd and sympathetic, which will be indispensable for anyone delving into Hemingway's childhood affections, adolescent bravura, and the hope, enthusiasm and disgust of his early manhood.”
The Spectator

“His letters burst off the page with all his swaggering vigour, brio, brilliance, wit and rage, uncensored and unrestrained:”
Sarah Churchwell, The Guardian

“And so begins the ambitious—and highly anticipated—publication of The Letters of Ernest Hemingway, a vast collection that proves to be both a revealing autobiography and the passkey to his literary works.”
A. Scott Berg, Vanity Fair

“This Cambridge Edition of all of Hemingway's known letters is as elegant and proper a solution as one could wish to such a daunting challenge: how to make this treasure available to all interested scholars and readers for generations to come. I think that Papa would be pleased.”
Charles Scribner III
“[Hemingway's] letters were never intended for publication, and they are surprising … Behind the hard-living, hard-loving, tough-guy literary persona we find a loyal son pouring his heart out to his family, an infatuated lover, an adoring husband, and a highly committed friend.”
Robert McCrum, The Guardian

“This second volume of The Letters of Ernest Hemingway documents the years in which he became himself … His style is at once close to and yet unutterably distant from that of his fiction.”
Michael Gorra, New York Times, Editor's Choice

“The volume itself is beautifully designed and skillfully edited … As a book, it is perfect.”
Los Angeles Review of Books

“The newly published letters are bracingly energetic and readable, and they add depth and detail to the already vast biographical record of Hemingway's early years.”
Edward Mendelsohn, New York Review of Books

“The publication of Ernest Hemingway's complete correspondence is shaping up to be an astonishing scholarly achievement … Meticulously edited, with shrewd introductory summaries and footnotes tracking down every reference, the series brings into sharp focus this contradictory, alternately smart and stupid, blustering, fragile man who was also a giant of modern literature.”
Phillip Lopate, Times Literary Supplement

“Reading Hemingway's letters is to go back in time by stepping into the fascinating world of a revolutionary wordsmith; a voyage through decades to the very moments when literature was taking a sudden bend in the road; a shift that was being steered by the father of modern literature. Indeed, the value of these letters cannot be overstated:”
Nick Mafi, Esquire

“The correspondence reveals Hemingway as a ravenous reader and gossip, gobbling up books, short stories and newspapers—as well as the latest rumors … His letters are speckled with slang, unorthodox spelling and punctuation, and creative stabs at French, Spanish and German.”
Brenda Cronin, Wall Street Journal
The Letters of Ernest Hemingway, Volume 6 (June 1934–June 1936), traces the completion and publication of his experimental nonfiction book Green Hills of Africa and work on stories including "The Short Happy Life of Francis Macomber" and "The Snows of Kilimanjaro." In more than twenty pieces in Esquire magazine, he relates his hunting and fishing exploits, discusses writing and writers, and becomes more politically vocal, addressing topical concerns. He immerses himself in big game fishing off Key West, Cuba, and Bimini, gathering specimens for scientific study and making record catches, and he takes on boxing challengers. He maintains long-standing literary friendships, advises and helps aspiring writers and contemporary artists, and makes public his disdain for critics. Volume 6 also features for the first time an Appendix of Earlier Letters (1918–1934) that have come to light since publication of previous volumes. Writing his epistolary autobiography, Hemingway himself reveals the many and sometimes contradictory facets of his wide-ranging genius.
THE
CAMBRIDGE EDITION OF
THE LETTERS OF
ERNEST HEMINGWAY

General Editor
Sandra Spanier
The Pennsylvania State University

Associate Editor
Verna Kale
The Pennsylvania State University

Editorial Advisory Board
Linda Patterson Miller, Chair
The Pennsylvania State University–Abington

Jackson R. Bryer
University of Maryland

Debra Moddelmog
University of Nevada–Reno

Robert W. Trogdon
Kent State University

James L. W. West III
The Pennsylvania State University
Dear Mr. [Blank]

Somebody got sick in color of both legs up picnic. Very funny story. Will tell you about it sometime. Meanwhile get hot bath on infection and we are leaving for Florida tomorrow morning. Mike said you were along at film. They all Charles are going away. I won't be much good up my feet for another week but better off at end than always. If Doctor left bath in left leg as would have to cut too much muscle getting about the book. The only pleasure that have to do today is

It are the one looking over the country from the hill for either. The picture of the book house now hanging against the left end, a picture of the film running in book. They are small. My book. I am just starting. This is my resolution at present. That may the book would sell for 1.50 wouldn't it?

Don't advertise the book as a novel. It is neither a novel nor a travel book. It is a book that you can sell as well as Fleming's first book with the advantage of having a known name and if you heats it right.

You now get anybody's figures and what went out to a book to cash. It would help to help you out.

Ernest Hemingway

[12 April 1935] from Key West, Florida.

Archives of Charles Scribner's Sons, Department of Special Collections, Princeton University Library.
THE LETTERS OF
ERNEST HEMINGWAY

VOLUME 6
1934–1936
and
Appendix of Earlier Letters

EDITED BY
Sandra Spanier
Verna Kale
Miriam B. Mandel

VOLUME ASSOCIATE EDITOR
Ross K. Tangedal
CONTENTS

List of Plates  page x
List of Maps  xii
General Editor's Introduction  xiii
SANDRA SPANIER
Acknowledgments  xxviii
Note on the Text  xxxv
Abbreviations and Short Titles  xlii
Introduction to the Volume  xlix
VERNA KALE
Chronology  lxii
Maps  lxxvi

THE LETTERS JUNE 1934–JUNE 1936  1

Roster of Correspondents  542
Calendar of Letters  564

APPENDIX OF EARLIER LETTERS  585

Appendix Calendar of Letters  662

Index of Recipients  665
General Index  668
The plates are located between pages 332 and 333.

1. Hemingway and Carlos Gutiérrez aboard the Pilar (c. July–August 1934).
4. Pauline lunching in Cojímar (c. 1934).
5. [Richard Armstrong?], Carlos, Hemingway, Juan, Cojo, Sidney Franklin, Luis López Méndez with 420-pound marlin (6 August 1934).
7. Antonio and Lillian Gattorno aboard the Pilar (August 1934).
8. Jane Mason (c. 1934).
10. Luis Quintanilla imprisoned at Cárcel Modelo, Madrid (March 1935).
11. Leicester Hemingway and Bob Klimo aboard the Hawkshaw, Havana (c. August 1934).
12. Gregory and Patrick Hemingway, Key West (c. 1934).
13. The Hemingway home, 907 Whitehead Street, Key West (1934).
15. Hemingway with bandaged leg after accidentally shooting himself (April 1935).
17. Henry Strater and Hemingway with mutilated marlin, Bimini (May 1935).
18. Gus Pfeiffer aboard the Pilar, Bimini (May 1935).
19. Virginia Pfeiffer aboard the Pilar, Bimini (June 1935).
22. Pauline and Ernest with sons Bumby, Patrick, and Gregory, Bimini (July 1935).
List of Plates

24 John Dos Passos (c. 1934–1935).
25 F. Scott Fitzgerald and daughter, Scottie, Baltimore (1934).
26 Archibald and Ada MacLeish (March 1936).
27 Sara and Gerald Murphy at Camp Adeline, St. Regis Lake, New York (summer 1936).
28 Guy Hickok, reporter for the Brooklyn Daily Eagle (1934).
29 Grace Hall Hemingway, Oak Park, Illinois (1935).
30 Madelaine “Sunny” Hemingway with dog Nick, Oak Park, Illinois (1935).
31 Hemingway’s photo of Labor Day Hurricane victim, Matecumbe Key, Florida (September 1935).
32 Cover of New Masses, 17 September 1935.
33 Hemingway refereeing boxing match between U.S. and Cuban fighters, Key West (February 1936).
34 Hemingway and Joe Russell, Havana (c. 1936).

These illustrations appear courtesy of the following:
Hemingway Collection, John F. Kennedy Presidential Library and Museum, 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 31; Toby and Betty Bruce Collection of Ernest Hemingway, Special Collections Library, Pennsylvania State University, 2, 3, 16, 29, 30, 33, 34; George Mason, 8; Harry Ransom Center, University of Texas at Austin, 9; Florida Keys History Center, Monroe County Public Library, 13; Special Collections, Princeton University Library, 14, 15; E. K. Harry Library, International Game Fish Association, 23; Albert and Shirley Small Special Collections Library, University of Virginia, courtesy of Lucy Dos Passos Coggin and the Estate of John Dos Passos, 24; Matthew J. Bruccoli Papers, Irvin Department of Rare Books and Special Collections, University of South Carolina, 25; Archibald MacLeish Collection Addition, Yale Collection of American Literature, Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library, 26; Sara and Gerald Murphy Papers, Yale Collection of American Literature, Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library and the Estate of Honoria Murphy Donnelly / Licensed by VAGA at Artists Rights Society, N.Y., 27; Brooklyn Public Library, 28; Marxists Internet Archive, 32.
MAPS

1 Eastern United States, Cuba, and the Bahamas  page lxxvii
2 Florida Keys and lighthouses  lxxviii
3 Hemingway's Key West (1934–1936)  lxxix
4 Florida, Cuba, and Bimini Islands, Bahamas  lxxx
5 Marlin off Cuba, drawn by Lynn Bogue Hunt from information supplied by Ernest Hemingway, in American Big Game Fishing, (1935)  lxxxi
6 Bimini Islands and Alice Town (1934–1936)  lxxxii
7 Havana, from The Blue Guide to Cuba (1936)  lxxxiii