

Contents

List of Figures	page viii
List of Tables	ix
Acknowledgments	x
INTRODUCTION: Historiography and History of Missing Palestinian Bodies	1
1 “We Are Far More Advanced”: The Politics of Ill and Healthy Babies in Colonial Palestine	47
2 “Making the Country Pay for Itself”: Health, Hunger, and Midwives	78
3 “Children Are the Treasure and Property of the Nation”: Demography, Eugenics, and Mothercraft	115
4 “Technically Illegal”: Birth Control in Religious, Colonial, and State Legal Traditions	152
5 “I Did Not Want Children”: Birth Control in Discourse and Practice	182
6 “The Art of Death in Life”: Palestinian Futurism and Reproduction after 1948	210
CODA: Life, Death, Regeneration	244
Bibliography	252
Index	273