

Index

Page numbers in “bold” refer to tables; page numbers in “italics” refers to figures

- accomplices, 611–612
- Acitelli example, 579
- acquiescence bias, 231
- action interference paradigm (AIP), 415–416
- actor–partner interdependence model (APIM), 331, 566, 572, 572–573, 612
 - basic case, 577, 578
 - complex case, 578–580
 - decomposition of the, 579
 - dyadic analyses, 574–577
 - dyadic data models and, 571
 - over-time, 585–588
- actual behaviors, 358
 - collected in the wild, 352
 - digital footprints and, 350
- address-based sampling (ABS), 224, 235
- adjustment errors, 223
- adrenocorticotrophic hormone (ACTH), 430
- ads, personalized, 360
- affect misattribution procedure, 412
- aggregated classroom performance, 476
- AGReMA statement (A Guideline for Reporting Mediation Analyses), 640
- Airoidi, Edoardo, 360
- algorithmic level of analysis, 655
- allostatic load, 435
- Allport, Gordon, 324
- alternative regression discontinuity designs, 176
- ambient conversations, 334
- American adults, dispositionism study and, 85–87
- American Association for Public Opinion Research (AAPOR), Standard Definitions, 227
- American Journal of Political Science*, 31
- American Medical Association, 18
- American Psychological Association (APA)
 - code of research ethics, 24
 - ethical code’s Standard 5.01a, “Avoidance of False or Deceptive Statements,” 28
 - ethical guidelines of the, 22
 - Ethical Principles in the Conduct of Research with Human Participants (2017), 24
 - Publication Manual, 28
 - statistical reporting style, 28
- analogue observation, 383
- analyses, choosing, 689
- analysis of variance (ANOVA), 142, 149, 565, 680
- analytical thinking, 333
- anti-prejudice interventions, 47
- antisocial punishment, 100
- applied research, versus field research, 195
- approach avoidance tasks, 414
- apps
 - application programming interfaces (APIs), 366–367
 - application programming interfaces (APIs) and data scrapping, 367
 - collaborating with existing, 366
 - creating your own, 365–366
 - technical rationale for, 304
- a priori hypotheses, 26, 28, 88
- Archimedes, 4
- archival data sources, 336
- Archive of Our Own, 336
- arginine vasopressin (AVP), 434
- Aristotle, 4
- artifacts
 - confounds and, 153–154
 - corrections for statistical, 689
- artifactual field experiments, 193
- assessments, timing of, 537
- Attitudes Can Be Measured* (Thurstone), 7
- attrition threats, 168
- AUC calculations, 444
- AUCI calculations, 445
- audiovisual data, 370
- automatic race bias, 8
- automaticity
 - dual-process theories and, 421
 - efficiency criteria, 404–405
 - features of, 406–407, 417–418
 - unconsciousness criteria, 406
 - uncontrollability criteria, 405–406
 - unintentionality criteria, 404

- back-translation, cross-cultural study and, 91–92
- Bacon, Francis, Novum Organum, 4
- basic case, 577, 578
- basic signal detection model, 653
- Bayesian approach, 95
 - Bayesian marginal model, 663
 - Bayesian marginal model of illusory correlations, 662–666
 - marginal model of pseudocontingencies, 654
- Bayesian marginal model, 664–665
- Beauchamp, Nick, 361
- Beck depression inventory, 613
- behavior, manual observation and coding of, 397–399
- behavioral codes, 234, 381–386, 388, 394, 397.
 - See also* behavioral observation
 - basic questions and guidelines, 387–391
 - macro versus micro, 386
 - topics and issues, 397–399
 - training coders, 392–394
- behavioral data, 322, 399, 459
 - analysis of, 378, 394–397
 - coded, 397
 - collecting, 297
- behavioral experiments, 99–100
- behavioral identification form, 57
- behavioral observation
 - analogue observation and, 383
 - coding and, 379, 399
 - coding challenges and, 381
 - experimental manipulations and, 384, 391
 - guiding principles of, 381
 - live versus recorded observation and coding, 382
 - naturalistic observation and, 382
 - observability of behavior, 384
 - pre-registration, 398
 - setting of, 382
 - social behavior, 391–392
 - transparency and, 398
 - what it is, 379–381
- behaviorist partial reinforcement effect, 59
- behaviors
 - of individuals within dyads and groups, 567
- Belmont report, 19, 20–21, 24
 - U.S. federal regulations and, 19
- Bem's studies, 28–29
- beneficence, 20
- Berscheid, Ellen, 8
- bestScales function, 492, 493, 496
- between-participant factor, 139
- between-participant factors, versus within-participant factor, 143–146
- between-person effects, 285, 554, 556
- variability, 538–539
 - versus within-person effects, 273–274
- bias-corrected (BC), 627
- bias-corrected and accelerated (BCA) bootstrap CI, 627
- biases, 93–94
 - assessing, 681
 - selective reporting, 692–693
- biasing errors/variable errors, 222
- bifactor model, 485, 504, 508, 511, 516–518, 525, 527
 - bifactor confirmatory model, 517
 - confirmatory analysis, 527
 - invariance tests on the, 530
- big-five factor model of personality, 86
- biological information, hormones as, 434–435
- biomarker and neural signature analyses, 461–463
- block randomization, 200–201
- brain, the, 7
 - blood–brain barrier, 442
 - fMRI scanning and, 453–454
 - global electric activity in, 464
 - multivariate neuroimaging and, 454
 - MVPA framework and, 455
 - patterns of activation in, 457
 - physiology proxies and, 8
 - psychological phenomena in, 454
 - social cognition and, 458
 - univariate and multivariate responses and, 456
- bureaucracy and regulation, 17
- California Health Interview Survey, 235
- Cambridge Analytica, 360
- Campbellian tradition, 155
- Cao, Xubo, 368
- cardiovascular clinical trials, underrepresentation of women in, 20
- causal and explanatory research, validity issues in, 117
- causal hypotheses, 160–163
- causal inference, 73, 116–117, 136, 198, 641–647
 - experiments and, 161
 - issues of, 160
 - social psychology and, 115
 - threats to, 120
- causal mediation analysis, 622, 629, 636
- causal processes, 126
- causal relationships, 120, 121, 128, 132
 - establishing, 116
 - intuited, 123
 - mediated, 121, 154–155
- causal research questions, 161, 185
 - validity of studies and, 163–167
- causal-steps approach, 627–628
- causality, 178, 198, 558, 629, 641, 647

- concerns about, 643 conditions of, 167 establishing, 34, 97, 165, 167 locating, 96 testing for, 196
- Center for Open Science's badges system, 26
- chi square test, 527, 571 fit statistics, 519
- choice dilemma questionnaire (CDQ), 610
- cluster analysis, 488
- cluster randomization, 199–200
- clustering factors, 543 nested versus crossed, 544
- coder drift, 393
- cognition, 31
- cognitive dissonance, 104
- collectivism, 87
- common fate model (CFM), 571, 572, 573
- common rule, 21
- communication, 79
- comparative fit index (CFI), 510
- comparing function, meta-analyses and, 681
- compensation, voluntary participation and, 23
- compensatory rivalry, 153
- competence, 269 linguistic, 476
 models of, 657 perceived, 278 to decide, 23
- competitiveness, 665–666
- complete mediation, 628
- complex case, 578–580
- composite scales, 476–477 administering and scoring the items, 477–479 determining the structure of the, 479–480 forming, 476–477
- Comprehensive Results in Social Psychology*, 33
- computational-level models, 675
- computational level of analysis, 654
- computational linguistics, 325
- computational models, 654, 670, 674 model predictions and, 654
- computer program, text analysis and, 330
- computer software analysis issues and, 617
- computer vision and machine learning (CVML), 398
- computerized question evaluation tools, 232–233
- computers, text analysis before, 323–324
- concept of games, 327
- conclusion validity, statistical, 164
- confidence intervals (CIs), 625 bias-corrected (BC)/bias-corrected and accelerated (BCA) bootstrap, 627 distribution and, 626 Monte Carlo, 626
 percentile bootstrap, 625
- confirmatory factor analysis (CFA), 483, 504–509, 518–519 estimation and testing, 509, 509–511 item means and multiple groups and, 519–520
 models of, 505
 models of twenty-five items from openness-to-political-pluralism, 514 numerical example of, 511–518 overview of, 503–504
- conflict, 80–81
- confounding factors, 124, 143, 169, 186, 630–632, 655
- confounds, artifacts and, 153–154
- congeneric item response model, 504
- consent disclosure and informed, 22–23 informed, 19, 21, 35, 260, 336 informed and the Tuskegee study, 19 participants, 372, 374, 382
 voluntary, 23–24
- construal-level theory, 57–58
- construct bias, 93
- construct validity, 122–124 causes and, 124 and conceptual replications, 122–124 criticisms of, 124 errors, 229 issues, 223, 518 research programs and, 286 testing, 144
 theory testing and, 122–124
 versus isolation, 131–132
- constructs of interest identifying, 229
- content words, 333
- control-versus-intervention variable, 176
- convergent and discriminant validity, 125–126
- co-operation rates, 227
- co-ordinated field studies, 209–210
- Corpus of Contemporary American English, 332
- correlation, 116
- correlational design, 362
- corticotrophin-releasing hormone (CRH), 430
- cortisol, 430, 431, 435
 HPA axis activation and, 430
 stress and, 445
- counterbalanced designs, 149
- counting words, by hand, 324–325
- court fine repayment rates, 358
- covariance matrix, 482

- covariates, 138, 169–170, 172, 177, 204, 287, 437–438, 623, 638 analyses with, 147 continuous, 545 linear regression analysis and, 624–625 potential, 282 and power, 146 sensitivity analyses and, 639 specification of, 638 in a statistical model, 631
- coverage error, 223–225 coverage errors, 222
- COVID-19 pandemic, 70, 359 cases, 361, 362
- credit card and bank records, spending data, 102–103
- cross-cultural approach/research, 85, 93, 104
- cross-cultural study/studies, 104 data collection after IRB approval, 92 ethics approval and pre-registration, 92 material preparation, 90–92 material translation, 91 pilot test of, 92 sample selection, 88–90
 theory testing and, 87
 translating material back to English, 91–92
- cross-discipline teams, 73
- crossed factors, 143 establishing generality of effect and, 147–149 reasons for, 144, 146–147
- crossing factors. See also crossed factors
- cross-lab teams, 72–73. See also lab teams; cross-discipline teams; cross sector teams
- cross-lag panel approach, 645
- cross-sector teams, 73–74
- cross-validation, 491
- crowdsourcing platforms, 249
- cultural artifacts, 103
- cultural differences, surveys and, 101
- culture, 85–88
- Current Population Survey, 227
- daily behaviors, 300–302 non-smartphone-mediated, 301–302 smartphone-mediated, 300–302
- Darley, John, 8
- data analyzing ethically, 25 collecting from existing data sets, 365 identifying the structure of your, 543 images and audiovisual, 370 missing, 541 publicly available, 399 storage and analysis of, 24–25 to be modeled, 664–665, 668–669 uploading data, 368
- data analysis, 560 ethical principles of, 25 interpretation and, 93–98 interpretation biases and, 93–94 interpretation in cross-cultural studies, 96
- data-analytic plan, 285
- Database of Individual Differences, 473
- data collection
 AI and, 368–369
 anonymizing, 22
 application programming interfaces (APIs), 366–367 creating your own apps for, 365–366 data scraping, 367–368 drawback of, 537
 ethics approval and pre-registration, 92 existing data sets as source material, 365 foundational models, 368–369 frequencies of, 536–537 inviting participants to upload data, 368 longitudinal, 312–313 mobile sensing and, 311–312
 modes of, 236–237 proximity to the event of interest, 536
- data-driven methods, 536
 topic modeling, 332
 word embeddings and, 326
- data points, number of, 536
- data protection laws, 305
- data quality, 255–258
- data regulations, data storage and, 262
- data scraping, data collection and, 367–368
- data security, 262
- data sets, 495 access to, 12
 online, 536
- data storage, data regulations and, 262
- data transformations, 146
- data types, 306–311, 315, 316 mobile sensing, 307
- data visualization, 559
- deception, 260–261
- degree of variation, 116
- dehydroepiandrosterone (DHEA), 430, 431–432, 435, 438, 440, 446 depression and, 447 exercise and, 438
 HPA axis activation and, 430
 stress and, 445
- delta method, 627

- demand characteristics, participants' perceptions and, 153
- demoralization, 153
- dependent measure, selecting items for, 151
- dependent variables, 150
 - mathematical transformations of, 146
 - multiple items for analyses of, 151–152
- deviance information criterion, 660
- Devine, Patricia, 8
- dialogue. See also language; writing
 - experimental, 335
- dictionaries, 327
 - Linguistic Inquiry and Word Count (LIWC), 326
 - theory-based, 326
- differential item functioning, 520
- differential treatment-related attrition, 154
- digital environments, 370, 672–674
- digital footprints, 362
 - accuracy of measures of, 363
 - advantages of, 371
 - collecting data from diverse populations, 353–354
 - collection of, 349
 - data collection and, 368–369
 - difficulty to anonymize, 373
 - downloading, 368
 - language data, 333–334
 - large samples and, 354–355
 - obtaining, 364–365
 - participants' consent and, 372
 - power of weak effects and, 355–356
 - public/private boundaries, 372
 - studies using, 356–359
 - studying data sets of, 349–350
 - studying in the natural environment, 350
 - types of, 369
 - usage logs, 369
 - value of, 352–353
- digital platforms, policies governing, 371
- dimensional code/topographical code, 385–386
- dimensions
 - cluster analytic approaches to reduction, 485, 488
 - number of, 481
 - reduction, 481
- directed acyclic graphs, 637
- directionality, 685
- directional research question, 685
- disclosure
 - disclosure statements, 29–30, 32
 - disclosure statements and journal requirements, 34
 - informed consent and, 22–23
- discriminant validity, 125–126, 145, 472, 661
- dispositionism, 85
- dissonance experiments, 125
- dissonance theory, 58, 59, 104, 126
- diverse populations, 357
 - digital footprints and, 353–354
 - online research and, 263
- diversity
 - more ambitious projects resulting from, 71–72
 - positives for, 69–71
 - team science and, 68–69
- domains
 - of experience, 270–272
 - of inquiry, 270
- dominance of theory, 11
- door-in-the-face project, 59
- double-dissociation design, 145
- drool tube, 440
- drosophila, 47
- dual-process theories, 404, 421
- dyads and groups, 612
 - behaviors of, 567
 - data for, 566, 568, 576
 - data structures, 567–568
 - data structures, multilevel models (MLM) and, 569–570
 - data structures of, 566
 - design and analysis of data of, 565–566, 568
 - distinguishability data structures, 569
 - distinguishable, 576, 577
 - dyadic APIM analyses, 574–577
 - dyadic data models of, 571–572
 - dyadic and group studies, 250–251
 - dyadic growth-curve models, 580–582
 - indistinguishable, 576, 589
 - interrelatedness and, 596–597
 - online multiuser studies, 250
 - over-time dyadic data analysis, 580
 - research and measurement invariance in, 595–596
- dynamic interactive model of person construal, 654, 672–674
 - computational models and, 674
- dynamic structural equation modeling, 588
- Dyson, Freeman, 11
- dysregulated emotional states and psychopathology, hormones and, 447
- ecological design, treatments and, 141–142
- ecological momentary assessment (EMA), 266, 277
- ecological validity, 129, 195–196
 - relevance of, 129–130
- effect size, 688–689, 691
 - benchmarks, 696–697
 - heterogeneity, 618–619
 - multiple, 689–690
 - standard deviation, 691

- efficiency criteria, 404–405
 Egebark, Johan, 359 ego depletion phenomenon, 53–56
 Eichstaed, Johannes, 362
 Einstein's theory of relativity, 47 electronically activated recorder (EAR) method, 298 emic approach, 90 emotion, in language, 333–334 EMPATH, 326 empirical evidence, 45 epistemic approaches, 9 equations, estimating with linear regression, 623–624 equitable representation in research, 20–21 error variance reducing, 146–147 estradiol, 433
 ethical incentives, 34
 Ethical Principles in the Conduct of Research with Human Participants (2017) (APA), 24 ethical standards of the APA, 24 codified, 35 conduct of research and, 17 elaborated, 17
 online research and, 260
 researchers, 34 transparency and, 26
 ethics ethical dimensions, 17 publishing, 25–35 scientific research and, 259–263
 etic approach, 90
 European Social Survey, 89
 evaluative movement assessment (EMA), 414
 evaluative priming task, 410–411 event-contingent recording protocol sampling and, 281 event-contingent recording protocols, 278 everyday experience methods, 101, 266–268 administering the instrument, 281–283 behavior and, 287–288 comparison of protocols, 278–279, 280
 conceptualizing, 270–274 considerations in, 280 designing the instrument, 281–283 designing the protocol, 280–281 discovering new hypotheses and, 270 establishing prevalence and properties, 268 participant issues and, 283–284 programmatically research and, 286–287 rationale for, 268–270, 274–275
 as self-reports, 275–276 testing theory-derived hypotheses, 269–270
 types of, 276–278
 everyday experience studies, 267–268, 270, 282, 285, 287, 288 confusion in, 282 criticism of, 275 protocols for, 276
 research aims of, 268–270 Evidence in Governance & Politics (EGAP) network, 210 existence proofs, 46, 53
 non-replicable, 45 experience sampling, and related methods, 101–102 experiences, record-keeping and, 284–285 experimental designs, 9, 121, 126, 136, 144, 630, 637
 confounds and, 153
 crossed factors in, 144 dependent variables, 150
 independent variables and, 138 mediation of causal relationships, 154–155 of research, 136 experimental manipulations, 70, 121, 124, 128, 154, 201, 255, 258, 384, 557, 661 behavioral observations and, 391 constructs and, 186 debate about, 164
 discriminant validity and, 661 in field research, 197, 199 independent, 147
 independent variables and, 623
 measurements process and, 420 programming studies and, 246 questions and, 259 study with, 34 experimenter expectancies, 124, 153 experiments natural, 359–360 quasi-experiments, 360–361 survey, 233–234 traditional (randomized), 161 exploratory factor analyses (EFA), 483, 520 item correlation, 525 external validity, 164–165 forms of, 126–130 importance of, 130 reasons for crossing factors and, 147–149 extrinsic affective Simon task, 413–414 Eysenck personality inventory, 474, 489 face perception, valence-dominance model of, 71 Facebook

 Facebook ads, 361
 Facebook Ads platform, 360

- Facebook's Data Science team, 357
- face-in-the crowd effect, 59
- facial feedback, 56–57
- facial recognition algorithms, 356
- facial recognition and character, 355
- factor analysis, 86, 329, 479, 481, 485
- comparing with components analysis, 483
 - correlations or covariances and, 480
 - dimension reduction and, 481
 - exploratory versus confirmatory, 483–485
- factor loadings
- estimates of, 515
 - estimates of standardized, 516, 517
- factors
- confounding, 143, 169
 - crossed, 143
 - deciding on treatment of, 140–141
 - levels of, 139
 - nested, 143, 149
 - number of levels of, 142
 - power with random, 141
 - random, 139–140
 - relations among, 143
 - treat items as, 152
 - varying across studies, 148–149
 - varying systematically, 148
 - varying unsystematically, 147–148
- Feynman, Richard, The Pleasure of Finding Things Out, 13
- field experiments, 198, 199, 201, 202, 203, 209, 212, 382
- conducting, 100, 193, 203, 351
 - program evaluations and, 197
 - results of, 131
 - surveys and, 221
- field research, 169–173
- advantages of, 195–197
 - versus applied research, 195
 - building partnerships, 212–213
 - career considerations in, 213–214
 - conducting international, 213
 - ecological validity and, 195–196
 - experimental methods in, 198
 - extensiveness of research constructs and, 196
 - interdisciplinary collaborations, 212
 - limitations of, 197–198
 - limitations to internet research, 211–212
 - methods, 198, 213
 - observational methods and, 198
 - online research as, 194–195
 - pilot testing and, 206–207
 - psychology of construal in, 205
 - randomized experiments, 198–201
 - randomized rollout/waitlist design, 201–202
 - relevance and scalability of, 197
 - replicability and generalizability of, 209–210
 - statistical implementation in, 202–205
 - technological advancement and, 210–212
 - what it is, 194
- field tests, 234–235
- file-drawer studies, unpublished, 695
- findings
- fragility and nongeneralizability of, 130
 - unpacking replicable, 60
- Fiske, Susan, 8, 21
- fixed factor, 139
- fixed-effects models, 682
- flexibility
- consistency across applications, 660
 - goodness of fit and model, 659–660
- Floyd, George, 70
- fMRI 1004–1007, 464–465
- follicle-stimulating hormone (FSH), 432
- formative measurement model, 518
- foundational models, data collection and, 368–369
- framed field experiments, 194
- Francis, Martha, 325
- fraud, 23
- data veracity, 30
 - participant, 252–253
 - in psychology, 34
- Freud's analytic approach, 323
- function words, 332
- analytical thinking and, 333
 - pronouns and, 332
- fusiform face area (FFA), 453
- gender-related attributes survey (GERAS), 492, 494
- data set, 492
- gender roles, 478
- General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), 263
- General Inquirer, 325
- generative language models, 329–330
- Generative Pretrained Transformer-3 model (GPT-3), 329
- generativity, 654, 662, 674
- Bayesian marginal model and, 666
- genetic research, 47
- Geomin-bifactor rotation, 524, 526
- Gilbert, Dan, 8
- GNAT trials, 413
- go/no-go association task, 412–413
- goals, teams, 75–76
- goodness of fit, 658–659, 666
- model flexibility and, 659–660, 673–674
- Google
- Google Books, 336

- Google (cont.)
 Google News, 328, 336
 Google Ngram, 99
 Google Scholar, 365
 Gottschalk, Louis, 324
 GPS logs, 353
 graphics, use of, 698
 Green Commission, 19 group polarization, 152 group studies, 589–590
- hair cortisol, 441
Handbook of Mobile Sensing, 301
Handbook of Mobile Sensing in Psychology: Methods and Applications, 300
Handbook of Research Methods in Social and Personality Psychology, 4 Hatfield, Elaine, 8 health behaviors, 438
 heterogeneity, 697
 HEXACO model of personality, 86 history threat, 167 hormones, 427 analyzing data of, 444–445
 assaying, 443–444 capturing information about, 439 demographic factors influence on, 437–438 downside into the methodological toolbox, 428–429 dysregulated emotional states and psychopathology and, 447 factors that influence, 437–438 giving participant instructions, 439 intake questions, 439 integrating into the methodological toolbox, 427–428 manipulation of, 441–442 measure of cortisol in hair, 441 measurement of with drool tube, 440 measurement using saliva, 439–440 measuring, 435–437, 439 quasi-experimental approaches to manipulating, 442–443 ratios of, 434–435 social and personality psychology research and, 427–428, 445 theory development and empirical studies, 447–448 urine measurement and, 440–441
 Household Pulse Survey (HPS), 223 human behavior, 399 human research participation ethical issues with, 17–19 ethics in, 35
 history of, 17–19
 history of ethical issues with, 17–19
 informed consent and, 21
 hybrid models, 574
 hypothalamic–pituitary–adrenal axis (HPA), 429–431, 430 hypothalamic–pituitary–gonadal axis (HPG), 432 hypotheses/hypothesis testing, 95, 282 discovering new, 270 hypothetical data, analyzing, 174
- identification assumptions for, 635–636
 confounders and, 635
 Illinois prison, malaria study in, 19 illusory correlations, 665–666 model of, 666–667
 implementational level of analysis, 655 implicit association procedure (IAP), 414 implicit association test, 408
 variants of, 408–410
Implicit Attitudes Can Be Measured (Thurstone), 8
 implicit measures, 407–408 issues in research with, 418–421 implicit relational assessment procedure, 416 incompetence, 394
 linguistic, 479
 independent variables (factors), 138–139
 manipulation of, 50
 Indian adults, dispositionism study and, 86 indirect effects path analysis and, 624
 pure natural and total natural, 632–634 indistinguishable dyads, 575 individual differences, 46, 150, 258, 336, 428, 471 biomarkers and, 462 causality and, 96 correlated, 120
 Database of Individual Differences, 473 evaluating, 490 impact of, 269 insights from, 421
 OPP and, 515 personality characteristics and, 465 revealing, 335
 sources of, 675
 systematic study of, 476 individual slopes, 527, 549 extracting, 559 inference/inferential methods, 623, 628, 638 to avoid, 626 confidence intervals and, 625 inferring causality. See also causality informed consent, 21, 35, 260

- competence to decide, 23
- components of, 21
- disclosure and, 22–23
- respect for person and, 19
- social personality psychology of, 336
- Tuskegee syphilis study, 19
- voluntary participation, 23–24
- institutional review boards (IRBs), 20, 92, 260, 359
- at colleges and universities, 21
- ethical review by, 35
- informed consent and, 21
- protocols of, 19
- instrumental variables, 573
- instrumentation effects, threats and, 168–169
- interactions, tests of, 145
- interest
- frequency of variables of, 535
- proximity of data collection to, 536
- stability of variables of, 535
- internal validity, 165–167. See also validity
- efficacy in achieving, 172–173, 177
- interrupted time series design, 184–185
- third variable problem, 120–121
- threats to, 167–168
- International Personality Item Pool, 473
- Internet
- conducting surveys on, 244–245
- as field research, 210–211
- hosting and programming internet studies, 246–249
- online research and, 263
- interrupted time series designs, 178–185
- design variations, 181–184
- efficacy in achieving internal validity, 184–185
- validity considerations and, 181–184
- Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research website, 696
- interval-contingent recording protocols, 276–277
- intervention program evaluation, 197
- interviewers, measurement errors and, 236
- invariance
- configural, 520
- metric, 520
- numerical example of invariance testing, 524–530
- scalar, 520
- strict, 520
- testing based on gender groups, 528
- invariance measurement, 520–524
- isolation versus construct validity, 131–132
- item response theory (IRT), 95
- items
- item bias, 93–94, 95
- item discriminations, 485
- number of, 489
- specific patterns of item bias, 530
- Ivy, A.C., 19
- James–Lange Theory of emotion, 56
- Jews, mass sterilization of, 18
- joint significance test, 626
- Journal Citation Reports, 26
- Journal of Experimental Psychology*
- General (JEPG), 32, 51
- Journal of Personality and Social Psychology (JPSP)*, 28, 29, 51, 244, 566, 628
- journals, open science badges, 27
- justice, equitable representation in research and, 20–21
- Kelley’s covariation principle, 610
- Khambatta, Poruz, 354
- Kosinski, Michal, 336
- Kuhn, Thomas, The Structure of Scientific Revolutions, 11
- lab-based pretesting methods, 233
- laboratory experiments, 126
- lab teams, 72
- lab versus field settings, 131
- Landers, Richard, 367
- language, 337
- analytical thinking and, 333
- archival, 336
- content words and, 333–334
- everyday, 322–323
- language data, 369–370
- level of analysis of, 331–332
- naturalistic speech, 335
- pronouns and social attention, 332–333
- style and content, 332–333
- style of, 332–333
- language analysis, 323–324, 326
- personality models and, 324
- top-down methods of, 326
- language, analyzing, 326
- Latane, Bibb, 8
- latent growth curve approaches, 645–646
- latent variable mediation model, 643
- latent variables, 480, 490, 502, 503, 504, 508, 511, 515, 642
- confirmatory factor analysis and, 519
- facet, 515
- mediation analysis and, 622, 642–643
- lexical hypothesis, 324, 473
- lexical-decision task, 692–693
- life
- capturing daily, 314–315
- face-to-face conversations in daily, 302

- Ligo group, 47
- Likert item/scale, 56, 93, 474, 553
- linear regression analysis, 624
- linear regression, estimating equations with, 624
- linguistic analyses, 98–99
- linguistic inquiry and word count (LIWC), 325, 333, 334, 338
- literature search and screening, 697
- longitudinal data
- mobile sensing and, 312–313
 - nonindependence with, 543
- longitudinal mediation models, 645
- longitudinal methods, 532
- longitudinal study/studies, 251–252, 361–362
- longitudinal designs, 555, 560, 641–647
 - longitudinal designs and analysis, 643–646
- Lord's paradox, 559–560
- low power, dangers of, 137–138
- luteinizing hormone (LH), 432
- McAdams, Dan, 324
- McClelland, David, 324
- macro coding approaches, 386–386
- major life events, impact of, 272–273
- malaria study, in an Illinois prison, 19
- manipulations, 141, 155, 407, 418, 420, 447, 661, 675
- of arginine vasopressin (AVP), 434
 - baseline, 661
 - constructing, 141
 - experimental, 70, 121, 124, 128, 154, 164, 186, 246, 255, 258, 557, 623, 661, 662
 - independent experimental, 147
 - and measures, 29, 55, 164
 - powerful, 141
 - procedural, 10
 - statistical, 688
 - types of, 153
- Many Labs replication project, 73, 603
- mapping/mappings
- key, 408
 - of objective situation cues, 304
 - one-to-one, 456
 - of sensed behavior, 314
 - systematic reviews and, 680
 - valence, 415
 - of words onto dimensions, 327
- Marr's (1982) levels of analysis, 654–655
- mathematical and computational models, 675–676
- mathematical models, 329, 653–654, 662
- purpose of, 655–658
- mathematical transformations, 146
- maturational effects, 167
- Matz, Sandra, 360
- McAdams, Dan, 324
- McClelland, David, 324
- meaning extraction method, 329
- means and variances of items, 524
- measurement, 502
- implicit measures, 407–408
 - prediction versus explanation, 471–472
 - scale construction and, 471
- measurement equivalence, 93
- measurement errors
- due to questions/respondents, 229–235
 - modes and interviewers, 235–237
- measurement instruments, 409–410
- affect misattribution procedure, 412
 - evaluative-priming task, 410–411
 - IAT variants, 408–410
 - implicit association test, 408
 - semantic misattribution procedure, 412
 - semantic priming with semantic-decision tasks, 411–412
 - semantic priming with lexical decision task, 411
- measurement models, 655, 675
- source-monitoring model as, 669
- measurement quality. See also data quality
- measures
- repeated, 532
 - second random factors and, 612–613
- measures designs, 533–534
- types of, 533–534
- mediation, 554–555
- of causal relationships, 154–155
- mediation analysis, 121, 126, 622, 646–647
- conducting a, 638
 - criticisms of, 628–629
 - future of, 641–647
 - latent variables and, 642–643
 - planning, 638
 - reporting, 639–641
- medical research ethics, 19
- Mehl, Matthias, 370
- meta-analysis, 678, 679, 698
- meta-analysis/analyses, 678, 679
- affordances of, 680–681
 - aims of, 678–679
 - authors and publishing data files, 696
 - benefits of, 698
 - choices and challenges with, 683–684
 - choosing software for, 690
 - comparing function and, 681
 - conducting, 684
 - history of, 681–683
 - inclusion/exclusion criteria, 685

- presentation of, 695–698 quality assessment and, 687 reporting of, 695–698 search and, 685 steps in doing, 685–691 of studies, 691–695 study of, 618
 summarizing feature of, 680 used in assessing biases, 681 when is it suitable, 679–680
- method bias, 93–94 methodological artifacts, 124 methodological standards, 58 replication research and, 48–50 replication results and, 48–50 methodological toolbox, 427–428 metric invariance model, 521 MG-CFA approach, 95 micro coding systems, 386 Milgram, Stanley, 8 obedience experiments of, 18, 19
 Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory, 471 minoritized groups, effects of discrimination on, 446 Mischel, Walter, 8
 mobile sensing, 304, 311–312, 316. See also smartphones commercial app services, 306 current research in, 300–304 developing an app for, 304 devices used for, 299–300 experience sampling and, 297–299 as a form of psychology research tool, 313–314
 history of, 297
 long(er)-term data collection and, 312–313 mobile sensing-based investigation, 303 open-source solutions, 305–306 predictions about data collection, 311–312 researchers and, 304–306 social behaviors and, 302–303
 standardization of psychological measures, 315–316 as a tool for capturing daily lives, 314–315 mobile sensing data, 301, 302, 313, 316 options for using, 311
 types of, 307, 308
 mobile sensing methods, 297 mobile sensors, 370 model flexibility, goodness of fit and, 666 model of illusory correlations algorithmic-level, 666–667 data to be modeled, 668–669 models, 672 additional issues with, 588–589 competing, 674 competitiveness and, 661 criteria for evaluation, 658–662 types of models, unweighted, 689 models as tools for comparison, 658 moderated relationship, 122 moderation, 554–555
 moderator conditions, 47
 moderators, 692 modern gynecology, 18 mono-operation bias, 125
 Monte Carlo simulation research, 625 mood, influences on, 153 movement behaviors, 303 multilevel approach, 644–645 multilevel models (MLMs), 539, 544–545, 547–548, 549, 566, 569–570
 centering, 553–554
 random factors and random effects, 548–553 multinomial processing tree models, 670 elements of, 668 multiple dependent variables, 132 analyzing separately, 152 multiple items, 642 average across, 151–152 composite scales and, 477 dependent variable for analysis, 151–152 scores from, 612 multi-trait, multi-method correlation matrix, 491
 multivariate neuroimaging changes in the brain and, 454 integrating into, 463–465
 social and personality psychology and, 455–457 social neuroscience, 465–466 multivariate pattern analysis. See also brain, the biomarker and neural signature analyses, 461–463 classification, 457–459 methods of, 455, 456, 465 representational similarity analysis, 459–461 varieties of, 457–463 mutual-influence model (MIM), 571, 572, 573–574 structural equation modeling and, 573 MVPA methods, 463–465
 myPersonality data, 336, 365

 Nakh-Daghestanian languages, 99 narrative reviews, 679
 National Assessment of Educational Progress, 225
 National Commission for the Protection of Human Subjects of Biomedical and Behavioral Research, 19 National Health Interview Survey, 221
 National Research Act, 19

- National Research Council Canada, 334
- National Science Foundation's Research Experiences for Undergraduates program, 78
- natural environment, studying digital footprints in, 350
- naturalistic observation, 382
- naturalistic speech, 335
- Nature and Science, 53
- Nazis/doctors, 18, 19
- nested factors, 143, 149
- neuroendocrinology primer, 429
- neuroimaging, 453, 454, 464 and psychophysiology, 103
social and personality psychology and, 455–457 structural neuroimaging technique, 465
- neuropeptides, 434
- neuroscience methods
social and personality psychology and, 453–454
- Nisbett, Richard, 8
- noncausal research questions, 161
- non-equivalent comparison group designs, 169–173, 183–184, 187 efficacy of, 173
- nonexperimental design, 136
- non experimental measurement-based studies, 161
- nonindependence, 397 in the actor–partner interdependence model (APIM), 577–580 alternative approaches to, 547 identifying the structure of your data, 543 modeling options for, 544–548 with multiple mixed variables and covariates, 579 observations and, 544 in repeated measures data, 542–543
sources of, 544
- nonprobability samples, 226
- nonresponse bias, 228–229
- nonresponse errors, 222, 226–229 designing surveys for, 229
- nonresponse rates versus nonresponse bias, 228–229
- non-smartphone-mediated daily behaviors, 301–302
- non-WEIRD field research, 301–302. See also WEIRD populations
- Novum Organum (Bacon), 4
- null hypothesis significance tests, 626
- Nuremberg Code/trials, 18–19, 23
Ivy's testimony at, 19
- obedience experiments, Stanley Milgram's, 18
- objective situation cues, 303
- observational methods, 101 field research and, 198
- observations, 28, 172 direct, 692
experimental, 141
nonindependence of, 149, 566–567
qualitative, 324 systematic behavioral, 100–101
- Office for Human Research Protections, 21
- Office of Naval Research, 18
- OkCupid, 352
- online research, 22, 263. See also Internet benefits of, 245–246 designing the setting of an, 247–248 designs of, 195
as field research, 194–195
piloting and, 256–257 use of deception in, 22
- online samples data quality of, 255–258
representativeness of, 253–254
- online targeted advertising, 359
- open data, 26, 399 and code, 640 and materials, 30–32
- Open Science Foundation, 365
- Open Science Framework website, 696
- Open-Science Collaboration, 49, 51, 52
- open-source items, 473–474
- open-source sensing apps, 306
- Oura Ring, 301
- over-time
actor–partner interdependence model (APIM), 585–588
dyadic analysis, 580
- oxytocin, 434
- p*-values method, 694–695
- PANDA, 260
- paradigm, 47–48
- parallel distributed processing (PDP) models, 653, 670–672, 671
- parallel measure model, 504
- parahippocampal place area (PPA), 453
- partial invariance analyses, 523
- partial mediation, 628
- participants compensation to, 261–262 consent of, 372 difficulty to review consent of, 372 dropout of surveys, 258–259

- misleading the (deception), 260–261
- nonindependence between, 538
- pretesting, 150–151
- and random factors, 139–140
- recruiting, 249–253
- repeat, 257–258
- security of participants's data, 262
- sensitive topics and, 261
- passive observational design, 136
- path analysis, indirect effects, 624
- Pearson product moment correlation coefficient (PPMCC), 480
- Pennebaker, James, 325
- Pennsylvania's Linguistic Data Consortium, 336
- people power, 71–72
- personality and social psychology (PSP), 5
- personality models, 329
- language analysis and, 324
- personality psychology
- big-five factor model of personality, 86
- definition of, 85
- Philips, Emo, 7
- picture-induced negative affect signature (PINES), 462
- pilot study/test, 151, 204, 541
- conducting, 170
- cross-cultural study and, 92
- field research design, 206–207
- mixed approach, 235
- Pleasure of Finding Things Out, The* (Feynman), 13
- point estimation, 115–116
- policies, governing digital platforms, 371
- political pluralism, 514, 515
- content for openness to, 512
- descriptive statistics of openness to, 513–514
- population variances and covariances, representations of, 506
- populations
- subgroups within a, 252
- potential outcomes framework, 632
- power
- calculate, 539–541
- covariates and, 146
- dangers of low, 137–138
- factors influencing, 138
- for interactions, 145
- random factors and, 141
- statistical, 137
- power and status, in social groups, 446–447
- power considerations
- second random factor and, 615–617
- precision-effect estimate with standard error (PEESE)
- methods, 694
- precision-effect test (PET), 694
- predictable findings, bias against, 53
- predicted dissociations, 144–145
- predicted interaction, 145
- testing, 144
- prediction, 116
- predictive validity, 471
- Preferred Reporting Items for Systematic Reviews and Meta-analysis (PRISMA), 679
- pre-post designs, 559–560
- preregistration
- registering methods and analyses and, 32–33
- pretest, 150–151
- sensitization, 150–151
- principal components, 485
- prison life, psychological study of, 18
- programmatic research, everyday experience methods and, 286–287
- programming, 246–247
- pronouns, 332–333
- propensity scores, 170
- prototypical meta-analysis project, 685
- pseudocontingencies, 654, 665
- PsychDisclosure.org, 29
- Psychological Bulletin*, 678, 679
- psychological measurement, 363–364
- Psychological Methods*, 678
- psychological research
- mobile sensing and global reach of, 311–312
- using digital footprints in, 349–350
- Psychological Science*, 31, 33, 51
- Psychological Science Accelerator, 71–72, 73, 78
- sample selection with the, 88
- psychological science, review of empirical evidence of, 50
- psychological universals, tool for testing, 88
- psychological variables, mobile sensing and, 306–311
- psychology
- lack of diversity in, 68–69
- mobile sensing and, 313–314
- neuroimaging for social and personality, 455–457
- racism and inequality and, 70
- recruitment of research participants, 20
- standardization of psychological measures, 315–316
- as a team science, 68
- psychology research, 26
- assumptions and random assignments under, 636
- experimental social, 128
- meditation analysis and, 628, 639
- mobile sensing and, 313–314
- pending ethical issues in, 35–37
- validity in social, 339

- psychometric methods, 502, 530–530
 basic concepts of, 503
- psychophysics, 13, 58
 Weber–Fechner law in, 45
- publication ethics, 37
- publication manual (APA), 28
- published and unpublished studies, comparison of, 693
- publishing ethics, 25–35
- pure natural and total natural indirect effects, 629
- pure natural indirect effects, 632–634
- QUAID, 232
- quantifying theoretical constraints, 61
- quasi-experimental designs, 136, 160, 161–163, 167, 169–178 categories of, 160–163
 group, 172 role of in social-personality psychology, 187–188 summary of, 185 threats to causal assumptions in, 167–169
- quasi-experiments, 360–361
- quasi-naturalistic observation, 383
- questionnaire design, 229 expert review of, 232 format of, 231
 pretesting and evaluation, 232 question wording and response, 230 questions used, 230 rating scales of, 231
- Quine–Duhem issue/notion, 48
- racial biases automatic, 8
 implicit association test and, 408
- racism and inequality, role of psychology in, 70
- rainforest plot, 699
- random assignment, 115 assumptions under, 636
- random effects, 552, 582
 multilevel models (MLM) and, 548–553
- random effects models, 549, 682, 683
- random factors, 139 research generalization and, 602–603 roles of in research, 617–619
- random intercept, 549, 569
- randomized controlled trials, 357–359
- randomized experiments, field research, 198–201
- random slope, 551, 559
- random slope model, 549
- reflective latent variable model, 518
- refusal rates, 226–229
- registered report, 33–34
- regression discontinuity data, 175
- regression discontinuity designs, 169, 173–178, 185, 186
 covariates and, 177
- regression or structural equation models, 623
- regression discontinuity designs, 185
- regressive shrinkage, 49–50
- relational responding task (RRT), 416–417
- relevance, ecological validity and, 129–130
- reliability, estimates, 487–489
- repeated measures, 532 additional consideration with data, 559–560 definition of terms used in repeated measures design, 546 equal versus unequal spacing, 535 frequency and timing of, 537 nonindependence in, 543 types of designs, 533–534 within a person, 537
- replicability, 45 findings and, 45–46 review of empirical evidence on, 50
- replicability debates
 construal-level theory, 57–58
 ego depletion and, 53–56
 facial feedback, 56–57
 selected paradigms and, 53
- replicandum, 45–46, 52
 existence proofs, 46
 problem, 48, 62
 universal proof, 46
- replication conceptual, 124–125 determinant of successful, 58 exact, 48 failures of replicability and theorizing, 87 mean results, 51
 replicability crisis debate, 86
 replicandum and, 47
 replication crisis, 45, 62, 322, 337
- replication candidates, positive, 58–59
- replication projects insights from, 52–53
 meta-analytic, 50–53
- replication research, 148–149 methodological standards of, 48–50 recommendations for high-quality, 63–64 reliability and, 50
- replication science, 45, 49 premise of, 47 purposes and weaknesses in, 61–63
- reporting issues, transparency and disclosure, 34–35
- reporting model, pre-2010, 26–29
- representation, target population and, 223–225

- representational similarity analysis, 459–461, 460
- research
- goal of, 117
 - levels of extremity in, 141
 - objectives of, 115
- research designs, 80, 132, 136, 138, 194, 560, 566
- categories of, 136–137
 - construal and, 205
 - description and point estimation, 115–116
 - diagnostic, 61
 - ethical data analysis and, 37
 - factors in, 143
 - issues of, 209
 - online, 195
 - pilot testing and, 206–207
 - power of, 141
 - quasi-experiments as a form of, 165
 - social psychology and, 155–157
 - statistical power and, 137
 - variations in, 171–172
- research ethics, 17
- governmental approach to, 19–20
- research methods
- idealization of, 9
 - the romance of, 4–13
- research participants
- perceptions of research purpose, 153
 - recruitment of, 20
 - threats based on decision to participate, 168
- research process, the, 79–80
- research protocols, 23
- research results, reporting of, 25–35
- research synthesis methods, 678
- residual correlations, 484
- residual error variance, 146
- response alternatives, 474–476
- response rates, 226–229
- review board. See also institutional review boards (IRBs)
- risky shift, 610
- robust variance estimation, 690
- robustness, 127–129
- Rochester interaction record, 278
- romance
- meanings of, 4
 - research methods, 4–13
- root mean square error of approximation (RMSEA), 510
- Ross, Lee, 8
- rotations and transformations, 484–485
- round-robin designs, 463
- rule of succession, 665–666
- saliva, 439–440
- drool tube and, 440
 - salivettes and, 440
 - and swabs, 440
- SALLEE, 334
- samples
- designs, 225–226
 - generalizability of, 254–255
 - representativeness of online, 253–254
 - selection of, 76, 88–90, 225
- sample size, 540, See also samples
- determining, 539–541
 - digital footprints, 354–355
 - planning, 537–541
- sampling errors, 49, 52, 148–149, 222–223, 618, 682, 691
- reducing the risks of, 355, 374
 - survey research and, 225–226
- sampling frames, 227, 276, 280
- developing, 224
- Sapir–Whorf hypothesis, 334
- Satisfaction with Life Scale, 94
- scalar invariance model, 523
- scale construction, 471, 474–476
- administering and scoring the items, 477–479
 - factor analysis and, 483
 - measurement and, 502
 - procedures, 494
- scales. See also composite scales
- construction of, 471
 - examples of types of items used, 473
 - prediction versus explanation and, 472
 - specifying the construct(s), 472
 - steps toward constructing, 472
 - writing or selecting items to present, 472–473
- Schmid–Leiman transformation, 486, 487
- Schoedel, Ramona, 370
- Schwartz, Andrew, 325
- science
- methods of research, 4
 - as a social process, 17
- scientific research, ethical principles of, 259
- scientific teams
- diversity and more ambitious projects, 71–72
 - reasons for diversifying, 69–71
- second random factors, 609–610
- accomplices, 611–612
 - group and dyads and, 612
 - measures and, 612–613
 - power considerations and, 615–617
 - stimuli, vignettes, and scenarios and, 610–611
 - treatment of designs and, 613–615
- selection and attrition, threats and, 168

- selection models, 694
- selection threats, 168
- selective publication, 682
- psychology findings and, 28
- selective reporting bias, 692–693, 694
- self-perception theory, 126
- semantic misattribution procedure, 412
- semantic decision task, 411–412
- semantic priming task, 411
- with semantic decision tasks, 411–412
- sensitivity analyses, 636–637, 638, 695
- settings, lab versus field, 131
- signal-contingent recording protocols, 277–278
- signal detection models, 653, 655–656, 657, 670, 674
- and PDP models, 654
- Silicon Valley, 18
- Sims, James, 18
- single-item measures (SIMPs), 490
- single item, use of, 151
- situations, gathering information about, 303–304
- sizes, effect of, 688–689
- sleep, 438
- small-study effects, 694
- smart home assistants, 370
- smartphone psychology manifesto, the, 297
- smartphone-mediated daily behaviors, 300–301
- smartphones, 303, 304
- data types, 308
 - naturalistic smartphone data, 336
 - psychological research use of, 313–314
 - smartphone-mediated daily behaviors, 300, 301
 - social behaviors and, 302–303
- Sobel test, the, 627
- Social and Personality Psychological Science*, 29
- social and personality psychology
- mathematical models in, 662
 - neuroimaging and, 29, 455–457
- social behaviors, 90, 103, 267, 300, 302–303, 384, 391–392, 466
- daily, 309
 - everyday, 101, 102
 - fluctuation of, 313
 - interdependence of, 566
 - neurological effects in, 434
 - role of biology in, 441
 - role of cortisol on, 442
 - understanding, 465
 - use of MVPA in study of, 464
- social cognition, 150, 244, 454, 457, 461, 465
- the brain and, 458, 466
 - limits and challenges of, 8
 - research, 566, 661
 - studies in, 610
- social cognitive approach, 97
- social comparisons, 153–154
- social environment
- impact on behavior, 287
- social evaluative threat (SET), 430
- social groups
- hierarchical structure and, 446–447
 - values and, 447
- social interactions
- discrimination on minoritized group, 446
 - group identity and, 445–446
- social justice, 70
- social media/data, 88, 194, 211, 212, 352
- app usage, 302
 - availability of data sets, 325
 - cultural similarity measurement and, 102
 - messages, 334, 336
 - recruitment, 225
 - research based on naturalistic online language, 336
 - usage of, 249
 - use, 274, 315, 323
- social neuroscience, 465–466. See also neuroimaging
- social neuroscience methods, 453, 454
- contemporary, 454
 - MVPA methods used in, 457
- social personality processes, language and, 334
- social personality psychology, role of quasi-experiments in, 187–188
- social personality research, 23
- Social Personality Undergraduate Research (SPUR) Program, SPSP's, 78
- social process, science as a, 17
- social psychology
- definition of, 85
 - and personality psychologists similarities, 85
 - pre-2010 reporting model for, 26–29
 - research design and, 136, 155–157
- social relations model, 590–591
- components of the, 591–593, 592
 - designs, 593
 - estimation of the, 594–595
 - examples of variance partitioning and, 593–594
 - relative variance, SRM terms, 594
- social science experiments, in Nature and Science, 52
- sorting paired features (SPF) task, 414–415
- source-monitoring model, 667, 670. See also model of illusory correlations
- as a measurement model, 669
- spacing
- equal versus unequal, 535
 - pilot studies and, 541

- unequal, 550, 555, 588
- speculum, invention of, 18
- speed-dating studies, 612
- spontaneous behaviors, observing, 350
- stability-and-influence model, 582–585
- stable unit treatment value assumption (SUTVA), 632
- Standard Definitions*, American Association for Public Opinion Research (AAPOR), 227
- standard deviation, 691
- statistical conclusion validity, 146–147, 164
- statistical inference, 622, 639, 664
 - jargon of, 602
 - rational, 665
 - second random factor and, 615–617
- statistical mediation analysis, 622, 624, 643, 646–647. See also mediation analysis
 - critiques of, 629
- statistical methods, 571
- statistical power, 137
 - testing interactions and, 145
- statistical power calculations, 541
- Stillwell, David, 336
- Stone, Philip, 325
- stop words, 332
- strong factorial invariance, 522
- Stroop trials, 54
- structural equation model, 152, 540, 566, 569, 571
 - advantages over multilevel models (MLMs), 571
 - error variance in, 504
- structural models, 657
- Structure of Scientific Revolutions, The* (Kuhn), 11
- study types, 160, 164, 165–167, 185
 - correlational analyses and, 161
 - validity of, 186–188
- study/studies
 - additional procedures before conducting, 541–542
 - categories of, 160–163
 - factors that vary between, 617–619
 - non-experimental measurement-based, 161
 - planning the, 541–542
 - quality of assessment, 687
 - sample size, 537–541
 - screening for eligibility, 686
 - selection and coding of, 687
 - using digital footprints and, 356–359
 - validity of causal research questions and, 163–167
- subsidiary factor, 143
- survey designs, 237. See also survey research
 - experimental methods and, 76
 - identifying the constructs of interest, 229
 - mixed-mode, 235
- survey research, 222, 237. See also research designs
 - causal inference, 116–117
 - correlation and prediction, 116
 - costs of, 237
 - description and point estimation, 115–116
 - explanation, 117
 - measurement errors and, 235–237
 - target population and, 224
 - timing of the administration of, 237
- surveys. See survey research
- swabs, 440
- sympathetic-adrenal-medullary (SAM) system, 429
- systematic behavioral observations, 100–101
- systematic reviews, 679, 698. See also meta-analysis/analyses
 - hormones and, 429
 - mapping and, 680
 - used in assessing biases, 681
- target population, 223–225
- Taylor, Breonna, 70
- Taylor, Shelley, 8
- team science, 68, 81. See also scientific teams
 - approach to diversify the field, 68–69
 - cross-discipline teams, 73
 - cross-lab teams, 72–73
 - cross-sector teams, 73–74
 - diversity and, 81
 - forming and growing teams, 75–81
 - lab teams, 72
 - models of, 72
 - principles of, 74
 - Psychological Science Accelerator model and, 71
 - psychology as a, 68
- teams. See also team science; scientific teams
 - assessing your current, 75
 - communication, 79
 - conflict in, 80–81
 - expanding existing, 77–78
 - goals of, 75–76
 - joining a, 78
 - logistics of working in, 78
 - representation on, 76–77
 - research process in, 79–80
 - roles and leadership structure of, 79
 - skills of team members, 76
- test–retest function, 489
- testing effects, 168–169
- testing theory-derived hypotheses, 269–270
- testosterone, 432
 - and estradiol, 432

- text analysis, 398. See also language analysis computerized, 325, 330–331
 data-driven methods of, 326–330 dictionary-based, 326 dyadic analyses and, 332 dyadic similarity and, 331
 future of, 337–339
 units of, 330–331
- text analysis, and the history of social psychology and personality science., 323
- theoretical assumptions, 48, 161, 658 tools to examine, 85–87
- theoretical constraints, 53, 55, 57
- CLT assumptions and, 58 cogent, 58
 quantifying, 61
 replicability of findings, 59
 strict, 59
 successful replication and, 58
- theory and operation, links between, 123
- theory of emotion, James-Lange, 56
- theory-testing research, 123
- third-variable effects, mediators and moderators, 121–122
- third variables, 87. See also third-variable effects; third-variable problems problem, 120–121
- threats changes in measures and, 168–169 internal validity and, 167–168 participants decisions to participate and, 168
- Thurstone, L. L.
Attitudes Can Be Measured, 7
Implicit Attitudes Can Be Measured, 8
- time-contingent recording protocol, 276
- time series data. See also interrupted time series data with intervention, 182 with non-constant mean, 181
- time variables, structuring, 555
- TOP guidelines, 26, 31
- top-down methods, 326
- topic modeling, 329
- topographical code/dimensional code, 386
- total natural indirect effects, 632–634
- total survey error perspective, 222–223
- translation cross-cultural study and material, 91 translating material back to English, 91–92
- transparency, 38
- treat items, as a factor, 152
- treatment effects, ecological design and, 126–130
- triangulation strategy, 87
- Tsimane adults, big-five scale study and, 86
- Tuan Phan, 360
- Tucker–Lewis index (TLI), 510
- turn-by-turn analyses, 330
- Tuskegee study, 17, 19
- Tuskegee syphilis study. See Tuskegee Study
- Twitter population, 354
- Type M error, 137
- Type S error, 137
- unconsciousness criteria, 406
- uncontrollability criteria, 405–406, 418
- Ungar, Lyle, 325
- unintentionality criteria, 404
- universal proof, 46
- unpacking effect, 60
- unweighted models, 689
- urine hormonal levels, 435, 439 hormone measure with, 369
- usage logs, 369
- U.S. Census Bureau’s Master Address File (MAF), 224
- USPS Delivery Sequence File (DSF), 224
- utilitarian causation, 117
- valence-dominance model face perception and, 71 face processing and, 88
- validation
 construct validity, 490–491
 cross validation, 491
 predictive validity, 491–494
 psychological, 661–662 test, 490
- validity, 115 considerations, 132–133
 construct, 117, 122–125, 164, 490–491, 518–519 convergent and discriminant validity, 125–126
 ecological, 129, 195–196 external, 117, 130, 164–165 forms of external, 126–130 internal, 117, 120–121, 165–167 internal and external, 117 optimizing types of, 130–132 predictive, 491–494 research and, 132–133 statistical conclusion, 164
 types of, 115–117
- validity considerations, 181–184 and design variations, 176–177
- variables frequency of, 535

- latent, 642–643, 643 stability of, 535
 structuring time, 555 timeframe of, 536
 types of, 568
 variance, decomposing item, 476 variance–covariance matrix, 506–508, 510, 512, 550, 552, 582 unstructured random, 552 verbal communication, 324 verbal theories, 658, 675 virtual environments, 373 migrating to, 349
 visualizations, data, 559 voluntary participation, 23–24
 voxels, 453–454, 455
 multiple, 457
 multi-voxel brain response, 457 voxel-based morphometry (VMB) methods, 465 voxel-wise activity patterns, 459 voxel-wise brain activity, 462 voxel-wise weight maps, 463 weak effects, power of, 355–356 weapon identification and shooter tasks, 417 Weber–Fechner law, 45, 60

 Weintraub, Walter, 324
 WEIRD populations, 128, 208–209, 246 widely applicable information criterion, 660 Wilson, Tim, 8
 Winter, David, 324 within-participant designs/factors, 143, 151 versus between-participants factors, 143–146
 nonindependence of, 149
 within-person effects, 539, 553, 554 versus between-person effects, 273–274 and hypotheses, 286 word count approaches, 338
 computerized, 325
 minimum requirements, 335 as a probabilistic enterprise, 330 word embeddings, 327–329, 334
 World Values Survey (WVS), 89 World War II, 18
 World Well-Being Project, 333 writing/speech tasks, individual, 335

 XM interaction, 638 testing the, 639

 Youyou Wu, 363

 Zimbardo, Philip, 18