Contents

List of maps
page xiii

List of tables
xv

Preface to the Second Edition
xvii

Preface to the Third Edition
xxix

Acknowledgments
xxiii

Postscript
xxv

A note on geography
xxv

PART I BIRTH OF A NATION-STATE, 1808–1830

1. Colonial foundations, 1540–1810
   - Development of rural society
   - Mining, manufacturing, trade
   - The colonial elite and its urban setting
   - Church and state
   - A nationality in embryo?
   - Reformers and revolutionaries
   page 3

2. Independence, 1808–1830
   - The first Creole governments
   - The wars of independence
   - The legacies of revolution
   - The quest for political order, 1817–1830
   page 34

3. The Conservative settlement, 1830–1841
   - Diego Portales
   - The Conservative political settlement
   page 55
Contents

The economic settlement  65
The war with the Peru-Bolivian Confederation  68

PART II THE RISE OF A REPUBLIC, 1830S–1880S

4 A time of progress, 1830S–1870S  77
  Government policy and practice  78
  The export economy: mining and agriculture  81
  The outward and visible signs of progress  89
  The slowly changing face of society  93
  Foreigners and natives 100
  Cities and culture 103

5 The Liberal impulse, 1841–1876 111
  Bulnes and the re-emergence of Liberalism 111
  Montt and the Conservative defection 117
  The Liberal-Conservative Fusion 122
  The “new politics” 128

6 Crisis and war, 1876–1883 133
  Economic crisis 133
  International crisis 135
  The War of the Pacific 139
  Soldiers and civilians 145
  Economy and society during the war 148
  The war and fiscal policy 151
  Politics and the war 153

PART III THE NITRATE ERA, 1880S–1930S

7 The Parliamentary period, 1882–1920 159
  Santa Maria and Balmaceda 159
  The Civil War of 1891 165
  Parliamentary Republic: economic aspects 167
    Agriculture, manufacturing, copper mining 168
    Nitrates 172
    Inflation and monetary policy 177
  Parliamentary Republic: social aspects 182
    Population, immigration, social change 182
    Urban life: splendors and (especially) miseries 185
    The “German bewitchment”: the Army and education 190
    A glance at culture (1880S–1920S) 193
  Perceptions of national decline 196
  Consolidation of the Parliamentary regime 201
  Riesco, Montt, and the “social question” 207
  The decline of the Parliamentary Republic 211
Contents

8 The Lion and the mule, 1920–1938
The backwash of the First World War and the 1920s
Alessandri’s first presidency
Military intervention and a new constitution
The Ibáñez regime, 1927–1931
The fall of Ibáñez and the months of turbulence
Alessandri’s second presidency, 1932–1938

PART IV INDUSTRIAL ADVANCE AND THE DAWN OF MASS POLITICS, 1930S–1960S

9 The Radicals, the General of Hope, and the Lion’s son, 1938–1964
Pedro Aguirre Cerda, 1938–1941
Juan Antonio Ríos, 1942–1946
Gabriel González Videla, 1946–1952
The General of Hope, 1952–1958
The second Alessandri, 1958–1964

10 The industrial impulse, 1930s–1960s
The economy during the Radical ascendancy
Agriculture at mid-century
Mining
Industrialization
Fiscal policy and inflation
The economy under Ibáñez
Jorge Alessandri’s economic policies
The agrarian question
Copper
Inflation and fiscal policy
Society at mid-century, 1930s–1960s
Social structure, new roles for women
Population, health, education
Urbanization and urban life
Mass media, communications, transportation
A glance at culture (1930s–1960s)

Catholic social reformers
A “parliament for Frei”
Social reforms and economic frustrations
Radicalization, polarization, mobilization
The “Tacnazo” and the triumph of Allende

© in this web service Cambridge University Press & Assessment
www.cambridge.org
Table of Contents

12  The Chilean road to socialism, 1970–1973
   Toward a socialist economy? 352
   The nationalization of copper 356
   The acceleration of agrarian reform 360
   The nationalization of industry 363
   The failure of the Unidad Popular’s economic strategy 367
   Confrontation and stalemate 369
   Breakdown and tragedy 375
13  The Pinochet years
   Consolidation of the Pinochet regime 383
   The Chilean road to capitalism 389
   The renewal of politics 400
   “Re-encounter with history” 406
14  Re-encounter with history, 1990–2002
   Friend of the elves, 1990–1994 415
   Neo-liberalism with a human face? 419
   A decade of advance 419
   Tackling the “social debt” 422
   Turn-of-the-century social symptoms 424
   A very brief glance at culture (1970–2000) 430
   Frei II and Lagos, 1994–2002 432
15  Adapting to the twenty-first century, 2002–2018
   The professor rules: Ricardo Lagos, 2000–2006 441
   The 2006 presidential election: the Concertación perpetuated 447
   The doctor: Michelle Bachelet, 2006–2010 450
   The billionaire: Sebastián Piñera, 2010–2014 456
   The doctor is in: Bachelet’s second term, 2014–2018 460
   The second bite of the apple 461
   Keep your enemies closer 463
   The revenge of the Penguins 466
   The 2017 elections 468
   Culture during the Concertación years 470
   The restless Mapuche 476
   The old piety confronts social change 480
   Chile’s economic development: skewed but successful 483
   Looking at Chilean society and its future 485
   Chile: where is it and where is it heading? 490
   Afterword 491

GLOSSARY OF SPANISH TERMS 511
INITIALS AND ACRONYMS 515
FURTHER READING 519
INDEX 539