ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I thank Eleanor Lanahan and Chris Byrne, the Trustees of the F. Scott Fitzgerald Estate, for support and assistance. Phyllis Westberg and Craig Tenney of Harold Ober Associates, Inc., have given valuable help with copyrights and permissions.

Most of the documentary evidence used to establish the texts in this volume is among the F. Scott Fitzgerald Papers, Manuscript Division, Department of Rare Books and Special Collections, Princeton University. I am grateful to Don Skemer, Curator of Manuscripts, and to AnnaLee Pauls and Charles Greene for their many courtesies during my visits to the library. A typescript of “Her Last Case” is among the Fitzgerald holdings at the Albert and Shirley Small Special Collections Library, University of Virginia. Typescripts of “The Intimate Strangers” and “Image on the Heart” are held by the Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections, Cornell University Library. I thank the curators at these institutions for access and cooperation. For permission to publish the facsimiles in this volume I am grateful to Princeton University Libraries and to Harold Ober Associates, Inc., on behalf of the Fitzgerald Trust.

For support at Penn State I am grateful to Susan Welch, Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts; Mark Morrisson, Head of the Department of English; and Robert Burkholder, Associate Head of the department. Willa Z. Silverman, of the Department of French and Francophone Studies, has again provided help with the French language. For assistance with digital scanning, I thank Sandra Stelts, Curator of Rare Books and Manuscripts; I am grateful also to Ann Passmore and Josette R. Schuler, of the Digitization and Preservation unit, at the Eberly Family Special Collections Library at Penn State. Bryant Mangum, at Virginia Commonwealth University, supplied texts, advice, and emergency assistance. Robert W. Trogdon, Kent State University, shared his knowledge of Ernest Hemingway’s professional career. Help with annotations, transcriptions,
