

Index

- adversative nature of arguments, 30 aidôs. See shame, sense of Alcibiades, 58, 89
 Alcibiades', 61, 71
 ambiguity
 ambiguous portraits of Critias and Charmides, 10–13, 51, 70, 291–9
 Charmides' character, description of, 10–11, 83
 Charmides' malady, surrounding, 70–1
 Critias' character, description of, 11–12, 297
 Critias' speech, 168 dialogue, in, 2, 10, 14, 15, 85, 163 philosophical content of dialogue, in, 14–15
 Pythian oracle, sayings of, 261
 Aphrodite, 75
 Apollo, 4, 77
Apology. See under Socrates aporia, perplexity, 32, 72, 80, 98, 193, 197, 234, 238, 276
aporiai, puzzles, 192
 architectonic knowledge, 15
 Argument from Benefit, 236–72, 317–23
 dream, fictional society of the, 258–63 importance of, 39–40 stage 1, 238–43, 317
 stage 2, 243–51, 318–19
 stage 3, 251–7, 319–20
 stage 4, 257–63, 320–1
 stage 5, 263–72, 322–3
 Argument from Relatives, 36, 44, 175, 194, 196–235, 315–17
 constitutive relativity, 199, 209 perceptual relatives, 200–6 hearing and sight, 222–4 philosophical importance of, 197 psychological relatives irreducible to perception, 206–19
 desire, 209–10
 erotic love, 211–14
 fear, 216
 opinion, 216–19
 rational wish, 210–11
 quantitative relatives, 220–2
 reflexivity, strict reflexivity, 38, 198
 Socrates' provisional conclusions, 224–9 structure of, 199
 Aristotle, 7, 177, 197, 229
 Athens, 7
 Athenian way of life, 7–8
 Critias purging, 18 defeated by Spartan coalition/loss of way of life, 8–9 democracy. See democracy engagement with polis hallmark of Athenian vitality, 136
 the Thirty. See Thirty, the behaviour, 13, 31
 Athenian aristocracy, 128
 Athenian youths, 109 temperance, and, 18, 108
 virtue, 31
 belief. See opinion best method of enquiry, 27, 33, 42, 98–106, 108, 125, 126, 218, 305
 Charmides abandoning best method, 135–43, 308–9
 Callaeschrus, 2, 300, 316
 Carone, Gabriela Roxana approach to Charmides, 22
 Chaerephon
 Charmides' beauty, 113
 indiscretion and vulgarity, 69 interest in Charmides tainted by sensuality, 68 manic nature of, 59, 62, 65, 300
 Potidaea battle, discussing, 58, 59, 300
 Socrates, acquainted with, 2, 13 viewing Charmides as object of desire, 65–7, 301
 Charmides, 2
 abandoning best method, 135–43, 308–9

Charmides (cont.)

- ambiguity in description of character, 10–11
 - choosing to sit between Socrates and Critias, 71–2
 - conservative values, 18
 - Critias' right-hand man in the Thirty, 295
 - Critias, and. See under Critias
 - disgrace and death, 9
 - eulogy of Charmides' house by Socrates, 93–8
 - final scene, 324–5
 - in praise of, 93–8
 - installing tyranny in Piraeus, 9
 - morning headaches, cure for, 2–3, 70–1, 77–83
 - most poetic youth, as, 62–9
 - nature and physical appearance, 2, 8, 10–11, 62–7, 73–4, 100
 - adorned with beauty, 113
 - even more beautiful when blushing, 113
 - object of desire, as, 65–7
 - passivity of, 66–7
 - poetry, and, 68–9
 - Socrates' last address to, 286–90, 324
 - statue, comparisons with, 63, 64–5, 66–7, 113, 301
 - temperance
 - first definition as quietness, 3, 107–23, 305–7
 - second definition as sense of shame, 3, 124–34, 307–8
 - third definition as 'doing one's own', 3, 135–43, 308–9
 - violating 'best method' by advancing belief derived from external source, 137–9
 - cognitive elitism, 11, 18, 20, 43, 52
 - courage, 61, 125, 127, 164
 - fear, and, 215, 216
 - Laches. See Laches
 - temperance, and, 125
 - war, in, 7
 - wisdom, as, 161
- Critias, 60
- Charmides as Critias' cousin and ward, 2, 8, 99
 - Charmides as right-hand man in the Thirty, 295
 - Charmides' beauty, susceptible to, 212–13
 - Charmides notable for wisdom and beauty, 2
 - cognitive elitism, endorsing, 18, 20
 - conception of political rule in Charmides, 18
 - debating techné analogy with Socrates, 170–86, 312–14
 - definition of temperance, inadequacy of, 5–7
 - disgrace and death, 9
 - epistemic arrogance, 18
 - final scene, 324–5
 - ideology of political elitism, 137, 260

- interpretation of Delphic inscription, 159–69, 311–12
 - 'knowing oneself', 159–69, 183, 311–12
 - 'science of science', and, 273
 - mature and experienced, 3
 - military junta (the Thirty) headed by, 9, 18
 - murderous 'purges', 18
 - nature and personality, 8, 11–12
 - readiness to use force, 12
 - self-knowledge, conception of, 25–7
 - Socrates' own spokesman, choice of Critias as, 16
 - sôphrosynê* or temperance, Critias' definitions of
 - 'doing one's own', as, 3, 37, 135, 152, 157
 - 'doing or making of good things', as, 144–58, 262, 309–11
 - self-knowledge or knowing oneself, as, 4, 25–7, 159–69, 183, 311–12. See also knowing oneself; self-knowledge
 - 'science of itself and the other sciences', as, 38, 170–86, 187–95
 - 'science of science', as, 38, 187–8, 192, 323
 - 'science of itself and the other sciences and the absence of science (or 'and lack of science' or 'and non-science')', 44, 56, 229, 237, 314–15
- Crito*, 31, 40, 41
- Cydias, 72, 75, 76, 215
- Delphic oracle, 4, 24, 162
 - Critias' interpretation of Delphic inscription, 159–69, 311–12
- Delphic inscription 'Know Thyself', 16, 24, 25, 41, 160, 162, 164, 165, 311–12
- no man wiser than Socrates, 24, 162, 188
- democracy, 42
 - abolished in Athens, 9
 - engagement with the polis, 136
 - ideological debate in Athens, 136
 - restored in Athens, 9
 - Socrates supporting democratic relations in Athens, 20
 - Solon's laws as foundation of, 95
- desire, 209–10
- Diagoras, 166
- dialogesthai*, dialectical debate, 12, 29, 68, 69, 70, 93
- dialogue
 - ambiguity in. See ambiguity
 - Charmides as dialogue of definition, 29–31
 - deliberately open-ended and ambiguous, 2
- doctors, 216, 247–50, 256
 - 'good doctors', 79–83
 - doctors of Zalmoxis, 83–93
 - holism of 'good doctors', 79–83

- 'doing one's own' benefiting others as well as oneself, 152 citizens doing appropriate work for the good of the whole, as, 142–3 doing deeds or making things that are good, as, 153–4
 experts, activities of, 140–1, 142 good deeds, as, 30, 149 intellectual superiority to the many, 137 justice, and, 37, 44, 142
 making one's own things differs from doing one's own deeds, 149 political ideal, as expression of, 137 riddle, as, 140
 temperance, as, 3, 11, 16, 18, 27, 28, 30, 37, 44, 50, 55, 135–43, 145, 146, 157, 308–9 temperance as 'doing one's own' not making one's own, 148–9 temperance as not 'doing one's own', 147 unintrusive quietness, as, 136
- 'doing or making of good things', 3–4, 16, 144–58, 159, 309–11
- dream, fictional society of the, 257–63, 271–2
- Dropides, 95, 304
- Epicurus, 167
epistēmē epistēmēs. See 'science of science' under science epistēmē. See science
 erotic love, 211–14
Euthydemus, 15, 21, 30, 40, 42, 43, 44, 45, 174
Euthyphro, 14, 29, 30, 31–2, 40, 41, 42, 138
- fear, 199, 207, 209, 212, 215, 216
 final scene, 290–9
 formal features of debate, 30
- gods, 75, 167–8
 divine wisdom, 25 gaining goodwill of, 261 justice as service to, 32 limits between gods and humans, 75 moral wisdom, 25
 obeying commands of, 25, 163 perfect knowledge of virtue and value, 163
- good and evil, 266–9, 271 happiness, and, 267, 271 science of, 6–7, 44, 54
 'science of science' ruling, 269–70 temperance as knowledge of, 266
- Gorgias*, 29, 30, 31, 40, 41, 210, 211
- hearing, 200–6, 222–4
 Herodotus, 84
- Zalmoxis, 84–6
- Hesiod, 3, 163
Works and Days, 150–1
- Hippias, 50
 historical subtext, 7–9
- holism bodily holism, 79–83
 psycho-physical holism, 37
 psychosomatic holism, 83–93
- Homer, 75, 130, 131–4, 307
 Homer's, 239
- honour, 133, 209, 210
 honourable deeds or works, 150 love of, 131, 142, 143, 145, 157, 239
- Hyland, Drew
 approach to Charmides, 18–19
Virtue of Philosophy, 18–19
- intertextuality, 2, 40–51, 209, 259
- justice, 15, 29, 37, 44, 136, 181 advantage of the stronger, 182
 'doing one's own', and, 44, 142 piety, and, 42, 138 politics, 246, 247 service to the gods, 32 virtue, and, 114
- Kahn, Charles
 approach to Charmides, 21–2
- knowing oneself
 'knowledge of oneself' to 'knowledge of itself', 312–14
 temperance, and, 311–12
 temperance, as, 159–69
- knowledge. See science knowledge of knowledge. See 'science of science' under science
- Laches*, 14, 21, 29, 31, 40, 41, 61, 161
 behaviour, 31
 courage, 14, 29, 30, 31, 32, 114, 161, 162, 215
- Lampert, Laurence
 approach to Charmides, 20–1
- Laws*, 40, 211
- Leon of Salamis, 296
- love, 199, 207, 208, 221, 227, 315 beauty, and, 60, 63–4
 erotic love, 211–14
 erotic passion, 74–6
 honour, love of, 131, 142, 143, 145, 157, 239
 'love of itself and the other loves', 211–12
- Lysis*, 21, 30, 40

342

Meno, 29, 30, 40, 42, 174, 218, 286
 virtue, 31, 32
 method and form, 30–1 methodology, 33–6 modesty. See shame, sense of morning headaches, cure for, 76–9

nature and purpose of Charmides, debate on, 1 Notomi, Noburu
 interpretation of Charmides, 18

Odyssey, 131, 133, 259
 opinion, 199, 207, 212, 216–19, 315
 objects of, 202, 208
 respect for opinions of others, 128

Parmenides, 40, 98, 233–4
 Peloponnesian war, 7
 Pericles, 7, 81
 Funeral Oration, 7, 9
 perplexity. See aporia, perplexity
Phaedo, 39, 89, 126, 130
Phaedrus, 40, 81–2, 89, 191, 213, 233
 Philosopher-King, 43, 44, 54 philosophical importance of Charmides, 36–40 piety, 15, 29, 32, 42, 138
 Plato
 architectonic knowledge, 15
 architectonic knowledge, ideal of, 44 Critias and Charmides, relationship with, 9 death and disgrace of Critias and Charmides, impact of, 9
 Euthyphro, 14
 Form of the Good, 22, 43, 45 interchangeable use of technē and ‘epistēmē’, 172 political philosophy, 18
 protagonists of Charmides determined by quasi-biographical motives, 9–10 reasons for writing Charmides, 51–4 theory of Forms, 39, 97, 103, 233 theory of Recollection, 103–4
 Potidaea, battle of, 2, 57, 58, 59
 Prodicus, 50, 153, 166, 198, 299, 310
 prologue, 300–5
 protagonists of Charmides, 9–17 ambiguity in philosophical content of dialogue, 14–15
 ambiguous portraits of Critias and Charmides, 10–13
 architectonic knowledge, 15 characters of protagonists, views about, 15–16 determined by quasi-biographical motives, 9–10
 Socrates’ double role, 13

Index

Socrates’ portrait, unique nature of, 13–14 structure of Charmides, 16–17
Protagoras, 30, 40, 42, 174, 210
 psychosomatic holism, 83–93. See also holism
 Pyrilampes, 9, 93, 95–6, 304
 Pythagoras, 85, 97

questioners, responsibility of, 35 quietness citizens, of, 136
 temperance, as, 3, 37, 107–23, 256, 305–7

rational wish or will, 209, 210–11
 reflexivity, strict reflexivity, 5, 36–9, 48, 190, 193, 198, 199, 212, 217, 221, 227, 244, 250, 277
 Argument from Relatives, 196–235
 ‘science of science’, and, 6, 38, 39, 48, 250
 temperance as strictly reflexive science, 26, 36, 39, 43
 temperance, and, 267

Republic, 18, 29, 40, 42, 43, 44, 45, 63, 104, 142–3, 158, 181, 182, 216, 218, 219, 252, 256, 259, 286
 justice, 37, 44, 142

rival lines of interpretation, 17–23 advancement of ‘interrogative stance’, 19
 Charles Kahn, 21–2
 Drew Hyland, 18–19
 Gabriela Roxana Carone, 22
 Harold Tarrant, 22
 historical and biographical approach, 17–18 Laurence Lampert, 20–1 literary form and philosophical content inseparable in Charmides, 23 mastery based on technological knowledge, 19
 Noburu Notomi, 18
 Richard Stalley, 22
 Thomas Schmid, 19–20

rulers
 absolute rulers, 47 aiming at good governance of state, 39 entitling possessor to rule, 15 architectonic science, and, 46–7 possessing higher order knowledge, 18 ‘science of science’, and, 27, 42, 46, 54, 237
 temperate rulers, 27, 43, 46, 54, 205, 236, 237, 252–4, 258, 259–63, 271

ruse, Critias’ use of, 69–71, 73, 77, 79, 92, 145, 248, 292, 297

Schmid, Thomas, 17, 19, 20, 21, 56, 90, 124, 127, 129, 132, 133, 134, 138, 139, 140, 146, 160,
 184, 185, 207, 225, 228, 238, 239, 244, 253, 275, 284
 approach to Charmides, 19–20

- Plato's Charmides and the Socratic Ideal of Rationality, 19
- science, 4, 55. See also sôphrosynê or temperance, Critias' definitions of under Critias
- architectonic form of, 45, 236–72
- architectonic form of science, 236–72
- Argument from Benefit, 5–7, 236–72, 317–23
- Argument from Relatives, 196–235, 315–17
- cognitive aspects of statesmanship, as, 5
- cognitive part of an expertise, as, 172
- good and evil, 6–7, 44, 54
- higher-order science governing first-order sciences or arts, 194
- knowledge of oneself, as, 176
- reflexive, strictly reflexive science, 5
- 'science both of all the other sciences and of itself', 179, 180, 187, 313
- 'science of itself', 187–95, 278
- 'science of itself' as impossible, 229
- temperance as, 187–95
- 'science of itself and the other sciences', 38, 55, 56, 170–86, 187–95, 219, 243, 269, 314–15
- absence of science and, 225, 227, 229
- incompatible with Socratic self-knowledge', 185
- temperance as, 314–15
- 'science of science', 22, 38, 41, 43, 48, 183, 187–8, 205, 226, 323
- architectonic expertise, as, 43
- architectonic science, as, 252
- Critias' conception of self-knowledge, 25–7
- entailing substantive and discriminatory knowledge, 188, 191
- good and evil, 266–9, 271
- 'knowledge of oneself', and, 242
- 'knowledge of oneself' to 'knowledge of itself', 312–14
- reflexivity, strict reflexivity, 38, 39, 48
- related to Socratic self-knowledge, 22
- rulers, and, 27, 42, 46, 54, 237
- ruling science of good and evil, 269–70
- self-knowledge, as, 16, 52
- states ruled in accordance with, 18
- temperance, as, 21, 26, 34, 41, 44, 52–3, 181, 187–95, 197, 222, 235, 258–63, 278
- unsuitability of 'science of science' as political ideal, 45–7
- strictly reflexive, as, 43, 52
- technê*, and, 172
- temperance as, 12, 32
- temperance as 'knowledge of knowledge', 4–5
- scientific knowledge. See science
- self-control, 3, 19, 28, 74, 104, 109, 127, 128, 138, 160
- self-knowledge, 15, 19, 23, 39, 51–2, 53, 167, 273
- Apology*, in, 4, 17, 22, 23, 24, 26, 41, 54, 162
- craftsmen, 252–4
- good life, for, 168
- knowing oneself, as, 164
- object as realisation of own ignorance concerning human good, 185
- rulers, 18
- 'science of itself and the other sciences', 184
- 'science of science', as, 16
- self-control, as, 160
- Socratic ideal of rationality, 20
- Socratic self-knowledge. See under Socrates
- technocratic conception of, 52
- temperance, as, 4, 24, 30, 31, 38, 74, 146, 156–8, 160, 161, 165, 169
- two competing conceptions of, 23–8
- Critias, 25–7
- Socrates, 24–5
- senses. See hearing; sight
- setting the stage, 57–62
- shame, sense of, 3, 10, 11, 18, 27, 78, 99, 100, 135, 307–8
- shame, temperance as sense of, 37, 99, 124–34, 218, 239, 288, 291, 295, 298
- youth, and, 293, 305
- Shorey, Paul
- criticism of Charmides, 1
- sight, 198, 200–6, 222–4
- Sisyphus*, 167
- Socrates
- Apology*, 13, 24, 26, 40, 61, 156, 165, 281, 296
- craftsmen, 158, 264
- defence speech, 188
- Delphic oracle, 24, 162
- self-knowledge, 4, 17, 22, 23, 24, 26, 41, 54, 162
- Socrates' speech having normative and paraenetic purpose, 25
- value, 21
- battle of Potidaea, return from, 2, 7, 13
- Delphic oracle – no man wiser, 24, 162, 188
- See also* interpretation of Delphic inscription under Critias
- doctor of the soul, as, 70
- double role in Charmides, 13, 61, 100
- eulogy of Charmides' house, 93–8
- 'knowledge of itself and the other knowledges', 185. See also sôphrosynê or temperance, Critias' definitions of under Critias
- last address to Charmides, 286–90, 324
- method of investigation, 33
- criticisms of, 35–6
- opinion
- objects of, 202, 208
- pedagogue, as, 100

Socrates (cont.)

- refusing to comply with orders of the Thirty, 78, 296
- relationship with Critias, impact of, 9
- ruse, use of, 69–71, 73, 76–9
- self-control, 74
- self-criticism, 42, 273–4, 281, 283–6
- self-knowledge, 4–5, 24–5, 155, 162, 180, 188, 195
 - path to, 188–9
 - Socratic self-knowledge, 20, 21, 22, 25, 27, 41, 52, 53, 76, 185–6, 191, 192, 281
- self-sufficiency, ideal of, 137
- Socratic intellectualism, 32
- summary of arguments, 273–86
- supporting democratic relations in Athenian form of government, 20
- tainted by association with the Thirty, 10
- technê* analogy, 245, 263–4, 271
 - challenge to, 33–5
 - commitment to, 229
 - debating with Critias, 170–86, 193, 236, 312–14
- temperance, 59
- trial and sentence, 9
- unique portrait in Charmides, 13–14
- virtue, 21
- virtue equivalent to science, 174
- vulnerable to erotic passion, 64, 74–6, 212, 215, 238
- wisdom/human wisdom, 162–3
 - young men's beauty, 60, 67–8
- Socratic intellectualism, 15, 32
- Socratic self-knowledge. See under Socrates
- Solon the Athenian, 95
- Sophist*, 40, 197, 230, 232, 233, 286
- sophists, 50, 143, 173, 184, 185
- sôphrosynê*. See temperance
- Stalley, Richard
 - approach to Charmides, 22
- Statesman*, 40, 43, 44, 45, 158, 197, 230, 232, 259, 286
- statues
 - Charmides compared with, 63, 64–5, 66–7, 113, 301
 - representing divine or quasi-divine beings, 65
- Stoicism, 197, 229
- structure, 32–3
- Symposium*, 40, 61, 63, 71, 213
- Tarrant, Harold
 - approach to Charmides, 22
- Taureas, 2, 57, 58
- technê*
 - meanings, 55
- technê* analogy. See under Socrates
- temperance, 16, 59, 323–4

- avoiding being a busybody, 30
- cardinal virtue of Greek culture, as, 3
- cause of everything good for a person, as, 3
- courage, and, 125
- Critias, and. See under Critias
- 'doing one's own', as, 3, 11, 16, 18, 27, 28, 29, 37, 44, 50, 55, 135–43, 145, 146, 147, 157, 308–9
- 'doing one's own' in some other way, as, 141–2
- 'doing one's own', not making one's own, as, 148–9
- 'doing or making of good things', as, 3–4, 144–58, 309–11
- experts, 169, 237, 247
- nature of, 3
- quietness, as, 3, 107–23, 305–7
- science of good and evil, as, 269
- 'knowing oneself', as, 4, 16, 159–69, 311–12
- 'science of itself and the other sciences', as, 55, 183, 314–15
- 'science of itself and the other sciences and non-science', as, 237
- 'science of science', as, 187–95
- self-control, as, 3, 28, 160
- self-knowledge, and, 3, 135. See under self-knowledge
- sense of shame, as, 3, 31, 37, 124–34, 307–8
- Socrates, views of, 15–16
- Theaetetus*, 1, 40, 47–9, 50, 56, 259, 260, 299
- Theaetetus (mathematician), 48, 49, 50, 298
- Thirty, the
 - Charmides as Critias' right-hand man, 295
 - Critias' ideology of political elitism, 260
 - debates concerning junta of, 109
 - establishment of, 298
 - headed by Critias, 9, 18
 - ideology of cognitive elitism, 11, 43, 52
 - rule over Athens, 58
 - Socrates refusing to comply with orders of, 78
 - Socrates tainted by association with, 10
 - summary executions, 295
- Thucydides, 7, 9, 58, 127
- Timaeus, 13, 40, 44, 235
- Tuckey, T. Godfrey, 1, 18, 21, 22, 56, 109, 111, 129, 155, 161, 174, 183, 184, 185, 206, 208, 244, 267, 276, 282, 283, 293
 - first analytic monograph on Charmides, 1
- Tuozzo, Thomas, 17, 23, 26, 27, 38, 55, 84, 85, 88, 89, 110, 116, 117, 129, 132, 137, 138, 139, 147, 150, 151, 155, 157, 168, 184, 185, 188, 189, 190, 200, 202, 203, 204, 207, 208, 220, 222, 224, 228, 232, 233, 238, 241, 242, 243, 244, 256, 257, 258, 259, 261, 267, 275, 286, 295
- uniqueness of Charmides, 28–40

Index

345

- virtue, 21, 31–2, 39–40, 41
 ‘doing one’s own’, as, 236 crowning achievement of human rationality, 173
 expert knowledge, as, 15, 31 form of expertise, as, 34
 justice, and, 114
 knowledge, as, 161, 172–3
 natural inclination, training, and habit, dependent on, 174
 psycho-physical holism, 37
 science, as, 39
techné analogy, 33–5
techné, and, 170–86
- temperance, as, 31
 virtuous agents knowing value of actions, 37
- why Plato wrote Charmides, 51–4 will or rational wish, 209, 210–11 wrestling, 117
 keen and slow wrestling, 118 wrestling school, 7
- Zalmoxis, 2, 14, 33, 81, 84–6, 163, 235, 236, 291 doctors of, 37, 41, 83–93
 psychosomatic holism, 83–93
- Zeus, 191, 237
 third offering to, 187–95, 314–15