

Contents

|                                                                                                                            |                 |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| List of Figures                                                                                                     | page vii |
| List of Maps                                                                                                        | viii            |
| List of Tables                                                                                                      | ix              |
| List of Contributors                                                                                                | x               |
| Acknowledgments                                                                                                     | xi              |
| 1 Introduction                                                                                                             | 1               |
| Jan C. Jansen and Kirsten McKenzie                                                                                  |                 |
| 2 Exile and Opportunity: Wabanaki, Acadian, and Loyalist Forced Migration in the Northeastern Borderlands of North America | 28              |
| Liam Riordan                                                                                                        |                 |
| 3 (Un-)Settling Exile: Imagining Outposts of the French Emigration across the Globe                                        | 58              |
| Friedemann Pestel                                                                                                   |                 |
| 4 Revolution, War, and Punitive Relocations across the Spanish Empire: The 1790s in Context                                | 83              |
| Christian G. De Vito                                                                                                |                 |
| 5 All at Sea: Prisoner of War Mobilities and the British Imperial World, 1793–1815                                         | 106             |
| Anna McKay                                                                                                          |                 |
| 6 The Legion of the Damned: Britain’s Military Deployment of Convict Labor in the Atlantic World, 1766–1826                | 128             |
| Brad Manera and Hamish Maxwell-Stewart                                                                              |                 |
| 7 New Orleans between Atlantic and Caribbean: Reinterpreting the Saint-Domingue Migration                                  | 153             |
| Nathalie Dessens                                                                                                    |                 |

|    |                                                                                                                                             |     |
|----|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| vi | Contents                                                                                                                             |     |
| 8  | Registration and Deportation: Refugees,Regimes of Proof, and the Law in Jamaica, 1791–1828Jan C. Jansen                      | 173 |
| 9  | Political Removal: Exile, Press Freedom, andSubjecthood in Britain, the Cape Colony, and BengalKirsten McKenzie              | 194 |
| 10 | Crossing the Mediterranean in the Age of Revolutions:The Multiple Mobilities of the 1820sMaurizio Isabella                   | 214 |
| 11 | The Chacay Massacre: Exile, the Mapuche, andBorder Formation in Chile and the Río de la Plata,1810–1834Edward Blumenthal | 235 |
| 12 | The Ex-Emperor in Exile: Mexico’s Agustín de Iturbide inLondon, 1824Karen Racine                                             | 258 |
|    | Select Readings                                                                                                                      | 281 |
|    | Index                                                                                                                                | 287 |