

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements ix
List of Abbreviations xi

1 Introduction 1
1.1 The Radical Project of International Criminal Justice 1
1.2 From Nuremberg to The Hague 4
1.3 Justifying the Political Authority of ICJ 11

2 The Permissibility of Punishment 20
2.1 Punishment and International Criminal Justice 20
2.2 The Natural Right to Punish 27
2.3 Punishment’s Aim 37

3 The Authority to Punish 47
3.1 Sovereignty and Human Rights 47
3.2 Jurisdictional Authority and the International Harm Principle 51
3.3 Authority and the Natural Duty View 59
3.4 Leaving the State of Nature 64

4 Legitimate Authority and International Institutions 75
4.1 Institutional Legitimacy beyond the State 75
4.2 Authority and Coercion 85
4.3 Morally Mandatory Aims and Consent 98

5 Fairness, Equality, and Democratic Authority 109
5.1 Fairness in Trials 109
5.2 Instrumental Approaches and the Subordination Complaint 120

viii	CONTENTS
5.3	Equality as Non-subordination 128
5.4	Democratic Control, Equal Opportunity to Influence, and Accountability 137
6	Conclusion: Justice in the Real World 156
	Works Cited 167
	Index 179