

Index of Persons

The following usual and ancient abbreviations for praenomina (first names) are used:

A. Aulus	M. Marcus
C. Gaius	P. Publius
Cn. Gnaeus	Q. Quintus
D. Decimus	Sex. Sextus
L. Lucius	T. Titus
M <sup>n</sup> . Manius	Ti. Tiberius

Other abbreviations:

cos = (suffect) consul
 cos ord = consul at the start of the year
 mag. = magistrate
 pref. = prefect

Ancient authors were inconsistent in how they referred to Romans, who by this period sometimes had as many as six names. So too is modern usage. Well-known figures are referred to by their usual names, others by their family (or only known) names. Emperors appear in CAPITALS with regnal date.

Index of Places

Places are towns or settlements unless otherwise stated, and are followed by the Roman province they were in, in CAPITALS, and the modern country the town is in (as of 1 June, 2015). Provinces are listed with the approximate equivalent in terms of modern countries and are indexed to mention of the province in the texts, not to every town mentioned within the province. Information on the ancient sites relies on R.J.A. Talbert (ed.) The Barrington Atlas of the Greek and Roman World (Princeton 2000).
