

TABLE OF CONTENTS

(Numbers in bold print refer to passages)

	Page
Preface	iii
Contents	v
List of Maps, Tables and Figures	ix
Notes and Abbreviations	x
Alphabetical List of Authors	xi
Table of Concordance for Inscriptions	xvi
Glossary	xviii
Notes on Authors and Works Quoted	xx
Maps	xxiii

PART I. The Story of Empire

Note A	When did Athenian imperialism begin?	1
Note B	Handling Thucydides on the formation and growth of the Athenian Empire	3
Note C	Using literary sources other than Thucydides	5
Note D	Chronology	7
1.1.	THE FORMATION OF THE DELIAN LEAGUE (1-28)	9
	To carry the struggle against Persia into Ionia and the Hellespont?
	Differences between Athens and Sparta(1-3)	9
	The behaviour of Themistokles and increasing tension between Sparta and Athens (4-6)	10
	The behaviour of Pausanias (7-10)	13
	The purpose of the Delian League (11-14)	15
	The constitution of the Delian League (15)	16
	Oath of alliance? (16-17)	16
	Aristeides' assessment of tribute (18-24)	17
	The Hellenotamiai (25-7)	19
	Further evidence of hostility between Athens and Sparta (28)	19
1.2.	THE GROWTH, DEVELOPMENT AND CHANGING NATURE OF THE DELIAN LEAGUE (29-63)	20
a)	The first 15 years (29-38)	20
	The original extent of the League	20
	Thucydides' narrative (29)	20
	Athenian hyperactivity (30)	22
	Doriskos: a Persian stronghold (31)	22
	Kimon's activities in the north Aegean and Karia (32)	22
	Athens' changing relations with allies (33)	23
	A Thraco-Persian alliance (34)	23
	Themistokles as Persian governor (35-6)	24
	Khios, Lesbos and Samos acquire special status (37)	24
	Athens and a Persian rebel (38)	24
b)	War at home and abroad: from 465 to 450 (39-63)	25
	Thucydides' narrative (39)	25

Athens, Aigina and allied reactions (40)	28
Allies die in Athenian wars (41-7)	29
League Treasury moved to Athens	30
Athens changes its rules on citizenship (48-9)	30
Peace with Persia? (50-63)	30
Note E The character of the Athenian Empire: the importance and use of inscriptions as evidence	34
1.3. THE EMPIRE FROM C.450 TO THE OUTBREAK OF THE PELOPONNESIAN WAR (64-102)	39
Thucydides' narrative (64)	39
The 'Congress Decree' (65)	40
The 'Periklean' building programme (66)	41
Fighting in the north Aegean and Hellespont (67-9)	42
Crisis in central Greece and Euboea (70-75)	42
Arrangements for Hestiaia (76)	43
Arrangements for Khalkis (77-81)	44
Foundation of Thourioi (82-3)	46
The revolt of Samos (84-91)	46
The foundation of Amphipolis (92-3)	48
Perikles' expedition to the Black Sea (94-5)	48
Akarnania allies with Athens (96)	49
The Poteidaian and Megarian affairs (97-102)	49
1.4. THE STATE OF THE EMPIRE AT THE OUTBREAK OF THE PELOPONNESIAN WAR (103-114)	52
Thucydides' view (103-4)	52
The views of Thucydides' Corinthian and Athenian speakers (105-7)	52
The view of a contemporary Athenian (108)	54
The general Greek view? (109)	55
An Aristophanic view (110)	55
Views ascribed to leading men in Athens and Sparta (111-14)	55
1.5. ATHENS AND HER EMPIRE DURING THE ARKHIDAMIAN WAR (115-55)	56
Problems in Karia, and Lykia (115-18)	56
Trouble at Kolophon (119-20)	57
Athens, Methone and Macedon (121-3)	58
The Revolt of Mytilene (124-34)	60
Athens raises a capital tax (135)	63
Tribute collection procedures revised, 426 (136)	64
The Athenians intervene on Delos (137)	65
Tribute re-assessment, 425/4 (138-9)	66
Athenian negotiations with Persia (60-62)	68
Trouble in Ionia, 425/4 (140-4)	68
Brasidas' campaigns in the Thraceward region (145-52)	69
Persian subordinates in action (153-5)	71

Table of contents	vii
1.6. FROM THE PEACE OF NIKIAS TO THE END OF THE EMPIRE (156-83)	72
The Melian Affair (156-8)	72
The extent of the Athenian Empire in 415 (159)	73
The debate over Athenian imperial intentions in Sicily (160-61)	74
Replacement of tribute by 5% tax (162-3)	75
Revolts of allies after Sicilian disaster (164-81)	75
First moves from Euboia, Lesbos, Khios and Erythrai (164)	75
Khios revolts; Athens reacts (165-9)	76
Rhodes revolts (170)	78
Samos resists a move to revolt (171-2)	78
Euboia revolts after an Athenian naval defeat (173-4)	79
Was freedom more important than constitution? (175)	79
The case of Thasos (176-8)	80
Athens rewards her supporters at Neapolis (179)	80
Athens reasserts control at the Hellespont (180-1)	81
Athenian settlement at Selymbria (182)	82
Loyal Samians rewarded with Athenian citizenship (183)	83
PART II. An Institutional Survey of the Empire
Note F The Tribute Quota Lists	86
Figure: Lay-out of the earliest Tribute Quota Lists on the First Stele	87
Graphs: Tribute Assessments 443/2-438/7	90
Table: Tribute Assessment for selected cities in the Athenian Empire	93
Note G Religious aspects of Athenian imperialism	97
2.1. TRIBUTE (184-97)	101
Assessment	101
Re-assessment (184-5)	101
Role of Council in assessment procedures	101
Appeal against assessment (186-9)	101
Collection of tribute (190)	102
Receipt of tribute (191)	104
Brought in at City Dionysia (192-4)	104
Use of Athena's share of the tribute (195-7)	104
2.2. OTHER OBLIGATIONS IMPOSED ON ALL ALLIES (198-206)	105
Coins, weights and measures (198-9)	105
Obligations to refer cases to Athenian courts (200-204)	107
Religious obligations (205-6)	109
2.3. ATHENIAN INTERFERENCE WITH INDIVIDUAL ALLIES (207-34)	110
Religious interference (207-10)	110
Political interference: general (211-15)	111
Political interference: specific cases (216-20)	113
Athenian officials sent to allies (221-8)	116
General (221-3)	116
Specific officials (224-8)	117
Arkhontes	117

viii	Table of contents
	Episkopoi (Inspectors) (224-5) 117
	Garrisons and Garrison Commanders (226-8) 118
	Athenian settlements in allied territory (229-33) 118
	Judicial agreements with individual cities (234) 120
2.4.	THE BENEFITS OF EMPIRE FOR INDIVIDUALS (235-43) 121
	For individual allies (235-8) 121
	For individual Athenians (239-43) 122
2.5.	FOURTH-CENTURY RETROSPECTIVES ON THE ATHENIAN EMPIRE (244-6) 123
Note H	Archaeology and the Athenian Empire 125
	Bibliography 129
	Index of Proper Names 138
	Index of Greek Terms 146
	Index of Subjects 147
	Address of LACTORS inside front cover