

Contents

|                                                                                           |                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| List of Figures                                                                    | page viii |
| Acknowledgments                                                                    | ix               |
| Introduction: Liturgical Modernity                                                        | i                |
| 1 Mediating the Modern: Wordsworth’s Liturgical Subjectivity                              | 22               |
| 2 Memory and Revolution: Ritual Time in Wordsworth’s Prelude                       | 46               |
| 3 Tractarian Liturgies: John Keble, Charlotte Yonge, and the Deification of Ordinary Life | 71               |
| 4 Realist Liturgies: Enfleshing Ethics in the Novels of George Eliot and Mary Ward        | 100              |
| 5 Liturgical Aestheticism: Walter Pater’s Sacralization of the Body                       | 127              |
| 6 Against Immanence: Oscar Wilde’s Liturgical Constructivism                              | 148              |
| Epilogue                                                                                  | 165              |
| Notes                                                                              | 171              |
| Bibliography                                                                       | 218              |
| Index                                                                              | 236              |