

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xxiii
Introduction: The Law of Labour—Evaluating the Labour Law Reforms	1
1 Labour’s Constitution: Pursuing Economic, Social and Political Justice	29
2 Individual Autonomy, Freedom of Contract and the Labour Market	68
3 Solidarity and Social Welfare	100
4 Industrial Democracy and Republican Citizenship: Collective Action in Resource Redistribution	135
Conclusion: Realising Labour Justice	170
Bibliography	200
Index	221