

Contents

Foreword vii
Gregory Fricchione
Foreword x
Andreas Meyer-Lindenberg
Preface xi
Acknowledgments xiii

1	Historical Origins of Catatonia	1	7	Management and Treatment of Catatonia	95
2	Different Conceptual Frameworks of Catatonia	21	8	Outcome and Course of Catatonia	115
3	Phenomenology and Subjective Experience of Catatonia: Clinical Cases	30	9	Most Common Neuroinflammatory Origins of Catatonia	123
4	Epidemiology of Catatonia	47	10	Brain Networks Underlying Catatonia	135
5	Clinical Manifestation, Complexity of Catatonic Symptoms, Differential Diagnoses, and Potential Somatic Consequences	59	11	Breaking New Ground: Novel Approaches to Understanding Catatonia and the Brain–Mind Relationship	144
6	Clinical, Laboratory, and Neuroimaging Assessments Relevant for the Diagnostic Work-Up of Catatonia	79

Index 155