

Contents

- List of Tables* [page ix]
- List of Examples* [x]
- Supplementary Material* [xii]
- Acknowledgements* [xiii]
- Note on the Text* [xvi]

- Introduction [1]
 - Elements of a Theory of Global Musical Modernism [7]
 - Western Imposition versus Bidirectional Cultural Flows [16]
 - Short Case Studies [19]
 - About This Book [25]

- PART I RETHINKING THE HISTORIOGRAPHY OF MUSICAL MODERNISM [29]

- 1 Echoes of The Rite in Latin-American Music and Literature [31]
 - From Scythianism to Indigenism [34]
 - Argentina: Alberto Ginastera [38]
 - Brazil: Heitor Villa-Lobos [47]
 - Mexico: Carlos Chávez and Silvestre Revueltas [53]
 - Cuba: Alejo Carpentier and Amadeo Roldán [57]
 - Conclusion [64]
- 2 Exile, Migration and Mobility [66]
 - Music as/in Exile [70]
 - Migrants as Avant-garde [73]
 - Mobility as a Mass Phenomenon [78]
 - Teaching Genealogies [86]
 - The Dodecaphonic Diaspora [90]
 - Conclusion [105]
- 3 Institutionalised Internationalism: The International Society for Contemporary Music [107]
 - History and Function [110]
 - What Is Contemporary Music? The ISCM's Mission and Its Annual Festival [117]
 - Centre versus Periphery: Representation [121]
 - Membership [122]

- Executive Committee [129]
- Juries [132]
- WMD Host Cities [135]
- Programming and Jury Selections [139]
- Conclusion [148]

- PART II TWO CASE STUDIES [151]

- 4 Akin Euba: African Art Music, Intercultural Composition and Creative Ethnomusicology [153]
 - From Lagos to London and Los Angeles: The Search for an African Art Music [155]
 - Bayreuth and Pittsburgh: Intercultural Music and African Pianism [159]
 - Twelve-Note Rows and Timelines: Scenes from Traditional Life and Chaka [162]
- 5 Younghi Pagh-Paan: ‘Composer Rooted in an Asian Thought-World’ [178]
 - Between the Piano and the Gayageum: From Cheongju to Freiburg [179]
 - ‘Not [to] write music that distances me from what . . . I perceive inside me as the root of our culture.’ – Composing as a Korean Woman in Germany [185]
 - Madanguk* and Mother Chords: The Compositional Work [200]
 - Towards the Light: Religious and Other Syncretism in Pagh-Paan’s Recent Music [221]

- Bibliography* [233]
- Index* [255]