

Index

- 68er generation, 27, 29, 248, 250–252,
 266–270, 280, 285–289, 303, 306–307,
 316, 324
- Abendland* (concept), 79, 148
- Adenauer, Konrad, 35, 49, 53, 57, 66, 73, 86–87, 95, 97, 174, 226, 252
- Albertz, Heinrich, 241, 263
- Allied occupiers, 57, 61, 82, 86, 94–95, 124, 128, 131, 163, 167, 180, 190–191, 210
- Alsace, 162, 170, 191–192, 303, 305–306
- Améry, Jean, 96, 245, 250, 280, 282–283, 287, 318
- Amt für Kölnisches Volkstum*, 54–55
- Anschluss*, 35
- anti-Heimat movement
- and attempted tabooization of concept
 amongst intellectuals and activists, 244, 267–272, 282–284
 - critiques of, See Heimat renaissance
 - during the Heimat renaissance, 282, 310–318
 - in education, 272–276
 - emergence of, 4, 26–27, 244–247
 - and experiences of settledness and mobility, 247–252
 - failures of, 247, 320
 - and the growth of technocracy, See technocratic euphoria of the 1960s and 1970s
 - in literature and film, 270, 289
 - and the local as a barrier to global revolution, 266–269
 - and the need for Heimat as infantile, 269–270
 - after reunification, 30, 324–325
 - role of expellee Heimat politics in, 26–27, 252–266
- anti-militarism, 73, 90–94, 100, 136, 141, 157, 169, 171, 175–176
- anti-Prussianism
- amongst the Allies, 90, 94–95, 180
 - in the German Southwest, 157, 167–169, 171–173, 176–178, 180, 193
 - in the Hanseatic cities, 117, 120, 136–137, 141
 - in the Rhineland, 65, 73, 75, 83, 89, 93–94
- anti-semitism, 97–100, 129, 142, 313
- Aras, Muharrem, 326
- Auen, Rudolf Lodgman von, 225
- Austria, 16, 188, 282, 290, 312
- autonomism, See separatism
- Baden regionalism (See also Southwest state debates)
- and claims to a democratic tradition, 179–180
 - and federalist movements, 174–178
 - and fostering European unification, 189–192
- Baden-Württemberg, See Southwest state debates
- Baltic Germans, 121–122, 302
- Bausinger, Hermann, 5, 111, 276
- Bavaria, 81, 191
- Bergengruen, Werner, 257
- Berlin, 54, 66, 126, 211–212, 220, 222, 230, 241, 255, 260, 265, 268, 290
- Berlin Wall, See Second Berlin Crisis
- Bieneke, Horst, 233, 271
- biographical rupture, See Heimat and biography
- Bloch, Ernst, 293–294, 317
- Boehm, Max Hildebert, 220
- Böll, Heinrich, 31–32, 44, 58, 69, 90, 93, 97, 99–100, 111, 250, 278, 286, 300, 309
- bombing of German cities, 1, 14, 31–32, 38–39, 55, 66, 97, 122–125, 163 (See also reconstruction)
- Borchert, Wolfgang, 123, 126, 130
- border and maritime regions, regional identities in
- identification with international reconciliation, 78–82, 117, 143–148, 156, 170, 189–194, 303–306
 - identification as national bulwarks, 20, 37–38, 77–78, 117, 120–121, 143–144,
 162–163, 223
- Bosch, Manfred, 251–252, 315

- Brandt, Willy, 230, 253–255, 284, 287, 304, 315
- Brauer, Max, 126, 129–130, 136–137, 142–143, 148, 150
- Bremen (See also Hanseatic cities)
 federalist movements in, See Hanseatic cities, and federalist movements Free Market tradition, 128
 local identities, See Hanseatic cities question of statehood, 121, 131, 137, 145–146
Schaffermahlzeit, 140
- Buchreiser, Franz, 269
- Burauen, Theo, 80, 94, 99, 105–106, 108
- Burkart, Roland (Buki), 307
- Buttimer, Anne, 301
- Catholicism, 35, 38, 52, 58–60, 65–66, 171, 199
 (See also Heimat and religion)
- citizens' initiatives, 296–307, 316
- cognitive mapping of regions, 79, 156–157, 181, 199–202
- Cold War
 and anti-communist interpretations of Heimat, 24, 75, 81, 148 and expellee Heimat politics, 26–27, 209, 241, 245–246, 252–265, 284
 and gender, 70
 and the Heimat concept in East Germany, See German Democratic Republic, engagement with Heimat concept and Ostpolitik, 230, 246, 253, 258–260, 264–265, 280, 284
 and the Potsdam Agreements, 208–209, 235
 and the Second Berlin Crisis, 4, 245
 and the Southwest state debates, 26–27, 193
- Cologne (See also Rhineland) 1900-year anniversary, 49, 66, 95, 105
 anti-Prussianism in, See anti-Prussianism, in the Rhineland carnival, 37, 47, 49, 52–53, 60–64, 73–74, 91–94, 96–97, 105, 109–111, 329 cathedral and cathedral jubilee, 1, 31, 39, 41, 43, 46, 59, 64–66, 78–80, 96, 98, 266 and the Cologne Culture Days (1946), 64, 78, 88
 coming to grips with destruction of city, 1–2, 31–34, 38–58 confrontation with the Nazi past in, 95–100
 during the Third Reich, 35–40, 77–78
 evacuees and returnees, 31, 33, 39–42, 48, 55, 59, 62–63, 66, 71, 102–103, 107, 122 evocations of Roman history in, 66, 73, 75–76, 78, 80, 104, 309
 expellee population of, 100, 102–104, 107–108 federalist movements in, See Rhineland, federalist movements in the
 and immigration, 55, 101, 106, 114, 307–310, 328–329
 Jewish community of, 61, 66, 80, 95–100, 283–284
 Kölsche Boor (locally patriotic figure), 35, 39, 91
 LGBT community in, 101, 153, 329–330
 local community and healing, 43–49, 51–54, 60–64
 local cultural revival in, 51–66
 localist identification with democracy, 86–95, 100, 113–114
 localist identification with European unification and the West, 75–82 memories of the revolutions of 1848 in, See historical memory of revolutions of 1848 and memory of guild democracy, See historical memory, of guild democracy POWs from, 42–43, 59, 69, 98
 pre-war Heimat movement in, 34–38 reconstruction of, 44, 47–49, 55–58, 85, 89, 98–99, 300 relationship of Catholic Church to Heimat movement in, 58–60, 64–66
 South City protests (1970s), 301 tolerance as a term of local identity in, 92, 99–101, 103–108, 307–310, 328–330 coming to grips with the past, See Vergangenheitsbewältigung
 communal reforms, 297–298
- Delp, Alfred, 38
- democracy and democratization in West Germany and the boundary between the private and political, 84–85, 181–183
 and concerns about demagoguery, 195–196
 and confrontation with defeat, 20–22
 and confronting the Nazi past, See Vergangenheitsbewältigung
 and consensus politics vs partisanship, 85–86, 93–94, 142–143
 and cultural demobilization, 19, 49–51
 and debates about cultural renewal, 23–24 definitions and approaches to the study of, 22–24, 73–74, 86
 and education, 273–276
 and engagement with useable democratic pasts, See historical memory and relevant subcategories

- democracy and democratization in West Germany (cont.)
 and federalist movements, See Federalism (Germany), in early post-war West Germany and gender, See Heimat and gender and identification with European unification and the West, See Heimat and European unification and immigration, See Heimat and immigration local and regional identification with democracy, See local and regional identities in post-war West Germany, and identification with democracy and Nazi comparisons, 194–195
 and political participation, 83–84, 133, 281, 316
 and protest movements, 295–303, 305–307
 and referenda, 195
 and reflections on the Weimar Republic, See Weimar Republic
 Derschau, Christoph, 269
Detente, See Cold War, Ostpolitik
 Deutsche Heimatbund, 14, 162, 229
 dialect
 boundaries, 158–162, 199–200
 and the expellees, 214, 233, 240
 as a language of protest, 268, 301, 303, 305, 329
 as a symbol of Heimat, 6, 49, 60, 152, 197, 330
 pejorative attitudes towards, 252, 289, 312 poetry, 40–41, 47–48, 57, 97, 103, 111, 129–130, 138, 290
 theatre, 49, 51, 57, 88
 Dietrich, Bernhard, 171–172
 dissonant lives/repairing biographical rupture, See Heimat and Biography Domin, Hilde, 283–284

 economic miracle, 27, 107–113, 247–250, 313
 education, See Heimatkunde
 Engelhard, Edgar, 150, 231–232
 environmentalism, See Heimat and environmentalism
 Erhard, Ludwig, 230, 255
 Ermershausen, 298
 European unification, See Heimat and European unification. See also expellees and European unification evacuees, 14, 33, 39, 41–42, 55, 59, 62–63, 66, 71, 102–103, 107, 122, 124–125, 245, 249
 expellee Heimat meetings forms of meetings, 25–26, 205, 207–211, 222, 229–230
 personal reunion vs. politics at, 206, 209, 211–216
 West German critique of, 231–232
 expellees
 and Cold War politics, See Cold War and expellee Heimat politics and conceptions of Heimat, 3–4, 26, 204–207, 221–224, 228, 232–238, 256–257, 264 and critiques of West German regionalism, 185–187, 204, 226
 and European unification, 216, 219, 226, 257 and integration, 102–104, 108, 117, 122–123, 149–153, 167, 172, 183, 196–197, 233, 236–237 and recognition politics, 206–207, 216–221, 258, 284
 and religion, 59
 and return and a right to the Heimat, 25, 206–207, 215–221, 229–231, 252, 258, 284
 and the Evangelical Church Memorandum, 264 charta of the, 216–218
 children, 204, 207, 232–241
 critique of the societies, 231–232, 238–241, 246, 254, 257–263, 284
 critique of West Germans' national convictions, 224–232 relation of societies to lay expellees, 212–213, 216, 257–258 and use of term unpolitical, 232
 federalism (Germany)
 before 1945, 7, 12, 35–36, 116, 120–121
 in the 1960s and 1970s, 297–299, 306–307
 in early post-war West Germany, xi, 2, 8, 17, 20, 74, 80, 82–86, 89, 113, 117, 119, 131–137, 155–157, 167–194, 200, 202–204, 226, 274
 in reunified Germany, 320
 Feger, Otto, 157, 162–164, 168–173, 199
 festivals, 38, 60–66, 96–97, 104–105, 109, 138–139, 151, 182–183, 197, 285, 298, 317 (See also expellee Heimat meetings)
 First World War, 12, 35, 51, 120
 Fleischmann, Peter, See Jagdzenen aus Niederbayern
 France
 in Nazi propaganda, 39, 77
 post-war reconciliation with, 2, 80, 148, 170–171, 180, 182, 189–192, 305
 regionalist movements in, 285, 306

- Frankfurt, 148, 171, 179, 266, 292
 Freiburg, 166, 178, 180, 197, 200
- gender, See Heimat and gender
- German Democratic Republic and gender politics, 70
 engagement with Heimat concept, 15, 55, 81, 113, 256, 285, 294, 316
 and Heimat feeling after 1990, 320–321
 and propaganda against the expellee societies, 26, 245, 252, 254–256, 265 reunion of expellees in, 213
 German reunification, 320–321
- global village, 288
- grand-statism (Großstaaterie), 155, 177–178
- Grass, Günther, 278, 286
- Green Party, 316–317, 325–326
- Greverus, Ina-Maria, 270–271, 288
- Gruber, Reinhard, 270
- guest workers, See also Heimat and immigration
- Hamacher, Wilhelm, 188
- Hamburg (See also Hanseatic cities) and expellee integration, 148–150, 153, 231–232
 and federalist movements, See Hanseatic cities, and federalist sentiments and historic connections to England, 144–145
 and immigration, 307–308
 the LGBT community in, 330
 and local identities, See Hanseatic cities
 and the Overseas Day/Harbour Birthday, 147–148
 and the Society of Native Hamburgers, 151–153
- Hanika, Josef, 236, 239
- Hanseatic cities
 classist and gendered understandings of Hanseatic idea, 139–141
 and federalist sentiments, 116–117, 120–121, 131–137
 and post-war reconstruction, 117, 122–131
 local cultural revivals in post-war cities, 116, 128–129
 local identities before 1933, 116, 118–121
 and memory of the Hanseatic League, See historical memory of the Hanseatic League metaphor of cities as gates to the world, 116–117, 121, 143–144 and narratives of local tradition of democracy, 116–117, 120, 135–139, 141–142 narratives of openness to the world and tolerance as local values, 117, 119–120, 143–153, 330 and National Socialist narratives about Hanseatic identities, 116, 120–122
 Hanseatic League, See historical memory of the Hanseatic League
 Hauschka, Ernst, 295
- Heimat
 and architecture/city planning, xii, 127–128, 299–301
 and biography, 6, 19, 29, 40–49, 52, 96, 128, 247, 257, 267–268, 277, 289, 294–295, 319 and children, 46–48, 53, 57–58, 106, 111, 136, 140, 165, 250–251, 257, 259, 269–270, 272–276, 310 (See also expellees, children)
 and death, 46, 48–49
 and economics, xii, 37, 41, 76, 108–113, 125, 249–250, 268, 281, 287, 289–291, 301, 311, 320–322
 and education, See Heimatkunde and environmentalism, 11, 14, 28, 271, 279, 302–307, 316–317
 and European unification, xi, 8, 20, 65–66, 75–82, 137, 143–148, 155, 157, 169, 171, 178, 189–193, 305
 and federalism, See federalism (Germany) and festivals, See festivals and film, xi, 14–15, 246, 270, 289, 313–315
 and finding new post-war lives, 1–3, 18–20, 31–34, 39–53, 66–67, 116–117, 123–131, 163–165
 and gender, 24, 66–71, 139–141, 151–152, 165–166
 and immigration, ix–x, 24, 55, 100–101, 106, 114, 271, 307–310, 315, 325–326, 328–329
 and Judaism, See Jewish Heimat feeling and literature and theatre, 10, 15, 28, 49, 57, 69, 88, 97–98, 112, 123, 130, 252, 270, 286, 294, 318 (See also dialect poetry) and media, ix, 13–14, 28, 36–37, 53–54, 63, 109, 208, 226, 251, 257, 262, 286–287, 302, 304, 319, 323, 326 and mobility, x, xii, 245–249, 269, 285, 290–292, 301–302, 312, 320–322 and museums, ix, 28, 35, 37, 84, 108–109, 237–238, 252, 295, 323 and music, 38, 41, 62, 91, 102, 112, 214, 301, 306, 328–330
 and nation, See relationship of Heimat and nation and National Socialism, 12–14, 35–40, 61, 77–78, 120–122, 138, 144, 155, 162–163, 165, 168, 175, 182, 187–188, 261–262, 315

- Heimat (cont.)
 and religion, 10, 52, 58–60, 66, 96, 115, 141, 171, 199
 and sexuality, 101, 104, 154, 329–330
 and the Cold War, See Cold War and the expellees, See expellees, and conceptions of Heimat
 and Utopia, 5, 9–10, 49, 124, 293–296
 and war, 12, 14, 33–35, 37–41, 51, 116, 120, 122, 128, 130–131, 169, 174–175, 245, 253, 261–262, 274, 315 (See also First and Second World Wars)
 definitions and translations of, 5–9, 213 efforts to eliminate concept, See anti-Heimat movement in contemporary popular debates, ix–xi, 320–331
 in the GDR, See German Democratic Republic, engagement with Heimat concept in urban centres, 11–12, 17, 34–35, 43, 111–112, 120, 166–167, 279, 290, 292, 298–301, 317 (See also Cologne and Hanseatic cities) myth of concept as tainted after 1945, x–xi, 1–2, 4, 40, 292–293, 330–331 nineteenth-century history, 10–12, 34–35, 59, 68, 112, 118–120, 140, 143–144, 292 psychologists' perspectives on, 218, 250, 290, 299, 322 renaissance of concept (1970s and 1980s), See Heimat renaissance right to the, See expellees, return and a right to the Heimat temporalities of, 9–10, 293–295
 Heimat renaissance (1970s and 1980s)
 causes of the, 277, 280–281, 284–286 and idea of an active Heimat concept, 281–282, 293–294 (See also Heimat, temporalities of) and intellectual debates about the concept, 28–30, 278–279, 282–296 and left-wing divisions about re-engagement, 30, 282, 310–318
 and party politics, 315–318
 and protest movements, 30, 279–280, 296–307
 and questions about immigration, 307–310
 and reaction to the growth of technocracy, See technocratic euphoria of the 1960s and 1970s and Reitz's Heimat series, See Reitz, Edgar and the re-introduction of Heimatkunde, 311–312
Heimatfront, See Heimat and war
Heimatkunde, 36, 58, 246, 271–276, 310–312
Heimatrecht (early modern), 10
Heimatvertriebene, See expellees
Heimweh, See homesickness
 Herrenknecht, Albert, 268, 270, 288, 291, 296, 311
 Hesse, Hermann, 200
 Hilbert, Anton, 188
 historical memory
 of guild democracy, 73, 75, 87–90
 of the Hanseatic League, 118–121, 135–136, 139–140, 145
 of local disasters and recovery, 49, 126–127
 of medieval Christianity, See Abendland (concept) of National Socialism, See Vergangenheitsbewältigung
 of Prussia, See anti-Prussianism of the peasants' rebellion, 305
 of the revolutions of 1848, 90–91, 138, 169, 179–180, 305–306
 of the Weimar Republic, 169, 179–180
 Hitler, Adolf, 35, 90–91, 142, 155, 169, 194
 home, English-language term, ix, 4–5, 7–8, 213, 322 (See also Heimat) homecomings, 1, 15, 33, 40–43, 59, 62–63, 124–125, 130–131
 homefront, See Heimat and War homesickness, 13–14, 33, 35, 38–43, 59, 62–63, 66, 70–71, 96–97, 107, 124–125, 239, 269, 291, 324 humanistic geographers, 4, 249, 301
 immigration, See Heimat and immigration Innerhofer, Franz, 270
Jagdszenen aus Niederbayern (film), 270
 Jaksch, Wenzel, 222, 226, 228, 230
 Jatho, Carl Oskar, 48, 56
 Jeggle, Utz, 311
 Jewish Heimat feeling, 13, 61, 80, 96–97, 99–100, 141–142, 282–284, 313
 Jonke, Gert, 270
 journalism, See Heimat and media
 Karlsruhe, 165, 178, 198–199
 Kather, Linus, 226, 235
 Kiesinger, Kurt, 189
 Kleinstaateri, See petty statism
 Klersch, Joseph, 43–44, 55, 57, 62, 74, 83–84, 88–89, 91, 103–104
 Kolbe, Bodo, 292
 König, René, 111
 Konstanz, 163, 165, 168, 176, 195, 288
 Kracht, Hajo, 316

- Krecker, Lothar, 233, 239
 Kreisreformen, See communal reforms
 Kroetz, Franz Xaver, 270
- latency (early post-war period), 23, 87, 155, 167, 217
Lebensraum, 13, 37, 169, 171, 224, 235
 Lehmann, Ernst, 226
 Lenz, Siegfried, 252
 Local and Regional Identities in Post-war West Germany and efforts to promote greater inclusivity, 24–25, 100–108, 148–153, 307–310, 328–330 and identification with democracy, xi–xii, 2–3, 20–24, 82–95, 100, 117, 132–139, 141–142, 168–173, 179–182
 and identification with European unification and the West, See Heimat and European unification local cultural revivals in the early post-war years, 1–2, 51–66, 116, 128–129
 Low Countries, 16, 38, 121, 148
 Lübke, Hermann, 295
 Lübeck (See also Hanseatic cities)
 expellee integration in, 122–123, 149–151 and the Father City Society (Vaterstädtische Vereinigung), 127, 131–134, 136, 138, 143, 149–150
 and federalist movements, See Hanseatic cities, and federalist movements
 and local identities, See Hanseatic cities and the post-war campaign for restored statehood, 131–133, 135
 and the Volks- und Erinnerungsfest, 138, 151
 Lübke, Heinrich, 219
- Maier, Reinhold, 173, 181, 192
 Mann, Thomas, 120, 132
 Mannheim, 199–200
 massification (Vermassung) concept, 84, 132–133
 Merker, Emil, 257
 Metz, Friedrich, 187–188
 Mitscherlich, Alexander, 299–300
 mobility, See Heimat and Mobility
 Mossmann, Walter, 306–307
 Müller, Gebhard, 173, 181, 183, 192, 194–195
 Mundart, See dialect
- Nationale Partei Deutschlands (NPD), 254, 259–260, 263–265
 nationalism, See relationship of Heimat and nation
 Nazism, See Heimat and National Socialism
- Negt, Oskar, 324
 newspapers, See Heimat and media normality, post-war desires for, 19–20, 32–33, 49–51, 124
 Nossack, Hans Erich, 244
 Nuremberg, 81, 179
- oil crisis and economic decline of the 1970s, 280, 286, 288
 Oppenheim, Friedrich Carl von, 80
 Özdemir, Cem, 325
- Palatinate, 188, 199–200, 202
 Parliamentary Council, 133, 173, 188
 Perlick, Alfons, 234
 Petersen, Rudolf, 129, 143–145
 petty statism, 37, 77, 83, 132, 157, 176–177, 185–188 (See also grand-statism)
 Pfeil, Elisabeth, 232
 Picard, Max, 155, 177
 Piontek, Heinz, 257, 331
 place attachment, ix, xii, 4–9, 27, 34, 40, 44, 248–249, 296, 330–331 (See also Heimat)
 Pohl, Gerhart, 257
 Poland, 121, 169, 208, 241, 255, 258–260, 263–264, 309
 post-catastrophic communities, See reconstruction of post-war communities prisoners of war, 42–43, 59, 69, 98, 130–131, 169, 174 protestantism, 66, 115, 168, 199, 264 (See also Heimat and religion)
 Pünder, Hermann, 53, 64, 78, 83, 88
- reconstruction
 of cities, 48–49, 55–58, 123–124, 127–131
 of post-war communities, 18–20, 31–34, 39–40, 43–48, 51–53, 58–60, 66, 117, 123–124, 126–127
 Red Army Faction, 267
 Reitz, Edgar, 289, 313–315
 relationship of Heimat and nation conceptions of Heimat as about rejecting nation, See separatism conceptions of Heimat as restraining nationalism, xi, 2, 20, 64–65, 75–84, 106–107, 117, 131–132, 136, 143–148, 170, 174–178, 189–193, 257, 264, 305
 in contemporary debates, 323
 in expellee Heimat politics, 25–26, 107, 204–207, 221–232 nationalist conceptions of the, xi, 3, 12–14, 35–40, 77–78, 120–122, 162–163, 185, 254, 261–264 scholarly debates about the, 5–12

- Rhineland (See also Cologne)
 anti-Prussianism, See anti-Prussianism, in the Rhineland federalist movements in the, 74, 80, 82–85, 89 narratives of region as a bridge to the West, 75–81 narratives of region as a national bulwark, 77–78
 separatism in the, 35, 37, 77, 107
 Riehl, Wilhelm Heinrich, 159
 Ritual Tradition, Reinvention of, 23, 91–94, 138–139, 147–148
 Rojek, Alfred, 228
 Rosenberg, Alfred, 122, 131
- Saarland, 190–191, 229
 Schallück, Paul, 262
 Schlink, Bernhard, 267–268, 324
 Schmidt, Helmut, 145
 Scholl, Robert, 168
 Schütz, Klaus, 260, 265
 Schwering, Ernst, 43, 65, 80, 105
 Schwering, Max-Leo, 79, 84, 93, 100
 Second World War, 12, 14, 33–34, 37–41, 116, 122
 separatism, 8, 12, 20, 35, 37, 107, 168–173, 193
 sexuality, See Heimat and sexuality
 Siedler, Wolf Jobst, 299
 Sieveking, Kurt, 137, 145, 150, 219
 Southwest state debates (See also Badenese and Swabian-Alemannic regionalism) and arguments for Heimat in democracy as private, 182–184 and debates about spatial scales of democracy, 155–156, 167–168, 171, 174–182, 185–189
 and debates over state name and crest, 200–202 economic considerations, 184–185
 gerrymandering and legal framework of referenda, 173–174, 195
 and pre-1945 political histories of the Southwest, 162–163
 referenda results, 174, 197–200
 and territorial histories of the Southwest, 158–159
 Soviet Union (See also Cold War) and the German expellees, 208–209, 265
 West German attitudes towards, 24, 81, 193
 Sperr, Martin, See Jagdszenen aus Niederbayern
 Spitta, Theodor, 129, 134, 137, 145
 Stamm, 158–161, 188, 201
 Steffani, Winfried, 295
- student movements, See 68er generation
 Stuttgart, 170, 183, 260
 Swabian-Alemannic regionalism (See also Southwest state debates)
 and claims to a democratic tradition, 168–169, 171
 and cognitive maps of region, 157, 170, 181
 and fostering European unification, 169–171, 189, 193
 and proposals for an autonomous state, 155, 157, 168–173
 Switzerland
 German border with, 2, 163, 189, 191–192, 305–306
 as post-war model, 134, 157, 169–170, 173, 176–178
- technocratic euphoria of the 1960s and 1970s, 27, 280–282, 285, 290–292, 296–303, 307
 time, See Heimat, temporalities of Trachten (regional costume), 166, 182, 240, 260
- Ulbricht, Walter, 255
 Ulitz, Arnold, 257
 Ulm, 181
 United Kingdom
 and British ideas about German democratization, 90, 94–95, 115
 critique of expellee societies in, 213, 219, 240, 256
 post-war reconciliation with, 38, 145
 United States
 and American perceptions of German traditions, 87, 139
 West German attitudes towards, 79, 82, 190, 317
- Vege sack, Siegfried von, 271
Vergangenheitsbewältigung, 24, 81, 95–100, 113–114, 141–142, 172, 311, 323
Volks-gemeinschaft, 18–19, 33–34, 39–40, 71, 122, 124, 224
Volkstum (Concept), 54–55
- Walser, Martin, 271–272, 286–287, 294, 311
 Watch on the Rhine, 75, 77–78, 144, 306
 Weckmann, André, 268–269, 305
 Weimar Republic, 12, 18, 35, 74, 120–121, 133, 162, 169, 179, 313
 Weinberg, Marie-Luise Kaschnitz von, 262
 Wirtschaftswunder, See economic miracle

Index 371

Wohleb, Leo, 164–165, 172–174, 177–180, 191–192, 194–196	Württemberg, See Southwest state debates
Wohmann, Gabriele, 261–262	Wyhl protests, 279, 281–282, 286, 288, 302–307 (See also Heimat and environmentalism)
Wolfgruber, Gernot, 270
World War I, See First World War
World War II, See Second World War	Zillich, Heinrich, 228