

Index

- abolition
 - prison abolitionism, 98
 - of torture in pre-modern history, 73, 85, 179
- agency-structure, 16, 60, 65, 167
- Améry, Jean, 102, 186
- anti-torture field, 3–5, 19, 27, 52, 71, 96, 100, 133, 144, 203
 - history, 28
 - responsibility, 204
 - states, 29, 37, 100
- Asad, Talal, 86
- Boddice, Rob, 77
- Bouyid v. Belgium*, 12, 111
- Christie, Nils, 28
- Cohen, Stanley, 137
- context, 206
 - complicity, 63
 - cultural context, 9
 - definition of socio-cultural-political context, 72, 75
 - ecological approach, 62
 - extra-legal, 8, 15
 - imbrication, 13
 - structural conditions, 12, 63, 181
 - totality of the circumstances, 10
- death penalty, 69, 89, 92
- definition, 163
 - acts versus conditions, 62
 - difficulty, 30
 - distinction, 34, 47, 100
 - imaginaries of torture, 11, 13, 33, 43, 51, 58, 61, 102, 145, 159, 174, 182, 195
 - indeterminacy, 34, 36
 - inevitability, 107–108
 - intention, 40, 58
 - intention (negligence and recklessness), 41
 - interpretation, 31
 - lawful sanctions, 46, 107, 118
 - liberal stand-point, 64
 - minimum level of severity, 45, 107, 118
 - official capacity, 45, 60
 - pain, 31
 - purpose, 42, 58
 - purpose (discrimination), 34, 43–44
 - purpose (gratuitous violence), 44, 59
 - relation between intention and purpose, 45
 - systematic torture, 12
 - thresholds, 34
 - triviality, 107, 112
 - UN Convention Against Torture, 28, 30
- denial of medical care, 41, 195
- deportation, 193
- doctrine, 3, 13, 18, 91
 - historicity, 68
 - assumptions, 10, 23, 43, 66, 70–71, 89, 96, 127, 134, 204
 - definition of, 29
 - interpretation, 56
 - judge-centrism, 13, 62
- documentation, 161
 - difficulty of, 132, 134
 - and empathy, 170
 - evidence base, 141
 - evidentiary asymmetry, 138
 - Istanbul Protocol*, 4, 130, 141, 144, 151, 155–156
 - multi and inter disciplinarity, 156
 - of psychological suffering, 131
 - purposes of, 133
- duBois, Page, 74, 179

INDEX

- electrocution, 39
- evidence, 10, 23, 131
 - admissibility of, 139
 - availability of, 135
 - burden of proof, 139
 - certainty, 49, 129, 147, 149–152, 156
 - flexibility, 138
 - historical uses of torture, 75
 - interpretation of, 158
 - multi-and interdisciplinarity, 23, 134, 151
 - principles, 134
 - probability, 152
 - receptivity to, 23, 131, 147–148, 150, 153, 155, 157
 - sufficiency of testimony, 38, 140
 - of systematic violations, 139, 147
 - testimonial evidence, 135, 149, 182
 - visibility, 149, 180
- exceptionality, 48
 - in documentation, 145
 - exotification, 106
 - extreme, 34, 191
 - imaginaries of torture, 77
 - lawful sanctions, 22
 - minimum level of severity, 21
 - pathologising, 98, 102, 191
 - special stigma, 13, 50, 102, 174
 - spectacle, 70, 79
 - and triviality, 113
 - unattainability, 126
- falanka, 39
- forced sterilisation, 47
- Garland, David, 78
- The Greek Case*, 109
 - and documentation, 132
- interpretation, 52, 128
 - act versus impact, 39
 - action versus inaction, 42
 - constructive ambiguity, 48
 - dangerousness, 177
 - distinction, 42, 50, 148
 - dynamic interpretation, 52, 70, 89
 - ends-driven reasoning, 171
 - evolutive interpretation, 73
 - Foucault's monster, 55
 - free assessment of evidence, 138, 140, 148
 - guesswork, 38
 - indeterminacy, 54, 55, 91
 - inferential reasoning, 136, 168
 - judicial caution, 155
 - judicial discretion, 140, 154
 - justiciability, 111
 - language, 37, 100, 127, 188, 204
 - living instrument, 54
 - multi-and inter-disciplinarity, 152
 - narrow and broad, 99, 206
 - objectivity, 34
 - of socio-political context, 88, 90
 - physicality of torture, 120
 - principle of effectiveness, 54
 - rape as torture, 38
 - subjective versus objective, 38, 51, 140
- investigation, of psychological suffering, 139
- Ireland v. UK*, 94, 103, 114, 116, 138
- Langbein, John, 85
- law
 - coercive human rights, 18
 - judge-centrism, 7, 27
 - law's objectivity, 164
 - law's reductivity, 149, 159, 171
 - law's violence, 18, 21–22, 84, 105, 107, 128, 205
 - liberal stand-point, 3, 7, 28, 127, 205
 - as proxy for socio-political standards, 9, 75, 96
- life imprisonment without parole, 92
- Mathiesen, Thomas, 1
- medicine, 2
 - biomedical approaches, 33, 156
 - and the definition of pain, 82
 - common sense, 171
 - psychiatry, 82
 - and psychology, 2
 - reductivity, 171
 - visibility, 179
- necessity, 20, 45, 81, 97, 105, 110, 128–129
 - assessment of, 111
 - civilisation, 21, 87
 - 'commonplace' practices, 105
 - justiciability, 22, 98
 - medical necessity, 155
 - 'normal' practices, 104
 - of psychological suffering, 110
 - raison d'état*, 15, 85, 110
 - state deference, 155, 177
 - 'unusual' practices, 104

INDEX

- pain
 acute pain in definition, 39
 civilisation, 78
 and communication, 185 discomfort, 47, 113 hierarchy, 39
 measurability, 80–81, 182
 multi-and inter-disciplinarity, 31
 objectification, 172, 176 power, 127
 proximity to, 24 psychological suffering, 69, 88, 103, 116–117 resilience, 37, 39
 science, 37
 severity, 161
 socio-cultural contingency of, 20, 24, 31, 33, 35, 70, 76, 162 time, 89, 189
 triviality, 163
 Peters, Edward, 85 progress, 18, 54, 68
 civilisation, 79
 incrementalism, 71, 95 juridification as progress, 4 linearity, 90, 94–95, 115
 longue durée, 71, 95, 97
 measurability, 90
 and pain, 19
 selectivity, 101 prohibition absolute nature, 37, 52, 70, 112, 177
 European Convention on Human Rights, 77 list of prohibitions in international law, 28 punishment, relation to pain and torture, 72, 96 rape, 39
 Rejali, Darius, 86, 120, 187
 Scarry, Elaine, 120, 185
 science
 co-optation and complicity, 83 pseudo-science, 84
 scientism, 152
 sense-centric reasoning, 7, 24, 64, 153, 158, 160 bias and stereotyping, 171
 common sense, 33, 106, 154, 170–171
 conceptual conflation, 165 contingency, 166 emotions, 165 empathy, 24, 162, 168 empathy and documentation, 170 feeling rules, 167 intuition, 172, 175 must have felt reasoning, 172 ocularcentrism, 180 phenomenology, 169
 presumptions, 38, 99, 170, 173 short-cuts, 172 slow death, 42, 199
 time, 25, 39, 54, 69, 90
 time and psychological suffering, 196
 visibility, 79, 149, 151, 161, 178
 vulnerability, 34, 38–39, 170, 175 siege starvation, 195
 Silverman, Lisa, 74, 179 sleep deprivation, 42, 118 solitary confinement, 68, 98, 118, 120, 126 evidence-base of health impacts, 141 state denial, 135, 148, 150, 197
tortura spiritualis, 88
 UN Convention Against Torture, and Amnesty International, 163
 UN Nelson Mandela Rules, 68, 120, 126 victim-survivors, 187