Index

NOTES: Page numbers with f indicate a figure, and t indicates a table. The British Conservative Party is referred to as BCP, the Deutschkonservative Partei as DKP, and the Deutschnationale Volkspartei as DNVP.

Acción Nacional/Popular (Spain), 348–49, 351
Acemoglu, Daron, 128, 136, 227, 230
Action française (AF) movement, 355
Action libérale (France), 32
Adams, John, 6
Adenauer, Konrad, 288–89, 334
Aesop, 328
Agrarian League (BdL) (Germany), 189–205, 245–51, 278; candidate selection and endorsement by, 201–4, 249–50; DKP resistance against, 246–47; mass membership of, 197–98; official nonpartisan status of, 199–200; organizational resources of, 198, 200–201; parliamentary group of, 201; professional political organizing by, 198–201; on Prussia’s three-class suffrage system, 250–51
Akers-Douglas, Aretas, 38, 88, 133, 136–37, 163
Alacalá-Zamora, Niceto, 346
Alburtis, Michael, 366
Aldrich, John, 79
Alliance démocratique (France), 32, 353–54
Allmänna valmansförbundet (General Electoral Union) (Sweden), 32, 52, 337f; containment of radical right by, 344; cross-class membership of, 66, 343–44; formal party building by, 377, 342–44
The American Commonwealth (Bryce), 35–36
ancien régime. See old regime elites
Angell, Norman, 140
Anglican Church (Britain), 47, 84–85, 87, 98–104
Ansell, Ben, 51
Ansell, Christopher, 316n83
Anti-Corn Law League (Britain), 208
Anti-Revolutionary Party (ARP) (Netherlands), 311n4, 324, 488n7, 337n; cross-cutting cleavages used by, 44; formal party building by, 36, 37f anti-Semitism, 194–97, 279n80, 282, 290–91
Anti-Socialist Law (Germany), 185–86, 228–29, 235
Arab Spring, 361
Arch, Joseph, 117
Argentina, 8, 359–60
Arlington Street Compact of 1884, 135
Arsenschek, Robert, 181
Ashmead-Bartlett, Ellis, 136
Asia, 160–61
Asociación Católica Nacional de Propagandistas (ACNP) (Spain), 347
Asquith, Henry H., 143, 148–49, 155, 158–59
Austria-Hungary, 1–2; bond market volatility in, 62, 63f; collapse in 1918 of, 8–9, 260; authoritarian movements, 6–7, 367–68; durability of, 9–10, 222–33; elite power in, 7, 18. See also de-democratization; National Socialist (Nazi) Party; Prussia
Index

Bagehot, Walter, 113, 148
Baldwin, Stanley, 165, 168–71, 275, 295, 343
Balfour, Arthur, 136, 139, 151, 163
Bang, Paul, 313, 318
Bartley, George T. C., 93, 133–35, 137f94
Bauermeister, Louis, 188
Bavaria (Germany), 210f158, 211–12, 221
Bavarian People’s Party (BVP), 260f2, 294
Bdl. (Germany). See Agrarian League
Beach, Michael Hicks, 135–36
Beaverbrook, Lord, 170, 275
Beck, Hermann, 275, 279f80, 303, 310, 318, 332
Beers, Laura, 169
Behrens, Franz, 279
Belgium: bond market volatility in, 62, 63f; center-right parties in, 338; conservative political parties in, 48, 336, 337f, 338, 37f; electoral manipulation in, 46; embryonic conservative factions in, 31, 32f; formal party building in, 37f; industrialization in, 226; labor mobilization in, 228f; parliamentaryization in, 27f, 28; parliamentary sovereignty in, 10; power of old elites in, 25; settled democratization in, 10, 13, 336, 338; suffrage expansion in, 10, 19; suffrage strike of 1902 in, 229; volatility score for, 17f
Belgium Catholic Party, 313f4, 32f, 337f, 338; formal party building by, 37f; geographic concentration of party seats in, 243f
Ben-Ami, Shlomo, 346
Bernhard, Henry, 135
Bernstein, Eduard, 229
Bethmann-Hollweg, Theobald, 234, 242, 243, 265
Beutler, Gustav Otto, 247, 247f115
Billing, Gottfried, 140
Birmingham Caucus, 41, 91, 93–94
Bismarck, Otto von, 7, 186, 207, 270; early conservative movement and, 209; on German democratization, 216–17; removal from power of, 185, 192, 235
Bloc National (France), 333–34
Bodelschwingh-Schwarzenhasel, F. von, 250
Boer War, 132, 142
Bonham, Francis, 71–72
border parties, 276, 298, 325
Borsig, Ernst, von, 320
bottom-up agentless democratization, 16–17
Bracher, Karl Dietrich, 298, 331
Bradlaugh, Charles, 84
Brazil, 8
Bright, John, 116
Britain, 10, 12f, 13–14, 50–53, 61f; Anglican Church of, 47, 84–85, 87, 98–104, 108; anti-House of Lords protests of 1884 in, 58; bond markets and interest rates in, 57–64, 67, 109, 153–57; by-elections and political trends in, 159–62; campaign spending restrictions in, 93–94; Catholic Emancipation in, 61f, 62; Chartist movement in, 6, 59, 61f, 62, 63; conservative political parties in, 48, 52–53, 337f, 338, 374; conservative political stabilization in, 27f–76; conservative press of, 169–70; constitutional crisis of 1906–1914 in, 110–11, 141–62; Corn Law repeal of 1846 in, 65, 146; electoral manipulation in, 46; electoral reforms of 1872 in, 114; embryonic conservative factions in, 31, 32f; fragmented two-party system of, 106–8; General Election of 1906 in, 110; geographic concentration of party seats in, 244–46; Glorious Revolution and constitutional settlement in, 55, 57, 66–67, 157, 159; Hyde Park Riots of 1846 in, 58; industrialization in, 51, 226; Irish policies of, 22, 61f, 62; labor mobility in, 113–14, 118; labor unrest in, 228f, 231; landed wealth and property rights in, 52, 54–55, 105198, 112–13, 146; land reform and revolt of the field in, 116–17; occupational census of 1881 in, 103; parliamentaryization in, 27f, 28, 55; parliamentary sovereignty in, 10; power of landed elites in, 18, 24, 64n22, 112–14; redistricting of 1885 in, 115–16, 119–21, 123–24, 128, 132–38; religious cleavage in, 99–100; silent elections in, 66; single-member parliamentary districts in, 115–16, 135; social welfare policies of, 143, 145n23; suffrage reforms in, 6, 8, 10, 19, 22, 27f, 28, 45, 55–64, 109–10, 1391; Swing Riots of, 64; unwritten constitution of, 110, 140; Victorian Realignment in, 83–85; voter registration system of, 74–76, 115; women’s enfranchisement in, 55f6, 163–64; working and middle classes of, 51–52
British Conservative Party (BCP), 22, 32f, 50–53, 64–81, 337f; core constituency of, 64–65, 110, 112, 146; core values of, 43, 49,
Index

106, 112, 140, 141, 169; cross-cutting cleavages used by, 44, 66, 99–100; formal party building by, 36, 171, 64–82, 104–8; geographic concentration of party seats in, 245; influence of outside interest groups on, 42; local constituency associations of, 41, 70, 73–76, 78–80, 8091, 82, 819n4, 106, 121–22; mass expansion and dominance of, 82–108; members of House of Lords of, 145n23; national umbrella organization of, 70, 73, 76–78, 82, 106, 121–22; organizational resources of, 56, 120–22, 191; parliamentary role of, 68–69; party agent position in, 70–73, 76–78, 90, 106, 122; professional leadership of, 40n56, 66, 70–73, 76–78, 90–91, 121–22, 369–70; as strong redistictive party, 48, ±2–53; vote and seat share of, 659n3, 113–16, 115; voter loyalty to, 69–70. See also organizational strength of the BCP

British Conservative Party 1832–1880, 64–82, 104–8; Carlton Club meeting place of, 71952; Central Office of, 72–73, 76–77, 82; cross-class expansion of, 65–66, 107; local constituency associations of, 70, 73–76, 78–80, 8091, 82, 819n4, 106, 121–22; mobilization of voters by, 78–82; national umbrella organization of, 70, 73, 76–78, 82, 106; parliamentary role of, 68–69; parliamentary seats of, 659n3; party agent position in, 70–73, 76–78, 106; professional leadership of, 66, 70–73, 76–78; suffrage reform and, 6, 55–57, 57–64, 70, 74, 80–82, 10991

British democratization, 10, 12, 13–14; ascendency of Labour and, 165–71; BCP’s formal party building and, 56, 64–108, 120–38, 162–63; conservative fear and bond markets in, 542n, 57–64, 67, 109, 153–57; parliamentary dominance in, 164; in the post-World War I era, 162–71; pre-democratic era of, 26–54; restraint of fascism by, 170–71; settled path to, 109–38; suffrage reforms and, 6, 19, 22, 55–57, 70, 74, 80–82, 109–10, 163–64; window of opportunity for, 60–67, 225–6. See also British Conservative Party

British Labour Party, 22, 141; post-World War I ascendency of, 165–71; pro-suffrage policies of, 56; red-baiting against, 169–70

British League for the Support of Ulster and the Union, 152–57

British Liberal Party, 478n3, 82, 103; Birmingham Caucus of, 41, 91, 93–94;
by-election results of, 160f, 161; decline of,
119, 163–68; electoral successes of, 110,
141–46, 148n35; Home Rule agenda of, 142, 148–51, 161; land reform agenda of, 116–17;
local constituency associations of, 74, 75;
members of House of Lords of, 145n23;
Parliament Act of 1911 of, 147–48;
redistricting of 1884 and, 136; social welfare policies of, 143, 14n23; suffrage reform agenda of, 112; Victorian Realignment of, 83–85; wartime governing coalition with Conservatives of, 164–67
British Parliament: BCP vote and seat share of, 65n23, 115–16, 118f, 166, 167f; chief parliamentary whips in, 68–72; House of Lords’ veto power in, 8, 19–20, 143–48;
Parliament Act of 1911 and, 147–48, 218;
role of parties in, 68–69;
British Union of Fascists, 170
Brown, Cyril, 271
Brüning, Heinrich, 287; Hugenberg’s condemnation of, 318, 324n125, 329;
presidential cabinet of, 297n2, 314–15, 319–24
Bryce, James, 8, 35–36, 94, 142, 176n14, 207
Buddendrooks (Mann), 253, 258
Budget Bill of 1909, 145, 146–47
Bülow, Bernhard von, 234, 237n86, 249
Bund der Landwirte (BdL) (Germany). See
Agrarian League
Burke, Edmund, 301n3
Cannadine, David, 52, 113n18, 114–15
Cánovas, Antonio, 345
Capoccia, Giovanni, 324n123, 325, 338n16
Caprivi, Leo von, 192–93, 249
captured political parties, 189–91, 190–91, 197–205, 246–51, 297–313
Cardoza, Anthony L., 48n86
Carnarvon, Henry Herbert, Lord, 83n100
Carson, Edward, 148–49, 152, 158
Cartel des gueux (France), 355
Catholic Centre Party (Germany). See Center Party
Cavour, Camillo Benso di, 32n35, 35, 46
Cecil, Hugh, 161
Cecil, Robert. See Salisbury, Robert Cecil, Lord
Census of England and Wales of 1881, 103n189
Center Party (Zentrumspartei) (Germany), 173n2, 176, 211–12, 249, 260n2; in ad hoc governing coalitions, 233, 243–44; fear of democracy by, 215, 216; in local cross-party colleions, 187–88; party building by, 176n14, 205–6; on reform of Prussia’s three-class suffrage system, 237; Reichstag and Prussian Assembly seat share of, 241f, 324f;
in Weimar’s governing coalition, 265–68, 284–85, 294, 319, 124n123
Chamberlain, Austin, 166, 168
Chamberlain, Joseph, 41, 83n104, 91, 93–94, 142, 367
Charles X, King of France, 6
Charte Constitutionnelle (France), 219
Chile, 19, 359
Christelijk-Historische Unie (CHU)
(Netherlands), 311n4, 321
Christian Socialist Party (Germany), 278, 279
Church Defence Society (Britain), 99
Churchill, Randolph, 42, 73, 83–85, 92–95, 33–37
Churchill, Winston, 83–84, 88, 142, 165, 249
Class, Heinrich, 300–301, 307–9, 311, 313
Class and Conservative Parties (Gibson),
13n39, 30n28, 359n119
Collier, Ruth, 266
Colombia, 359
conditional party government, 283
Confederación Española de Derechas
Autónomas (CEDA) (Spain), 348–52
conservative fear, 54n2, 47–64
Conservative People’s Party (KVP) (Germany), 318, 322–24
conservative political parties, xii, 4–5, 20–23, 363–68, 573–74; as border parties, 276, 298, 325–31; contrasting paths in Britain and Germany of, 21–23, 50–53, 172–74; core values of, 30–31, 31; countermajoritarian constitutions and, 364–68; cross-cutting cleavages used by, 43–44, 46–48, 99–100;
definition of, 29–33; electoral manipulation in Europe 1919–1919, 335–62; formal party-building by, 35–37, 104–8; in France, 353–58; postponed party-building of, 205–8, 214, 271, 347–48; pragmatic political wirepulling by, xii, 22, 39, 42–43; pre-democratic origins of, 26–44, 105–6, 225–26; public rallies of, 310–11, 329–30;
self-reinforcing power and, 2, 106, 222, 267–68, 302–3; socioeconomic challenges of, 232–33; in Spain, 337, 339, 344–53; strong and weak organizational features of, 37–50, 171, 366–68; survival strategies of, 33–37,
174–75; in Sweden, 336, 337, 338–44; uses of media by, 170, 308–14. See also British Conservative Party, DNVP; German
Conservative Party; strong hierarchical mass parties; weak “contracting out” parties conservative press, 169–70, 308–14
constrained executives, 5, 10
Cornford, James, 120
Corrupt and Illegal Practices Act of 1883
(Britain), 93–94, 114
Costa Rica, 359
countermajoritarian constitutions, 364–68
Cox, Gary, 68, 69–70
Craig, F. S. W., 166
Craig, Gordon, 263, 269, 290
crisis of 1906–1914 (Britain). See British crisis
of 1906–1914
Croix de feu (France), 355–56
cross-class appeal, 131–37, 210–13, 343–44;
among German religious groups, 211–14;
core values of, 43, 49, 106, 112, 140, 141,
169; expansion of the BCP and, 65–66, 107,
140, 189; of the Primrose League, 94–95, 98–104, 122, 131–12, 138; vulnerability to backlash of, 140–46; of the Weimar coalition, 265–68
cross-country comparisons, 334–68; of bond
market volatility, 62–64; datasets for, 3n5, 12–15; lack of causal mechanisms in, 272
cross-cutting cleavages. See heresthetic strategies
Crosses on the Ballot (Wald), 119
Cuno, Wilhelm, 28n110
Curragh Mutiny of 1914, 153, 154–56, 157n81
Dahl, Robert, 227, 232
Dangerfield, George, 119, 162
Danish Conservative Party, 36, 41
Danish Right (Højre), 31n34, 32t; formal party building by, 36, 37f; geographic concentration of party seats in, 245f; local organizations of, 41
Davidson, J. C. C., 165–66
Dawes Plan (Germany), 288, 291–94, 309
de Broke, Willoughby, 150–53, 162
de-democratization, xii, 5n11, 6–10, 12n36, 231; by authoritarian countermovements,
6–7, 9–10, 18, 224–33, 367–68; German suffrage retractions in, 255–58; in interwar Europe, 335–39; legal revolution and,
315n81; suspensive coups and, 314, 315n80;
U.S. suffrage retractions in, 8
de Gaulle, Charles, 357
Deladier, Édouard, 357
Delbrück, Clemens von, 282
democracies, xi–xii; core institutions of, 5, 10;
decline of, xii; era of birth of, 5–9; fall in 1920–28n of, 9. See also democratization;
patterns of democratization
democratic breakdown, 335–39. See also British crisis of 1906–1914; Weimar
Republic
democratic experience, 4
Democratic Progressive Party (PDP)
(Argentina), 360
democratization, xii, 1–23, 334–68;
alternations in power between left and right
in, 13–15, 267, 293–96; authoritarian
counter-movements to, 5–8, 16, 367–68;
center-right parties and, 338–39, 349–53,
355–56; countermajoritarian constitutions
and, 364–68; cross-national datasets of, 395, 12–15; electoral success and, 338–39; elite
social forces in, xi–xii, 4–5, 18–21, 23,
232–33; era of mass democracy in, 26,
335–39; in Europe 1848–1950, 2, 4, 8–15,
14, 15f, 335–39; France’s hybrid form of,
10–11, 13, 154n2, 335f, 339, 333–58;
habitation phase of, 287n118; impact of
democratic experience on, 4; institutional
reforms included in, 279n16; in Latin America, 338–60; long-term views of, 2–5, 12–13; measurement of societal power in,
263n2; parliamentarization and, 279n16,
224; of post-World War II Germany, 334;
pre-democratic era of, 26–54; radical
challenges to, 23, 139–40, 157–62, 170–71, 175, 211, 314–15; small-scale experiments
in, 9; social and labor unrest and, 226–33,
255, 268–69; socioeconomic contributors to,
364–65; traditional paradigms of, 11–12,
16–21, 335–16; transitional moments in,
1–2, 264–69; window of opportunity for,
also British democratization; conservative
political parties; German democratization;
strong hierarchical mass parties; weak
“contracting out” parties
Denmark, 218; conservative political parties in,
336, 337f, 338, 373; democratic backsliding in,
10n31; embryonic conservative factions in,
31, 32f; formal party building in, 37f;
industrialization of, 226n46;
parliamentarization in, 277, 220; settled
democratization in, 10, 358; suffrage
expansion in, 26, 27f; volatility score for, 15f

Delbrück, Clemens von, 282
democracies, xi–xii; core institutions of, 5, 10;
decline of, xii; era of birth of, 5–9; fall in 1920–28n of, 9. See also democratization;
patterns of democratization
democratic breakdown, 335–39. See also
British crisis of 1906–1914; Weimar
Republic
democratic experience, 4
Democratic Progressive Party (PDP)
(Argentina), 360
democratization, xii, 1–23, 334–68;
alternations in power between left and right
in, 13–15, 267, 293–96; authoritarian
counter-movements to, 5–8, 16, 367–68;
center-right parties and, 338–39, 349–53,
355–56; countermajoritarian constitutions
and, 364–68; cross-national datasets of, 395, 12–15; electoral success and, 338–39; elite
social forces in, xi–xii, 4–5, 18–21, 23,
232–33; era of mass democracy in, 26,
335–39; in Europe 1848–1950, 2, 4, 8–15,
14, 15f, 335–39; France’s hybrid form of,
10–11, 13, 154n2, 335f, 339, 333–58;
habitation phase of, 287n118; impact of
democratic experience on, 4; institutional
reforms included in, 279n16; in Latin America, 338–60; long-term views of, 2–5, 12–13; measurement of societal power in,
263n2; parliamentarization and, 279n16,
224; of post-World War II Germany, 334;
pre-democratic era of, 26–54; radical
challenges to, 23, 139–40, 157–62, 170–71, 175, 211, 314–15; small-scale experiments
in, 9; social and labor unrest and, 226–33,
255, 268–69; socioeconomic contributors to,
364–65; traditional paradigms of, 11–12,
16–21, 335–16; transitional moments in,
1–2, 264–69; window of opportunity for,
also British democratization; conservative
political parties; German democratization;
strong hierarchical mass parties; weak
“contracting out” parties
Denmark, 218; conservative political parties in,
336, 337f, 338, 373; democratic backsliding in,
10n31; embryonic conservative factions in,
31, 32f; formal party building in, 37f;
industrialization of, 226n46;
parliamentarization in, 277, 220; settled
democratization in, 10, 358; suffrage
expansion in, 26, 27f; volatility score for, 15f
dependent voting. See electoral manipulation practices
Deutsch, Karl, 21
Deutsche Demokratische Partei (DDP). See German Democratic Party
Deutsche Volkspartei (DVP). See German People’s Party
Deutschkonservative Partei (DKP). See German Conservative Party
Deutschnationalen Volkspartei (DNVP). See DNVP
Disraeli, Benjamin, 7, 6835, 89, 93; death in 1881 of, 33, 91–92; role in party building of, 73, 76, 78, 82; on suffrage reform, 199n1, 340
Di Tella, Torcuato, 49, 360
DKP. See German Conservative Party
Downsian unitary model of rational politicians, 175
Duesteburg, Theodor, 330
Ebert, Friedrich, 263, 266, 270–71
economic crisis of 1870s, 116
The Economist, 145, 147, 150, 152–54, 156–57
Ecuador, 8
Education Bill of 1906 (Britain), 145
Eggers, Andrew, 68
Egypt, 1–4, 361
Eight Hours Act (Britain), 145n23
Einstein, Albert, 270
Eley, Geoff, 197–98, 230
elite social forces. See old regime elites Empire Crusade (Germany),
Empire Party (Germany). See Reich Party
England. See Britain
English Civil War, 146
Ermakoff, Ivan, 332
Erzberger, Matthias, 218, 265, 266
Estrup, Jacob, 311n4
European democratization. See democratization Evans, Richard, 235, 322, 328
ex post retrospective bias, 123n15
Fair, John D., 136n92
Falter, Jürgen, 126–27
Farmer Defense Association,
fascism. See Italy; National Socialist (Nazi) Party; Spain
Federal Ministry of War (Germany), 320
Fédération républicaine (France), 32, 337f, 353–56
Fehrenbach, Constantin, 283n106
Feldman, Gerald, 268–69, 285
Ferdinand I, Emperor of Austria-Hungary, xii
Ferguson, Niall, 254
Fiorina, Morris, 218
Fontane, Theodore, 34, 178
“The Formation of a Conservative Party” (E. von Gerlach), 207–9
Fourth Reform Act (Britain). See Reform Act of 1918

France: bond market volatility in, 62–64; center-right alliance in, 353–55; conservative political parties in, 48, 337f, 338, 353–58, 373; conservative political stabilization in, 275–76; electoral manipulation in, 37, 45–46, 174, 177n17; embryonic conservative factions in, 32; executive power in, 219–20; industrialization of, 226n46; July Ordinances of, 6; July Revolution of 1830 in, 64; labor mobilization in, 228f; occupation of the Ruhr Valley by, 282, 291–94; Paris Commune of 1871 in, 7–8; parliamentarization in, 277; parliamentary sovereignty in, 10; Popular Front of, 356–57; power of old elites in, 25; radical right-wing groups in, 333–38; Revolutions of 1848 in, 7; secular-religious cleavage in, 48; selection of candidates in, 354n97; suffrage reform in, 10, 45; Third Republic in, 1342, 2359, 220, 353–58; Vichy regime in, 357–58; volatility score for, 14, 15f; Free Conservative Party (Germany), 235, 237n87, 244f, 278, 279, 323
Fyfe, Maxwell, 163
Gaertingen, Hiller von, 331
Gamp-Massaunen, Karl Friedrich Freiherr von, 203–4, 280
Gash, Norman, 70
General Electoral Union (Sweden). See Allmänna valmansförbundet
George, Henry, 116
George V, King of England, 147–48, 157
Gerlach, Ernst Ludwig von, 207–9, 213
Gerlach, Hellmut von, 176, 197n98, 207
German Christian Democratic Union (CDU), 334
German Communist Party (KPD), 294, 318, 324f, 327f, 331
German conservatism. See DNVP; German Conservative Party; Reich Party
German Conservative Party (DKP), 23, 311n4, 32f, 50–53, 170–75, 260n2; access to local power of, 178–79, 187–90; access to the Interior Ministry of, 176–77, 274; in ad hoc coalitions, 173, 187–90, 235–38, 243–44; Agrarian League (Bdl) capture of, 189–93, 197–205, 246–51; anti-Semitic factions in, 194–97; candidate nomination process of, 192, 201–4; confessional divides and, 174, 177, 192, 210–13; core constituency of, 173, 177; in disputed elections, 181–82, 183f; electoral manipulation practices of, 37, 45–46, 172–75, 172–87, 206, 371–72; formation of, 206–10; geographic concentration of, 173–74, 244–46; landholding inequality and electoral success of, 181–87; leadership structure of, 40, 199, 247n115; local constituency associations of, 280–84; merger into DNVP of, 278–81; organizational porosity of, 42n66, 173–75, 189–97, 189–205, 203n131, 273; party-building attempts by, 205–14; Prussian Assembly and Reichstag seat share of, 241f; Prussian dominance of, 279; retraction of political rights by, 253–58; stalled democratization efforts of, 215–58; suffrage reform defeats and, 233–43, 251; Tivoli Congress of 1892 of, 155–96, 197n98; voter mobilization by, 192; vulnerability to; radicalism of, 23, 175, 190–97, 205; as weak conservative party, 48, 52–53, 174–75, 189, 238–42. See also organizational weakness of German conservative parties; Prussia
German Democratic Party (DDP), 266, 270n44, 278, 293–94, 319, 127f
German democratization, 10–11, 13; constitutional order of, 206–9, 216–17; limits and retractions of voting rights and, 215–16, 220–24, 226–33, 253–58; pre-democratic era of, 172–214; pre-World War I failures of, 216–58; resistance of agrarian elites to, 252–53; suffrage initiative defeats and, 233–42; in the Weimar Republic, 259–96; window of opportunity for, 255–8, 274, 277; after World War II, 334
German Empire Party. See Reich Party
German Employer Association
German Free Trade Unions
German National People Association,

German Racist Freedom Party
German Reichstag: ad hoc governing coalitions in, 233–38, 243–44; Bundesrat of, 217, 220n18, 223–24; conservative seats in, 244f, 274f, 288, 301, 324f; fiscal federalism and, 230n78, 254; Nazi seats in, 315, 318, 324f, 325–28, 330–31; party seat share in, 230f, 274f, 315f; reform trap in, 218–19; salaries for MPs of, 219; SDP seats in, 241f, 242, 317, 324f; on voting reforms, 219; weakness of, 206, 217, 219–20, 233n73, 314–15
Germany, 50–53, 173; anti-Semitic factions in, 194–97, 279n80, 282, 290–91; anti-socialist laws in, 185–86, 192, 228–29, 235; bond market volatility in, 63f; collapse of Hohenzollern empire in, 8–9, 260, 262, 266, 276–77; confessional divides in, 174, 177, 192, 210–13; conservative political parties in, 373; constitution of, 206–9, 216–17; democratic corporatism in, 268–69; disputed elections in, 181–82, 183f; East Prussian Junkers of, 18; election-time cross-party coalitions in, 187–90; embryonic conservative factions in, 32t; executive power in, 219–20; expansion of mass politics in, 17, 174–75, 185–86, 186n152–53, 192, 206; failure of democratization efforts in, 215–58; federal Imperial system of, 20; Federal Ministry of War of, 320; fiscal federalism of, 233n78, 254; fragmentation of the right in, 186, 205–14, 259–60, 278–82, 337f, 339; geographic concentration of party seats in, 244–46; incomplete November 1918 Revolution in, 262–64, 278; industrialization in, 17, 51, 225–26; invasion of France in 1940 by, 357–58; landed wealth and inequality, 24–25, 52, 177, 178n23, 181–86, 216, 239, 252–53; National Liberal-Conservative coalition (Kartell) in, 183, 186, 192; organized interest groups in, 22–23, 175, 189–97, 203n31, 283; organized labor of, 18, 23, 52–53, 226–33, 235–38, 268–69; parliamentary sovereignty in, 10, 18; post-World War II democratization of, 334; Revolution of 1848 of, 22, 48, 220; right-wing media of, 170, 308–14; shifting relationship of conservatism to the state in, 193n80; single-member parliamentary districts of, 107n205, 187, 277; social unrest and mobilization in, 218, 225–33; state-based limits on suffrage in, 215–16, 220–24, 226–33, 233–42; suffrage retractions in, 255–58; trade protectionism in, 193, 198n105, 204, 225–26, 249; universal male suffrage in, 10, 18, 19, 22, 26, 277, 45, 172, 176, 206, 217, 221f; volatility score for, 14, 15f; weak parliamentaryization in, 27f, 206, 217, 219–20, 223, 233n73; women’s suffrage in, 277; working and middle classes of, 51–52. See also Prussia; Weimar Republic; World War I

Gerschenkron, Alexander, 252
Gibson, Edward, 130n19, 30n28, 358, 359n119
Gierke, Anne von, 290n135
Gil-Robles, José María, 349–52
Gladstone, William, 56, 68n35, 83–84, 111–12, 142
Gladstonian coalitions, 266n27
Glagau, Otto, 194
Global Financial Database, 88n14
gold standard, 261, 262n7, 275, 288
Goring, Hermann, 331–32
Gorst, John, 72–73, 76–82, 84, 91–92, 94
Grabowsky, Adolf, 214, 247n112
Graefe-Godecke, Albrecht von, 290n134
Granovetter, Mark, 82
Grathwol, Robert P., 80
Great Britain. See Britain
Great Depression of 1929, 273, 276, 315n82, 319
The Great Illusion (Angell), 140
Great Reform Act of 1832 (Britain). See Reform Act of 1832
Green, E. H. H., 142
Griesser, Axel, 197n101
Groener, Wilhelm, 263n13, 320, 322
Guizot, Francois, 68n6
habituation, 287n118
Haeins, Konrad, 267–68
Haffner, Sebastian, 262, 263
Hahn, Diederich, 198, 199n113
Halpern, William, 265
Haltsbury Club, 150n22
Hamburg (Germany), 221, 253–58; bourgeois merchant-class elite of, 254; governing structures of, 254; organized labor movement of, 254–58; retraction of political rights in, 256–58; universal male suffrage in, 255; weak political groups of, 257–58
Hammerstein, Wilhelm von, 194–95, 331
Harington, Lord, 135–36
Hassell, Ulrich von, 279n75
Hayes, William, 135
Helfferich, Karl, 282, 290
Heilddorf-Bedra, Otto von, 194–95
Henning, Wilhelm, 290–91
Henriot, Philippe, 355–56
heresitic strategies, 45–44, 46–48, 189; as BCP strategy, 44, 66, 99–100, 111–17; in Prussian suffrage votes, 256–58; religion and, 47–48, 99–100; in Weimar’s governing coalition, 263–66. See also cross-class appeal
Hergt, Oskar, 279; anti-Semitism of, 290;
DNVP leadership of, 282, 286, 289–91,
292–95, 309n55; pragmatic coalition
of, 297
Hertzman, Lewis, 280, 291
Heydebrand, Ernst von, 40, 242–43, 247n115, 248–51
Hilferding, Rudolf, 287
Himmelfarb, Gertrude, 57
Hindenburg, Paul von, 311; fall of Müller’s government and, 319n97; Hitler and,
329–33; presidential cabinet of, 314–15,
319–24
Hitler, Adolf, 357; appointment as chancellor of, 298, 315, 325, 330–32; Hindenburg and, 329–31
Hobsbawm, E. J., 86
Hoetzsch, Otto, 317, 323
Hoffmann, Stanley, 333
Hofstadter, Richard, 40
Højre Party (Denmark). See Danish Right
Home Rule Bill of 1914, 153, 158
“The Horse, the Hunter, and the Stag”
(Aesop), 328
Horthy, Miklós, 270
Huber, Victor Aimé, 209
Hugenberg, Alfred, 170, 275, 300–333;
collaboration with Nazis by, 328–33; DNVP
take-over plan of, 307–14; election as DNVP
chairman of, 300–304, 306n40, 314–15;
fundraising activities of, 312–13; ideological roots of, 309n51; industry and mining connections of, 307–9, 309n51, 312, 324n115; internal opposition to, 322–23;
media network of, 306, 308–14;
noncharismatic leadership style of, 308,
309n52; power consolidation by, 316–18,
320–21
Huntington, Samuel, 5, 36n47 impact of party organization. See organizational strength of the BCP;
organizational weakness of German conservative parties
Indonesia, 360–61
industrialization: in Britain, 51, 226;
conservative party appeal to voters and,
43–44; in Germany, 17, 51, 225–33,
236n79–80; suffrage expansion and, 26–28, 44–45
institutional engineering, 350n45
Inter-Party Committee (IFA), 266
Ireland, 1913058, 147–58; enactment of Home Rule in, 22, 153–54, 158; Land League of, 116; Land War of, 61t, 62, 116n30; suffrage reform in, 114; Ulster-related events in,
153–57; Ulster Unionist Party of, 44, 147, 149–51
Irish Home Rule, 141–42, 149–62;
constitutional crisis of 1906–1914 and,
141–42, 148–51; enactment in 1914 of, 22,
153–54, 158; Liberal proposals on, 142,
148–51; shifting political expediency of,
159–62
Irish Party, 141, 148, 161
Irvine, William D., 356
Italy: clientelist tactics in, 179; conservative political parties in, 48, 337n7, 374; electoral manipulation in, 355, 357, 44–46, 174, 177n17;
embryonic conservative factions in, 32;
parliamentarization in, 277; power of old elites in, 25; secular-religious cleavage in, 48;
suffrage expansion in, 26, 277; unification of,
13n37; unsettled democratization in, 10–11,
12f, 13–14, 336, 358; volatility score for,
14, 15f
Jackisch, Barry, 307, 311, 313
Jackson, Julian, 357
Jenkins, Roy, 145
Jeunesse patriotes (France), 355–56
Jiménez Fernández, Manuel, 349
Jones, Larry Eugene,
Kalyvas, Stathis, 356
Juventudes de Acción Popular (JAP), 351–52
Junkers. See Prussia
Jusko, Karen Long, 124n60
Juvenudes de Acción Popular (JAP), 351–52
Kalyvas, Stathis, 106
Kapp, Wolfgang, 285–86, 289
Kapp Putsch of 1920, 285–86, 289–90
Kardoff, Siegfried von, 279
Kardoff, Wilhelm von, 199
Kautsky, Karl, 349
Kautsky, Karl, 349
Kautsky, Karl, 349
Kautsky, Karl, 349
Kaufhold, Josef, 200
Kautsky, Karl, 218
Keudell, Walter von, 287n117, 317
Klönne, Moritz, 317
Koller, Leo, 308n1
Kolb, Eberhard, 321–22
Konservative Folkeparti (Denmark), 337t
Konservative Volkspartei (KVP), 318, 322–24
Krupp, 304, 307, 308, 309n51
Kühne, Thomas, 234–35, 236n85, 243, 244n105
Kuypers, Abraham, 31n34

Labour Party. See British Labour Party
Lady Grand Council (LGC) (Britain), 97–98
Lambad, Walther, 301–2, 323
Lamberti, Marjorie, 211
Lancizolle, Carl Wilhelm, 209
Landsdowne, Lord, 145, 149n44
Lantmannna Party (Sweden), 377
Larne Gun-Running Incident of 1914 (Britain), 153
Latin America, 358–60
Law, Andrew Bonar, 147–62; advocacy of the king’s veto by, 157–58; political gamesmanship of, 159, 161; reconciliation on Home Rule of, 158–59; violent rhetoric of, 152–54 leadership structures: outside interest group capture and, 190–91, 197–205; paranoid style of, 40; pragmatic approaches of, xii, 22, 39, 42–43; professionalization of, 38–40, 42–43, 66, 70–73, 76–78, 90–91, 121–22, 369–70
League of German Industry (RDI), 309
League of Nations, 311
Left Liberal Party (DDP) (Germany), 179–80, 198, 216; in ad hoc coalitions, 235–38, 243–44; democratization reform attempts by, 217–18; Lab–Lib coalition of, 231–32; Prussian Assembly and Reichstag seat share of, 241f; reformation as German Democratic Party of, 266, 278; suffrage reform agenda of, 234, 216–18, 243; in Weimar’s governing coalition, 265–68, 284–85, 319, 324n123 legal revolutions, 315n81
Leopold, John A., 301, 313n74, 331
Lerroux, Alejandro, 350n74
Levy, Richard S., 197
Liberal Party. See British Liberal Party
Liberal Republican Right (Spain), 346–47
Licensing Bill of 1908 (Britain), 145
Lieberknecht, Karl, 262
Lincoln, Abraham, 7
Lindman, Arvid, 29
Linz, Juan, 144
Llavar, Humberto, 238
Lloyd Georgie, David, 143, 145, 146n29, 155, 164–67
Locarno Treaties, 310–11
Long, Walter, 150–51, 161
Louis Philippe, King of France, 7
Lowell, Lawrence, 68
Ludendorff, Erich von, 40, 261
Luther, Hans, 287, 294, 310
Lütwitz, Walther von, 285–86
Luxemburg, Rosa, 262
Macaulay, Thomas Babington, 57
MacDonald, Ramsay, 165, 171
Maclachlan, Leigh, 167
Maidstone, Lady, 99
Maier, Charles, 291–92, 355
Maine, Henry, 138
Maistre, Joseph de, 303n1
Mann, Thomas, 253, 258
Manow, Philip, 282
Manteuffel, Otto von, 194n87, 195–96, 224, 249
Mares, Isabel, 186–87, 238n89
Markoff, John, 9
Marks, Gary, 232
Marx, Karl, 146
Marx, Wilhelm, 285n110, 287, 309
Marxism, 262–66. See also German Communist Party
mass democracy, 26, 335–39. See also democratization Massing, Paul, 193
Maura, Miguel, 346
Maurras, Charles, 358n115
May, John, 196
Mayer, Arno, 9
McFaul, Michael, 264–65
McKenzie, Robert, 281
McKibben, Ross, 118–19, 168, 170
McLean, Iain, 146n29, 148
Meline, Jules, 353n92
Memos of a Junker (Gerlach), 172
Menaldo, Victor, 266
Mergel, Thomas, 274, 290

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Index

Metternich, Klemens Lothar, Prince, xii middle-classes, 51–52; in models of democratization, 16, 17, 23; socioeconomic modernization and, 119
Middleton, Richard, 88, 90, 137, 200
Milner, Lord, 148, 157
Moldenhauer, Paul, 320
Mommsen, Hans, 262, 320–21
Montesquieu, 333
Moore, Barrington, 1133, 51, 254
Moore, William, 149
Mosler, Oswald, 170
Mubarak, Hosni, 1, 361
Müller, Hermann, 319–20
Murphy, Richard, 151
Musсолини, Benito, 270

Napoleonic, 7
National Agricultural Federation (Germany), 292
National Autonomist Party (PAN) (Argentina), 359–60
National Democratic Party (NDP) (Egypt), 361
National Federation of German Industry, 292
National Industrial Association (RDI) (Germany), 293
National Insurance Act of 1911 (Germany), 143
National Liberal Federation (Britain), 93–94
National Liberal Party (Germany), 185; in ad hoc governing coalitions, 233–38, 243–44; fear of democracy by, 215, 216b; in local cross-party coalitions, 187–88; Prussian Assembly and Reichstag seat share of, 241f; reformation as German People’s Party of, 266, 278; on reform of Prussia’s three-class suffrage system, 236n79–80, 237–38; Weimar coalition and, 266
National People’s Party (Germany), 42
National Socialist (Nazi) Party (NSDAP) (Germany), 294, 298, 320, 325–33; anti-system agenda of, 325; collaboration with DNVP of, 317, 318, 328–33; dominance of the Reichstag by, 330–31; Hitler’s appointment as chancellor and, 298, 315, 323, 330–32; migration of DNVP voters to, 327–28; proximate causes of rise to power of, 325–31; Reichstag breakthrough of 1930 of, 315, 318, 324f, 325–28
National Union of the Conservative and Constitutional Associations (NU) (Britain), 70, 73, 76–78, 82; leadership of, 90–92; merging with BCP Central Office of, 163; national convention of, 777; Primrose League and, 88–89, 94
Naumann, Friedrich, 218
Nazi Party. See National Socialist (Nazi) Party
Neal, Larry, 58n13–14
Netherlands: bond market volatility in, 62, 63f; conservative political parties in, 48, 336, 337f, 338, 374; electoral manipulation in, 46; embryonic conservative factions in, 31, 32f; formal party building in, 379; industrialization in, 226; parliamentarization in, 271, 28; power of old elites in, 25–26; settled democratization in, 10, 13, 316, 336, 358; volatility score for, 15f
Nohlen, Dieter, 221–22
Nolan, Mary, 229
noncharismatic personal leadership, 308, 309n52
Normann, Oskar von, 247n115, 249
Northcote, Stafford, 70, 88, 91–93, 114–38
Norway, 10, 220
Nosseir, T. J., 113
notability politics, 28–29, 45
NSDAP. See National Socialist (Nazi) Party

O’Donnell, Guillermo A., 282
Ohnezer, Maik, 281, 282, 292n143, 313
Old-Age Pensions Act of 1909, 143
Oldenburg-Janschau, von, 250 old regime elites, 9, 24–53, 30228; authoritative tendencies of, 7, 18; coexistence with democracy of, 363–68; informal moral economy of, 28–29, 45; land and tax reforms and, 27; landed wealth and property rights of, 9, 52, 45–55, 105n198, 112–13, 146, 177, 181–86, 239, 252–53; in models of democratization, xi–xii, 4–5, 16, 18–21, 23, 232–33; political power of, 18, 24–29, 64n22a, 112–14; traditional institutions of, xii, 18–19, 20n61, 24, 30. See also authoritarian movements; conservative political parties organizational capture, 189–91, 197–201, 246–51, 297–333
organizational strength of the BCP, 123–38, 138–72, 225–6; containment of radicalism and, 139–40, 157–62, 170–71; cross-class strategies (heresthetics) and, 131–32, 189; electoral performance and, 123–29, 130f; formal party building and, 64–82, 104–8, 206; in post-World War I era, 162–71;
Index

Primrose League’s role in, 129–31; redistricting and, 132–37; resolving the crisis of 1906–1914 and, 158–62. See also strong hierarchical mass parties organizational weakness of German conservative parties, 48, 52–53, 174–75, 205–6; electoral manipulation and, 176–87, 206; fear of democracy and, 215–16, 258; influence of outside interest groups and, 174–75, 189–97, 273, 280, 301n16, 303–6; missed window of opportunity and, 205–8, 214, 271; opposition to voting rights and, 233–43, 251, 253–58; power of landed elites and, 216, 239, 252–53; vulnerability to radicalism and, 23, 175, 190–97, 205, 271–73, 299–306. See also weak “contracting out” parties
Ostrogorski, Moisei, 350n45, 68, 75, 85, 93n51, 94, 207
O’Swald, William H., 258
Ottoman Empire, 8, 260 outside interest groups, 189–91; funding of political parties by, 303, 304–5; influence in Spain of, 345–53; influence on the BCP of, 42; influence on the DKP of, 42n66, 173–75, 189–97, 203n131, 273; influence on the DNVP of, 273, 280, 283, 291, 301n16, 303–6; party capture by, 189–91, 190–91, 197–205, 246–51
Oxoby, Robert, 258
Panebianco, Angelo, 46n80, 209–10, 279n81
Pan-German League, 197n103, 275, 278, 283; endorsement of Hitler by, 310; influence on DNVP of, 301n16, 302–3, 306; racist agenda of, 308; takeover plans for DNVP of, 307–14
Papen, Franz von, 310–32
Parkes, Joseph, 69
Parnell, Charles, 81n100
Partido Conservador (Spain), 32 Partito Popolare Italiano, 32 Partido Regenerador (Portugal), 32, 45 Partido Republicano Evolucionista (Portugal), 32 Partido Republicano Radical (Spain), 32 party capture. See captured political parties party organization. See organizational strength of the BCP; organizational weakness of German conservative parties party whips, 68–72
Patriotenverein, 208, 209n132, 210 patterns of democratization, 2, 4, 9–15, 33–39; core institutions in, 5, 10; cross-national datasets on, 12–15; era of mass democracy in, 26, 33–39; pre-democratic stage in, 26–29. See also settled democracies; unsettled democracies
Payer, Friedrich, von, 266
Peel, Robert, 8, 63n23, 71, 74 Peru, 8 Pétain, Philippe, 357–58 Philipp, Kurt, 313 Phillips, John A., 328 Posadowsky-Wehner, Arthur Graf von, 83n83, 224
Pre-democratic era (Britain), 145
Poincaré, Raymond, 275, 291n44, 295, 354–55
Poland, 19 Polish Party, 216 political democracies. See democracies Polity IV dataset, 12–15 Portugal: clientelist tactics in, 179; conservative political parties in, 48, 337f, 339, 374; electoral manipulation in, 35, 37, 45–46, 174, 177n17; embryonic conservative factions in, 32; parliamentarization in, 27f; power of old elites in, 19, 25; suffrage expansion in, 26, 27f; unsettled democratization in, 10–11, 13, 358; volatility score for, 14, 15f
Posadowsky-Wehner, Arthur Graf von, 282 power vacuum, 298 pragmatic political wirepulling, xii, 22, 39, 42–43 pre-democratic era (Britain), 26–54; conservative notability politics of, 28–29, 45; electoral manipulation strategies in, 33–35, 37f, 48; formal party-building in, 35–37; institutional changes and reforms of, 26–28; land and tax systems of, 27, 32; moral economy of, 28–29; strong and weak parties and, 37–48; transition toward democracy of, 48–50 pre-democratic era (Germany), 170–75; ad hoc coalitions of, 173, 187–90; anti-Semitic

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Index

factions in, 194–97; confessional divides of, 174, 177, 192, 210–13; constitutional order of, 206–9, 216–17; disputed elections of, 181–82, 183; electoral manipulation practices of, 172–87, 206; Reichstag weakness of, 206; window of opportunity in, 205–8, 214

Prenzlau-Angermunde (Prussia), 177–80
Preston, Paul, 348
Preuss, Hugo, 8
Preussenverein, 208, 209n152, 210
The Prime Minister (Trollope), 33–34
Primo de Rivera, José Antonio, 270, 346–47
Primrose League Gazette, 125–26, 132
Prussia, 20, 173n2; Agrarian League (BdL) and party capture in, 246–51; confessional divides of, 210–14; conservative organizations in, 207–10, 213–14; constitution of 1848 in, 206–7, 220; defeat of suffrage reform efforts in, 215–16, 233–43, 366; durable authoritarianism in, 224–33; electoral manipulation in, 35, 177–81; embryonic conservatism in, 31, 193n80; equal democratic suffrage in, 267; failed democratic reform efforts in, 215–16, 218, 233–42, 251; industrialization and worker mobilization in, 225–33; institutional linkages with Imperial Germany of, 222–24; Lib-Lab coalition in, 231–32; post-World War I political transformation in, 267; three-class suffrage voting system of, 215–16, 220–24, 226, 250–91, 277; trade protectionism in, 225–26; wealthy landholding elites of, 9, 18, 177–80, 178n23, 193, 239, 252–53. See also German Conservative Party; Germany
Prussian Conservative Party, 313n4, 40
Przeworski, Adam, 363, 167

Pugh, Martin, 85n104, 96–99, 102, 170
Puhle, Hans-Jurgen, 198, 201–2, 204n15, 205
Pulzer, Peter, G. J., 107n203, 197
Quaatz, Reinhold, 287

Rademacher, Walter, 313
Radical Civic Union (UCR) (Argentina), 359
Radical Party (France), 353–54, 357
Raiskes, Henry Cecil, 42, 76, 78
Rassemblement Constitutionnel Démocratique (RCD) (Tunisia), 361
Rathenau, Walter, 269–71, 287, 290–91
Readman, Paul, 111
Redistribution of Seats Act of 1885 (Britain), 115–16, 120n45, 128, 132–33
Reform Act of 1832 (Britain), 6, 55–57, 109n1; bond markets and, 57–64; expansion of the electorate and, 114n19; party-line voting and, 70; voter registration and, 74
Reform Act of 1867 (Britain), 55, 57, 109n1; bond markets and, 58–64; CP’s voter mobilization activities and, 80–82; expansion of the electorate and, 114n19, 114n21
Reform Act of 1884 (Britain), 19, 52, 55, 109–19; bond markets and, 58–64, 109; expansion of the electorate and, 114–15; redistricting and, 115–16, 119–21, 123–24, 128, 132–38
Reform Act of 1918 (Britain), 55, 165–64 reform trap, 218–19
regime cycling, 10, 12, 13–14
regulatory capture, 190n67, 246n110
Reibl, Carl Wilhelm, 187
Reich Party (Germany), 173n2, 177, 205, 260n2; in ad hoc coalitions, 187–88, 236–38; in disputed elections, 181–82; electoral outcomes of, 183–86; fear of democracy by, 215, 216; fielding of candidates by, 203–4
Reich Party for the Middle Class (Germany), 295
Reichsverband gegen die Sozialdemokratie, 197n101
resilient democracies, xii
Retallack, James, 243
retrospective bias, 12n35
Reveille Group, 150n52
Rexist Party (Belgium), 338
right-wing media, 170, 308–14
Riker, William, 43, 84, 131, 169, 281. See also heresitic strategies
Robb, Janice, 87, 96
Robinson, James A., 12n36, 227, 230
Roesicke, Gustav, 19n113, 202, 250–53
Rogowski, Ronald, 225–26
Rokkan, Stein, 221–22
Roman Catholic countries, 47–48
Rose, Philip, 72, 7n77
Rosenberg, Arthur, 242
Rothermere, Viscount, 170, 275
Rothschild, Nathan, 154
Rueschemeyer, Dietrich, 105n197, 227, 230, 232, 252
Russia: collapse of Empire of, 8–9, 260; democratization movement in, 2–3; Revolution of 1905 in, 217, 227–28, 230; Revolution of 1917 in, 260, 265
Sáenz Peña Law (Argentina), 8, 359–60
Sagasta, Práxedes Mateo, 345
Salisbury, Lady, 87–88, 97
Salisbury, Robert Cecil, Lord, 28, 38, 47n83, 88–95, 139; BCP leadership of, 91–93, 104, 117–19, 134, 136n92, 137n94; catastrophic theory of politics of, 140; fear of democracy by, 54, 57, 111n5; on Irish Home Rule, 83n100; on organizing in middle-class districts, 119, 125; on party organization, 90, 94–95; Primrose League and, 88–90; on redistricting, 133, 135–37; on Reform Bill of 1884, 111–12
Salmon, Philip, 98
Samuels, David, 51
Sanders, Robert, 161
Savornin Lohman, Jonkheer Alexander
Frederik de, 31n34
Saxony (Germany), 221
Schallert, Meike, 257
Schattschneider, E. E., 69n40, 176, 201–3, 238
Scheidemann, Philipp, 1
Schelling, Thomas, 82
Scherl GmbH, 308, 312
Schiefe, Martin, 310n55, 311, 322
Schleicher, Kurt von, 319n97, 320–22, 330–331
Schlesinger, Joseph, 91

Schmitter, Philippe C., 282
Schnadhorst, Francis, 41, 93
Schneider, Wolfgang, 256n140
Schorske, Carl, 231–32
Schult, Richard, 206, 211
Schwengler, Leo, 334
Scotland: Conservative Party of, 76, 123n8; redistricting in, 134; religious schism of, 100n183; suffrage reform in, 114
Second Reform Act of 1867 (Britain). See Reform Act of 1867
Seely, J. E. B., 135
Selborne, Lord, 157
self-reinforcing power, 2, 106, 222, 267–68, 302
Semen, Fritz, 286
Senff, Ernst von, 209
settled democracies, 4, 10–15, 335–39, 364; consolidation of, 139–40; core institutions of, 4, 10; cross-national datasets of, 13–15; direct path to, 10, 54–55; long-term breakthroughs in, 2; overcoming conservative fear in, 57–64; in Sweden, 339–44; vs. unsettled democracies, 21–23, 50–53. See also Britain
Sheets, Diane, 88–89, 96
Shepard, Walter J., 224
single-member parliamentary districts, 107n205, 115–16, 135, 187, 277
Social Democratic Party (SDP) (Germany), 51, 176, 198, 216f; democratization reform attempts of, 217–18; in disputed elections, 179–80, 186; electoral outcomes of, 186n49, 197n101, 235f, 265–68, 270, 288–89, 327f; funding sources of, 304f; in Hamburg, 254–58; industrialization and expansion of, 227, 229–31, 236n879–80; labor unrest and, 228, 253; Lib–Lab coalition of, 231–32; lifting of ban on, 185–86, 228, 235f; in local cross-party coalitions, 187–88; organizational strength of, 229–30; parliamentarization goals of, 233n73; party building by, 176n14, 205–6; post-World War I mobilization of, 262–64, 269; Prussian obstruction of, 223; on reform of Prussia’s three-class suffrage system, 237–38; Reichstag and Prussian Assembly seat share of, 241f, 242, 317, 324f; Vorwärts newspaper of, 312; Weimar coalition of, 265–68, 284–85, 287, 319–20, 324n123–24

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
Index

Socialist Party (Germany), 187, 231, 234
Sotelo, José Calvo, 347
Soucy, Robert, 355
Soulier, Édouard, 356
South Korea, 360–61
Soviet Union, 1–2
Spain: center-right parties in, 349–53; civil war of, 356–58; clientelist tactics in, 179; conservative political parties in, 48, 337f., 339, 344–53, 374; electoral manipulation in, 34–35, 37, 45–46, 174, 177n17, 345–46; embryonic conservative factions in, 32; influence of outside interest groups in, 348–53; labor mobilization in, 228f., 231, 347, 350n77; leftist coalitions in, 347–48; Liga Catalana of, 346; parliamentarization in, 275; power of old elites in, 19, 23–44; Second Republic of, 145, 346–55; secular-religious cleavage in, 48; suffrage expansion in, 10, 26, 276; unsettled democratization in, 10–11, 13, 344–51, 358; volatility score for, 14, 15f.

Spartacus League, 262
Spirling, Arthur, 68
Spofforth, Markham, 72
Stalaf, Karl, 140
Stahl, Julius, 193n80
stalemate society, 276n65
“The State of the Opposition” (att. Gorst and R. Churchill), 91

The Stoechlin (Fontanel), 34, 178
Steel Helmets (Germany), 278, 283, 317
Stephen, James, 390n3
Stephens, Evelyne Huber, 105n197, 227, 230, 232, 232
Stephens, John D., 105n197, 227, 230, 232, 252
Ster, Fritz, 262n90
Stern, Simon, 8
Sinchcombe, Arthur, 39
Stinnes-Legien Agreement (Germany), 268–69
Stoecker, Adolf, 194–96, 278
Stresemann, Gustav, 279, 285n110, 289, 291–94, 299 strong hierarchical mass parties, 37–50, 171, 366–68; consolidation of, 48–50; containment of radicalism by, 139–40, 147–57, 170–71; cross-class appeal of, 43–44, 131–37, 210–11; emergence of, 44–48; funding sources of, 304; influence of outside interest groups on, 38f., 41–42, 44; leadership structure of, 38–40, 42–44; local organization of, 38f., 41, 70, 73–76, 78–80, 80n91, 82, 81n94, 106, 121–22; organizational capacities of, 48–50, 120–18, 123–38, 138–72, 213; parliamentary systems and, 468n0; party building by, 64–82, 104–8; in Sweden, 336, 337f., 338–44. See also British Conservative Party; organizational strength of the BCP suffrage expansions, 5, 15, 35–57, 110–19; in Argentina, 359–60; defeat in Germany of, 215–16, 220–24, 226, 233–42; labor mobilization and, 229; parliamentary power and, 219n16; party appeal to voters and, 43–44; race requirements in, 8; redistricting and, 115–16, 119–21, 123–24, 128, 132–38; safeguards for existing political parties in, 4, 237, 242; in Sweden, 340–41, 342; in traditional paradigms of democratization, 11–12; universal male suffrage, 7–8, 19, 26–28, 44–45, 163–64, 172, 176, 206; voter registration systems and, 74–76, 115; wealth and property thresholds in, 6, 8, 139n11; for women, 53n6, 163–64, 277; for working class and landless laborers, 114–15. See also Reform Acts suffrage retractions, 255–58. See also de-democratization Suharto, 360–61
suspensive coup, 314, 315n80
Sweden, 4, 218; conservative political parties in, 48, 336, 337f., 338–44, 374; containment of radical right in, 344; electoral manipulation in, 46; embryonic conservative factions in, 32, 44; formal party building in, 37; industrialization of, 17, 236n46; labor mobilization in, 228f., 231, 342–43; Lutheran Church of, 47, 340–41; parliamentarization in, 25, 275, 220n20; parliamentary sovereignty in, 10, 341–43; power of old elites in, 23; settled democratization in, 10, 13, 336, 358; suffrage expansion in, 7–8, 10, 19, 26, 27f., 44, 52, 231, 237, 242; suffrage expansions in, 340–42; volatility score for, 15f.

Swedish Conservative Party. See Allmänna valmänsförbundet
Switzerland, 226
Sydow, Reinhold von, 222n27
Sykes, Alan, 143
Taittinger, Pierre, 156
Taiwan, 19, 360–61
Tanner, Duncan, 114n21
Tariff Reform League (TRL) (Britain), 142, 145
Index

197–205, 246–51; poor parliamentary discipline of, 192, 283, 284f; radical takeover from within of, 297–333; reliance on outside funding of, 303, 304–5, 312–13; in Spain, 337f, 339, 344–53; vulnerability to radicalism of, 23, 175, 190–97, 205, 271–73, 299–306. See also DNVP; German Conservative Party; organizational weakness of German conservative parties

Weber, Max, 40, 71n62, 176n14, 223

Webster, Daniel, 6

Wehler, Hans-Ulrich, 252

Weigall, Archibald, 161

Weingast, Barry, 365

Westarp, Graf von, 289, 293

Westarp, Kuno von, 237; in the DKP, 247n15, 249–50, 264n18, 278; as DNVP chairman, 311, 313–14; as parliamentary group leader, 317–18; resignation from DNVP by, 318; in the Volksvereinigung, 222–23

Weston, Corinne, 237

Whig Party (Britain), 64n22, 67, 83; interpretation of Britain’s political development of, 111, 171; on monarchical power, 67n32; suffrage reform and, 109n1

Wilhelm II, Kaiser of Germany, 1

Williamson, Philip, 164, 171

Wilson, Henry, 155

Wilson, Woodrow, 171

Winterfeldt, Joachim von, 180

Winterfeldt, Karl Ulrich von, 178, 179–80

Wolff, Henry Drummond, 84, 92

Women’s Unionist and Tariff Reform Association (WUTRA), 163

working-classes, 51–52; in Britain, 113–14, 118, 228f, 231; in Germany, 18, 23, 52–53, 226–33, 255–58, 268–69; in models of democratization, 16, 18, 23

Workmen’s Compensation Act, 145n23

World War I: Britain’s Liberal–Conservative coalition of, 164–67; collapse of empires following, 8–9, 260; cross-party political truce in Germany of, 265–66; democratic transitions following, 26, 260–61, 264–69, 270; German Inter-Party Committee of, 266; Great Schism on the left during, 231; impact on Britain’s constitutional crisis of, 158–62; labor mobilizations following, 260, 262–63, 268–69; outbreak of, 153–54; peace negotiations and Versailles Treaty of, 259, 261–62, 291–93

Wulle, Reinhold, 290n134

Ybarnégaray, Jean, 356

Yeltsin, Boris, xii

Young Conservatives (Germany), 279n75

Yrigoyen, Hipólito, 360

“Zinoviev Letter,” 169