

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00233-3 - Justice and Self-Interest: Two Fundamental Motives

Melvin J. Lerner and Susan Clayton

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

List of Figures and Tables	page vii
Preface	ix
1 Contesting the Primacy of Self-Interest	1
2 Why Does Justice Matter? The Development of a Personal Contract	20
3 Commitment to Justice: The Initial Primary Automatic Reaction	40
4 Explaining the Myth of Self-Interest	59
5 Defining the Justice Motive: Reintegrating Procedural and Distributive Justice	98
6 How People Assess Deservingness and Justice: The Role of Social Norms	122
7 Integrating Justice and Self-Interest: A Tentative Model	145
8 Maintaining the Commitment to Justice in a Complex World	191
9 Bringing It Closer to Home: Justice in Another “American Tragedy”	207
10 Emotional Aftereffects: Some Negative Consequences and Thoughts on How to Avoid Them	220
References	247
Author Index	263
Subject Index	266