

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More informationIndex

- abolitionism and slavery, 2, 118, 209, 220, 266, 279
- abortion, 116
- absolute liability, 274
- absolute responsibility, 61
- accumulative harms, 4, 30–47
 - aggregate harms innocuous at individual level, 39–40
 - atomized market participants, 42
 - causality, difficulty of tracing, 40, 60
 - Christian ecclesiastical statements on economic life, 30–36
 - gratuitous, precipitating. See gratuitous
 - accumulative harms, precipitating
 - individual economic agents, 42–44
 - individual responsibility for, 38
 - intent to cause, 42
 - interdependent agencies, responsibility of. See interdependent agencies
 - market outcomes, 43–45
 - market processes, 39–41
 - mediation of individual economic agency, 41
 - necessity of market participation and, 43
 - overdetermination of. See overdetermination
 - problem of, 72
 - quasi-participatory intent in. See quasi-participatory intent in unstructured harms
 - secular philosophy on harm to others, 36–37
 - specialization and division of labor, 41
 - standard accountability principles not applicable to, 38, 45–46, 47
- act utilitarianism, 57–58, 64
- “active force” test, 81
- acts of God, 166
- admissible causes in tort law, 76–77
- agential theories of responsibility, 234, 236
- agents’ actions, principals’ responsibility for, 129
- agents, interdependent. See interdependent agencies
- Agra Affirmations on Christian Faith, Market Economics and the Poor* (1995), 32, 35
- agricultural workers, 63, 65, 191, 279
- air pollution. See pollution
- Alien Tort Claims Act, 284
- allocative efficiency, pecuniary externalities resulting from. See pecuniary externalities
- almsgiving, biblical ethics of. See under biblical ethics
- Ambrose of Milan, 161, 247
- amorality of market on its own, 207, 211
- Anabaptists, 32
- analytical framework synthesizing ethics of market complicity, 267–268
- analyzing market complicity, diagnostic framework for, 92–95
- Anglo-Saxon common law, 185, 280
- anthropology
 - Christian understanding of, 33, 271–275
 - rational social animals, human beings as, 259
 - of responsibility, 263
 - virtue theory, Aristotelean–Thomistic, 49–51
- antibiotics, overuse of, 152
- anticompetitive forces, 210, 212
- apartheid, 65, 220, 279
- Apple (corporation), 216
- apportionment of damages in tort law, 56–58
- Aquinas. See Thomas Aquinas
- Aristotle
 - metaphysics of, 51–53, 241–243, 263, 264, 272
 - ontology of, 241–243
 - virtue theory of, 49–51
- arms sales, 106, 113
- Aronson, Ronald, 61–64
- Asian financial crisis (1997–1998), 149, 190
- atomized market participants, 42, 64–66
- attributive versus explanatory queries, 85
- Augustine of Hippo, 51, 161, 221
- automotive industry, 218
- autonomy principle, 20, 38, 47
- Bacon, Francis, 83
- Bangalore, India, 196

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

Index

301

- Barth, Karl, 235
 Basil the Great, 161
 basis for accountability causation. See causation
 Christian ethics on, 278 gratuitous accumulative harms. See under gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating injurious socioeconomic structures. See under injurious socioeconomic structures Kutz on, 285 pecuniary externalities, failure to deal with, 180–203
 Christian ethics on, 199–203
 harm, moral duty to prevent, 184–186 reasons against moral obligation regarding, 182–184 reasons in favor of moral obligation regarding, 184–199 severe adverse pecuniary externalities, what constitutes, 180–182 wrongdoing. See under wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling Beale, Joseph, 81
 benefiting from wrongdoing. See wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling benefits and burdens of market, interlocking nature of, 44, 71, 115–117, 174–175
 Bernardino of Siena, 162 biblical ethics
 almsgiving aid to those in need, predominating principle of, 274–275 duties of wealthy regarding, 246–247 exploitative, 248–250 contemporary appropriation of, 203 divine gift, economic security as, 201
 forensic nature of responsibility, 261 individual responsibility, 243–244 lending, antipathy to, 162–163 limited-goods nature of ancient economies, 246, 248, 250–255
 overdetermination and, 50, 51–53
 prophetic literature, 244–245, 266 relationship between power, responsibility, and freedom, 263–264 restoration, principle of, 202–203
 sedeq (righteousness), concept of, 34, 35, 269–270, 272 social sin, 222
 subsidiarity, principle of, 274
 theology of economic responsibility and, 243–250, 264
 torts, restitution for, 244 wealth, biblical attitude toward, 245–248
 blood diamonds, 116
 Bonhoeffer, Dietrich, 53, 63
 bounded rationality, 213–215, 270 brand owners, moral responsibility of, 127–131 Brazil, 196
 Burma, 284
 business ethics, lessons from, 280
 “but for” or sine qua non test, 54, 78–80
 Calabresi, Guido, 193
 Cambodia, 108
 carbon offset programs, 63, 65, 279, 284 cash-assistance programs, 184 Catholicism. See Roman Catholic Church causation accumulative harms, difficulty of tracing causality of, 40, 60
 Christian ethics lacking theory of, 268, 269–270 different degrees of, 123–124
 duplicative or redundant causation, 48–49, 54–60. See also overdetermination
 gratuitous accumulative harms,
 precipitating, 158
 intent to cause harm, 21–25, 42, 59
 minuscule causal contribution, 48–49,
 60–64. See also overdetermination relative size of causal contributions, 124 second order, 125–126 significant causal contribution, complicity through, 19
 in tort law. See under tort law wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling, 121–126
 “cause or mere condition?” test, 81–82, 84
 “chain (or cone) of causation,” 77, 84, 85 charity (almsgiving), biblical ethics of. See under biblical ethics
 Chávez, César, 65, 279 child labor, 113, 184, 209 children in poor families, 184, 196–197
 China, 119, 147, 148, 158, 169, 195, 197, 281
 Christian ethics
 analytical framework provided by, 267–268 anthropology of, 33, 271–275
 on basis for accountability, 278
 Bible. See biblical ethics causation, lacking theory of, 268, 269–270 church statements on. See church statements on economic life community, understanding of, 33, 51–53, 271 on consumption disexternalities, 159–160 contributions specific to, 267–278, 285
 divine gift, economic security as, 200–202
 due care, concept of, 199–200

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

302

Index

- Christian ethics (cont.)
 ecclesiastical statements regarding, 30–36 faith and reason, interaction of, 268, 269–270
 gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 159–164
 human goods, trade-offs between, 35 human rights, use of, 34 on injurious socioeconomic structures, 221–224, 229, 230
 interdisciplinary approach to, 268–269 on investment disexternalities, 161–164 justice in, 272, 275 lending practices, early antipathy toward, 162–163 material cooperation, expansion of concept of, 276–277 merchants and commerce, early antipathy toward, 161–162 on object of accountability, 277 overdetermination, problem of, 49–54 pecuniary externalities, importance of dealing with, 199–203 on production disexternalities, 160–161 Protestant statements on economic life, 31–33, 223, 250, 252–254
 restoration, principle of, 202–203
 Roman Catholic statements on economic life, 31, 33, 36, 159, 221, 223 scholastic principles. See scholastic principles of market complicity secular law and philosophy and. See under secular law and philosophy sin, notion of, 50 on subjects of accountability, 277 systematic application of, need for, 2–3 theology of economic responsibility. See theology of economic responsibility wrongdoing, accountability for benefiting from and enabling, 101–103, 112–113, 115, 145
- church statements on economic life
 Protestant statements, 31–33, 223, 250, 252–254. See also specific denominations Roman Catholic statements, 31, 33, 36, 159, 221, 223, 254–255, 266. See also Roman Catholic Church theology of economic responsibility and, 248, 250–255, 264
- climate change, 44, 48, 79, 158, 208 collective consequentialism, 57 collective context, individual action within accumulative harms resulting from, 46
 gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 157
 I–We problem, 21 injurious socioeconomic structures due to, 219, 220, 228–230 nature of market complicity and, 25
 overdetermination, 59, 62, 64
 in theology of economic responsibility, 236 collective harms, complicity in, 20–21 coltan, 116 commerce
 early Christian antipathy toward merchants, 161–162
 non-reciprocal risk in free trade arrangements, 189, 191 commodification of human persons, 114, 209, 212 common law, 185, 280
 commons, problem of, 59, 208, 211 communications revolution. See globalization/information revolution and market complicity community, Christian understanding of, 33, 51–53, 271 Community Reinvestment Act, 212 comparative advantage, 195–196 compensation principle, 204
 competition, market circumstances reducing, 210, 212
Complicity: Ethics and Law for a Collective Age (Kutz, 2000), 19–21 complicity in market economics. See market complicity complicity principle, 21, 22, 38, 47 computer software and hardware, as network externality, 216 “cone (or chain) of causation,” 77, 84, 85 Confucian values, 281 consequentialism and overdetermination, 56–58, 61 consumers/customers. See also individuals and individual responsibility network externalities and, 217 residual market obligations, power to address, 279 sweatshops, moral responsibility for, 130–131, 139–143 wrongdoing, consumer power over, 108–111 consumption disexternalities, 147–149, 159–160, 168–169, 171–172, 237 contingent (dispensable) cooperation, 13 contributory negligence, 97, 98, 183–184, 192, 269–270 control principle, 20 cooperation with evil, 11–14
 analytical framework provided by, 267–268 coordinate agents or co-principals, 11 formal cooperation, 12 immediate versus mediate cooperation, 12 indispensable (necessary) versus dispensable (contingent) cooperation, 13

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

Index

303

- Liguori's thesis of, 11, 14 limitations of concept, 27–28 material cooperation, 12
 mere cooperators, 11 proximate versus remote cooperation, 13 secular legal and philosophical concept of complicity, linking, 276 unjust versus unlawful cooperation, 13 corrective justice, 186–194 cost-efficiency in tort law, 90 cotton farming in India, 188 credit. See lending practices credit default swaps. See global financial crisis customers. See consumers/customers
- damages, apportionment of, 56–58 Danish response to Final Solution, 63 demand side economics economic viability of wrongdoer,
 strengthening, 106–108
 end users/customers, moral responsibility of, 130–131 importance of, 107 retail chains and brand owners, moral responsibility of, 130–131 diagnostic framework for analyzing market complicity, 92–95
 dialogical theories of responsibility, 235, 237–238 diamonds blood diamonds, 116
 water-diamond paradox, 208
 dietary abuses and obesity, 116, 153, 209, 284 Digital Age. See globalization/information revolution and market complicity dignity, human, 269–270 direct connection between actions and effects, 76 directly voluntary acts, 25
 discrimination, 210, 212
 disexternalities. See externalities; pecuniary externalities
 dispensable (contingent) cooperation, 13 dispersion principle, 48 distribution of market outcomes, 43–45 distributive justice, theory of, 227
 divine gift, economic security as, 200–202 division and specialization of labor, 41 double effect, principle of. See principle of double effect
 Dresden bombing crews, 20–21, 22, 24, 42, 219 due care, Christian concept of, 199–200 duplicative causation, 48–49, 54–60. See also
 overdetermination
 Dworkin, R., 227
- East Asian economic miracles, 197, 281 economic complicity. See market complicity Economic Compulsion and Christian Ethics (Barrera, 2005), xi economic responsibility, theology of. See theology of economic responsibility economic theory atomized market participants as price-takers, 42, 64–66
 bounded rationality, 213–215, 270
 compensation principle, 204 demand side. See demand side economics human capital development, 195–198 on injurious socioeconomic structures, 213–220
 network externalities, 215–217 obligation to initiate change in, 220–221 on overdetermination, 64–66 path dependency, 217–220, 269–270 pecuniary externalities, instrumental approach of neoclassical economics to, 194–199 risk avoidance, 198–199, 269–270
 Smith's "invisible hand," 30, 39, 40, 44, 46, 64 supply side economic viability of wrongdoer,
 strengthening, 106
 moral responsibilities of input markets, 135–139 wrongdoing, accountability for benefiting from and enabling, 104–111
 Elizabeth of Hungary, 2, 102, 266 enabling wrongdoing. See wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling energy use, 147–149, 158, 169
 English language, as network externality, 215
 "enough and as good," 224, 270
 Enron, 12–13
 Episcopalians, 253
 equity issues, 188–190, 208, 212
 evangelicals and fundamentalists, 31, 254 evil, cooperation with. See cooperation with evil explanatory versus attributive queries, 85 exploitation, market tendency toward, 209 exploitative almsgiving, 248–250 extensification and intensification of both power and responsibility in modern world, 257–259, 282–283
 externalities, 146–147
 moral/non-pecuniary, 206. See also injurious socioeconomic structures network, 215–217 pecuniary. See pecuniary externalities technical, 146, 186, 187

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

304

Index

- Fair Trade initiatives, 63, 65, 187, 217, 238, 279, 284
- fairness, Rawls on justice as, 6, 164–165, 194, 227, 270
- faith and reason, interaction of, 268, 269–270
- Falwell, Jerry, 31
- familial understanding of human community, 33, 51–53
- fault liability, 272
- Feinberg, Joel, 165–166, 174, 181, 185, 228, 284
- food abuses and obesity, 116, 153, 209, 284
- food prices, global rise in, 147–149, 169
- force majeure*, 166
- forensic nature of responsibility, 261
- foreseeability issues, 97, 169–171
- formal cooperation, 12
- framework for analyzing market complicity, 92–95
- free trade arrangements, non-reciprocal risk in, 189, 191
- freedom-limiting principle of harm to others, 36–37, 165–166
- freedom, power, and responsibility, relationship between, 255–264
- fundamentalists and evangelicals, 31, 254
- The Gap, 111, 129
- general justice, 132, 137, 173, 229, 269–270, 274
- genocide, murder in context of, 25, 46, 59, 157
- Gill, Robin, xi
- global financial crisis (2008–2009)
- accumulative harms, concept of, 44
 - expansion of what constitutes complicity to include, 280
 - gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 150–152, 153, 155, 168, 173–174, 175, 176
 - interdependent agencies, 76, 80
 - overdetermination, 61
 - pecuniary externalities, failure to address, 179, 191
- global rise in food prices, 147–149, 169
- global warming, 44, 48, 79, 158, 208
- globalization/information revolution and market complicity
- gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 147, 176
 - injurious socioeconomic structures and, 220
 - intensification and extensification of both power and responsibility resulting from, 257–259, 282–283
 - pecuniary externalities, necessity of attending to, 190–191, 195
 - relationship between, 3–4
 - wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling, 110–111
- Good Samaritan laws, 77
- goods, trade-offs between, 35
- government policies, “race to the bottom” on, 210
- Gowri, A., 210
- Grameen Bank, 108, 212
- grape industry, migrant workers in, 63, 65, 279
- gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 5, 146–176
- basis for accountability, 158–171
 - causal contribution, establishing, 158
 - in Christian ethics, 159–164
 - in secular and legal philosophy, 164–171
 - externalities as. See externalities; pecuniary externalities
 - foreseeability, 169–171
 - interlocking nature of benefits and burdens of market, 174–175
 - object of accountability, 146–158
 - PDE, 158, 174, 176
 - risk creation, 167–169
 - soft complicities differentiated from, 156–158
 - subjects of accountability, 171–175
 - tort law and. See under tort law
 - unavoidable versus gratuitous harms, defining, 146
 - wrongdoing, differentiated from, 154, 156
- Gregory of Nazianzus, 161
- hard complicity, 5, 97–99, 236, 250, 252–254. See also gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating; wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling
- Häring, Bernard, 275
- Harsanyi, John, 57–58, 64
- Hart, H. L. A., 82
- Hauerwas, Stanley, 234
- Hechsher–Olin model, 189
- high occupancy vehicle traffic lanes, 57
- higher-order moral culpability, 139–143
- Himmler, Heinrich, 62
- Hitler, Adolf, 53, 62, 63
- Holocaust/Final Solution, 61–64
- Honoré, Tony, 82, 167
- housing bubble, 2005–2008. See global financial crisis
- Howarth, David, 82
- human capital development, importance of, 195–198
- human community, Christian understanding of, 33, 51–53, 271
- human dignity, 269–270
- human goods, trade-offs between, 35
- human nature. See anthropology

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

Index

305

- human rights
 - Christian use of, 34
 - injurious socioeconomic structures, duty to mitigate, 225–226
 - liberty-limiting principle of harm to others, 36–37, 165–166
 - positive and negative, 225, 226
- I–Thou* encounters, 237, 238
- I–We* problem, 21. See also collective context, individual action within
- immediate cooperation, 12
- India, 147, 148, 158, 188, 195, 196
- indirectly voluntary acts, 25
- indispensable (necessary) cooperation, 13
- individual difference principle, 19, 38, 47
- individuals and individual responsibility. See also consumers/customers
 - accumulative harms
 - aggregate harms innocuous at individual level, 39–40
 - individual economic agents, 42–44
 - individual responsibility for, 38
 - mediation of individual economic agency, 41
 - biblical ethics, individual responsibility in, 243–244
 - collective context, individual action within, 25, 46, 59, 62, 64, 157, 219, 220, 228–230, 236
 - price-takers, individuals as, 42, 64–66
 - tort law, problems of imputing individual culpability in, 73
- inducing others to commit harm, 76
- infant-industry argument, 107
- information revolution. See globalization/information revolution and market complicity
- injurious socioeconomic structures, 6, 206–230
 - amorality of market on its own, 207, 211
 - basis for accountability, 213–228
 - in Christian ethics, 221–224, 230
 - in economic theory, 213–220
 - in secular law and philosophy, 224–228
 - bounded rationality, 213–215, 270
 - in Christian ethics, 221–224, 229, 230
 - collective context, individual action within, 219, 220, 228–230
 - commodification of any good or service, 209, 212
 - competition, market circumstances reducing, 210, 212
 - discrimination, 210, 212
 - distributive justice, theory of, 227
 - equity issues, 208, 212
 - exploitation, 209
 - extra-market efforts to mitigate, 211–213
 - fundamental needs, purchasing power as only means of fulfilling, 207
 - human rights and, 225–226
 - intergenerational inequities, 208
 - Locke on “enough and as good,” 224, 270
 - market failures, 211
 - as moral/non-pecuniary externalities, 206
 - needs versus wants, failure of market to distinguish, 208
 - network externalities, 215–217
 - object of accountability, 206–213
 - obligation to initiate change/prevent harm, 220–221, 229
 - path dependency, 217–220, 269–270
 - PDE and, 213
 - poverty traps, 210
 - price versus value, failure of market to distinguish, 208
 - quasi-participatory intent in unstructured harms, 219
 - “race to the bottom” on government policies, 210
 - regressive dispensation of burdens and benefits, 207, 212
 - subjects of accountability, 228–230
 - tort law, assignment of responsibility in, 230
- input markets. See supply side economics
- integrated ethic of responsibility, 235, 241
- intensification and extensification of both power and responsibility in modern world, 257–259, 282–283
- intent to cause harm, 21–25, 42, 59
- interdependent agencies, 5, 70–91
 - global financial crisis (2008–2009) and, 76, 80
 - Mill on, 81–82, 85, 90
 - PDE and, 72
 - problem of, 47, 70–72
 - tort jurisprudence as means of addressing. See tort law
- intergenerational inequities, 208
- interlocking benefits and burdens of market, 44, 71, 115–117, 174–175
- intervening events in tort law, 83–85
- investing, socially responsible (SRI), 65, 106, 116, 137–138, 143–144, 279
- investment disexternalities, 149–152, 161–164, 168, 173–174, 237
- “invisible hand,” 30, 39, 40, 44, 46, 64
- Isaacs, Tracy, 24, 46, 59, 62, 64, 157
- ivory poaching, 116
- J. C. Penney, 121, 122, 125, 126, 129
- Jägerstätter, Franz, 63
- Japan, 150, 169, 195, 197
- John XXIII (pope), 159
- John Chrysostom, 2, 102–103, 160, 266

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

306

Index

- John Paul II (pope), 266
- Jonas, Hans, 238–241, 243, 256–259, 262, 263, 264
- Jubilee law, 202
- just-use obligation, 159–160, 163, 269–270, 274
- justice as fairness, Rawls on, 6, 164–165, 194, 227, 270
- justice in Christian ethics, 272, 275
- Kadish, Sanford, 18–19
- Kant, Immanuel
- pecuniary externalities and, 137, 189
 - in synthesis of ethics on market complicity, 234, 269–270, 272
 - theology of economic responsibility and, 236, 237
 - on wrongdoing, 112
- Kaveny, M. Cathleen, 102
- Kissell, Judith Lee, 22
- Kmart, 140–143
- Kristof, Nicholas, 108
- Kutz, Christopher
- on accumulative harms, 39, 46
 - on basis for accountability, 285
 - cooperation of evil and complicity, linking concepts of, 276
 - injurious socioeconomic structures and, 219
 - on nature of market complicity, 19–21, 22, 23, 24–25
 - on overdetermination, 59, 60, 62, 64
 - on standard accountability principles, 94
 - wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling, 127, 136, 137, 138
- labor market
- human capital development, importance of, 195–198
 - specialization and division of labor, 41
- Laborum Exercens*, 266
- law and philosophy. See secular law and philosophy
- legitimate material cooperation. See cooperation with evil
- Lehman Brothers, 76
- lending practices
- ancient Hebrew and early Christian antipathy toward, 162–163
 - decline of standards. See global financial crisis
 - injurious socioeconomic structure, as part of, 207, 209
 - micro-lending, 65, 108, 212
- Leo XIII (pope), 159, 275
- liability, legal categories of, 272
- liberation theology, 221
- liberty-limiting principle of harm to others, 36–37, 165–166
- Liguori, Alphonsus, 11, 14
- limited-goods nature of biblical economies, 246, 248, 250–255
- Locke, John, 164, 224, 270
- Lutheran Church, 253
- MacDonald's, 116, 173
- malum in se*, 98
- market complicity, 11–29
- accumulative harms. See accumulative harms
 - amorality of market on its own, 207, 211
 - Christian ethics and. See Christian ethics
 - in collective harms, 20–21
 - conceptual tools and problems associated with, summary of, 91–92
 - as cooperation with evil. See cooperation with evil
 - defining limits of moral obligation for, 3
 - diagnostic framework for analyzing, 92–95
 - extent and significance of, 1–2
 - globalization and, 3–4
 - gratuitous harms. See gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating
 - hard complicity, 5, 97–99, 236, 250, 252–254. See also gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating; wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling
 - importance of understanding, 3, 9
 - intent to cause harm, 21–25, 42, 59
 - interdependence. See interdependent agencies
 - interdisciplinary approach to, 268–269
 - moral complicity versus material cooperation, 25–27
 - multiple usages of concept, 22–23
 - nature of, 4, 11–29, 278–279
 - overdetermination of. See overdetermination
 - PDE. See principle of double effect
 - pecuniary externalities. See pecuniary externalities
 - scholastic principles of. See scholastic principles of market complicity
 - scope of study of, 28–29
 - in secular law and philosophy. See secular law and philosophy
 - significant causal contribution, complicity through, 19
 - socioeconomic structures. See injurious socioeconomic structures
 - soft complicity, 5, 97–99, 156–158, 236–237, 247. See also injurious socioeconomic structures; pecuniary externalities
 - synthesis of ethics of. See synthesis of ethics of market complicity
 - theology of responsibility for. See theology of economic responsibility

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

Index

307

- tort law as means of addressing, 72–75. See also tort law
- typology of, 5, 97–99
- unstructured harms, quasi-participatory intent in. See quasi-participatory intent in unstructured harms
- wrongdoing. See wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling
- market failures, 211
- market outcomes, distribution of, 43–45
- Marx, Karl, 227
- mass transit, 57, 218
- material cooperation, 12, 25–27, 276–277, 281
- Medellin Bishops' Conference, 221
- mediate cooperation, 12
- merchants and commerce, early Christian antipathy toward, 161–162
- metaphysics, Aristotelean–Thomistic, 54, 241–243, 263, 264, 272
- Methodists, 252
- micro-lending, 65, 108, 212
- Microsoft PC operating system, as network externality, 216
- migrant workers, 63, 65, 116, 191, 279
- Mill, John Stuart
- on accumulative harms, 36
 - gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 165–166
 - interdependent agencies and, 81–82, 85, 90
 - liberty-limiting principle of harm to others, 36–37, 165–166
 - overdetermination and, 55
 - pecuniary externalities, failure to attend to, 181, 185
 - wrongdoing, enabling and benefiting from, 5, 123
- minuscule causal contribution, 48–49, 60–64. See also overdetermination
- monopolies, market circumstances encouraging, 210, 212
- moral ambiguity in market economics, 259–261
- moral blameworthiness versus legal liability, 66–67
- moral complicity versus material cooperation, 25–27
- moral focus of theories of responsibility, 234–238
- moral mathematics and overdetermination, 56–58, 61
- moral responsibility for benefiting from/enabling wrongdoing, 126–144
- morality of market, ongoing struggle to shape, 281–282
- Morgan Stanley, 151
- Morris, Herbert, 75
- Nazi Germany, 53, 63, 118
- necessary (indispensable) cooperation, 13
- “necessary element in a set of jointly sufficient conditions” (NESS) test, 55–56, 83, 122–123, 124, 125, 131–135
- necessity of market participation, 43
- needs versus wants, failure of market to distinguish, 208
- negative and positive human rights, 225, 226
- negative duty in hard complicity, 99
- NESS. See “necessary element in a set of jointly sufficient conditions” test
- Nestlé boycott, 63, 65, 217, 220, 279
- network externalities, 215–217
- NGOs. See non-governmental organizations
- Niebuhr, H. Richard, 221, 235
- Nike, 111
- non-governmental organizations (NGOs), 65, 211, 212, 230
- non-reciprocal risk, 190–193
- obesity and dietary abuses, 116, 153, 209, 284
- object of accountability
- accumulative harms as. See accumulative harms
 - Christian ethics on, 277
 - in gratuitous accumulative harms, 146–158
 - in injurious socioeconomic structures, 206–213
 - pecuniary externalities, failure to address, 177–180
 - in theology of economic responsibility, 261–264
 - in wrongdoing. See under wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling
- occasioning harm, tort law on, 166–167
- Oderberg, David, 70
- omission as cause of harm, 77
- ontology and theology of economic responsibility, 238–243, 263
- organic food movement, 284
- output markets. See demand side economics
- overdetermination, 5, 48–69
- absolute responsibility, concept of, 61
 - act versus rule utilitarianism, 57–58, 64
 - in Christian ethics, 49–54
 - collective context, individual action within, 59
 - consequentialism or moral mathematics, 56–58, 61
 - distinction of Christian ethics and secular law and philosophy on, 68, 271
 - duplicative or redundant causation, 48–49, 54–60
 - in economic theory, 64–66
 - human community, Christian understanding of, 51–53
 - metaphysics, Aristotelean–Thomistic, 54

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

308

Index

overdetermination (cont.)

Mill's notion of cause, 55

minuscule causal contribution, 48–49, 60–64

moral blameworthiness versus legal liability, 66–67

NESS test, 55–56

problem of, 40, 47, 72

in secular law and philosophy, 54–64

tort law, apportionment of damages in, 56–58

virtue theory, Aristotelean–Thomistic, 49–51

overfishing, 48, 67, 208

Oxford Declaration on Christian Faith and Economics (1990), 32, 33, 35, 254

palm oil, 116

Palsgraf v. Long Island Railroad Company (1928), 74–75, 78, 86

parallel acts principle, 48

Pareto optimality or Pareto efficiency, 204

Parfit, Derek, 56, 60, 61, 64, 170

Parker, Joseph Clinton, 23 participation in market, necessity of, 43

path dependency, 217–220, 269–270

Patristics. See specific Church Fathers, e.g. Tertullian patronage, biblical critique of, 248–250

Paul VI (pope), 266

PC operating system, as network externality, 216

PDE. See principle of double effect

pecuniary externalities adverse effects of, 178–179

common features of, 153

consumption disexternalities, 147–149,

159–160, 168–169, 171–172, 237 defined and differentiated from technical externalities, 186

failure to deal with, 6, 177–205 basis for accountability. See under basis for accountability

Christian ethics on, 199–203

contributory negligence, 97, 98, 183–184, 192, 269–270

corrective justice, concept of, 186–194

divine gift, economic security as, 200–202

due care, concept of, 199–200 equity issues (benefiting at the expense of others), 188–190human capital development, importance of, 195–198

instrumental approach of neoclassical economics to, 194–199

non-reciprocal risk, 190–193

object of accountability regarding, 177–180 reasons against moral accountability for, 182–184reasons in favor of moral accountability for, 184–199

restoration, principle of, 202–203

risk avoidance, 198–199, 269–270

risk distribution, 193–194

subjects of accountability, 203–204

“to the consenting, no injury is done,” legal principle of, 182–183, 192

underpricing, 186–188

investment disexternalities, 149–152, 161–164,

168, 173–174, 237

production disexternalities, 152–155, 160–161, 172–173, 237severe adverse pecuniary externalities, what constitutes, 180–182

social security nets for, 181, 186–188 unavoidable versus gratuitous, 147

Perkinson, James, 253

philosophy. See secular law and philosophy

Pogge, Thomas, 225–226 pollution, 22, 37, 49, 58, 154, 156, 157–158, 186, 189 poor families, children in, 184, 196–197

Populorum Progressio, 266 positive and negative human rights, 225, 226 positive duty in soft complicity, 99 poverty, moral duty to alleviate, 225–226

poverty traps, 184, 193, 210, 212, 218

power, responsibility, and freedom, relationship between, 255–264predatory lending. See lending practices preemptive causes in tort law, 84

Presbyterian Church, 223, 253

preventability issues, 97

price systems and price changes, 177–180

price-takers, individuals as, 42, 64–66

price versus value, failure of market to distinguish, 208

principals' responsibility for agents' actions, 129

principle of double effect (PDE), 14–18, 27–28

analytical framework provided by, 267–268

compatibility of Christian ethics and secular law and philosophy, 270gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 158, 174, 176injurious socioeconomic structures, duty to ameliorate, 213

interdependent agencies and, 72 moral ambiguity, Schweiker's treatment of, 260 pecuniary externalities, due care in dealing with, 199–200

in secular law and philosophy, 281

in typology of market complicity, 98

wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling, 117,

127, 130–131, 135, 138, 142, 145 prisoners' dilemma, 57, 59, 211

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

Index

309

- probable consequence test, 170 problem of the commons, 59, 208, 211 production disexternalities, 152–155, 160–161, 172–173, 237 prophetic biblical literature, 244–245, 266 Prosser, William, 58–59, 60, 170 prostitution and human trafficking, 106, 108, 113, 209 Protestant statements on economic life, 31–33, 223, 250, 252–254. See under specific denominations proximate cause in tort law, 85–87, 90 proximate cooperation, 13 public goods, concept of, 198 public transit, 57, 218
- quasi-participatory intent in unstructured harms accumulative harms, problem of, 39, 46 concept of, 23–25
 injurious socioeconomic structures and, 219
 linking concepts of cooperation of evil and complicity, 276
 overdetermination and, 59, 62, 64
 QWERTY keyboard, as network externality, 216
- “race to the bottom” on government policies, 210
 Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act, 127 rationality, bounded, 213–215, 270
 Rawls, John, 6, 164–165, 194, 227, 269–270 reason and faith, interaction of, 268, 269–270 reciprocity of risk, 183 redundant causation, 48–49, 54–60. See also overdetermination Reformed Church, 254 relative scarcity, 208 remote cooperation, 13
Rerum Novarum, 159 responsibility, theology of. See theology of economic responsibility restoration, principle of, 202–203
 retail chains, moral responsibility of, 127–131 righteousness (sedeq), 34, 35, 269–270, 272 rights language. See human rights risk avoidance, 198–199, 269–270
 risk creation, 167–169
 risk distribution, 193–194 risk, non-reciprocal, 190–193 risk, reciprocity of, 183
 Robertson, Pat, 31
 Roman Catholic Church economic life, statements on, 31, 33, 36, 159, 221, 223, 254–255, 266 Second Vatican Council, 36, 247, 255 social teaching of, 159
- Roover, Raymond de, 162 rule utilitarianism, 57–58, 64
- Sacred Scripture. See biblical ethics Saipan sweatshops. See sweatshops Sartre, Jean-Paul, 63, 64 savings and thrift, paradox of, 61–64 scarcity, relative, 208 scholastic principles of market complicity on commerce and merchants, 162 cooperation with evil. See cooperation with evil general justice, 132, 137, 173, 229, 269–270, 274
 limitations of, 27–28, 72
 PDE. See principle of double effect tort law enriching, 88
- Schweiker, William on anthropology of responsibility, 263
 Aristotelean–Thomistic metaphysics and, 243 on extensification and intensification of power and responsibility, 257–259 integrated ethic of responsibility of, 235, 241 Jonas, building on, 240–241, 264 moral realism of, 259–260
 ontology of, 240–241
 on typology of theories of responsibility, 233, 234
- scripture. See biblical ethics second order causation, 125–126
 Second Vatican Council, 36, 247, 255
 secular law and philosophy
 Christian ethics compatibility with, 268, 269–270 distinction from, 271–275 expansion of secular tradition by, 281 linking concepts of cooperation of evil and complicity, 276
 common law, 185, 280
 contributory negligence, legal principle of, 97, 98, 183–184, 192, 269–270
 gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 164–171
 on harm to others, 36–37
 on injurious socioeconomic structures, 224–228
 interdisciplinary approach to, 268–269
 liability, legal categories of, 272
 moral blameworthiness versus legal liability, 66–67 nature of market complicity in, 18–27 overdetermination in, 54–64
 PDE, use of, 281
 principals’ responsibility for agents’ actions, 129 on responsibility, 233–238 synthesis of. See under synthesis of ethics of market complicity

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

310

Index

- secular law and philosophy (cont.)
 “to the consenting, no injury is done,” legal principle of, 182–183, 192 tort law. See tort law wrongdoing, accountability for benefiting from and enabling, 103–104, 112
- sedeq* (righteousness), 34, 35, 269–270, 272
- Sen, Amartya K., 207, 227
- sensus fidei*, 255
- shareholder complicity, 21
- significant causal contribution, complicity through, 19
- sin, Christian notion of, 50
- sine qua non* or “but for” test, 54, 78–80
- Singapore, 197
- slavery and abolition, 2, 118, 209, 220, 266, 279
- Smiley, Marion, 234, 237
- Smith, Adam, 39, 40, 41, 44, 46, 64
- Smith, Jeremiah, 80
- social entrepreneurship, 65
- social networking, 65
- social security nets, 181, 186–188, 212
- “social sin,” concept of, 221–224, 270
- social teaching of Roman Catholic Church, 159
- social theories of responsibility, 234, 236
- socialization, principle of, 137, 173, 229, 269–270
- socially responsible investing (SRI), 65, 106, 116, 137–138, 143–144, 279
- socioeconomic structures, injurious. See injurious socioeconomic structures
- soft complicity, 5, 97–99, 156–158, 236–237, 247. See also injurious socioeconomic structures; pecuniary externalities
- solidarity, principle of, 269–270
- South Africa, apartheid in, 65, 220, 279
- South Korea, 195, 197
- Soviet-style economies, failure of, 177, 181
- specialization and division of labor, 41
- SRI. See socially responsible investing
- Stolper–Samuelson theorem, 189
- strict liability, 273
- strong theories of responsibility, 234
- subjects of accountability
 Christian ethics on, 277
 gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating, 171–175
 injurious socioeconomic structures, 228–230
 interdependence of. See interdependent agencies pecuniary externalities, failure to deal with, 203–204 wrongdoing. See under wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling
- subprime lending. See global financial crisis
- subsequent harm, occasioning, 76
- subsidiarity, principle of, 269–270, 274, 281
- substantial factor test, 80–81
- superfluous income criterion, 159–160, 163
- supply side economics economic viability of wrongdoer, strengthening, 106
 moral responsibilities of input markets, 135–139
- sweatshops, 13 economic terrain of, 121 end users/consumers of goods of, 130–131, 139–143 expansion of what constitutes complicity to include, 279 goods and services, suppliers of, 136–137 grassroots power to protest, 279 gratuitous accumulated harms, precipitating, 156 higher-order moral culpability for, 139–143 injurious socioeconomic structures leading to, 209 investors and bondholders in, 137–138 lobbyists, labor recruiters, and government overseers involved with, 138–139
- marketing and, 124
- nature of harm inflicted by, 120
- network externalities affecting, 217
- overdetermination, 63, 65
- retail chains and brand owners working with, 127–131, 139–143
- serial subcontracting in, 128
- theories of economic responsibility and, 235
- typology of market-mediated complicity and, 98
- wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling, 106, 108, 111, 112, 119–144
- synergistic nature of market outcomes, 44
- synthesis of ethics of market complicity, 6, 266–285 analytical framework, 267–268 anthropology, value of Christian perspective on, 271–275
 business ethics, lessons from, 280
 Christian ethics, contributions specific to, 267–278, 285 expansion of what constitutes complicity by, 279–280
 faith and reason, interaction of, 268, 269–270
 interdisciplinary approach to, 268–269
 linking concepts of cooperation of evil and complicity, 276
 morality of market, ongoing struggle to shape, 281–282 morally problematic nature of complicity, addressing fundamentals of, 280 nature of market complicity, 278–279
 overdetermination, 68, 271

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00315-6 - Market Complicity and Christian Ethics

Albino Barrera

Index

More information

Index

311

- secular law and philosophy
 - compatibility of Christian ethics and, 268, 269–270
 - contribution of study to, 278–282
 - distinction of Christian ethics and, 271–275
 - expansion of, using Christian ethical principles, 281
 - in theology of economic responsibility, 277
- Taiwan, 195, 197
- Target, 122, 125, 126, 129
- techné*, Jonas on, 238–241, 256–257
- technical externalities, 146, 186, 187
- temperance, as Christian virtue, 160
- Tertullian, 161, 247
- theology of economic responsibility, 6, 233–265
 - agential theories of responsibility, 234, 236
 - in biblical ethics, 243–250, 264. See also biblical ethics
 - church statements on economic life, 248, 250–255, 264
 - dialogical theories of responsibility, 235, 237–238
 - extensification and intensification of both power and responsibility, 257–259
 - forensic nature of responsibility, 261
 - individual responsibility, biblical warrant for, 243–244
 - integrated ethic of responsibility, 235, 241
 - Jonas on, 238–241, 243, 256–259, 262, 263, 264
 - moral ambiguity, dealing with, 259–261
 - moral focus of theories of responsibility, 234–238
 - object of responsibility, 261–264
 - ontology and, 238–243, 263
 - power, responsibility, and freedom, relationship between, 255–264
 - Schweiker on. See Schweiker, William
 - secular law and philosophy, responsibility in, 233–238
 - social theories of responsibility, 234, 236
 - strong and weak theories of responsibility, 234
 - synthesis of ethics of market complicity in, 277
 - types of economic responsibility, 233
- Thomas Aquinas
 - on commerce and merchants, 162
 - metaphysics of, 54, 241–243, 263, 264, 272
 - ontology of, 241–243, 263, 264
 - on PDE, 14
 - rational social animals, human beings defined as, 259
 - on superfluous income criterion, 159–160
 - virtue theory of, 49–51
- thrift and savings, paradox of, 61–64
- Tillich, Paul, 234
- “to the consenting, no injury is done,” 182–183, 192
- Tobin Tax, 175
- tomato industry, migrant workers in, 63
- tort law
 - “active force” test, 81
 - adaptation of, 89–91
 - apportionment of damages in, 56–58
 - biblical ethics, restitution for torts in, 244
 - “but for” or sine qua non test, 54, 78–80
 - causation in, 75–85
 - admissible causes, 76–77
 - “chain (or cone) of causation” concept, 77, 84, 85
 - difficulty of pinning down, 88
 - factual causation, tests for ascribing, 77–83
 - intervening events, 83–85
 - preemptive cause, 84
 - proximate cause, 85–87, 90
 - “cause or mere condition?” test, 81–82, 84
 - Christian ethics, compatibility with, 268, 269–270
 - clarity, precision and consistency required in, 73
 - commonsensical rules and principles, use of, 73, 88
 - complexity of, 74
 - cost-efficiency in, 90
 - foreseeability, 169–171
 - gratuitous accumulative harms, precipitating
 - foreseeability, 169–171
 - occasioning harm, 166–167
 - risk creation, 167–169
 - individual culpability, problems of imputing, 73
 - injurious socioeconomic structures, assignment of responsibility for, 230
 - lessons learned from, 87–91
 - market complicity, as means of addressing, 72–75
 - NESS test, 55–56, 83
 - non-causal issues, need to consider, 89
 - non-reciprocal risk, 190–193
 - on occasioning harm, 166–167
 - purpose of, 72
 - reciprocity of risk, 183
 - risk avoidance, 198–199, 269–270
 - risk creation, 167–169
 - risk distribution, 193–194
 - scholastic principles enriched by, 88
 - substantial factor test, 80–81
 - value-laden nature of, 73, 89
- trade
 - early Christian antipathy toward merchants, 161–162
 - non-reciprocal risk in free trade arrangements, 189, 191
- Trimiew, Darryl, 201
- typology of market complicity, 5, 97–99

- Ukraine, 195
- underpricing in technical and pecuniary externalities, 186–188
- Uniform Commercial Code*, 42
- unintended versus intended harms, 21–25
- United Church of Christ, 33, 252
- United Methodist Church, 252
- universal destination of the gift of the earth, principle of, 247
- unjust cooperation, 13
- unlawful cooperation, 13
- Unocal, 284
- unstructured harms, quasi-participatory intent in. See quasi-participatory intent in unstructured harms
- US dollar, as network externality, 215
- utilitarianism, act versus rule, 57–58, 64
- value versus price, failure of market to distinguish, 208
- Vatican Council II, 36, 247, 255
- Villars Statement on Relief and Development* (1987), 32, 33
- virtue theory, Aristotelean–Thomistic, 49–51
- voluntary acts, direct or indirect, 25
- von Braun, Wernher, 118
- Wal-Mart, 42, 109, 111, 129, 172–173, 178
- wants versus needs, failure of market to distinguish, 208
- water-diamond paradox, 208
- weak theories of responsibility, 234
- wealth, biblical attitude toward, 245–248
- Wealth of Nations* (Smith, 1776), 40, 41
- Weber, Max, 32
- welfare interests, concept of, 37, 104, 181
- Wesley, John, 2, 160, 199–200, 266
- Wilberforce, William, 220
- Williams, Garrath, 282
- Wogaman, J. Philip, 275
- World Trade Organization (WTO), China's admission to, 119
- wrongdoing, benefiting from and enabling, 5, 101–145
 - basis for accountability, 5, 101–145
 - in Christian ethics, 101–103
 - economic viability of wrongdoer, strengthening, 106–108
 - in economics, 104–111
 - marketplace, enabling wrongful use of, 105–106
 - in secular law and philosophy, 103–104
 - Christian ethics on, 101–103, 112–113, 115, 145
 - consumer power regarding, 108–111
 - object of accountability, 112–119
 - interlocking harms and benefits, 115–117
 - past wrongdoing, benefiting from, 117–119
 - socially tolerated harmful activities, 113–115
 - unequivocal economic wrongdoing, 113
 - PDE and, 117, 127, 130–131, 135, 138, 142, 145
 - precipitation of gratuitous accumulated harms differentiated from, 154, 156
 - secular law and philosophy on, 103–104, 112
 - subjects of accountability, 119–144
 - causal contributions, determining, 121–126
 - economic terrain, outlining, 121
 - moral responsibility of, 126–144
 - nature of harm inflicted, determining, 120
- WTO. See World Trade Organization, China's admission to
- yen-carry trade, 150
- Yunus, Muhammad, 108