

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

Index

- ABA. See applied behavioral analysis (ABA)
- ABCL. See Adult Behavior Checklist (ABCL)
- Aboriginal peoples, in Canada disparate mosaic within, 88
 drug and alcohol abuse among, 96
 early European contact for, 83
 enculturation of, 95–96
 history of, 82–86
 impact of European invasion on, 85–86
 Indian Act and, 83
 Naskapi community, 94
 public apology towards, 84–85
 residential schools and, 83–85
 suicide rates for, 88
 Yellowknives Dene First Nation, 93
- Aboriginal youths, in Canada aggressive behaviors in, 94, 95
 as bicultural, 90–91, 94–95 continuity as protective factor for, 91–93 cultural identity for, 88–98 cultural mismatch theory and, 97 educational outcomes for, 97–98 ego development for, 94
 forced removal of, from homes, 83–84 health outcomes for, 93
 historical context for, 82
 history of oppression for, 82
 psychosocial functioning for, 94
 resilience factors for, 86–98
 risk factors for, 86–98
 self-esteem for, 93
 self-identity for, 93
 well-being and, 86–87, 91–93
 in Yellowknives Dene First Nation, 93
- Achenbach, T. M., 7, 9
- activation ratio X, 238
- ADI-R. See Autism Diagnostic Interview – Review (ADI-R)
- adjustment, shyness-inhibition and, 47–48
- adolescent risk-taking. See cultural correlates, adolescent risk-taking behaviors and; neural correlates, for adolescent risk-taking behaviors
- adoption, maternal depression and, 206
- ADOS. See Autism Diagnostic Observation Schedule (ADOS)
- Adult Behavior Checklist (ABCL), 33–34
- Adult Self-Report (ASR), 33–34
- age, of children
 elite social status by, 143
 family emotional climate and, 233–234 maternal depression influenced by, 206–207 maternal responsiveness and, 229
 multicultural research for developmental psychopathology and, 27–28
- aggression
 among Aboriginal youths, 94, 95
 elite social status and, 142–144
 peer victimization and, 108
 relational, 143–144
- Aggressive Behavior syndrome, 24
- alcohol abuse. See drug and alcohol abuse
- ANS. See autonomic nervous system (ANS)
- antisocial behaviors, elite social status and, 139–140
- applied behavioral analysis (ABA), 256
- Arnocky, Steven, 107
- ASR. See Adult Self-Report (ASR)

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

288

Index

- assessment strategies
 - for clinicians' use, 13
 - data collection as part of, 11–12
 - of developmental psychopathology, 9–20
 - DSM-oriented scales in, 15–20
 - informant data in, 12–15
 - of parents, 33–34
- assimilation, of Native American children, 60, 70
- attractiveness. See physical attractiveness, elite social status and
- autism
 - ABA for, 256
 - ADI-R for, 266
 - CARS and, 228
 - CHAT for, 257–258
 - contemporary approaches to, 276–277
 - early child development and, 254–256
 - early identification of, 255
 - EIBI, 256
 - environmental influences on, 254
 - ESAT for, 258
 - with FXS, 227
 - high risk sibling studies for, 260–266
 - HMTW programme for, 268–269
 - individual trajectories for, 266–267
 - in infancy, from home movies, 256, 259–260
 - ITC for, 259
 - maternal synchronicity and, 267
 - MSEL and, 228, 261–264
 - RCTs for, 268–276
 - regression as feature of, 264–265
 - research on, 254–256
 - screening studies for, 257–276
 - symptom mechanisms of, 255
- Autism Diagnostic Interview – Review (ADI-R), 266
- Autism Diagnostic Observation Schedule (ADOS), 269–270
- autonomic nervous system (ANS), 185
 - brain development and, 195
- bicultural youths, in Canada, 90–91, 94–95
- Blain-Arcaro, Christine, 107
- boarding schools, Native American children in, 59–60
- Bombay, Amy, 81
- Brady, Nancy, 221
- brain development. See also central-peripheral nervous system; developmental psychopathology; hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenal axis; prefrontal cortex
 - ANS and, 195
 - cultural correlates as influence on, 168–169
 - CVT and, 195–196
 - early adversity and, 191–196
 - emotional reactivity and regulation and, 193–195
 - frontal brain asymmetry, 193–195
- brain overclaim, 168–169
- bullying. See peer victimization
- Burack, Jacob, 81
- Canada, shyness-inhibition expression in, 47–48
- cardiac vagal tone (CVT), 195–196
- CARS. See Childhood Autism Rating Scale (CARS)
- CBCL. See Child Behavior Checklist (CBCL)
- central-peripheral nervous system
 - emotional reactivity and regulation, 192–193
 - prematurity and, 192–193
- CGG repeat length X, 241–243
- Charman, Tony, 254
- CHecklist for Autism in Toddlers (CHAT), 257–258
- Chen, Xinyin, 39
- Child Behavior Checklist (CBCL), 232–233
- child development. See also age, of children; parent-child interactions; peer victimization; peers
 - autism and, 254–256
 - environmental stressors as factor in, 207–208
 - genetic factors for, 208–209
 - HPA axis and, 210, 211
 - maternal depression and, 205
 - neural correlates for, 209–212
 - parenting and, 205–207
 - single parenthood and, 207
- child psychopathology. See also child development
 - in DSM-I, 8
 - lack of historical research on, 8
- Childhood Autism Rating Scale (CARS), 228
- China, shyness-inhibition expression in, 47–48, 49–50

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

Index

289

- cognitive development. See also child development
 Piaget's research on, 7–8
 Conduct Problems scale, 24
connaissance concept, in philosophy, 11, 34
 consensual popularity, 128 cross-informant challenges, 10–11 cultural correlates, adolescent risk-taking behaviors and affective component of, 168
 brain development influenced by, 168–169
 components of, 158–159
 ethnicity as influence on, 159
 social component of, 168
 social motivations and, 160
 cultural identity, for Aboriginal youths, in Canada, 88–98 cultural mismatch theory, 69–70 Aboriginal youths and, 97 culture
 parental attitudes towards shyness-inhibition, 44–46
 peer attitudes towards shyness-inhibition, 44–46
 shyness-inhibition influenced by, 39, 41–42, 44–51
 CVT. See cardiac vagal tone (CVT)
- Daily Dairy Study, 236–237
 delinquency, elite social status and, 146 depression. See also maternal depression genetics and, 208–209
 from peer victimization, 113 developmental psychopathology. See also child psychopathology; multicultural norms, developmental psychopathology and; multicultural research, developmental psychopathology and assessment of, 9–20 clinical wisdom approach to, 8
 conceptual framework for, 9–20 cross-informant challenges in, 10–11 development of, 1–2
 for Piaget, 9
 prematurity and, 196–198
 risk in, 1–2
 syndrome identification in, 8–9 taxonomy of, 9–20
 well-being in, 1–2
- Developmental Psychopathology* (Achenbach), 9
Diagnostic and Statistical Manual (DSM-I), 8 Aggressive Behavior syndrome in, 24
 Conduct Problems scale, 24 scales in assessment strategies, 15–20 dominance hierarchies. See also aggression
 elite social status and, 133–135
 dopamine systems, adolescent risk-taking behaviors and, 164–165 drug and alcohol abuse
 among Aboriginal peoples, 96
 elite social status and, 145
 among Native Americans, 62
 Drvaric, Lauren, 183
 DSM-I. See Diagnostic and Statistical Manual (DSM-I)
- early intensive behavioral intervention (EIBI), 256
 Early Screening of Autistic Traits (ESAT), 258
 Early Start Denver Model (ESDM), 271–272 education
 for Aboriginal peoples, in Canada, 83–85
 for Aboriginal youths, in Canada, 97–98
 in boarding schools, for Native American children, 59–60 community demographics as factor in, 64
 cultural mismatch theory and, 69–70
 cultural stereotypes and, 70–71
 elite social status and, 146–147
 European American cultural norms in, 60, 70
 growth mindsets and, 71–72
 high-risk Native American children and, 58–59 learning disability assessment, for Native American children, 63
 matriculation rates, for Native American children, 63–64 peer victimization and, outcomes for, 112 resilience factors and, in high-risk Native American children, 63–66
 sociocultural approach, for high-risk Native American children, 67–68
 EE. See expressed emotion (EE)
 ego development, for Aboriginal youths, 94
 EIBI. See early intensive behavioral intervention (EIBI)
 ELBW. See extremely low birth weight (ELBW)

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

290

Index

elite social status, youth development and.

See also friendships

academic performance and, 147

by age cohorts, 143

aggression and, 142–144

antisocial behaviors and, 139–140

appeal of, 132–139

as asset, 139–140

attractiveness and, 136, 145–146

benefits of, 127–128, 140–147

cross-sex relationships and, 135–136

definition of, 130–132, 148

delinquency and, 146

dominance hierarchies for, 133–135

drug and alcohol abuse and, 145

education and, 146–147

emotional well-being and, 141–142

engagement in risky behaviors and,

145–146

ethnicity and, 141

evolutionary perspectives for, 133–136

factors for studies on, 128–129

friendships and, 142

as goal of youths, 129

influence as result of, 136

as liability, 139–140

among model youth, 143

motivations for, 132–133

peer nomination method for, 130–131

popularity and, 128, 129, 131–132

power from, 127

relational aggression and, 143–144

resource control theory and, 134 response to challenges to, 127–128

risks associated with, 140–147

self determination theory and, 136–138

self-esteem and, 149

sexual activity and, 145

symbolic interaction framework for,

138–139

among tough youth, 143

emic multicultural research, 22 emotional and behavioral problems, in children, 204. See also maternal depression

activation ratio X, 238

environmental stressors as factor in,

207–208

future research on, 212–213

FXS and, 231–235

genetic factors for, 208–209

HPA axis and, 210, 211

methodological sources for, 205

neural correlates for, 209–212

neuroendocrine dysregulation and, 209–212

single parenthood and, 207

emotional climate. See family emotional climate

emotional reactivity and regulation

central and autonomic measures in,

193–196

central-peripheral nervous system,

192–193

frontal brain symmetry and, 193–195

PFC and, 192–193

employment rates, for Native Americans, 61

enculturation, of Aboriginal peoples, 95–96

environmental stressors, maternal depression

and, 207–208

ESAT. See Early Screening of Autistic Traits

(ESAT)

ESDM. See Early Start Denver Model (ESDM)

ethnicity, peer victimization and, 110–112

assessment measures for, 112

elite social status and, 141

mental health and, 113–114

numerical majority/minority as factor for,

111–112

etic multicultural research, 22

expressed emotion (EE), 231

extremely low birth weight (ELBW), 184

families. See parent-child interactions family emotional climate age of children as factor for, 233–234

CBCL and, 232–233

EE measures for, 231

FMSS for, 232

FXS and, 231–235

feedback-related negativity (FRN), 169

fight or flight system, 185

First Nations peoples. See Aboriginal peoples,in Canada; Native Americans; specific peoples and communities

Five Minute Speech Sample (FMSS), 232

Flores, Heidi, 81

Fragile X Primary Ovarian Insufficiency (FXPOI), 223

Fragile X syndrome (FXS), 221

activation ratio X child behavioral problems, 238

autism symptoms with, 227

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

Index

291

- behavioral problems and, 231–235
- bidirectional family processes and, 244
- causes of, 222–223
- CBCL and, 232–233
- CGG repeat length X and, 241–243
- comorbidities with, 235–236
- Daily Dairy Study and, 236–237
- development of, family influences on, 224
- EE measures for, 231
- family adaptation studies, 224
- family emotional climate and, 231–235
- FMSS for, 232
- future research implications for, 244–246
- FXPOI, 223
- FXTAS, 223
- genetic interactions for, 238–243
- genetics and, 223
- language development and, 226–229
- maternal responsivity and, 226–229
- mental health of carriers, 235–237
- premutation carriers and, 235–237
- prevalence rates for, 223
- stress and, 241–243
- symptoms of, 222
- Fragile X-associated Tremor-Ataxia Syndrome (FXTAS), 223
- Freud, Anna, 9
- friendships
 - elite social status and, 142
 - peer victimization and, 114
- FRN. See feedback-related negativity (FRN)
- Fryberg, Stephanie, 57
- FXPOI. See Fragile X Primary Ovarian Insufficiency (FXPOI)
- FXS. See Fragile X syndrome (FXS)
- FXTAS. See Fragile X-associated Tremor-Ataxia Syndrome (FXTAS)
- gender. See also males; women
 - elite social status and, in cross-sex relationships, 135–136
 - mental health by, peer victimization as influence on, 118
 - in multicultural research for developmental psychopathology, 25–27
 - peer victimization and, 117–118
- genetics
 - FXS and, 223
 - maternal depression and, 208–209
 - parent-child interactions influenced by, 206
 - peer victimization and, 117
 - gonadal hormones, adolescent risk-taking behaviors and, 166
- Greenberg, Jan, 221
- group-oriented societies, shyness-inhibition in, 49
- Hanen More than Words (HMTW)
 - programme, 268–269
- Harper, Stephen, 84–85
- health care, for Native Americans, 61–62
- health outcomes, for Aboriginal youths in Canada, 93
- Hepditch, Jennifer, 107
- high risk sibling studies, for autism, 260–266
- high social status. See elite social status, youth development and
- high-risk children. See Native American children, high-risk
- HMTW programme. See Hanen More than Words programme (HMTW)
- hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenal (HPA) axis, 186
 - development of, 186
 - maternal depression and, 210, 211
 - mental health outcomes and, 190–191
- immigrants, multicultural norms for, 31–33
- income levels, for Native Americans, 60–61
- Indian Act, 83
- Infant Toddler Checklist (ITC), 259
- infants
 - autism in, from home movies, 256, 259–260
 - shyness-inhibition in, 40
- inhibition, shyness related to, 40
- Insights and Illusions of Philosophy* (Piaget), 7–8
- intellectual disabilities. See Fragile X syndrome (FXS)
- ITC. See Infant Toddler Checklist (ITC)
- Jean Piaget Society, 1
- Jinkuk Hong, 221
- Knack, Jennifer, 107
- Krygsman, Amanda, 107
- Lackner, Christine, 158
- land issues, for Native Americans, 60
- language development, FXS and, 226–229
- Leavitt, Peter, 57

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

292

Index

- Mailick, Marsha, 221
- males
- elite social status and, in cross-sex relationships, 135–136
 - mental health for, peer victimization and, 118
 - peer victimization among, 117–118
- maternal depression. See also parent-child interactions
- adoption and, 206
 - age of child and, 206–207
 - behavioral outcomes from, in children, 204
 - characteristics of, 204
 - child development and, 205
 - emotional outcomes from, in children, 204
 - environmental stressors as factor in, 207–208
 - factors for, 221
 - future research on, 212–213
 - genetic factors for, 208–209
 - HPA axis and, 210, 211
 - methodological sources for, 205
 - neural correlates for, 209–212
 - neuroendocrine dysregulation and, 209–212
 - parents and, 205
 - rodent research for, 210–211
 - single parenthood and, 207
 - treatment implications for, 213–214
- maternal responsiveness, 226–229
- age of child and, 229
- maternal synchronicity, 267
- mental health. See also developmental psychopathology
- of FXS carriers, 235–237
 - HPA axis and, 190–191
 - neuroendocrine system, 190–191
 - prematurity, 189–191
- mental health, peer victimization and, 112–114
- depression and, 113
 - educational outcomes and, 112
 - ethnicity factors, 113–114
 - friendship formation and, 114
 - gender influences on, 118
- Mullen Scales of Early Learning (MSEL), 228, 261–264
- multicultural norms, developmental psychopathology and, 29–34
- for immigrants, 31–33
 - for natives of society, 30–31
 - by specific society, 23
- multicultural research, developmental psychopathology and, 20–34
- age-by-gender interactions, 27–28
 - cross-informant findings, by society, 29
 - distribution score comparisons in, 21
 - emic, 22
 - etic, 22
 - expansion of developmental psychopathology through, 22–29
 - gender effects across societies in, 25–27
 - mean scale scores, societal differences in, 24–25
 - meta-analytic framework for, 21–22
 - parent assessment in, 33–34
 - Piaget and, 7–8
 - population comparisons in, 20–21
 - problem score patterning, by society, 23–24
- mutual constitution approach, to high-risk Native American children, 58
- Naskapi community, 94
- Native American children, high-risk
- boarding school experiences as factor for, 59–60
 - cultural engagement as factor for, 62–63, 64–66
 - cultural mismatch theory and, 69–70
 - definitional parameters of, 57
 - educational context for, 58–59, 63–66
 - European American cultural norms for, 60
 - growth mindsets and, 71–72
 - historical context for, 57
 - land issues as factor for, 60
 - learning disability assessment for, 63
 - matriculation rates for, 63–64
 - mutual constitution approach to, 58
 - resilience factors for, 59–66
 - risk factors for, 57, 59–66
 - sociocultural approach for, 66–72
 - sociocultural shaping of, 58
 - stereotypes for, 70–71
 - understanding of self for, 64–65
- Native Americans
- drug and alcohol abuse among, 62
 - employment rates for, 61
 - health care for, 61–62
 - income levels for, 60–61
 - poverty levels for, 60–61
 - suicide rates for, 62
- neural correlates, for adolescent risk-taking behaviors, 160–168
- activation levels of, 167–168
 - affective component of, 168
 - bottom-up processes for, 161–162

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

Index

293

- brain states and, 162
- components of, 158
- culture as influence on, 168–169
- dopamine systems and, 164–165
- FRN and, 169
- gonadal hormones, 166
- maternal depression and, 209–212
- motivations and, 160
- neural structures, 161
- neuroscientific risk models, 163–166
- peer context and, 171–172
- peer presence as influence on, 169–173
- PFC and, 165, 172–173
- radiographic studies for, 171
- social component of, 168
- substrates of, 166–168
- top-down processes for, 161–162
- white matter and, 165–166
- neuroendocrine system
 - ANS and, 185
 - early adversity and, 187–189
 - fight or flight system and, 185
 - HPA axis and, 186
 - maternal depression and, 209–212
 - mental health and, 190–191
 - prematurity and, 185–189
 - serotonin transporter genes, 117
- norms. See multicultural norms, developmental psychopathology and Nowakowski, Matilda, 204
- PACT. See Preschool Autism Communication Trial (PACT)
- parent-child interactions, 205–207
 - environmental stressors as factor in, 207–208
 - genetic factors for, 208–209
 - genetic influences on, 206
 - HPA axis and, 210, 211
 - maternal responsivity, 226–229
 - neural correlates for, 209–212
 - neuroendocrine dysregulation and, 209–212
 - single parenthood and, 207
- parenting. See also maternal depression; maternal synchronicity
 - in assessment strategies, of developmental psychopathology, 33–34
 - maternal responsivity, 226–229
 - role in child development, 205–207
 - shyness-inhibition and, attitudes towards, 44–46
 - single, maternal depression and, 207
- PECS. See Picture Exchange Communication Training (PECS)
- peer context, 171–172
- peer victimization
 - by age, 109–110
 - aggression and, 108
 - biological functioning and, 115–116
 - definition of, 107–108
 - depression from, 113
 - developmental patterns of, 108–110
 - ethnicity and, 110–112, 113–114
 - externalizing problems from, 112
 - forms of, 108
 - friendship formation and, 114
 - genetic disposition to, 117
 - internalizing problems from, 112
 - mental health and, 112–114
 - neuroendocrine function and, 115–116
 - nonphysical forms of, 109
 - numerical majority/minority factors and, 111–112
 - physical, among boys, 118
 - prevalence of, 108
 - serotonin transporter genes and, 117
 - sex differences in, 117–118
- peers
 - adolescent risk-taking behaviors and, neural substrates influenced by, 169–173
 - shyness-inhibition and, attitudes towards, 44–46
- perceived popularity, 128
- PFC. See prefrontal cortex (PFC)
- philosophy
 - Piaget's rejection of, 7–8
 - sagesse* replaced by connaissance, 11, 34
- physical attractiveness, elite social status and, 136, 145–146
- Piaget, Jean, 7–8
 - cognitive development research of, 7–8
 - for developmental psychopathology, 9
 - on empirical assessment strategies, 11
 - multicultural research and, 7–8
 - rejection of philosophy, 7–8
- Picture Exchange Communication Training (PECS), 275
- Ponizovsky, Vladimir, 81
- popularity. See also specific types
 - definition of, 131
 - elite social status and, 128, 129, 131–132
 - types of, 128
- poverty levels, for Native Americans, 60–61

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More information

- prefrontal cortex (PFC)
 adolescent risk-taking behaviors and, 165, 172–173
 emotional regulation and, 192–193
- prematurity
 baseline cortisol levels, 189
 central-peripheral nervous system and, 192–193
 conceptualization of, 183
 as contextual factor for development, 183–184
 ELBW and, 184
 infant birth weight and, 188–189
 mental health outcomes and, 189–191
 neuroendocrine system and, 185–189
 postnatal stressors and, 187 practical models for, 198
 psychopathology and, 196–198 risk gradients for, 188–189
 stress and, 185
 stress vulnerability and, 196–198
 theoretical models for, 198
- Preschool Autism Communication Trial (PACT), 270, 276
- prestige-based popularity, 128
- psychosocial functioning, for Aboriginal youths, 94
- randomised controlled trials (RCTs), 268–273. See also specific studies and trials
 developmental theory testing through, 273–276
 social communication measures through, 272–273
- relational aggression, elite social status and, 143–144
- relationship formation, 107
- reputation-based popularity, 128
- research. See also multicultural research, developmental psychopathology and on autism, 254–256
 for cognitive development, 7–8
 emic multicultural, 22
 on emotional and behavioral problems in children, 212–213
 etic multicultural, 22
 on FXS, 244–246
 on gender, for developmental psychopathology, 25–27
 for maternal depression, 210–211, 212–213
- multicultural, for developmental
 psychopathology, 27–28
- residential schools, for Aboriginal peoples, 83–85
- resilience
 in Aboriginal youths, in Canada, 86–98 cultural engagement and, in high-risk Native American children, 64–66 educational contexts for, in high-risk Native American children, 59–66
 in high-risk Native American children, 59–66
 well-being and, 2
- resource control theory, 134
- Responsive Education and Prelinguistic Milieu Training (RPMT), 275–276
- risk. See also cultural correlates, adolescent risk-taking behaviors and; Native American children, high-risk; neural correlates, for adolescent risk-taking behaviors
 in developmental psychopathology, 1–2
 elite social status and, 140–147
 outcomes from, 2
- RPMT. See Responsive Education and Prelinguistic Milieu Training
 (RPMT)
- sagesse* concept, in philosophy, 11, 34
- Schmidt, Louis, 183, 204
- Segalowitz, Sidney, 158
- self, concept of
 for Aboriginal youths, in Canada, 93
 for Native American children, 64–65, 68–70
- self-determination theory, 136–138
- self-esteem
 for Aboriginal youths, in Canada, 93
 elite social status and, 149
- serotonin transporter genes, 117
- sexual activity, elite social status and, 145
- shyness-inhibition adjustment and, 47–48
 in Canada, 48
 in China, 47–48, 49–50
 conceptual issues for, 39–41
 construct of, 41–42
 cross-cultural expression of, 42–43 cultural role in, 39, 41–42, 44–51 definitional characteristics of, 40 developmental outcomes of, 49–51

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-00885-4 - Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being

Edited by Jacob A. Burack and Louis A. Schmidt

Index

More informationIndex

295

- future developmental applications
 - and, 51–52
- in group-oriented societies, 49
- in infants, 40
- inhibition related to, 40
- parental attitudes towards, 44–46
- peer attitudes towards, 44–46
- as personality trait, 40
- social disinterest and, 51–52
- through social-interaction process, 42, 45
- sources of, 41–42
- in unfamiliar peer situations, 40
- single parenthood, maternal depression and, 207
- Smith, Leann, 221
- social disinterest, shyness-inhibition and, 51–52
- social interactions, shyness-inhibition and, 42, 45
- social status. See elite social status, youth development and
- sociocultural approach, for high-risk Native American children, 66–72
 - benefits of, 73
 - cultural mismatch theory and, 69–70
 - in educational contexts, 67–68
 - historical contexts in, challenges to, 67
 - interdependent view of self in, 68–70
- socioculturally-shaped, 58
- sociometric popularity, 128
- Sterling, Audra, 221
- Stewart, Jillian, 81
- stress
 - emotional/behavioral problems in children from, 207–208
 - environmental, in child development, 207–208
 - FXS and, 241–243
 - parent-child interactions and, 207–208
 - prematurity and, 185, 187, 196–198
 - suicide rates
 - for Aboriginal peoples, in Canada, 88
 - for Native Americans, 62
 - symbolic interactionism, 138–139
 - taxonomy, of developmental psychopathology, 9–20
 - informant data and, 12
 - Troop-Gordon, Wendy, 127
 - Vaillancourt, Tracy, 107, 204
 - Van Lieshout, Ryan, 183
 - Vineland Adaptive Behavioural Scales (VABS), 271–273
 - Vitoroulis, Irene, 107
 - Warren, Steven, 221
 - Waxman, Jordana, 183
 - well-being
 - for Aboriginal youths, in Canada, 86–87, 91–93
 - in developmental psychopathology, 1–2
 - elite social status and, 141–142
 - resilience and, 2
 - shyness-inhibition and, in China, 47–48
 - white matter, adolescent risk-taking behavior and, 165–166
 - women. See also maternal depression; maternal responsivity; maternal synchronicity
 - elite social status and, in cross-sex relationships, 135–136
 - mental health for, peer victimization and, 118
 - peer victimization among, 117–118
 - relational aggression among, 143–144
 - Yang, Fan, 39
 - Yellowknives Dene First Nation, 93
 - Zhao, Siman, 39