

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

The Rise of Fiscal States

From the Netherlands to the Ottoman Empire, to Japan and India, this groundbreaking volume confronts the complex and diverse problem of the formation of fiscal states in Eurasia between 1500 and 1914. This series of country case studies from leading economic historians reveals that distinctive features of the fiscal state appeared across the region at different moments in time as a result of multiple independent but often interacting stimuli such as internal competition over resources, European expansion, international trade, globalization and war. The essays offer a comparative framework for re-examining the causes of economic development across this period and show, for instance, the central role that the more effective fiscal systems of Europe during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries played in the divergence of East and West as well as the very different paths to modernization taken across the world.

BARTOLOMÉ YUN-CASALILLA is Professor of Early Modern History at the Universidad Pablo de Olavide in Seville, Spain, and Head of the Department of History and Civilisation at the European University Institute in Florence, Italy.

PATRICK K. O'BRIEN is Professor of Global Economic History at the London School of Economics and Political Sciences, and Convenor of a European Research Council programme on 'Regimes for the Production and Diffusion of Useful and Reliable Knowledge in the East and the West' (URKEW).

FRANCISCO COMÍN COMÍN is Professor of Economic History at the Universidad de Alcalá.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by

Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla

Patrick K. O'Brien

with

Franciso Comín Comín

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge, New York, Melbourne, Madrid, Cape Town,
Singapore, São Paulo, Delhi, Mexico City

Cambridge University Press

The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 8RU, UK

Published in the United States of America by Cambridge University Press,
New York

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9781107013513

© Cambridge University Press 2012

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2012

Printed in the United Kingdom at the University Press, Cambridge

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

Library of Congress Cataloguing in Publication data

The rise of fiscal states : a global history, 1500–1914 / edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla, Patrick O'Brien.

p. cm.

Includes index.

ISBN 978-1-107-01351-3 (hardback)

1. Fiscal policy–History. I. Yun Casalilla, Bartolomé.

II. O'Brien, Patrick Karl.

HJ192.5.R567 2012

332'.0420903–dc23

2011049969

ISBN 978-1-107-01351-3 Hardback

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

For Larry Epstein

In memoriam

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

Contents

List of figures	page x
List of tables	xii
Notes on contributors	xv
Acknowledgements	xx
1 Introduction: the rise of the fiscal state in Eurasia from a global, comparative and transnational perspective	1
BARTOLOMÉ YUN-CASALILLA
Part I North Atlantic Europe
2 Long-term trends in the fiscal history of the Netherlands, 1515–1913	39
WANTJE FRITSCHY, MARJOLEIN 'T HART AND EDWIN HORLINGS
3 Taxation in the Habsburg Low Countries and Belgium, 1579–1914	67
PAUL JANSSENS
4 The rise of the fiscal state in France, 1500–1914	93
RICHARD BONNEY
5 The politics of British taxation, from the Glorious Revolution to the Great War	111
MARTIN DAUNTON
Part II Central and Eastern Europe
6 Finances and power in the German state system	145
MICHAEL NORTH
	vii

viii	Contents
7	Financing an empire: the Austrian composite monarchy, 1650–1848	164
	RENATE PIEPER
8	The Russian fiscal state, 1600–1914	191
	PETER GATRELL
	Part III South Atlantic Europe and the Mediterranean
9	From pioneer mercantile state to ordinary fiscal state: Portugal, 1498–1914	215
	EUGENIA MATA
10	Spain: from composite monarchy to nation-state, 1492–1914. An exceptional case?	233
	FRANCISCO COMÍN COMÍN AND BARTOLOMÉ YUN-CASALILLA
11	Republics and principalities in Italy	267
	LUCIANO PEZZOLO
12	The formation of fiscal states in Italy: the Papal States	285
	FAUSTO PIOLA CASELLI
13	The evolution of fiscal institutions in the Ottoman Empire, 1500–1914	304
	ŞEVKET PAMUK
	Part IV Asia
14	The continuation and efficiency of the Chinese fiscal state, 700 BC – AD 1911	335
	KENT G. DENG
15	Taxation and good governance in China, 1500–1914	353
	R. BIN WONG
16	The rise of a Japanese fiscal state	378
	MASAKI NAKABAYASHI
17	Fiscal states in Mughal and British India	410
	JOHN F. RICHARDS†

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914
Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien
Frontmatter
More information

Contents	ix
18 Afterword: Reflections on fiscal foundations and contexts for the formation of economically effective Eurasian states from the rise of Venice to the Opium War	442
PATRICK K. O'BRIEN
Index	454

Figures

2.1	The composition of public expenditure in Holland (1581–1792) and the Netherlands (1814–1913)	page 47
2.2	Real per capita gross domestic product in Holland (1500–1800), the Netherlands (1800–1913) and Britain (1700–1913) at constant prices	52
2.3a	The share of taxes on real estate in total tax revenues in three provinces of the Republic and in nineteenth-century Netherlands, 1570–1913	56
2.3b	The share of taxes on property, income and wealth in total tax revenues in three provinces of the Republic and in nineteenth-century Netherlands, 1570–1913	57
2.3c	The share of transactions duties in total tax revenues in three provinces of the Republic and in nineteenth-century Netherlands, 1570–1913	57
2.3d	The share of excises in total tax revenues in three provinces of the Republic and in nineteenth-century Netherlands, 1570–1913	58
2.4	The share of progressive taxes in the combined revenue of progressive and regressive taxes in Holland and the Netherlands, 1572–1913	60
2.5	Republic of the seven United Netherlands	65
6.1	The central money household of Hamburg, 1371–1560	148
6.2	Municipal borrowing in Hamburg, 1350–1604	149
7.1	Revenues and expenditure of the Austrian monarchy (1655–1845)	175
7.2	Revenues of the Austrian monarchy from direct and indirect taxes (1650–1845)	177
7.3	The structure of indirect taxation (cameralia) (1749–1847)	179
7.4	Regional distribution of the contribution (1650–1780)	182

List of figures	xi
7.5 Expenditures of the Austrian monarchy (1650–1792)	186
10.1 Crown revenues in Castile (1400–1715) and Spain (1722–1898)	238
10.2 Crown revenues in Castile-Spain and England, 1486–1824	240
12.1 Rome’s contribution to the state balance sheets	288
12.2 Chamber accounts yearly balance	291
12.3 Debt interests	293
13.1 Revenues of the central government / estimated GDP of the Ottoman Empire	321
14.1 The fiscal cycle in the Chinese economy	343
16.1 Land tax collection of the Tokugawa Shogunate Domain, 1716–1841	382
16.2 Land tax revenue in total tax revenue of the central government, 1868–1914	389
16.3 Amount of central government-issued bonds, 1870–1914	390
16.4 Gross national expenditure and government expenditure, 1885–1914	392
16.5 Fixed capital formation by government and private sectors, 1868–1914	393
17.1 East India Company gross annual revenues, 1762–1859	419
17.2 East India Company land revenue, 1782–1859	420
17.3 East India Company percentage gross revenues tribute, subsidies from native states	421
17.4 Tribute and subsidies	422
17.5 East India Company salt revenues, 1782–1859	423
17.6 East India Company opium revenues, 1782–1859	425
17.7 East India Company revenues and expenses, 1762–1859	426
17.8 East India Company military expenses, 1762–1859	428
17.9 Political and judicial/police expenses, 1762–1859	429
17.10 Buildings, roads, public works, 1782–1859	430
17.11 Percentage of interest paid in India to total East India Company expenses, 1792–1859	431
17.12 Bond debt in India, 1762–1859	431
17.13 Indian bond debt compared with gross revenues, 1762–1859	432
17.14 East India Company deficits based on total India–British expenses, 1794–1810	437

Tables

2.1	Population growth in Britain and the Netherlands, 1500–1913	page 51
2.2	Nominal and real tax revenues per capita in the Dutch Republic and the Kingdom of the Netherlands in comparison with the development of real wages and real per capita gross domestic product, 1670s–1913	54
2.3	Aggregate burden of state taxation in Holland and the Netherlands, 1575–1913	55
2.4	The share of regular taxes, net transfers of tax revenues from the Southern Netherlands (1816–1830) and colonial remittances (1832–1877) in total state revenues, 1816–1877	63
2.5	The growth of state finance in seventeenth-century Holland compared to eighteenth-century Britain	66
3.1	An estimate of local taxes in Hainault, Luxembourg and Namur for 1782	74
3.2	The composition of taxation in the Austrian Netherlands	75
3.3	Estimated tax revenues from different provinces (c. 1766)	78
3.4	Rental and tax level in the ‘Land van Aalst’ (late eighteenth century)	81
3.5	The structure of Belgian taxes, central government	84
5.1	Direct and indirect taxes as a share of total tax revenues in Britain	119
6.1	Revenues and expenditures of the Imperial City of Nuremberg, 1431–1440	147
6.2	Revenues and expenditures for central governance in Hesse, 1500–1568	151
6.3	Revenues and expenditures of Ducal Prussia, 1560–1619	152
6.4	Per capita property taxes of the Gemeiner Pfennig	154
6.5	Prussian state finance, 1688–1806	158
6.6	Revenues of selected European countries	159

List of tables	xiii
6.7 Total tax burden per capita of selected countries in livres tournois	160
6.8 The graduated tax system of 1821	161
6.9 Structure of Prussian tax revenue, 1816 and 1821	162
8.1 Population of the Russian empire	195
8.2 Government revenue during the reign of Peter the Great	200
8.3 Peasant tax and rental payments, European Russia	206
8.4 Taxation and national income in late tsarist Russia	207
8.5 Railway loans and other debt issues 1861–1914	208
9.1 Portuguese public revenues	224
9.2 Ratio of customs revenues to fiscal revenue	226
9.3a Portuguese foreign indebtedness compared to GDP, collected taxes, the service of the public debt and exports	229
9.3b Portuguese foreign indebtedness compared to the growth of GDP, collected taxes, the service of the public debt and exports	229
10.1 Crown income in different territories of the Spanish composite monarchy	235
10.2 Crown revenues in England, France, Holland and Castile, 1500–1700	237
10.3 Crown revenues in England, France, the Netherlands and Spain, 1700–1800	250
11.1 Interest rates on government loans in Italy, 1450–1799	280
11.2 Central revenues and per capita ‘burden’ in Italy, 1420–1789	283
12.1 The origins of tax revenues	300
12.2 Per capita fiscal burdens, 1592–1796	302
14.1 Major military offences launched in China, 475 BC – 221 BC	336
14.2 Early spread of de facto private land ownership	337
14.3 Major nomadic invasions across the Great Wall and into China	340
14.4 Trends in tax revenues and tax structure of the Qing regime, 1652–1820	345
14.5 Changes in government non-agricultural revenues	346
14.6 Deficit finance under the Song	346
14.7 Establishment of new customs for foreign trade, 1860–1908	348
14.8 China’s trade balances with India and Britain, 1834–1870	349
14.9 Government foreign debts, 1861–1898	350

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914
Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O’Brien
Frontmatter
More information

xiv	List of tables
14.10	Changes in China’s tax structure, 1820–1910	351
16.1	Population and rice production in the Tokugawa period	383
16.2	Revenue structure of the Tokugawa Shogunate	385
16.3	Expenditure structure of the Tokugawa Shogunate	386
17.1	Plausible budget for the Mughal empire, 1595–1596	414
17.2	Assessed revenue and actual collections in the Mughal empire	416

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

Contributors

REVD PROFESSOR RICHARD BONNEY is Professorial Research Fellow (South Asia Security) at RUSI, Whitehall, London. He was Professor of Modern History at the University of Leicester from 1984 to 2006 and is now Emeritus Professor there. He is the author of Jihad: From Qur'an to Bin Laden (2004) and False Prophets: The 'Clash of Civilizations' and the Global War on Terror (2008). He has eleven articles, including just war and holy war, forthcoming in the Encyclopedia of War (2011). His latest book, co-edited with Tridivesh Singh Maini and Tahir Malik, is an important collection of interviews entitled Warriors after War: Indian and Pakistani Retired Military Leaders Reflect on Relations Between the Two Countries, Past, Present and Future (2011).

FRANCISCO COMÍN COMÍN is Professor of Economic History at the Universidad de Alcalá (Madrid, Spain) and received the National History Award in 1990. His recent publications include the books Tabacalera y el Estanco del Tabaco, 150 años de historia de los ferrocarriles en España, La Empresa Pública en Europa, Historia de la Hacienda pública, Privatisation in the European Union: Public Enterprises and Integration, Transforming Public Enterprise in Europe and North America, Historia de la cooperación entre las Cajas de Ahorros and Economía y economistas españoles en la guerra civil.

MARTIN DAUNTON is Professor of Economic History at the University of Cambridge and Master of Trinity Hall. He was formerly the President of the Royal Historical Society. He has published two books on the politics of British taxation since 1799, and two volumes on the economic and social history of Britain between 1700 and 1950. He is currently writing a book on the economic governance of the world since the Second World War.

KENT G. DENG, an economic historian of China, is Reader in Economic History at the London School of Economics. He is also

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

xvi Notes on contributors

Fellow of the Royal Historical Society. His research covers both premier and modern times over the very long run. He has published five monographs and a number of articles, ranging from knowledge formation, technological diffusion, maritime development, demography, commerce, the peasantry and the state.

WANTJE FRITSCHY is senior lecturer in the History Department of VU University Amsterdam. Since 2004 she has had a personal professorship in the history of early modern public finance. In collaboration with the Institute of Dutch History in the Hague and six colleagues, she created an electronically accessible database on provincial public finance in the Dutch Republic, accompanied by seven printed volumes (www.inghist.nl/Onderzoek/Projecten/GewestelijkeFinancien/en). She has published numerous articles on the subject and currently (2010/11) enjoys a fellowship in the Netherlands Institute of Advanced Studies to write a book on the public finance of the Dutch Republic in a comparative perspective.

PETER GATRELL teaches at the University of Manchester where he is Professor of Economic History and a member of the Humanitarian and Conflict Research Institute. He has written extensively on Russian economic history and the history of war and population displacement in the twentieth century. His books include A Whole Empire Walking: Refugees in Russia during World War 1 (1999), Warlands: Population Resettlement and State Reconstruction in the Soviet-East European Borderlands, 1945–1950 (2009), and most recently, Free World? The Campaign to Save the World's Refugees, 1956–1963 (2011). He is currently completing a book entitled The Making of the Modern Refugee.

MARJOLEIN'T HART is Associate Professor in Economic and Social History at the University of Amsterdam. She has published widely on the history of early modern Netherlands, in particular on the Dutch Revolt and financial institutions. Her major publications include The Making of a Bourgeois State. War, Politics and Finance during the Dutch Revolt (1993) and A Financial History of the Netherlands (1997, with Jan Luiten van Zanden and Joost Jonker), and recently Globalization, Environmental Change, and Social History (2010, with Peter Boomgaard).

EDWIN HORLINGS is a senior researcher in the Science System Assessment Department of the Rathenau Institute, an institute of the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences. He has a PhD in economic history and has more than twenty years' experience in

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

Notes on contributors

xvii

quantitative analysis. His current work focuses on the organizational and behavioural dynamics of science, aimed specifically at contributing to science policy.

PAUL JANSSENS is visiting professor at Ghent University. In his capacity as Research Director of the Centre for Fiscal History (University of Brussels), he published, amongst other titles, Drie eeuwen Belgische belastingen (1990) and Fiscaal recht geboekstaafd (1995). He is also President of the Council of the Belgian Nobility and published various contributions in peer-reviewed journals and books on the Belgian nobility. His monograph L'évolution de la noblesse belge depuis la fin du moyen âge (1998) was honoured with the triennial History Award of the Dexia Bank. Recently, he supervised and (co-)edited the two-volume La Belgique espagnole et la principauté de Liège, 1585–1715 (2006) as well as Vivre noblement. The Changing Lifestyle of the Belgian Nobility, 15th–21st Centuries (2011).

MARIA EUGÉNIA MATA is Associate Professor of Economic History at the Universidade Nova de Lisboa and ex-President of the Portuguese Economic History Association. Her recent publications include 'Environmental Challenge in the Canning Industry (The Portuguese Case-study of the Early Twentieth Century)' (2010), 'Large Portuguese Firms from the Marshall Plan to EFTA: Early Stirrings of Managerial Capitalism?' (2010), 'As Small Events May Have Large Long-run Effects on Business Perspectives (Portugal, 1940s)' (2010) and 'Managerial Strategies in Canning Industries: The Portuguese Case-study of the Early Twentieth Century' (2009).

MASAKI NAKABAYASHI is Associate Professor at the Institute of Social Science, the University of Tokyo. He specializes in Japanese economic history, focusing on economic institutions and organizations. His publications include 'Flexibility and Diversity: The Putting-out System in the Silk Fabric Industry of Kiryu, Japan' (2007) and 'The Rise of a Factory Industry: Silk Reeling in Suwa District' (2006).

MICHAEL NORTH is Professor and Chair of Modern History at the University of Greifswald. He specializes in the economic, social and cultural history of modern Germany within a wider European context and leads a multi-country research group that focuses on the history and culture of the Baltic borderlands. Among other works, he has authored Deutsche Wirtschaftsgeschichte, 2nd edn (2005), 'Material Delight and the Joy of Living' (2008) and The Expansion of Europe (2011).

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

xviii Notes on contributors

PATRICK K. O'BRIEN, Fellow of the British Academy, is Professor of Global Economic History at the London School of Economics, where he convenes a large-scale European Research Council funded project on the Formation, Development and Diffusion of Useful and Reliable Knowledge in the West and the East from the Accession of the Ming to the First Industrial Revolution. He has published several books and over one hundred articles in the broad field of British, European and global economic history.

ŞEVKET PAMUK is professor at the London School of Economics and Political Science. He is the author of The Ottoman Empire and European Capitalism, 1820–1913 and A Monetary History of the Ottoman Empire, both published by Cambridge University Press. He has also authored many articles in the Journal of Economic History and other economic history journals. In recent years, he has been working on institutions in the Ottoman Empire and more generally the Middle East from a political economy perspective.

LUCIANO PEZZOLO is Associate Professor of Early Modern History in the Department of Humanities at the University Ca' Foscari of Venice. He has published extensively on the economic history of Venice and the military and financial history of late medieval and early modern Italy.

RENATE PIEPER is Professor of Economic History at the University of Graz in Austria and a member of the European Academy. She has published extensively on Spanish and Austrian state finances and, more recently, the transmission of information and goods from the Americas to Europe. In 2005 she co-edited a volume of essays in honour of Horst Pietschmann, Latin America and the Atlantic World (1500–1850).

FAUSTO PIOLA CASELLI is Professor of Economic History at the LUMSA University of Rome. He has researched the papal financial network in the late Middle Ages, with particular attention to state balance sheets and to the development of public accounting. He has also dealt with public finances in the early modern period, focusing on the creation of national public debts and the development of tax systems in a comparative perspective, and organizing sessions at several IEHA congresses on these topics. He edited Government Debts and Financial Markets in Europe (2008) and co-edited Guilds, Markets and Work Regulations in Italy, 16th–19th Centuries (1998).

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

Notes on contributors

xix

JOHN F. RICHARDS, Professor of History at Duke University, specialized in the Mughal empire, early modern world trade and the British colonial state. His books include The Unending Frontier. An Environmental History of the Early Modern World (2003), Kingship and Authority in South Asia (1998) and The Mughal Empire (1993). He died in Durham, North Carolina in 2007.

Director of the Asia Institute and Professor of History at UCLA, R. BIN WONG has written or co-authored more than sixty articles published in Chinese, English, French, German and Japanese. His research has examined Chinese patterns of political, economic and social change, especially since the eighteenth century, both within Asian regional contexts and compared with European patterns. Among his books, China Transformed: Historical Change and the Limits of European Experience also appears in Chinese. His latest book, co-authored with Jean-Laurent Rosenthal, Before and Beyond Divergence: The Politics of Economic Change in China and Europe, will also appear in Chinese and French.

BARTOLOMÉ YUN-CASALILLA is Head of the Department of History and Civilization at the European University Institute in Florence and Professor of Early Modern History at the Universidad Pablo de Olavide (UPO) in Seville, Spain. He has dedicated various monographs to the history of consumption as well as social networks and the history of European aristocracies. He is a practitioner and theorist of transnational, global and comparative history, as well as the history of the Spanish Empire, as reflected in Marte contra Minerva. El precio del imperio español, c. 1492–1600. He is the founder and co-director of the graduate programme ‘Historia de Europa, El Mundo Mediterráneo y su Difusión Atlántica, 1492–2000’ at the UPO, where he also directs a research project on the circulation, reception and appropriation of new goods in the Atlantic World.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

Acknowledgements

This volume is the outcome of a very long story and long stories are only possible with the help and perseverance of many people and institutions. We would like to thank Francisco Comín Comín (University of Alcalá de Henares) and Fausto Piola Caselli (University of Cassino), who organized together with the two editors a section in the thirteenth International Economic History Congress (Buenos Aires, 2002) at which most of these essays were presented. Paco Comín was also the organizer of a previous and preparatory workshop in Madrid. We would like to thank him as well as the Instituto de Estudios Fiscales of Madrid, which financed that seminal meeting.

We also would like to show our gratitude for the endurance, encouragement and work of Michael Watson, crucial as always at Cambridge University Press. The authors of the different essays, tolerantly accepting our comments and requests over several years, have also earned our gratitude. We hope we are able to compensate them with the final product. This work has been possible thanks to the financial support of the Leverhulme Foundation in London and the European University Institute in Florence. At the University Pablo de Olavide (UPO) in Seville we have drawn upon the resources of the research group PO9-HUM 5330, financed by the Junta de Andalucía with support from FEDER. Three people have been essential in the administrative work as well as in the process of mailing, translating, correcting and editing the chapters. At the London School of Economics we counted on the help of Miatta Fahbulled. Dr Niall Whelehan revised the first version of all chapters at the EUI, and Dr Bethany Aram undertook their revision and correction at the UPO. Her contribution to the editing process was really decisive. While two anonymous referees helped increase the quality and consistency of the volume, the editors are especially indebted to one of them, who ingeniously proposed a central idea for the title.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01351-3 - The Rise of Fiscal States: A Global History 1500–1914

Edited by Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla and Patrick K. O'Brien

Frontmatter

More information

Acknowledgements

xxi

At an early stage, Larry Epstein took care of this project at the LSE and discussed some central ideas of the volume with Patrick O'Brien. Larry's passing sadly curtailed a contribution that we all considered central to this volume. To him the book is dedicated.

B. Yun-Casalilla and P. K. O'Brien
Florence and Oxford, 26 December 2010