

Contents

Foreword	page vii
Acknowledgements	ix
1 Introduction	1
Competing perspectives on corporate responsibility	3
Contrasting stakeholder and shareholder theories	8
Stakeholder theory and corporate social responsibility in a market economy	12
A critique of stakeholder theory: the methodology	16
A critique of stakeholder theory: the structure	21
2 An introduction to stakeholder theory	24
The etymology of ‘stake’ and ‘stakeholder’	25
Stakeholder theory in organisations	29
Ethics and strategy	33
Normative arguments for stakeholder theory	39
Conclusion	52
3 The philosophy of stakeholder theory	54
Social contract theory	56
John Rawls and social contract theory	68
Fairness and distributive justice	76
Conclusion	79
4 The corporation as a private association in a market economy	81
An analysis of the concept of trade	82
The ethical principles of a market economy	86
The corporate objective in a market economy	94
Conclusion	100

vi		Contents
5	The corporation as a sovereign power in a market economy	101
	Stakeholder theory and the corporation as a commercial entity	102
	Stakeholder theory and the corporation as a ‘social contract’	111
	Conclusion	122
6	Shareholder theory and its limitations	125
	The separation of ownership and control	127
	The consequentialist critique of stakeholder theory	132
	The deontological defence of shareholder theory	140
	The limits of contractual duties	145
	Ethical discretion in company law	151
	Conclusion	154
7	Conclusion	156
	References	168
	Index	177