Contents

List of Illustrations vii
List of Tables ix
List of Contributors xi

One. The Past and Present of Human Origins in Southern Asia and Australia 1
Robin Dennell and Martin Porr

Two. East Asia and Human Evolution: From Cradle of Mankind to Cul-De-Sac 8
Robin Dennell

Three. “Rattling the Bones”: The Changing Contribution of the Australian 21
Archaeological Record to Ideas about Human Evolution
Sandra Bowdler

Four. Smoke and Mirrors: The Fossil Record for Homo sapiens between Arabia 33 and Australia
Robin Dennell

Five. An Arabian Perspective on the Dispersal of Homo sapiens Out of Africa 51
Huw S. Groucutt and Michael D. Petraglia

Six. Assessing Models for the Dispersal of Modern Humans to South Asia 64
James Blinkhorn and Michael D. Petraglia

Seven. East of Eden: Founder Effects and the Archaeological Signature of Modern 76
Human Dispersal
Christopher Clarkson

Eight. Missing Links, Cultural Modernity and the Dead: Anatomically Modern 90
Humans in the Great Cave of Niah (Sarawak, Borneo)
Chris Hunt and Graeme Barker

Nine. Faunal Biogeography in Island Southeast Asia: Implications for Early 108
Hominin and Modern Human Dispersals
M. J. Morwood†

Ten. Late Pleistocene Subsistence Strategies in Island Southeast Asia and Their 118
Implications for Understanding the Development of Modern Human Behaviour
Philip J. Piper and Ryan J. Rabett

Eleven. Modern Humans in the Philippines: Colonization, Subsistence and New 135
Insights into Behavioural Complexity
Alfred F. Pawlik, Philip J. Piper and Armand Salvador B. Mijares

 Twelve. Views from Across the Ocean: A Demographic, Social and Symbolic 148
Framework for the Appearance of Modern Human Behaviour
Phillip J. Habgood and Natalie R. Franklin
Contents

Thirteen. Early Modern Humans in Island Southeast Asia and Sahul: Adaptive and Creative Societies with Simple Lithic Industries
   Jane Balme and Sue O’Connor

Fourteen. Tasmanian Archaeology and Reflections on Modern Human Behaviour
   Richard Cogrove, Anne Pike-Tay and Wil Roebroeks

Fifteen. Clothing and Modern Human Behaviour: The Challenge from Tasmania
   Ian Gilligan

Sixteen. Patterns of Modernity: Taphonomy, Sampling and the Pleistocene Archaeological Record of Sahul
   Michelle C. Langley

Seventeen. Late Pleistocene Colonisation and Adaptation in New Guinea: Implications for Modelling Modern Human Behaviour
   Glenn R. Summerhayes and Anne Ford

Eighteen. Modern Humans Spread from Aden to the Antipodes: With Passengers and When?
   Stephen Oppenheimer

Nineteen. It’s the Thought that Counts: Unpacking the Package of Behaviour of the First People of Australia and Its Adjacent Islands
   Iain Davidson

Twenty. Essential Questions: Modern Humans and the Capacity for Modernity
   Martin Porr

References

Index