

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-02551-6 - A Theory of Deference in Administrative Law: Basis, Application and Scope

Paul Daly

Index

More information

INDEX

- Abella J, 80, 191, 193, 229, 239 accountability, 55, 108, 110, 112 administration, principles of good, 165, 166
 administrative law, 13, 244
 and deliberation, 119
 role of judicial review in, 194 administrative review and constitutional review, 186, 187–202, 219
 and protection of fundamental rights, 188–202 administrative state, 4
 Allan, T. R. S., 26–32
 Allison, John, 38
 alternative dispute resolution mechanisms, 184
 Arbour J, 98
 Arthurs, Harry, 253 authority
 allocation of, 8, 11, 37, 53, 69, 227, 242
 and fundamental rights, 189
 of legislation, 42, 275
 spheres of, 10–12
- Baer, Lauren, 73
 Barron, David, 107, 108
 Bastarache J, 86, 105, 176, 229
 Beetz J, 57, 223
 Bingham, Lord, 131–2, 234, 274, 282
 Binnie J, 102, 103, 259, 263
 bounded rationality, 83, 84
 Brennan J, 231–3, 272–3, 277, 281, 286
 Breyer J, 112, 113, 126, 150–1
 Bridge, Lord, 20, 104, 216–17
 burden of justification, 153, 168,
 170, 172
- approaches to, 161–2
 cogent reasons and reasoning, 158, 178, 180
 discharging, 153
 relevancy, 178
 sufficient evidence, 160–1
- Canada
 constitution, 274–6
 curial deference in, 12, 15–17
 Federal Courts Act, 36, 258
 federal system, 14
 freedom of expression, 192
 implied delegation, 51–2
 patent unreasonableness, 174
 pragmatic and functional analysis,
 15, 30, 56–8, 67, 223
 precedents, 183
 proportionality, 211
 questions of law, 242
 Supreme Court's jurisdiction, 14, 222
 variable standards of review, 56–8
- Charron J, 190, 193
Chevron doctrine, 17, 18, 21, 31, 44, 58, 233
 applicability of, 59, 64, 231 and delegation of powers, 112 and democratic legitimacy, 107
 and implied delegation, 48
- Clyde, Lord, 238
 cognitive defects, 83, 84
 Cohn, Margit, 32–3 collaboration, 128
 collateral fact doctrine, 221, 223
 complexity
 and context, 99–100
 and expertise, 99

- complexity (cont.)
 - importance of, 100
 - and legislative intent, 97–9, 100
 - and polycentricity, 92–4
 - and practical justifications for curial deference, 89–100
 - and problems of
 - incommensurability, 93
 - recognition of, 97
 - and uncertainty, 94–7
- consensus, 119
- constitutional law, 194, 215
- constitutional principles, 32, 34
 - alternative, 44–53
 - declared, 36–43
 - and implied delegation, 48
 - and protection of fundamental rights, 188–202
 - separation of powers, 44–8
- constitutional review, 200
 - and administrative review, 186, 187–202, 219
 - and doctrinal deference, 197
 - and epistemic deference, 198
- constitutional rules, 277–8, 284–5
- correctness, 138, 140, 194, 200, 219, 234, 260, 262
 - and epistemic deference, 138–9
 - and unreasonableness, 194–8
- Cory J, 73–4, 78
- courts, function of, 234
- courts, institutional shortcomings of, 90
- Craig, Paul, 141, 204, 212–13
- curial deference, 9–10, 12
 - and delegation of power, 53–68
 - doctrine of, 12, 28, 37, 45, 186
 - foundations in English law, 133
 - and independence, 112–14
 - and legislative intent, 53
 - practical justifications for, 70–136, 200–2, 228–30
 - and questions of law, 254–5
 - scope of, 265
 - and secondary justiciability, 283
 - varying degrees of, 56
- De Smith, S. A., 241
- decision-making processes, 115–17, 126–7, 128–31, 132
- deference: see also curial deference
 - automatic, 46–7
 - in Canada, 15–17
 - definition of, 7–35
 - delegation argument, 36–69, 252, 257
 - doctrinal deference, 7–9, 194–8
 - and emptiness and perniciousness, 26–31
 - in England, 19–21
 - epistemic deference, 7–9, 21–4, 137, 198, 200, 204, 210
 - and fundamental rights, 186–219
 - and illogicality, 25–6
 - judicial, 10
 - and judicial capacities, 25
 - and legislative power, 47–8
 - and political questions, 267–94
 - possibility of, 24–35
 - practical justifications for, 39, 257
 - principles of, 28, 44–53
 - and proportionality, 186–219
 - as respect, 10, 22
 - submissive deference, 10
 - in the United States, 17–18
 - and the value of doctrine in judicial review, 31
- delegated decision-makers
 - appointment of, 75–6
 - autonomy of, 222
 - choice of procedure, 127
 - danger of self-aggrandisement, 224, 230
 - and democratic legitimacy, 101–5, 245, 262–5
 - and discretion, 261
 - and expertise, 76–7
 - and legislators, 111
 - length of service, 88
 - level of abstraction permitted, 208
 - procedural flexibility of, 90, 91
 - and questions of law, 240
 - types of questions addressed by, 99
 - and uncertainty, 95
- delegation argument, 36–69, 252, 257
- mechanics of, 60–5

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-02551-6 - A Theory of Deference in Administrative Law: Basis, Application and Scope

Paul Daly

Index

More information

INDEX

299

- delegation of powers, 37, 225
 - background assumption of, 49, 52
 - and curial deference, 53–68
 - and expertise, 73
 - extent of, 60, 64, 227
 - implied delegation, 48
 - and interpretation of legislation, 256
 - and judicial restraint, 53–5
 - legislative intent and privative clauses, 65–7
 - measurement of, 56, 60, 64, 135
 - nature of the powers, 61
 - and practical justifications for curial deference, 174
 - purpose of, 52
 - and questions of law, 254
 - reasons for, 70, 71, 91
 - and statutory appeals, 68
 - vagueness of, 46
 - variable, 39, 55–60
 - varying degrees of, 136
- democracy, deliberative, 118
- democratic legitimacy, 101–14, 133,
 - 197, 201, 245, 262–5
 - and accountability, 112
 - in context, 106–8
 - importance of, 264
 - and independence, 112–14
 - and jurisdiction, 229, 230
 - and legislative intent, 105–6
 - statutory and non-statutory control, 108–12
- Denning, Lord, 245–6
- Deschamps J, 191, 193
- Dickson J, 15, 142, 223
- discretion, 255–65
 - abuse of, 17
 - in Canada, 258–9
 - delegation of, 256
 - distinction between grounds and standards of review, 258–62
 - distinction between law and discretion, 255–8
 - in England, 259
- doctrinal deference, 7–9
 - and fundamental rights, 197
 - in practice, 12–21
- Dworkin, Ronald, 41–2, 237
- Dyzenhaus, David, 21–2, 38, 68, 187–8, 283
- England, 152
 - Court of the King's Bench, 9
 - curial deference in, 12
 - grounds of review of administrative action, 50
 - Human Rights Act 1998, 19, 187, 203, 217
 - implied delegation, 50
 - judicial deference in, 19–21
 - principles of judicial review, 2
 - Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007, 14
- epistemic deference, 7–9, 137, 200, 204, 207
 - and correctness, 138–9
 - and discretion, 260
 - and fundamental rights, 198
 - in practice, 21–4
 - and proportionality, 210
 - utility of, 22
- Eskridge, William, 73
- European Convention on Human Rights, 28, 187, 195, 199–200
- European Court of Human Rights, 218
- Evans, J. A., 262
- evidence, 160–1, 183
 - substantial, 17
 - and uncertainty, 95
- executive powers, 2, 3, 274
- expertise, 72, 133, 147, 197, 199, 201
 - accrual of, 76–7, 80
 - application of, 87
 - appointment of expert delegated decision-makers, 75–6, 80, 88
 - ascertaining the extent of, 80, 86–9
 - and common sense, 84–5
 - and complexity, 99
 - and context, 80–2
 - development of, 78
 - and indeterminacy, 88
 - and legislative intent, 77–9
 - and members of the executive branch of government, 75
 - negative aspects of, 74
 - positive aspects of, 73

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-02551-6 - A Theory of Deference in Administrative Law: Basis, Application and Scope

Paul Daly

Index

More information

300

INDEX

- expertise (cont.)
 - problems of, 82–9
 - and questions of law, 243–5
 - a relative concept, 80
 - relevance of, 73–7, 87
 - shortcomings in, 82–6
 - variations in, 81
- fairness, 3–4, 120, 122, 130
- Finn, Chris, 271
- Fish, Stanley, 33
- Foley, Brian, 7
- formalism, 11
- Friendly, Henry, 216
- Fuller, Lon, 92, 246
- Galligan, Denis, 122
- Geoghegan Finlay J, 180, 193
- Gersen, Jacob, 22
- Gonthier J, 79
- government
 - executive branch, 75
 - functions of branches of, 44
- Greene, Lord, 54, 171, 282
- Griffiths, Lord, 234
- Gutmann, Amy, 121–2, 129
- Hale, Baroness, 189–90
- Hare, Ivan, 243–4
- Harris, Bruce, 269
- Hewart, Lord, 65–6
- Hickman, Tom, 22
- Hoexter, Cora, 138
- Hoffmann, Lord, 104–5, 203, 260, 279
- Hogg, Peter, 210
- Hope, Lord, 94, 98
- human rights, 29, 93
- Hunt, Murray, 10, 37, 187–8
- Iacobucci J, 57, 62, 157, 159–60, 172, 242
- illogicality, and unreasonableness, 143
- inconsistency, 144
- indicia* of unreasonableness, 143–53, 166, 173, 184
 - case law on, 153
 - demonstration of presence of, 163
 - disproportionality, 143–4
 - failure to establish, 151
 - illogicality, 143
 - inconsistency with statute, 144–8
 - and proportionality, 212
 - sources of, 165
 - and standards of review, 152–3
 - unexplained changes in policy, 149–51
- interests, 216–19
- interpretation of statutes, 37, 235, 255, 256
- Irvine, Lord, 37
- Jackson J, 22
- Jowell, Jeffrey, 37, 203
- judicial intervention, dangers of, 92, 236
- judicial power, erosion of, 48–53
- judicial restraint, 53–5
- judicial review, 194, 269
 - access to as a right, 279
 - and constitutional principles, 32, 34
 - cost of, 182
 - in England, 218
 - and indicia of unreasonableness, 152–3
 - intensity of, 282, 283
 - and legislative intent, 255
 - legitimacy of, 274–6
 - principles of, 36, 165
 - and questions of law, 245
 - and rule of law, 165
 - task of reviewing courts, 72
 - value of doctrine in, 31
- jurisdiction, 220–33, 265
 - analytical problem of, 222–5
 - and complexity, 229
 - concept of, 220–8
 - the grant of jurisdiction, 225–6
 - limited review doctrine, 226–8
 - and practical justifications for curial deference, 228–30
- jurisdictional error, 11–12
- jurisdictional question doctrine, 221, 223, 224, 226
- justiciability, 267–9
 - definition of, 267
 - and legal rights, 271

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-02551-6 - A Theory of Deference in Administrative Law: Basis, Application and Scope

Paul Daly

Index

More information

INDEX

301

- primary and secondary, 269–72
- primary justiciability, 270, 272–80
- secondary justiciability, 280–6
- Kagan, Elena, 107, 108
- Kahn-Freund, Otto, 13
- Kavanagh, Aileen, 29
- Keith J, 177
- Kennedy J, 23, 64
- King, Jeff, 93, 169, 208
- La Forest J, 61, 62, 82
- Lamer CJ, 57
- Laski, Harold, 84–5
- Laws, Sir John, 132–3
- Laws LJ, 28, 29, 169
- LeBel J, 140, 175, 176, 263–5
- legislation
 - interpretation of, 37, 235, 255, 256
 - power of amendment, 230
 - presumption of coherence of, 249
- legislative intent, 36–43, 68, 173, 201, 225
 - and complexity, 97–9, 100
 - and curial deference, 53
 - and decision costs, 182
 - definition of, 39
 - and delegation of power, 52, 55, 65–7
 - and democratic legitimacy, 105–6
 - and expertise, 77–9
 - implied, 134
 - and individual legislators, 41
 - and judicial review, 255
 - and jurisdiction, 228
 - and legislative power, 47–8
 - and practical justifications for curial deference, 70–2, 134
 - and privative clauses, 65–7
 - and procedural legitimacy, 123–5, 131
 - and proportionality, 215
 - and questions of law, 235, 242, 245, 252, 254
 - reliance upon, 69, 72, 85
 - requirement of clarity, 45, 97
- legislators, and delegated decision-makers, 111
- Lester, Anthony, 203
- L'Heureux-Dubé J, 61, 82, 123–4, 144, 248–9, 256, 262
- limited review doctrine, 226–8
- Lloyd, Lord, 106, 274
- Major J, 104, 230
- Marshall J, 286
- Mashaw, Jerry, 74
- McLachlin CJ, 99, 264
- merits review, and unreasonableness, 139–40
- Miles, Thomas, 254
- Monaghan, Henry, 194–8
- Morissette, Yves-Marie, 164
- Mulgan, Richard, 108
- Mullan, David, 173
- New Zealand, 276–7
- Nicholls, Lord, 238
- non-jurisdictional error, 11–12
- non-statutory powers, 2
- O'Connor J, 251–2
- O'Sullivan J, 141
- paramountcy, doctrine of, 248–9
- participation, 114, 115, 121–2, 127
 - ascertaining who should participate, 128
 - and deliberation, 121
 - excess of, 126
 - legislative requirement for, 130
 - and procedural legitimacy, 125, 133
 - quality of, 129
- Phillips, Lord, 261
- pluralism, 117, 118, 119
- policy-making, dynamics of, 129
- political questions, 267–94
 - categories of, 269
 - definition of, 268
 - examples of, 273
- Poole, Thomas, 94
- practical justifications for curial deference, 70–136
 - and the appropriate standard of review, 170
 - characteristics of, 71
 - complexity, 89–100
 - contextual nature of, 170
 - and delegation of power, 174

- practical justifications (cont.)
 - democratic legitimacy, 101–14
 - and discretion, 257
 - and expertise, 72, 243–5
 - free-standing practical justifications, 131–4
 - and fundamental rights, 200–2
 - and jurisdiction, 228–30
 - and legislative intent, 70–2, 134
 - procedural legitimacy, 114–30
 - and questions of law, 243–54
 - role of, 200
 - variable nature of, 39, 136
- pragmatic and functional analysis, 15, 30, 51–2, 56–8
- precedent, 183, 248
- primary justiciability
 - basis of, 274
 - exceptions, 277–8
 - and the rule of law, 278–80
 - scope of, 272–7
- privative clauses, 15, 62, 65–7
- procedural fairness, 3–4, 120, 122, 130
- procedural legitimacy, 114–30, 197, 201
 - and aggregation of interests, 117–18
 - assessment of, 131
 - and choice of procedures, 127
 - in context, 124
 - contributors to, 114–22
 - and decision-making, 115–17
 - and deliberation, 118–21
 - difficulties with, 125–30
 - and imperfect representation, 128–31
 - and legislative intent, 123–5, 126–7, 128, 131
 - and participation, 121–2, 129, 130, 133
 - reduction of, 125
 - theories of, 115
- proportionality, 186–219
 - balancing limb, 205, 210–12
 - comparison with unreasonableness, 203–12
 - components of, 204
 - constraints imposed by statutory construction, 214–16
 - and illogicality, 207
 - least restrictive alternative limb, 205, 208–10
 - legitimacy limb, 205
 - protean conception of, 213
 - rational connection limb, 205, 207–8
 - stricto sensu*, 210–12
 - and unreasonableness, 202–7, 211, 212–13
- proportionality test, 186, 191, 202
 - application of, 192, 197
 - and unreasonableness, 208
- public law adjudication
 - nature of, 33
 - openness of, 33
 - prevalence of doctrinal arguments in, 33
 - value of doctrine in, 34
- questions of law, 233–55, 265
 - broad and narrow approaches, 233–4, 244
 - the broad approach, 238–43
 - in Canada, 233
 - categories of, 239
 - and congruence, 247
 - constitutional and analytical problems, 234–43
 - in England, 234
 - identification of, 239, 241, 253
 - and legislative intent, 235, 242
 - ‘major questions,’ 251–3
 - the narrow approach, 235–8
 - and practical justifications for curial deference, 243–54
 - and precedent, 248
 - and questions of application, 240
 - and questions of fact, 240, 242
 - scope for curial deference on, 254–5
 - uniformity and equity, 245–50
- rationality, 83, 84, 142
- reasonableness, 16, 57 see also unreasonableness
- reasoning, 139, 158
- regulation, responsive, 89
- Rehnquist J, 285–6
- Reid, Lord, 43
- relevancy, 183

- representation, imperfect, 128–31
- republicanism, 118
- rights, fundamental, 186–219
 - and constitutional competence, 190
 - and constitutional limits, 195
 - and constitutional principles, 194–8
 - definition of, 186
 - and doctrinal deference, 194–8
 - and epistemic deference, 198
 - and practical justifications for curial deference, 200–2
 - protection of, 188, 190–4, 195, 202, 217, 279
- Roberts CJ, 8
- Rodger, Lord, 270–1
- Roskill LJ, 19, 269
- Rothstein J, 86, 246, 247
- rule of law, 29
 - and judicial restraint, 165
 - and primary justiciability, 278–80
- Scalia J, 22, 127, 147, 150, 158, 231–3, 244, 251
- Scarman, Lord, 103, 195
- scrutiny
 - anxious scrutiny, 168, 169
 - standard of, 265
- secondary justiciability, 280–6
 - in Canada, 282
 - concepts of, 281
 - in England, 282
 - and prudential concerns, 281
- self-interest, 83
- separation of powers, 44–8, 243
 - automatic deference, 46–7
 - checks and balances, 45
 - curial deference and legislative power, 47–8
 - curial deference as discipline, 45–6
- Shapiro, Martin, 102
- Skidmore* standard, 18, 21, 22, 23, 31, 58
- Sossin, Lorne, 87, 281
- Souter J, 59, 279
- standards of review, 16, 258–62 see also
 - correctness; variable standards of review
- statutory language, meaning of, 146
- Stevens J, 97, 116, 160, 179, 233
- Steyn, Lord, 9, 203–4
- Stratas JA, 61, 261
- Sunstein, Cass, 254
- Taggart, Michael, 35, 187–8, 257
- textual commitments, 277–8, 284–5
- Thomas J, 58
- Thompson, Denis, 121–2, 129
- transparency, 176
- Tremblay, Luc, 25, 26
- tribunals
 - and collective intention, 40
 - general appeals, 14
 - independence of, 113
 - insufficient reasons for decisions, 157
 - purpose for establishment of, 249
- ultra vires, doctrine of, 220
- uncertainty, 94–7, 170
- United States, 54
 - Administrative Procedure Act, 17, 36, 284–5
 - constitutional adjudication in, 194, 214, 216
 - curial deference in, 12, 17–18
 - Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, 23
 - executive branch of the government, 109, 110
 - federal system, 14
 - limit on formal rule-making procedures, 127
 - National Labor Relations Act, 146–8
 - strict scrutiny, 196
 - Supreme Court's jurisdiction, 14
 - Telecommunications Act 1996, 158–60
 - variable standards of review, 58–60, 169
- unreasonableness, 137, 184
 - and anxious scrutiny, 168, 169
 - broad and narrow senses of, 19
 - and the burden of justification, 153, 166, 167
 - case law on, 143
 - and correctness, 194–8

- unreasonableness (cont.)
 - definition of, 141–66
 - determination of, 164
 - discharging the burden of
 - justification, 157
 - foundations of, 165–6
 - indicia* of, 143–53, 166, 173, 184
 - manifest unreasonableness, 181
 - and merits review, 139–40
 - patent unreasonableness, 174, 177
 - and proportionality, 202–14
 - protean conception of, 167, 168–71, 172
 - reason and structure of, 162, 210
 - reasons for, 141
 - subjective view of, 163
 - ‘voting rule’ proposal for
 - determination of, 164
 - Wednesbury*, 19, 131, 168, 177
 - variable standards of review, 37, 137–85, 202
 - application in individual cases, 60
 - in Canada, 56–8
 - decision costs, 182–3
 - interests in, 216–19
 - justification of the third standard, 178
 - and manifest unreasonableness, 181
 - objections to, 25
 - a third standard, 168–81
 - in the United States, 58–60, 169
 - and unreasonableness, 184
 - workability of, 166–83
- Vermeule, Adrian, 22
- Waldron, Jeremy, 42
- White J, 92
- Wilberforce, Lord, 226
- Wilson J, 175, 244
- Young, Alison, 198–9