

Index

- activity theory, 49
- affective attitude, 120
- affective imagination, 120, 126
- affective scientific imagination, 136–7
- African American city community, 53
- age factor, in play, 1, 2, 3, 22, 73
- Alcock, S., 74
- Australia, 154

- Bateson, G., 78, 87
- Bettelheim, B., 127
- Blaise, M., 160
- block, 92
- Blyton, Enid, 10
- board games, 63, 65, 66
- Bodrova, E., 93, 155
- Bornstein, M. H., 57
- Boshans, M., 20
- Bredikyte, M., 155
- Bretherton, I., 7, 77, 80, 81, 87

- caregivers, valuing play activities, 55–6
- child rearing practices, and toys and play, 98
- child's perspective of play, 150, 156
- circus game, 64
- coffect, 126
- cognitive versus visual situation, 12
- collective and individual imagining, 125
- collective imagining, 14, 45, 47, 48
- collective play, 33, 74–5
 - collective action, 82–8
 - metacommunication, 75–82
- collective scientific narrative, 130–5
- communities, 53, see also specific communities
- concepts, 19

- contemporary societies, children in, 93
- content cues, 58, 62
- contentless metaphor of tool, 102, 103
- Corsaro, W. A., 76
- creativity, 13, 14, 114
- cross-cultural studies, 83
- cultural development
 - of children, 112
 - of play, 26, 45–8, 51, 56, 149
- cultural and historic evolution, of play, 92–102
- cultural–historical theory, 2, 15, 23–45, 52, 73, 74, 81, 88, 91, 101, 107, 113, 117, 120, 138, 144, 146, 150, 155, 157, 158, 159, 160
- cultural and natural lines of development, 23–45
- culturally accepted play, 67
- culturally curtailed play, 67
- culturally valued and adult cultivated play, 67

- depersonalised thinker/learner, 99
- Derry, J., 13
- Diamond, J., 33, 34
- digital play, 90–2, 107–18
 - digital placeholders, 109–10
 - virtual pivots, 110–17
- digital tablet technologies, 90, 91, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 115, 117, 129
 - and meta-imagination (case study), 129–39
- Dolya, G., 155
- double expression of feeling, 120–3
- doubleness of consciousness, 109, 110
- doubleness of emotional expression, 122
- dramatisation, 9, 10, 111

- economic circumstances, 37, 53, 68
 eduplay, 154
 El'koninova, L. I., 122, 125, 126, 127
 Elkonin, D. B., 4, 5, 10, 11, 37, 51, 69, 70, 91, 94, 95, 96, 97, 101, 102, 141, 148 emotion and cognition, in play, 119–20 case study, 129–39
 double expression of feeling, 120–3
 unity of, 123–9, 133 emotional anticipation, 128, 129, 136 emotional cognition, 120 emotional filtering, 128 emotional imagination, 122 emotional reflection, 128–9 emotional tension, 7, 8, 9, 10, 36, 128 essence of imaginary play, 151
 Estonian families, 63
 European American semirural community, 53 everyday concepts, 19, 139 experiences, and play, 113–14
 exploratory play, 56, 57

 fairytales, 9, 110, 121–2, 123, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 139
 Farver, J., 76
 Ferholt, B., 127
 Finland, 155
 Fleer, M., 7, 9, 16, 156
 flickering between imagination and reality, 14, 126–7 between real and imaginative scientific worlds, 137–8 forms of play, 54, 157
 free play, 10, 53, 64, 135, 136
 free will, 11 freedom, 12, 13
 and will, 13
 Friedlmeier, W., 9
 functional and cultural forms of behavior, 13

 Garvey, C., 75, 77, 87
 Gaskins, S., 44, 50, 54, 67, 69, 153
 Giffin, 76
 Göncü, A., 20, 44, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 62, 67, 68, 77, 88, 95, 153 grasping movement, 106

 Hadzigeorgiou, Y., 137
 Haight, W., 67, 154
 Hakkarainen, P., 9, 155
 Hedegaard, M., 38, 45, 47, 152 higher mental function, 104–6 holistic framework for understanding role-play, 152–4, 157–9

 Holodynski, M., 9
 Hong Kong, 154
 horseplay, 85–7

 Iakovleva, E., 128 imaginary play, 46, 66 differing expressions and cultural characteristics of, 52–6 a human invention, 71
 as learned cultural practice, 56–67, 72 and social factors, 72
 as valued form of societal activity, 67–71 imaginary situations, 36–7, 40 and the real world, 4–15 and slowmation, 111 imagination, 14, 44, 66 and creativity, 13, 14, 113, 115 industrialised societies, infants from, 99 in-frame, in play, 75, 77 inner eye, 125
 institutional valuing of role-play, 154–5 intersubjectivity, 3, 20, 61, 77, 88

 Jain, J., 44, 49, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 62, 68
 Johnson, D., 49
 joint role, 78

 King, N., 76
 Kravtsov, G. G., 44, 155
 Kravtsova, E. E., 44, 155

 Lancy, D. F., 67, 154 language, 18, 66, see also metacommunication language play, 36, 54
 Leong, D. J., 155
 Leontiev, A. N., 47, 119, 120
 Lillard, A., 59, 60, 61, 62
 Lindqvist, G., 9, 10, 121 logical reasoning, 25
 Luria, 10

 mapping of territories metaphor, 87 meta level overview of the imaginary situation, 112
 metacommunication, 3, 10, 16, 74, 75–82, 125, 143
 meta-imagination, 90, 115, 116–17, 123, 136, 141, 148, 159 and digital tablet technologies (case study), 129

- Mexican communities, 54
- miniature tools, 70, 95, 97, 98
- mirror metaphor, 11, 12
- mothers, role in children's play, 62–7
- motives, 149
- natural line of development, 24, 25
- naturalistic research, 62
- negotiations in play, 77
- Netherlands, the, 154, 155, 157
- objects and idea of objects, 15–18
- OECD, 155
- other's role, 78
- out-of-frame, in play, 75, 77
- own role, 78
- paralinguistic cues, 76
- the Peninsula family (case study for role-play), 38–45
 - play activities, 41
- perezhivanie*, 127, 139–41
- play and work, 97
- play
 - as cultural concept within societies, 147–50
 - ideal form of 10, 22
 - as leading activity, 158
- play scripts, 66, 87
- play with rules, 34
- playworlds, 121
- Poland, M., 17
- post-developmental perspective,
 - of play, 160
- poverty, and play, 53
- pretend play, 52, 54, 55, 57, 58, 62, 75, 125, 145
 - content cues, 58
 - pretender behaviour, 59
 - social referencing, 60
- psychological value of role-play, 151
- psychology, of play, 4–15
- raw emotions, 9, 120
- real
 - and imaginary situation, 88
 - and pretend situation, 60
- re-enactment, 10, 127
- repetition of telling, 76, 121, 127
- re-telling, 122, 125, 126, 127, 128
- Rogoff, B., 54, 69, 96
- role-play, 5, 10, 72–3, 143
 - learned characteristic of, 151
 - role-play, learned in families, 23
 - cultural and natural lines of development, 23–45
 - the Peninsula family (case study), 38–45
 - the Westernport family (case study), 28–35
- Roopnarine, J. L., 67, 68
- rules and roles, 11, 13, 19–20, 65
- Schousboe, I., 6, 80, 81, 82
- Schwartzman, H. B., 76
- scientific concept, 19
- scientific sense to everyday situation, 138–9
- self-awareness, 9, 21
- self-determination, 13
- sign, see tools and signs
- signalling, 58, 77
- Singapore, 154, 156
- skill mastery, 96, 97
- slowmation, 9, 110–11
- social referencing, 60
- social thought, 27, 37
- societal values and needs for role-play, 151
- societal valuing of role-play, 152–4
- sociological analysis, 100, 101
- sound and rhythm play, 54
- sound effects, and pretend situation, 61
- spatial sense, 82
- sphere of imagination, 81
- sphere of staging, 81
- spheres of reality, 80–1
- Spinoza, B., 12, 13
- statements
 - acceptance, 76
 - connection, 76, 145
 - counter definition, 77
 - declarative, 76
 - definition, 76
 - disconnection, 76, 145
 - formation, 76, 145
 - maintenance, 76, 145
 - rejection, 76, 80, 145
- Sutton-Smith, B., 91, 93, 94, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 117, 148
- Sweden, 154, 155, 156
- symbolic play, 55–7
- symbolic toys, see also toys
- tablet technology, 9
- teasing play, 55
- time, 116

- tool use, 95–6
- tools and signs, 102–7, 144–7
- toys, 93–5, 97–102, 117
 - contemporary toys, 99
- Tudge, J., 154
- Tuermer, U., 44, 49, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 62, 68
- Turkish peasant communities, 54
- Ugaste, A., 62, 64, 64, 65, 66, 68
- United Kingdom, 155
- United States, 155
- van Oers, B., 16, 17, 144, 158
- visual and sense fields, 14
- Western communities, 99, 154
- the Westernport family (case study for role-play), 28–35
 - play activities, 29
- will and freedom, 20–1
- Winther-Lindqvist, D., 6, 80, 81
- Zaporozhets, A., 5, 7, 9, 120, 122, 123, 126, 128